What Others Say!

The judgment of people who observe the way business goes with an institution, and whose observations are not made from a selfish standpoint are generally correct in their diagnosis. People all over are talking about the very fine success the Farmers Co-Operative Oil Company of Nehawka are having. And why not? It is patent to every one that their manner of business is rapidly meeting with SUCCESS wherever tried. Try some of their products—like Gasoline and Motor Oil and you will become a regular purchaser.

J. J. Krecklow was doing some painting of the roofs on the buildings at the A. F. Sturm lumber yard. Henry Gruber was a visitor in Murray on last Sunday, going to see his family physician, Dr. G. H. Gilmore, for a short time. J. H. Steffens and wife were called to Omaha on last Monday to look after some business matters, they driving over to the big city in their car. Miss Gladys Wolfe, who has been quite poorly for the past week, is reported as being quite a bit better at this time and is able to be around again. Wm. Ost and son, Keith, were looking after some business matters in Plattsmouth on Monday afternoon of this week, they driving over in their auto. Mrs. Forest R. Cueningham was quietly enjoying the passing of her birthday on last Sunday and was receiving congratulations from her friends. Albert Willis, who is employed by the Plattsmouth Motor company, at Plattsmouth, was a visitor with his friends here for a short time on last Sunday. Frank Lemon and wife were enjoying a visit to Omaha on last Monday, they driving over in their car, and also were visiting with friends while there. The Richter Brothers, of Murray, were plowing with their tractor, some land for Edward Murray, a short distance north of Nehawka during the fore part of this week. John G. Wunderlich and wife were visiting for the day last Sunday at and family, of Crete, they driving over in their car to the Wilson home, where they all enjoyed the Sunday very pleasantly, returning home on Sunday evening. Mr. Rough reports much damage by high water occasioned by recent heavy rains. Mrs. R. B. Stone, who has been at Tucson, Arizona, for a number of months with her son, James M. Stone and wife, where Mr. Stone has been taking treatment and where he is showing improvement, and which is very satisfactory notwithstanding he be kept to his bed there for some time yet. The improvement which he has been showing gives encouragement that he will eventually regain his health. Have Excellent Time at School The Nehawka school enjoyed the May day festival on last Friday, when the children joined in the May pole dance and the other festivities which the proper celebration of the occasion calls for. They selected Miss Beatrice Chapman as the May Queen. Many Attend Baccalaureate The Nehawka auditorium was well crowded on last Sunday night when the Rev. H. G. McClusky delivered the Baccalaureate address to the graduating class of the Nehawka schools for the year 1930. There was a large and greatly interested crowd present to listen to the well worded and able address which was delivered in a masterly manner. Mrs. McClusky and the Misses Estelle Baird and Pearl Staats, of Plattsmouth, contributed two musical numbers to the program which were greatly enjoyed by all present. Those to graduate this year are Viles P. Sheldon, Jr., Ruth C. Bell, Mildred A. Burton, Vere Kathleen Stone, Verna Schonaker, William C. Brandt, Jr., Thoren S. Murray, Harvey Behrens, Julia Pearce, Ingersoll, Beatrice I. Chapman, Weldon Switzer, Randall G. Switzer, Niel E. Pierce, Mae VanHorn, Geneva VanHorn, George T. Troop and Walter Griffin. Cars Strike Headon On last Sunday night, while Fred Reese was returning home from a visit at Nehawka and was proceeding along the road by the Pollard overgreens north of Nehawka and Eugene Snodgrass, accompanied by two young ladies and another young man, were coming toward town, they miscalculated and ran into each other's cars, with the result that the cars needed the work of a number of mechanics and some new parts. The occupants of both cars were shaken up some, but not seriously injured. The cars were hauled into the garage of Clarence Hanson for repairs and the occupants all found other ways of getting home. Observe Memorial Twice Memorial day will be observed by two separate ceremonies by the Nehawka American Legion, due to the fact that a number of its members reside in Weeping Water, where there is no longer a Legion post in existence to look after this work, and the rest reside in and near Nehawka. Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Congregation church in Weeping Water will be held the first service, after which the Legionnaires and other participants in the day's observance will repair to Oakwood cemetery, where they will decorate the last resting places of the members of the Grand Army of the Republic, the veterans of the Spanish American war and also those of our most recent war, the World War. This will conclude the services at Weeping Water, which will be participated in by the boys of Nehawka as well as Weeping Water. Then on Sunday at eleven in the morning, they will all gather at the Nehawka Auditorium, where they will listen to the Rev. W. A. Taylor who will address them, and following which they will proceed to the beautiful Mount Pleasant cemetery and there decorate the graves of the soldiers of the three wars. Most News and Twice a Week The Journal reaches you twice a week instead of only once, as do the other papers published in this country and nearby counties. Don't you think it best to have this twice-a-week news service, especially when it doesn't cost a penny more than the other kind? And in addition to this feature, you get by far the most news of that published by any paper in this territory. Eight separate departments are conducted for the benefit of our rural readers by a field man, who spends the entire week around over the county gathering news. So you get not only the important county news, but the local news right from your own locality when you take the Semi-Weekly Journal. And the cost is only $2 per year—the same as charged for ordinary weekly newspapers with four pages of "patent" print. Hand your money to the Journal field man and have your name put on the list. Or, if you are now a subscriber and not paid up in advance, just remit direct to the office or hand same to the field man. Peter Opp who has been making his home with his son, John Opp and family, for some time past, departed on last Tuesday for Omaha, where he will visit for a time with his daughter, Mrs. W. T. Black and family. He was taken to Union by his son, John Opp and wife on last Tuesday noon.

Oil in a Can is Like a Race Horse in a Stall

Lubricating Oil in a bottle or a can may look fine—so may a race horse in a stall. But put the horse on a track, make him run a half mile and he may prove all looks and nothing else. The same is true of Motor Oil!

Looks, Color and Extravagant Claims Mean Nothing at All

It is the test of actual performance that shows up poor horse—and poor oil. Mona Motor Oil does not break down under the most intense heat. Try a Crank case full.

Death of Fred Dreamer Occurs at Lincoln

Resident for Many Years at Alvo Passes Away Suddenly—Well Known in Cass County

Fred H. Dreamer, aged sixty-three, a resident of Nebraska for the past sixty-two years, a veteran merchant of the east portion of the state, passed away at his home at 632 South Thirty-first street, Lincoln, Tuesday at 10:15 p. m. The death of Mr. Dreamer was very sudden as he had been apparently in normal health a few hours before his death, members of the family state.

The deceased was a native of Missouri, coming to Nebraska with his parents sixty years ago and has since made his home in this state. He spent his youth in Cass county and growing to manhood estate turned to a mercantile career, he being engaged in the retail merchandise business at Alvo for a great many years. Later Mr. Dreamer disposed of his store at Alvo and moved to University Place where he was engaged in the grocery business. For the past four years he has operated a grocery store at 2004 South Fifty-sixth street, Lincoln.

He is survived by a son, Robert Stanton Dreamer, a daughter, Ruth Alton, both of Lincoln; a brother, Chris Dreamer of Elmwood, and five sisters, Mrs. Anna Allen, Greenwood; Mrs. Minnie Cook, Plattsmouth; Mrs. Elizabeth Lewis, Alvo; Mrs. Lydia Ingwerson, Havelock; and Miss Nell Dreamer, Plattsmouth.

HAVE A FINE MEETING

From Wednesday's Daily—The Plattsmouth Rotary club held a very interesting meeting yesterday afternoon at the Majestic cafe, enjoying the luncheon and the excellent program that had been prepared by Frank R. Gobelman, the leader of the meeting. In the series of sketches of the countries where Rotary is found, Judge A. H. Duxbury gave a most interesting talk on San Salvador. The main feature of the luncheon was the address given by Judge James T. Begley on the spirit of memorial day, the impressive lessons that were derived from the observance as a grateful acknowledgment of the sacrifices that had been made in the making of the nation. This being the close of the school year, Frederick Wehrbein and Carroll Sutton, the two high school boys who have been the honorary members of Rotary for the month of May were called upon and gave a very fine response on their impressions and appreciation of Rotary and their association with the members. The club gave the boys a very fine farewell, the remarks by E. H. Westcott to the two boys being very impressive and filled with inspiring ideal for the young men to choose as their guide in life.

A SMALLER WORLD

Telephone communication is making the world smaller. A little more than three years ago the first commercial radio telephone channel between Great Britain and North America was opened. There are now four such channels, and the demand for facilities is steadily increasing. Last April, telephone service was inaugurated between North and South America, thus linking the 20,000,000 telephones in the United States, as well as those in Cuba, Mexico and Canada, with several of the principal countries of the South. Practically every important center of population in the world can now be reached by telephone from any home or office in this country. The telephone has given the old saying, "it's a small world after all," a real meaning.

SUES WOOD BROS. FOR $7,000,000

Fremont, May 25.—Suit for $7,000,000 damages has been started in federal court at Lincoln by James H. Maher, Fremont Construction Co. head, who alleges that the Wood Bros. Corp. of that city during the past decade has accumulated profits to that extent through the distribution and installment of stream defectors, a device Maher claimed to have patented in May, 1921. Maher further seeks to enjoin the Wood Bros. company from further manufacturing and installing of the devices.

Old Time Resident Here Meets with Old Friends

Unexpected Meeting of Former Plattsmouth People Occurs at Seattle Washington

Editor Journal, Plattsmouth, Nebr. How many times since my departure from Plattsmouth in 1902, and particularly since my arrival in Seattle on December 30, 1928, have I had ample proof that the world is not so large after all; that no matter where one may go—one may not be surprised to meet accidentally or intentionally, dear personal friends of long ago.

Today, being a little lonely and in a somewhat reminiscent mood, it occurred to me that some of the old timers in your city might welcome a diversion from the every day news of modern life by reading a few lines relative to some of the former residents of Plattsmouth, who might still be there except for circumstances which they might not have been able to control. With out intending to be too personal, I will go back a few years to relate a circumstance which was so forcibly brought to my mind upon receiving a visit from two of those with me at the time. It was during the latter part of the winter of 1929 that I received an invitation to an oyster supper given by Mrs. Eugene Sage of Plattsmouth in honor of her cousin, Miss Eunice Sage. Others in attendance beside Miss Sage were Miss Anna Dakin, Miss Emma Herold, Frank Hager and Lewellyn Moore. Of this "saxette" four are still among the living. A few years following the gathering, Miss Herold became the wife of Frank Hager and Miss Sage became my help-mate, but passed to reward October 2, 1928. Mr. Moore passed away at his home in Texas several years ago; Miss Dakin, now Mrs. White, is a resident of Sawville, California, and Mr. and Mrs. Hager are residents of Lincoln, Nebraska.

Yesterday, however, after 51 years, over half a century since the pleasant evening mentioned, who should call on my door for a visit with myself and my daughter and family, but Frank Hager and wife, Emma (Herold) Hager, accompanied by their son, Robert, and one of his three daughters, and to say that the visit was altogether too short would be putting it mild. Mr. and Mrs. Hager have been spending the winter with their daughter, Mrs. Fern (Hager) Farnham, of Long Beach, California, and one of their sons in Los Angeles, but have been in Tacoma for a time with their son, Robert, who is coach for a basketball team there, and who is also an experienced aviator. And it is a wonder if the ears of some of the older residents of Plattsmouth didn't burn while we talked about them, but many of whom had no opportunity, presumably having passed to the reward. In fact, I doubt if there remains a single one of those who were inhabitants of Plattsmouth during my first stay there, which occurred during the summer of 1858. My next residence was from 1873 to 1880, and again from 1898 to 1902. But I hope to once again see the "old town" and the new bridge, which I presume they constructed because poor old deaf Doty had died or became too incapacitated to longer paddle across the muddy current. With regards to old friends, Rush O. Fellows
