Greenwood Marshall Sues for Damages

Files Action Against W. E. Newkirk and W. M. Rouse of Charge of Damaging Reputation

After several days of calm, the controversy existing at Greenwood between Marshall George H. Trunkenboltz and a number of the residents of that place, flared forth again when Mr. Trunkenboltz filed a damage suit for $5,000 against William E. Newkirk and William M. Rouse. It is alleged in the petition of the plaintiff that on June 14, 1930, William E. Newkirk was not a justice of the peace in and for Greenwood and Cass county, that he had usurped the office of justice of the peace, that the defendants Newkirk and Rouse conspired to cause the filing of the charge of assault against the plaintiff Trunkenboltz.

It is further claimed that the defendants caused a warrant to be issued for Trunkenboltz, that the sheriff of Cass county was requested to serve the warrant on the plaintiff and that he was compelled to put up a bond for his appearance to answer to the charge as made against him on the complaint of Rouse and the warrant issued by the defendant Newkirk.

That by reason of this charge and the arrest, it is alleged that Mr. Trunkenboltz has suffered damage to his reputation in the community in which he had heretofore a good reputation and which is injured by the allegation of a felony. That the charges have humiliated the plaintiff and the members of his family and for this he asks that a judgment in the sum of $5,000 be awarded him against the defendants, Newkirk and Rouse.

Attorney A. L. Tidd of this city appears in the case as counsel for Mr. Trunkenboltz and filed the case for his client today.

THE FARM ROAD SITUATION

Of the 6,250,000 farm owners in the United States, 1,988,704 are served by roads which have been improved to some degree, according to the American Farm Bureau. Over 2,747,700 live on roads which are practically unimproved and are usually impassable during many months of the year. One million have gravel roads. Less than 500,000 American farmers are assured of all-year highways.

Here is the problem that must be adequately met and solved by every state if agriculture is to progress and prosper to the fullest degree. At the end of 1928, there were more miles of unsurfaced roads in the United States than in 1914, and most of these served farming areas.

Most of us, thinking of the fine highways that stretch between the sizeable cities of the United States, are under the impression that we have a complete nation-wide system of improved roads. What we do not see are the thousands upon thousands of miles of dirt and mud upon which millions of farmers must rely. Those who have made thorough studies of the farm situation and the need for relief, are almost unanimously of the opinion that one of the pre-eminent factors in any permanent and practical program must be the construction, on a large scale, of economically paved, all-weather, year-round, farmer-to-market roads.

"LOST ZEPPELIN" SHOWS BYRD PARTY PERIL

The peril of Commander Byrd and his party in the South Polar regions is strikingly illustrated in "The Lost Zeppelin," Tiffany's great all-talking special, filled with thrills, and adventure and romance which is coming to the Ritz theatre Sunday and Monday, July 6th and 7th. Conway Tearle, Virginia Valli and Ricardo Cortez are featured in this production.

"The Lost Zeppelin" deals with a huge dirigible which gets to the antarctic regions and is wrecked in a blizzard. All of those in the party but two perish. The picture shows the appearance of "Little America," as Byrd has named the antarctic continent, and of the grim battle with the elements there. Through the amazing adventures runs a powerful love story in which the wife of the Zeppelin commander figures. She believes she is in love with her husband's aide on the exploration trip. The husband learns of this and, when an aeroplane comes to the rescue, he is able to carry away only one passenger, he insists that his aide make the trip back to civilization. The ending of the story is a decided surprise.

ANNOUNCEMENT

To the voters of Cass county I wish to announce that I will be a candidate for the nomination for sheriff at the primary election on August 12th, subject to the wishes of the republican voters. I will, if nominated and elected, strive to give the people of Cass county fair and impartial law enforcement. The support of the voters will be appreciated.

Mynard Club Enjoys a Very Fine Meeting

Members of Community Organization
Stage a Fine Program at June Meeting

The June meeting of the Mynard Community Club was held in their hall on Friday evening, the 27th. As usual, the singing of familiar songs by the audience opened the meeting. A new stunt was introduced by having one half of the people sing "There's a Long, Long Trail," led by the song leader, Mrs. C. C. Barnard, while the other half sang, "Keep the Home Fires Burning" with Mrs. R. O. Cole, the pianist, as leader. This stunt created some laughter especially when one side forged ahead of the other. However the second attempt was a success.

After a short business session in which it was decided that the community picnic would be held this summer and committees were appointed by the president, C. L. Wiles, a very good program was presented. This program was intended for the May meeting but because of rain, was postponed and some of the people who were to have taken a part could not be present. The community of Murray contributed some very good numbers by some of its residents. Miss Evelyn Mead, accompanied by Mrs. Roy Cole, sang some of the popular songs of today very sweetly. Mrs. Vance Pitman and Mrs. Bruchner sang "Sweet and Low" and "Stars of the Summer Night," and Mrs. Pitman also sang a duet "O Tell Us Merry Birds," with Mrs. Wm. Seyboldt. Mrs. Pitman singing the alto part in the first duet and the soprano in the second one. Miss Thelma Pitman was the accompanist. Mrs. George Mumm gave a couple of lively piano solos which the audience enjoyed very much. Several humorous "German" readings by Mrs. Kafenberg were also received enthusiastically. A quartet composed of Hilda Friedrich, Selma Kraeger, Arthur Hild and Glen Kraeger, sang "Juanita" and "When Peace Like a River." These young folks have very good voices which blended harmoniously. Their accompanist was Miss Katherine Hild. Two piano solos played by Mrs. Arthur Troop were beautiful and brilliant. They were "Salute to Perth" and "Sparklets."

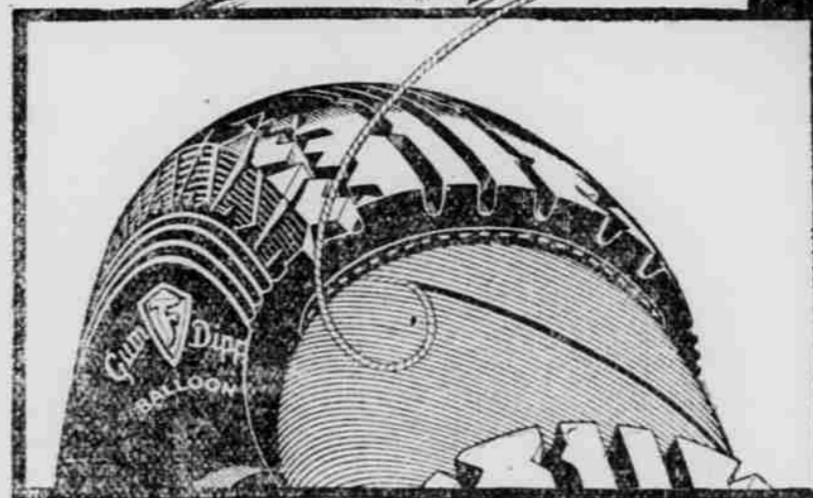

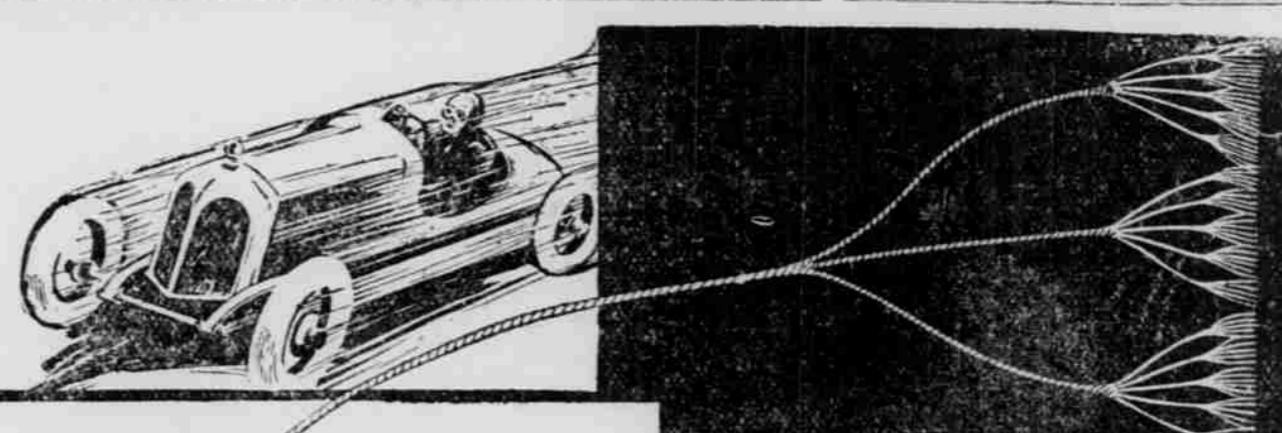

The meeting closed with a short talk by the president about the picnic. Every one who wishes to go is welcome. Let us all go and enjoy a happy day, visiting and listening to the program which will be prepared by the two program committees.

Defy Hoover by 56 to 11 Vote; Expect Veto

Amendment Nearly Doubles Cost of Hoover Measure; Coalition Is Victorious.

Washington, July 1.—Plans to adjourn congress this week blew up Tuesday when the senate adopted the Walsh-Connally amendment to the world war veterans' pension bill. Riding in defiance of President Hoover, the senate then quickly passed the bill with the amendment.

It was declared passed by Vice President Curtis without a record vote. Demand was made for a roll call. The result showed a 56 to 11 vote for the measure.

The senate's action tied up the adjournment program in a tangled knot. For the amendment nearly doubles the cost of the pension bill as passed by the house.

Amendment Veto Sure.
A vote of 37 to 26 put through the amendment, nine republicans and one farmer-laborite joining the democrats in a coalition which beat the administration forces.

President Hoover, it has been made clear, will veto the bill as framed by the senate unless the Walsh-Connally amendment with its high rates is stricken out in conference.

Veterans bureau experts have estimated that the bill with the amendment voted Tuesday will take $160,000,000 from the treasury instead of the $80,000,000 estimated for the house bill.

The house has served notice that it will refuse to adjourn until a world war veterans bill acceptable to the president has been passed and enacted into law.

To agree to the senate bill would only result in the measure going to the White House and meeting another presidential veto. That veto likely would be sustained by the house and the task of framing another bill would still confront the house and senate.

For this reason the senate bill with its high rates is sure to be rejected by the house conferees and a deadlock may result.

Norris in Finish Fight.
Meanwhile Senator Norris (R.) of Nebraska, served notice that congress would stay in session all summer if necessary to wind up its work.

Norris wants a finish fight with the house on his Muscle Shoals bill.

He is backed by a number of insurgents who are agreeable to sticking to their jobs if the house can be swung into line on Muscle Shoals and other controversial legislation.—Omaha Bee-News.

WHEAT FARMERS TO MEET

Word has been received by County Agent D. D. Wainwright regarding a big meeting of wheat farmers and men interested in the agricultural situation, at Hastings July 7th. The letter came from W. H. Brokaw, director of the agricultural extension service and stated that the University of Nebraska is sponsoring the Hastings meeting.

Alexander Lerge, chairman of the Federal Farm Board; A. M. Hyde, secretary of agriculture; Chancellor Brunett of the University of Nebraska; and Harold Hedges, agricultural economist of the College of Agriculture are to speak on this program. The meeting is open to the public but since the seating capacity of the Auditorium at Hastings is limited to about two thousand people, tickets are being issued through letters and by county extension agents. Mr. Wainwright has several of these tickets which he will be glad to furnish to farmers who know ahead of time that they can attend the Hastings meeting.

The program at this meeting is to
