Mrs. Addie Perry who has been at the hospital at Omaha for the past month, where she has been receiving treatment was so far recovered that she was able to return to her home the latter portion of last week. She was at the Immanuel hospital while in Omaha.

A new boy and a happy family is the report coming from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Meisinger and with the happy mother and young son doing nicely and the proud father, well we cannot say he is feeling better than grandfather Fred W. Meisinger.

Earl Lancaster and the family were enjoying a visit and a good time at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Royer of Plattsmouth, the occasion being the celebration of the birthday of Miss Ida Royer, the five-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Royer.

A large crowd was in Murray last Saturday night to enjoy the very fine movies which the business men of Murray have sponsored and which is attracting much attention. There is to be another one the coming Saturday. This one will be truly a surprise and no mistake.

L. J. Hallas and the family were visiting for the day on last Sunday at Plattsmouth where they were guests at the home of the parents of Mr. Hallas, the father being just now convalescing following an illness in which he underwent a number of operations in Omaha.

Red Short Horn Bull

I have a good Red Short Horn Bull 14 months old, and a fine individual, for sale. Can deliver at once. Right for service.—Wm. Minford, Murray, Phone 1502. j17-4tup

Enjoyed Merry Gathering.

On last Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Peter Johnson, between Union and Nehawka, entertained and had for the occasion as their guests for the day and dinner, Mrs. Gertrude Carper and her father, Mr. Oscar Nelson, as well as Gustav Nelson, Harry B. Nelson and family of Murray, Ray Snyder and family of Waverly, Fred and Albert Peterson of Omaha, Joseph Johnson and family and Miss DeLeese Carper of Nehawka, Conrad Johnson and family and Mr. and Mrs. Lucean Carper of Murray and Jacob Wessell and family of south of Nehawka. A most pleasant time was had by all.

Gets Large Consignment of Oils.

The Murray garage, Mr. A. D. Bakke, who believes in having things in quantities so they can be sold at a profit and very reasonable besides, received three truck loads of Polerine and Mobile oils for autos and other machinery. This seems a large invoice for this town but he is competing with the world when it comes to goods and process.

Gets New Radio.

Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Davis are enjoying a fine new all electric radio which they purchased on last Monday from the distributor in this section, A. D. Bakke. They are liking the new machine as it does away with the trouble of batteries and all one has to do is plug in on the electric light system and away it goes.

Improving the Hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Berger of the Murray hotel are making some good improvements at the hostelry in the way of having the entire building painted. M. G. Churchill is doing the work, and when the work has been completed the building will present a very fine appearance.

Jesse Domingo Injured.

While Jesse Domingo was passing a corner northwest of Murray on last Saturday a truck from Omaha came along at a rapid pace and striking the car of Mr. Domingo, who is crippled anyway, knocked him from the car into the ditch and fractured one of his hips. Mr. Domingo was taken to the hospital at Lincoln where he is being treated. The man from Omaha was known and an adjustment will be endeavored to be had as soon as Mr. Domingo is able to return from the hospital.

Murray Wins Over Louisville.

In the very lively tilt which was had between the Murray ball team and the team from the cement town, Louisville, on last Sunday, the home team won after a hard contest by a score of 15 to 12 for the visitors.

Making Improvements.

Phillip Harrison of Plattsmouth was a visitor in Murray on last Tuesday where he was doing preparatory work for the installing of sewage system at the Phillips Petroleum company station, which they are to put in very fine condition soon.

McMullen Says Will Stand by Mr. Norris

Former Governor Tired of "Mess" in Which Senatorial Race Has Fallen.

Former Governor of Nebraska McMullen came out of his wheat field near Beatrice Monday night to tell he was tired of the "mess" into which the Nebraska senatorial race has fallen and he will in any way come to the aid of Senator Norris' campaign. McMullen said that if necessary he would become the campaign manager of the senator.

It is the plan of the former governor to campaign for the senator regardless of whether he becomes the senator's manager.

"I am a republican and want to see the traditions of Nebraska republicans maintained," McMullen said. "All this unfair practice in the senatorial race should be stopped, and I'm going to do my part, as all good republicans should, to stop it."

"There is one thing to be said in behalf of Senator Norris, and that is he would not do anything unfair to hinder the attempt of others to gain office. Norris is a straight, hard fighting republican, and he is true to his convictions, whether others agree with him or not."

When asked whether he was invited to attend the Nebraska G. O. P. meeting at Plattsmouth Monday night, McMullen said he had been reading about it in the papers, but he was not invited to attend the confab.

"I have not given a lot of thought to the exact plan I will follow in my aid to the Norris campaign," McMullen said, because I have been busy with harvesting. You know it takes two bushels of wheat to bring as much as one did a year ago, and then a year ago there was no federal farm board."

ARE FINED FOR TARRING

Orange City, Ia.—Pleading guilty to charges of unlawful assembly in connection with the tarring and feathering of John De Jong, forty-one, father of five children, fourteen Orange City men Thursday morning were fined $10 and costs each in Justice John Meyer's court at Alton.

Seventeen men were accused by De Jong and were arrested, but three of them did not appear in court. It is intimated by De Jong that he now will institute civil suits against the men.

Deputy Sheriff Harry Dystra said the supposed cause of the attack was the man's alleged impropriety with a married woman. De Jong admitted Wednesday that the woman in question had "ridden in his car a couple of times," but that he had no warning that his attentions were causing notice.

The mob took De Jong into the country Tuesday night, forced him to undress, and applied a coat of tar and feathers, after which he was taken back to town and left on a street corner.

ITALIAN IS A VOLUNTEER

Santa Fe, N. M.—Pietro Canale of Rome, Italy, has volunteered as a subject for a trachoma experiment. He said in a letter sent here he had read of an effort to get Woo Dak San, condemned Chinese, to aid in an attempt to isolate the germ.

"Well known and well liked here (Italy) and young and robust," the twenty-seven year old Italian wrote: "I would be at their disposal to give my head in any experiments for the benefit of suffering humanity."

Trachoma is an eye disease, prevalent among Indians. Woo Dak San was offered his freedom if he would give himself to science for experimentation, but he refused.

Help to Thousands is Seen in New Vets' Law

Head of D. A. V. Asserts Measure Will Aid Additional Men; New Rulings Cited.

Washington, June 13.—Thousands of world war veterans will receive their first benefits or additional compensation from the new amendments to the law governing the veterans bureau, according to a statement today by Captain Herman H. Welmer, of Chicago, recently elected national commander of the Disabled American Veterans.

"Provision is made," said Captain Welmer, "for the disability allowance to any honorably discharged veteran who saw service at least 90 days during the world war, and who entered the service prior to the armistice. These allowances are on the following scale: 25 per cent permanent disability, $12 per month; 50 per cent permanent disability, $18 per month; 75 per cent permanent disability, $25 per month; total permanent disability, $40 per month. These benefits start from the date of application and in no case are retroactive. Persons paying income tax are not eligible for this particular allowance. Cannot Get Both Benefits.

"Veterans are permitted to elect between the disability allowance and compensation in case they are eligible for both, but in no case shall any one person draw both benefits at the same time.

"Independent of any other compensation, veterans who suffered the loss of a foot or a hand, as a result of injury received prior to Nov. 11, 1918, shall receive $25 a month.

"In the cases of the expeditionary forces in Russia, the dates for this benefit shall extend to April 1, 1920.

"Payments of compensation in all cases of hospitalized insane veterans who have no dependents shall be stopped when they restates equal three thousand dollars.

Grass Seed Harvest Buries Holt County

Industry to Second Place in County in Less Than Ten Years—Returns $100,000

O'Neill, Neb., July 13.—Blue grass seed harvesting in Holt county had its roots in the importation by a handful of people of Kentucky seed, which they scattered about in their yards and a few meadows.

Nothing was further from their minds than grass seed harvesting then. Not until nine or 10 years ago did the byproduct begin to overwhelm the original hay crop idea.

For many years there was only a scattered sickly stand. Slowly enough the imported product choked out wild varieties of grass, and spread all over the county. Then it was almost forgotten. It was there, and highly appreciated, but that's all there was to it.

Nothing was further from their minds than grass seed harvesting then. Not until nine or 10 years ago did the byproduct begin to overwhelm the original hay crop idea.

For many years there was only a scattered sickly stand. Slowly enough the imported product choked out wild varieties of grass, and spread all over the county. Then it was almost forgotten. It was there, and highly appreciated, but that's all there was to it.

Discovered in 1920.

Finally someone made a discovery in 1920 or a little later. Whether it was Paul Schwisow, Jack Quig or Joe Meredith, historians will be unable to say, but some keen minded person sent samples of the new grass seed to a seed company and that first firm and others never have reached the saturation point on Holt county blue grass seed in a decade of seed merchandising.

A few days ago George A. Miles publisher of the Holt County Independent, estimated the farmers and ranchers of Holt county will receive at least 100 thousand dollars in 1930 merely for the privilege of skimming their meadows of the seed. And the hay crop is not damaged in the least in taking the seed. Land owners are paid from $1 to $2 an acre for seed rights.

Has to Dry Four Days.

A specially designed type of harvester is used in garnering the seed. The majority of these are horse drawn, but one company is planning two strippers, with a car equipped with a driving device which gives it the pull of a truck.

Five seed companies are in the grass fields near here this season. The number of strippers at work is estimated at two hundred. These outfits truck their seed to a drying ground, made by scattering straw or hay over an acre or more and then bring it to destroy all vegetation, or by close clipping with lawn mowers.

The seed is sacked in the field, trucked to the drying field, spread, and constantly turned over and over with scoops until it is well dried. This takes about four days.

Residents Still Amazed.

The gathering of blue grass seed must be accomplished in from 10 days to two weeks. The seed ripens fast and a storm or high wind spells disaster. In ideal weather it matures rapidly and soon begins to sift to earth.

After curing, the seed is resacked and shipped to the company's headquarters where it is cleaned of weed seeds and packaged for retailing. The firms plan on shipping out from 10 to 20 carloads each.

Holt county folk still are amazed at the flood of cash for a byproduct that for so long, until it proved itself, was not considered in the running. Springing from an insignificant handful of samples the blue grass seed harvest of Holt county threatens to attain the lead among all other industries in the county.

British Food Tax Policy is Decried by Baldwin

Ex Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin, Is Said to Lament New Toward Protection.

London—Stanley Baldwin, leader of the Conservative Party, has given notice of a motion of censure in the House of Commons arraigning the Government's tariff policy and, incidentally, holding out a hand to the Right Wing Conservatives who have been threatening to split from him in consequence of his lukewarmness toward food taxation.

This move is the outcome of recent indications that there is a swing over of public opinion toward protection, as shown by the bankers' much discussed pronouncement on July 5, Lord Beaverbrook, who now leads the food taxers, receives this advance warning.

"It may mean," says his chief newspaper organ, the Daily Express, July 8, "the complete conversion of Mr. Baldwin to Lord Beaverbrook's policy of Empire free trade and it may mean less." The fact is, it is understood here, that Mr. Baldwin is feeling his way. His position has hitherto been that while it is desirable for the promotion of British trade arrangements with Canada, Australia, South Africa, New Zealand and South Ireland to have a free hand to impose taxes upon foreign imported goods, public opinion is not yet fully ripe for a tariff upon food.

Mr. Baldwin's censure motion says: "That this House, believing that a return to prosperity can best be promoted by safeguarding the home market against unfair foreign competition and by expanding the export market by reciprocal trade agreements with the Empire overseas, regrets that the Government has reversed the policy of safeguarding instead of extending it, and has arbitrarily excluded from consideration the imposition of duties upon foreign foodstuffs devised to obtain equivalent advantages for British manufacturers and agriculture in Empire markets and elsewhere."

Francis Wortley, chairman, Conservative Association of North Norfolk, said at Holt, July 7, "If differences exist between Mr. Baldwin and Lord Beaverbrook they are fast disappearing and very soon these two may be found hand in hand assisting the Empire toward prosperity."

'NO' SAYS GROOM AND BRIDE FAINTS

Naples, July 15.—Domenico Piccozzi went tranquilly to the altar where he listened to his marriage service with apparent calm. When the priest said: "Domenico, dost thou take this Louisa for thy wedded wife?" and so forth, Domenico responded, without a quaver in his voice, "No!"

The bride fainted, her family became excited, others searched for sticks and stones. Domenico, however remained obdurate. Even to police he refused an explanation for his cry "No!"

Mrs. Lester Gayford and sister, Miss Emily Stava, were visitors in Omaha today where they spent a few hours visiting with friends and looking after some matters of business.
