Good Crops in Prospect for Middle West

Federal Reserve Report Says Employment Gains 2 Per Cent During Last Month.

Chicago, July 27.—Good crops, with the exception of hay and fruit, are in prospect for Iowa, Illinois, Indiana, Wisconsin and Michigan, the Federal Reserve bank of Chicago reported Sunday in an abstract from its monthly survey.

The recent extreme heat somewhat damaged growing crops, the report set out, and there is no present evidence of a bumper harvest.

Threshing of winter wheat and rye in the area and the satisfactory progress of corn, oats, spring wheat and barley was noted. The production of soy beans in the five states and of edible dry beans in Michigan is greater, the statement pointed out. Concerning dairy products the resume stated:

"Seventh district production of creamery butter decreased 1 1/2 per cent in June, contrary to the usual trend.

"Milk decreases. "Reduced milk production as a result of pasture deterioration and irritation of the animals by flies, together with the low butter price levels, were the principal factors in the recession. Sales showed a further increase of 4 1/2 per cent during the month, 9 per cent under those of last June. Inventories of the commodity at warehouses in the United States on July 1 showed an accumulation considerably in excess of the 5-year average. Quotations, treading downward but firming slightly, remained at a very low level.

"Receipts of American cheese at Wisconsin primary markets, indicative of production of state factories, failed in seasonal gain but were 20 per cent heavier than in May and 5 1/2 per cent larger than last year. Redistribution from these centers increased 50 per cent during the month and tonnage exceeded that of a year ago by 4 1/2 per cent.

Cheese Stumps.

"June cheese receipts at Chicago were decidedly less than in the same month last year but stocks in the United States were 21,000 pounds in excess of the 5-year average. Prices continued to ease and at the end of June were at the lowest level in years."

Although meat packing production decreased 4 per cent in June to the level of that of the previous period in 1929, the survey noted, employment gained 2 1/2 per cent. Domestic demand was listed as fair to good for meats but a 2 per cent decline in sales during the month due to "unemployment in the cities and low level of prices for farm products" was recorded.

June prices were described as mixed but downward in trend. Export business was classified as dull.—Omaha Bee-News.

DEMOCRAT CHIEFS IN MASSA CHUSETTS FAVOR NO "SLATE"

Worcester, Mass., July 28.—A "harmony" meeting of Massachusetts democratic leaders, called to select a slate for the state primary, failed to accomplish its business today after a fist fight developed between two delegates.

An effort to prevent the conference from sponsoring any certain candidates led by Congressman W. M. Conroy of Lynn. He introduced a resolution to prevent such action, and it was passed, but during the speeches the disorder developed in the rear of the hall. Policemen dragged one of the battlers out.

The meeting went on, but without action on candidates.

United States Senator David I. Walsh opened the meeting. He said the unemployment situation was a political condition, and it needed the best thought and leadership of the administration in Washington.

"Send men to Washington," he urged, "who will say, 'we are sick of this policy of indifference. We want economic freedom for the poor and the workers.' Our party is not the enemy of the farmer or the business man; we want everybody to have a square deal."

Deitrich Koester Long Time Resident of Cass County

Prominent Farmer of Vicinity of Weeping Water Is Laid to the Last Rest

The community of Weeping Water has been called upon to part with one of the old and highly respected residents of that locality, Deitrich Koester, who passed away last Thursday and was laid to the last rest on Monday afternoon.

The funeral services were held from the Hobson chapel at Weeping Water and consisted of the comforting and simple services of the Christian Science society, Troy L. Davis serving as reader.

Deitrich Koester was born April 21, 1856, at Kleinborsho, Germany, spending his childhood days in the place of his birth and when attaining the age of fifteen years he came to America to found his mature home. He settled in the north central section of Illinois where so many of his countrymen had located and where he resided until the year 1880 when he joined the large number of his countrymen that were moving westward in the search of homes in the great farming areas of the central west where land was to be had then at a very low price and for homesteading. Mr. Koester came to the vicinity of the present town of Avoca in 1880 and located there with a blacksmith shop in which trade he was very proficient, following this trade for fourteen years when he decided to go back to the old home in Illinois, remaining there for a four year period. On his second trip to Nebraska in 1905, Mr. Koester located on a farm near Weeping Water and where he has since been engaged in looking after the care of the farm. In addition to his land holdings here Mr. Koester also owned a farm near Idaho Falls, Idaho, where his son, Fred Koester, was located. In his residence here Mr. Koester located on a farm near Weeping Water and where he resided until the year 1928 when he passed away.

The deceased is survived by one son, Fred, of Idaho Falls, Idaho, two daughters, Mrs. Sophie Blukie of Ulysses, Nebraska, and Miss Doretta Koester, residing with the father at home. There are also two sisters and four brothers surviving.

NEEDS IN SHIPPING LESS

Washington—The $3,000,000,000 government agency which spent one-third of that sum in a single year plans to ask for only $4,000,000 for its maintenance next year. Altogether, $3,683,569,000 has been appropriated for the shipping board and the Merchant Fleet corporation, the board's operating agency. Of that sum, $1,067,183,000 was spent in a single year—1918, when the United States was at war and ordered the board to buy and build ships regardless of cost.

Since that year the appropriations have decreased steadily. They were $110,915,000 in 1922, $30,000,000 in 1925 and $6,000,000 for this year. The board is slowly going out of the shipping business, concentrating now on stimulating the domestic merchant marine. For this latter purpose, President J. R. Jordan of the Merchant Fleet corporation estimates $4,000,000 will be enough next year.
