Egyptian Bondage

Since Ancient History has been Looked upon as the Result of Slavery

Money is power that means freedom. The lack of it means bondage. No one wishes to be a slave, subject to the dictations of others, yet this is what one is doing if he is not laying aside money each week or month.

You begin to have power and influence the moment you begin to save. This bank offers you aid, convenience and safety in joining the ranks of savers.

Patt, and of her sister, is also a niece of Mr. J. A. Pittz, of Plattsmouth, where she is also visiting.

Mrs. M. G. Churchill, who has been very seriously ill for some time past, but who has been improving slowly, was able to take an outing on last Sunday, Mr. Churchill, with his car, taking the good wife for a ride. They went to the fisheries at South Bend, where they enjoyed a picnic dinner and returned through Sarpy county and enjoyed the ride very much.

The many friends of Mrs. Churchill are pleased at her improvement.

Lost the Main Road. A bunch of the residents of Murray were over to Shenandoah a few days since and enjoyed the sights of that magic city, seeing all the sights and also enjoying the radio broadcasting from the two stations. They were rather loath to leave the Wonderful, but as the shades of evening were approaching they decided to start for home. One of the party, a good looking young man with a small family and by the way himself a handsome man, struck out for Nebraska, depending on instinct and relying somewhat on his trusty car, intending to cross the road at Nebraska City.

The road seemed long and not so very familiar and just as the lights began to twinkle they found that they were in Hamburg. An hour was consumed in retracing their way to Nebraska City. They say they enjoyed the trip back as well as the ride to Hamburg. At that they were no worse off than a couple who reside near Nehawka and last summer went and as the wife said recently, had to go via the south pole to get to Shenandoah.

It looks like the roads should be marked in Iowa.

Attended Bible School. Mrs. Wm. Sporer, who was away for five consecutive Sundays, had promised that she would attend Bible school every Sunday while away and did so. The first Sunday out, she attended at Columbus, Ohio, and found 297 present; the next Sunday she was at Washington, D. C., and found 388, the third Sunday she was at Springfield, Mass., where she went and stayed for a time at a community Bible school home, but finally asking about it, found that it was closed during the hot weather. She however, attended a Mission school, with about forty present. The fourth Sunday, she attended at Toronto, Canada, and the fifth and last Sunday out, she attended at Schoolcraft, Michigan, the place where she was born, and there had to make half of the Sunday school, for she and a cousin were the only scholars. However, she made good her promise and was credited in the contest which was held at the home Bible school at Murray.

Visiting in the West. Dr. and Mrs. G. H. Gilmore and their son, John, departed on last Sunday for the west, where they will spend some two or three weeks and perhaps longer. They stopped the first day at Overton, where they expected to spend a few days, after which they go to Estes park and from there will go on to visit many other places of interest in the west. Corn 47% in Southeastern Part of State

State and Federal Departments Make Report on the General Crop Conditions of State.

The condition of corn on August 15 was 72.8% according to the mid-month report of bankers to the State and Federal Division of Agricultural Statistics. About 78% of the wheat and 81% of the oats are threshed. Yields of small grain are somewhat higher than indicated August 1.

Prospects for corn have lowered since July 15 when bankers reported a condition of 84.6%. The moisture supply is still somewhat short throughout the state, although the supply is nearly sufficient in the central, east central and southwestern districts. The condition of corn varies from 95% in the northwestern counties to 47% in the southeastern district. The central counties are favorable with a condition of 89%. Corn has suffered considerable permanent damage but rains during the ten days previous to August 15 and later have relieved the condition considerably.

Corn has withstood dry weather and extreme temperatures much better than expected. Good supplies of subsoil moisture received during April and May helped to withstand the shortage during June and July. Corn conditions are spotted with the poorer crops in the southeastern counties. A few northeastern counties are also reported in the poor class. Unfavorable weather stunted corn and hindered pollination in many counties but there is much good corn in the state.

Small grain yields appear favorable. Bankers estimate the average yield of wheat at 20.5 bu. per acre which is 1.2 bu. higher than the August 1 estimated yield. Oats yield is estimated at 33.0 bu. per acre and winter wheat at 17.1 bu. Most counties report that a deficiency or a surplus of corn, small food grains, alfalfa hay and wild hay may be expected in their localities. Approximately 78% of the winter wheat and 81% of the oats have been threshed to date.

An average of the replies from bankers indicate that only 65% as many cattle will be put on feed this winter as were fed last season while they estimate the number of sheep to be fed at 69% as many as last year. Estimates are closely in proportion to the expected yields of corn for the various counties.

Farm prices show general improvement. Prices of all commodities covered in the report have shown some increase since July 15. Present prices are estimated as follows: corn 75¢ per bu.; wheat 67¢ per bu.; oats 38¢ per bu.; alfalfa hay per ton, $9.68; hogs per cwt, $8.28; butterfat per lb. 32¢ and eggs 14¢ per dozen. Bankers estimate the farm price of grass fat cattle at $6.59 per cwt and grain fat cattle at $8.79 per cwt. The gain in price during the past 30 days for the above commodities are quoted as follows: corn 15¢ per bu.; wheat 6¢ per bu.; oats 4¢ per bu.; alfalfa hay $1.34 per ton; hogs 36¢ per cwt; butterfat 6¢ per lb., and eggs 1¢ per dozen.

Report from bankers indicate that less alfalfa will be cut for seed this year than last. Bankers estimate the acreage to be only 65% of that cut for seed last season.

RICH LODE OF GOLD DISCOVERED AGAIN AFTER MANY YEARS

Custer, S. D., Aug. 19.—The lost gold lode of Calamity creek, near which gold was first discovered in 1874 by Custer's scouting party, has been relocated by "Silent" Jess Harris, old-time prospector, and Walt Davis.

The lode is in the nature of a fissure vein of quartz between granite and schist walls. The quartz is shot with nodules and flecks of gold. Analysis by the assay department of the School of Mines at Rapid City reveals that the lode will bring nearly $4,000 a ton. According to the old story a wolf trapper in the employ of Frank Walsh, a cattleman who later became sheriff of Custer county, was hunting in the neighborhood of Calamity creek. One day, tired of his work, he idly picked away at a piece of white quartz. Suddenly the quartz broke, revealing a good sized nugget of coarse gold.

The wolf trapper hurried to Custer and told his pals, Matt and Jack Daley, about it. The Daleys stuck-staked the trapper to work the claim. He knew little of mining, but the dirt was so rich that he rigged up his outfit, pounded the ore in a big iron container with a crude mallet, and in this manner was able to grind out and wash dust to the value of $50 a day. He was offered 60 thousand dollars for the claim while he was working it, but refused. Later when the vein petered out he was sorry he had not accepted the offer. He spent months trying to find it again, but was unsuccessful. He finally abandoned the search and the claim reverted to the government.

A number of prospectors have, at various times, hunted for the rich gold lode, but none were successful until the recent discovery by Harris.

HARD-SOFT LARGE-SMALL CORNS

Out to Stay Out—Roots and All Magic Oxygen Salts Bath Never Fails No More Burning Aching Feet

No matter how many corns you have or how painful they are—soak your feet for 15 minutes in a delightfully soothing and revitalizing Radox footbath for 3 or 4 nights—then lift corns and callouses right out—roots and all and they won't come back either unless you wear shoes again which aggravate your feet.

No cutting or digging is required because Radox liberates oxygen which softens hard outer layers of corns, each night penetrating the pores further and further, carrying the salts right to roots of corns which are so loosened they can be lifted out bodily. Your feet are made strong—healthy—vigorous—hard skin on heels and toes goes also. F. G. Fricke & Co., and all good drugstores are stocked with Radox—if they aren't insist upon them ordering it if you want to experience great foot-joy and comfort.
