Gas Line Workers Start Moving Into This City

Force That Will Be Here Several Months Are Gradually Becoming Located in City

In the past two days there has been a noticeable number of the men that will be employed in the laying of the gas line across the Missouri river, arriving and becoming settled and getting ready for the opening of the work.

The new company is planning the placing of their line at bedrock under the waters of the Missouri and will, as soon as the material reaches here be ready to start in on the work.

The advent of the new force has made the demand for furnished rooms brisk and the Chamber of Commerce has been able to aid the newcomers by the listing of the various hotels and private rooming places that are available. The force of men will probably range from 150 to 200 and will be here for several months, it is estimated.

A number of the newcomers are married and will bring their families to this city to reside while the task of placing the natural gas mains through this vicinity.

W. C. T. U. MEETS

The W. C. T. U. held a very delightful meeting at the home of Mrs. Charles Troop on Monday afternoon and with one of the most largely attended meetings in several months. The meeting was under the leadership of Mrs. Walter Propst, the vice-president of the society.

The ladies enjoyed a very complete and thorough report of the Cass county convention of the organization, taking up the various topics that were discussed at the meeting and which was given by Mrs. Ralph Anderson.

Mrs. Anderson also read a letter of the national president of the society which was very interesting.

Two piano numbers were given by Marie Nelson and Mary Ann Highfield, the two little ladies proving a very fine feature of the program.

Mary Kathryn Wiles and Elizabeth Ann Wiles were also heard in two readings that reflected the greatest credit on the young ladies.

Mrs. Robert Troop gave the reading that she had presented at the Cass county convention, giving this number in her usually talented manner.

At the close of the afternoon dainty and delicious refreshments were served.

ADMIRAL GIVES UP POST

Washington — President Hoover Tuesday accepted the resignation of Admiral Hughes, chief of naval operations, who leaves active service in the navy Wednesday when he is relieved by Admiral Pratt.

Altho Admiral Hughes will not have reached the statutory age of retirement, sixty-four years, until Oct. 14, he said he took the action at this time "because of the realization that during the next two months important surveys and plans must be made for the future development of the navy."

Cass County Fair a Great Exposition

Wealth of Products From the Farms of the County and Work of Young People Shown

Tuesday was the opening day of the Cass County Agricultural Society and sure it was a busy day for all as there were many there to enter their stuff for exhibition. The buildings all over the city were utilized as there was much call for space. The purchase of the Jamison property relieved the pressure for space some but it was still filled, and still demand for other space. The large tent only afforded space for the hogs, and was crowded at that. The Davis buildings were all used. Spencer Marshall room on the north side did good service. The boy scouts tent was well filled and under the guidance of Scout Master Ralph Pickham, the boys do excellent service all over the city. The machinery exhibit was well filled, the stock and poultry were well represented with all kinds, including chickens, geese, ducks and turkeys. Cats, dogs, and rabbits occupied their part. Fine horses, cattle and sheep were there in abundance. The agricultural exhibit was fine, of grain, vegetables and fruits. One would be surprised at the very fine exhibit of corn, for it was there in abundance with every kind and of an excellent quality. In the most abundant years one would not expect more than this year's production. All we say is be sure and visit the fair as it continues until Friday and each day will be bigger and better.

The Farmers Lumber company of Cedar Creek have a very fine exhibit on Main street of poultry and hog houses and prices made for delivery at any one's farm, on skids. On the space between Chris Rasmussen's store and the poultry exhibit in the newly acquired property formerly the Jamison property, is the exhibit of the Binger Lumber company which consists of brooder house, chicken houses and hog houses, an array which challenged the attention of all who pass that way. They also make special delivery prices. Main street is replete with merry-go-rounds, ferris wheels and amusements and merchandise stands of all kinds. Nothing left to be desired. By all means be sure and be at the fair one day any way for if you are not you will miss something good.

PLAN TENNIS TOURNAMENT

From Tuesday's Daily—A high school tennis tournament has been planned and matches will be played during the next few days and completed some time next week. All during the summer, a large number of tennis enthusiasts have enjoyed the splendid court provided through the generosity of the park department back of the Herold apartment on North 5th street. To complete the activities of the season, which now is drawing to a close, the boys desired to stage a tournament, both singles and doubles.

The singles matches are as follows: Robt. Hall vs. Donald Bushnell, Robt. Hartford vs. Wm. Henriksen, Robt. Bestor vs. Jas. Begley, and Merle McCrary vs. Robert Warren. In the doubles division, Hartford and Hall are paired against McCrary and Warren, and Bushnell and Begley against Henriksen and Bestor.

The singles champion will be awarded a silver cup and individual medals to the doubles champion.

SHOWING IMPROVEMENT

Stuart Egenberger, who was operated on ten days ago at the St. Catherine's hospital at Omaha, is now doing very nicely and has been able to sit up for a short time with the expectation that he will be able to return home in the next few days. The young man was quite poorly for a few days following the operation for appendicitis but is now rallying in fine shape. He hopes to be able to take up his work at the University of Nebraska in a short time as soon as his strength returns somewhat after his ordeal. Mrs. L. B. Egenberger, who has been at Omaha with her son for the past week, returned home last evening.

WILL REMOVE TO LINCOLN

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Schnitker, who have made their home in this city for the past year while Mr. Schnitker has been engaged as supervisor of the paving work in this section, are to move to Lincoln in the next few days to which place Mr. Schnitker has been transferred. The departure of this excellent couple will bring a great regret to the many friends that they have made in their residence here and who join in their well wishes to this family in their new home.

HAS HAND INJURED

Mrs. M. E. Buttery suffered a very painful injury at her home Saturday while engaged in canning peaches. Mrs. Buttery in looking after the canning, overturned a pan of the syrup for the fruit and which splashed on the left hand inflicting a very painful burn and which made necessary medical attention for the hand.

Milton Sills is Dead from a Heart Attack

Film Actor Was Fatally Stricken While Playing Tennis at Home—Athlete of Screen

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 15.—Milton Sills, 48, for many years one of the best known actors in motion pictures, fell dead from a heart attack while playing tennis with his wife and son at their suburban home tonight.

Mrs. Sills, formerly Doris Kenyon, film actress, said her husband apparently was in the best of health when the game started. First intimation anything was wrong came when Sills staggered and fell to the court.

Friends of the actor, visiting at the Sills home, carried Sills into the house and summoned the Sawtelle police inhalator squad. He died at 6:45 p. m., 15 minutes after being stricken and without regaining consciousness.

Sills, once a professor of mathematics at Chicago university, was one of the athletes of the screen. Recently his health had not been good. He was confined to his home several weeks last spring with a nervous disorder.

Rose to Fame Swiftly.
Sills advanced to stardom in the films almost overnight, after a successful stage career. Like many of those with whom he rubbed elbows in the theatrical world, his start was much by accident.

He was born in Chicago January 12, 1882, and was educated at Hyde Park High school and the University of Chicago. He became a college instructor in mathematics. He was the son of William Henry and Josephine Sills.

Evincing a mild interest in amateur theatricals, Sills one day was seen by a prominent producer, who made him an offer. Sills accepted. His first training came in plays produced by Belasco, Frohman, Brady and the Shuberts.

Swiftly he rose to leading roles and the Broadway of 20 years ago accepted him as the matinee idol of "This Woman and This Man," "Just to Get Married," "The Governor's Lady," "Law of the Land," "Diplomacy," and others. He also appeared in a series of Shakespearean plays.—World-Herald.

TO CHARGE MANSLAUGHTER

Omaha—Deputy County Attorney Shotwell, announced Tuesday that charges of manslaughter will be filed against Emil E. Lindsey, owner of an automobile which collided here Monday night with one driven by Leo Clurej, nineteen, killing the latter when his car overturned. No inquest will be held.

Lindsey admitted ownership of the automobile, but reported to police two hours after the accident that his car had been stolen.

Shotwell stated that he may file charges of manslaughter against Marinus Nelson, Lindsey's companion on a party Monday night.

Lindsey was arrested early Tuesday morning and Nelson soon after. Two girls companions of the pair on a party Monday night, were also arrested and told police that the accident which cost the life of Clurej interrupted the party but momentarily. They said they abandoned Lindsey's auto near the scene of the accident and returned to a roadhouse in a taxicab, later deciding to tell the stolen car story to the police.
