The answers are found in Nebraska Tax Payers Handbook which will be furnished by the Reference Bureau.

The two lessons will be known as Extension Circulars No. 5559 and No. 5571. They are listed as the January and February monthly lessons for study clubs.

The study clubs are groups of women co-operating with the Agricultural Extension Service to the extent that the extension service furnishes them topics to discuss at their meetings. Four different series of topics are offered at a time .- D. D. Wainscott, Cass Co. Extension Agent. Jessie H. Baldwin, Ass't Co. Extendon Agent.

FAIRVIEW SCHOOL NOTES

Miss Esther Tritsch is the teacher of our school. We have an enrollment of twenty-three pupils.

We have a Junior-Citizen club again. Ruth Alexen is president, Vivian Terryberry is vice-president, Carey Zimmerman is secretary and Fred Terryberry is treasurer.

We are aiming to promote safetypractices in playing and to keep our school yard neat and clean. Irene Alexen and Virginia Kaffenberger are outside overseers. Anna Jane Terryberry and Winifred Kaffenberger are housekeepers.

The school bought the teacher a new desk. It is easier to handle and keep clean than the old one. The first and second grades have had fruit and vegetable charts. Each day they receive a star for eating the required amount. We have been getting along fine with our studies and everyone likes school so far. We hope it will be that way the rest of the year. CAREY ZIMMERMAN.
