

Murray Department

Prepared in the Interest of the People of Murray and Surrounding Vicinity Especially for the Journal Readers

If any of the readers of the Journal know of any social disorder or of any person in this vicinity, and will mail same to this office, it will appreciate the help and will warrant all news items—Kuroon

WANTED

Cholera Hogs Dead Horses Cattle and Sheep
C. W. Swingle & Co., Nebr. City, Neb.
Joe McMurray, Agent PHONE 123 We Pay Phone Calls

Stop at the Corner

The place where the boys strive to please you. We sell Gas, Oils, Auto Supplies and Accessories and give you real service. The very best of work and courteous treatment at all times.

Confectionery and Cigarettes
ROCK CREEK Service Station
Chas. Barrows, Prop.
Murray Corner

County Commissioner George L. Farley was looking after some business for the county in Murray on Monday afternoon.

Robert A. Troop of west of Mynard was a business visitor in Murray for a short time on last Monday where he was looking after some business matters.

Miss Louise Rummel, teacher of the Lewistown school, was in attendance at the Teachers' Association meeting in Omaha on last Thursday and Friday.

Ralph Kennedy was down to Newark this week where he was doing finishing work on the interior of the new home of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Berger.

John Vantine and wife were visiting here for the past few days and on Tuesday morning went to their home at Wyoming to cast their vote for the best citizens.

Mary Ellen Valley who is the teacher at the Kenosha school, was over to Lincoln on last Thursday and Friday where she was attending the teachers institute during the two days.

Guy Wiles had the misfortune to suffer the loss of some fifty hogs with the disease which is so prevalent about this portion of the state. This comes as a heavy loss to this hustling young farmer.

Robert, the seven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hathaway of near Union is at this time suffering a very acute attack of pneumonia which he also had seven years old, is fighting manfully.

At the home of Mrs. Eli M. Smith with Mrs. Smith one of the sick ones, there are three who are down with pneumonia and she is making a great care for the members of one household. Every care is being taken of them.

A. D. Bakke installed a new Keltovator at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Boedeker, Jr., which is now in excellent working order and will supply this young man and bride with excellent refrigeration for the home.

Ray Wiles of St. Louis, and who owns the farm on which Earl Lancaster farms, was a visitor in Murray on last Monday morning, visiting at the home of Earl Lancaster and also looking after some business matters.

Ephriam Oaks, who has been

Be Prepared

for Winter driving Don't delay till a real cold morning catches you off your guard with a frozen radiator, stiff motor and run-down battery! Get the jump on Old Man Winter by preparing for him beforehand. That's easily done by entrusting your car to our care. Hadn't you better drive in—today?

MURRAY GARAGE
A. D. BAKKE, Prop.

Painting and Paperhanging

NO job too large, nor too small. Let us figure on your needs in Painting, Paper Hanging and Decorating.

JOHN FRANS
Murray, Nebr.

ANNOUNCEMENT

To my many friends who have been instrumental in the degree of success which has come to me at the filling station on the Murray corner, and to the public in general, I desire to announce that I am operating a work shop in Murray in the building which was formerly occupied by the McManus Pharmacy, and that I shall keep both places of business going. At the one in Murray I will be in charge. Here I am prepared to do all kinds of repair work, acetylene welding, auto repairing (any kind of car) and battery charging and battery work. We want to say that we absolutely guarantee all our work. We will carry Gasoline and Oils as well as supplies and accessories for autos.

We would like to have you call and see us when wanting any work. Remember, we are here to please you. We will keep the Service Station on the highway open and this will be in charge of Van Allen during the day and Babe Keil at night. See us for your needs.

Charles V. Barrows

PROPRIETOR
Murray, Nebr.

Law Commission in a Study of the Dry Act

Washington—The calling of a constitutional convention to consider the prohibition amendment is one of several nebulous proposals heard here from the ranks of the Hoover law enforcement commission as it approaches its showdown on the wet and dry issue next week. The plan for a constitutional convention, provided it can be strictly limited to the prohibition subject, is known to be seriously considered by at least one member of the commission, but there is doubt in other minds as to the commission that the necessary limitation can be imposed.

For that reason, the other members are diligently studying additional prohibition proposals, and until the commission has finally fully discussed its view in secret session there are no authoritative prophecies on the outcome.

Keeping Open Minds.
The members meanwhile insist they are keeping open minds for the discussions which begin next Wednesday, but their minds are well filled with facts from the exhaustive reports on prohibition conditions they have been going over.

There is every indication that the Volstead act, the machinery for enforcing the eighteenth amendment, is due for the first consideration. But around the prohibition amendment itself the real deliberations of the commission seem likely to center.

It would be up to congress to call a constitutional convention. By the selection of delegates to that convention each state would, in effect, have a referendum on prohibition, in the opinion of those who are studying this plan. But there is a keen conflict of opinion on whether the convention could be limited to a consideration of the prohibition amendment, and this forebodes a dubious future for the plan.

The Philadelphia convention called to consider amendments to the articles of confederation in the early days of the nation, resulted in an entirely new constitution. From this springs the fear on the part of many that such a convention cannot be limited.

Little hope is held in the commission membership of an early agreement on a prohibition report, although there is a distinct feeling that some manner of report embodying the views of most of the eleven members can be agreed upon in time for submission to the next session of congress which meets Dec. 1.—State Journal.

FINAL BLAST ON ELECTION
Washington—A final barrage of criticism from the administration went out over the air Monday night from Jonett Shouse, the chairman of the democratic national executive committee, and Senator Robinson of Arkansas, the senate minority leader, to wind up the democratic radio campaign for the congressional elections. Shouse gave assurance that if the democrats are given control of congress every one "may be of good cheer" because every action taken would be "solely with a view to the betterment of the American people."

Senator Robinson asserted that "the agents of the administration have merely stood by and looked on with fear and trembling while conditions have grown from bad to worse" and that "nothing is being done, nothing is proposed that any one seems to believe promises a return of prosperity."

Meanwhile, the republican radio campaign was brought to a close in Pittsburgh with an address by James Francis Burke, the counsel for the republican national committee.

THREE BOYS ARE DROWNED
Hickory, N. C.—Three Catawba county youths drowned late Saturday night after their automobile plunged down a steep embankment into the waters of Lake Hickory. A fourth swam to shore. The youths drowned were Cecil Killian and Ralph Killian, sons of James Killian, Catawba county farmer, and Ralph Bumgartner, a son of Allen Bumgartner. John Brinkley, the fourth man in the automobile, freed himself and swam to safety. He suffered from exposure to the cold and was unable to give a coherent account of what had occurred.

DR. GEORGE ELLIOTT DEAD AT FLINT, MICH.
Flint, Mich.—Funeral services will be held in Detroit Wednesday for Dr. George Elliott, editor of the Methodist Review, of New York, who died here Sunday. Dr. Elliott was one of the most prominent figures in the Methodist Episcopal church and had been the pastor for Presidents Benjamin Harrison and Grover Cleveland while minister of the church in Washington. He was seventy-nine years old.

HOMAGE TO KING AND QUEEN
Sofia—King Boris of Bulgaria and his queen bride Sunday received the homage of from 80,000 to 70,000 of their subjects, who marched past the palace while the monarchs stood on a balcony. Villagers, cabinet members and members of the chamber of deputies participated in the reception. The pageant continued until the fatigue of Queen Ioanna became evident, whereupon the police halted the parade. King Boris then invited the ministers and members of the presidium of the chamber of deputies to lunch.

Premier Liaptocheff, heading the members of the government, made a speech welcoming the monarch home after his honeymoon. He said the marriage constituted a very important event for Bulgaria, and told of the intense joy his subjects felt in his happiness.

Earlier in the day a street crowd had surrounded the king and cheered as he left the palace to visit the premier.

Law Commission in a Study of the Dry Act

Washington—The calling of a constitutional convention to consider the prohibition amendment is one of several nebulous proposals heard here from the ranks of the Hoover law enforcement commission as it approaches its showdown on the wet and dry issue next week. The plan for a constitutional convention, provided it can be strictly limited to the prohibition subject, is known to be seriously considered by at least one member of the commission, but there is doubt in other minds as to the commission that the necessary limitation can be imposed.

For that reason, the other members are diligently studying additional prohibition proposals, and until the commission has finally fully discussed its view in secret session there are no authoritative prophecies on the outcome.

Keeping Open Minds.
The members meanwhile insist they are keeping open minds for the discussions which begin next Wednesday, but their minds are well filled with facts from the exhaustive reports on prohibition conditions they have been going over.

There is every indication that the Volstead act, the machinery for enforcing the eighteenth amendment, is due for the first consideration. But around the prohibition amendment itself the real deliberations of the commission seem likely to center.

It would be up to congress to call a constitutional convention. By the selection of delegates to that convention each state would, in effect, have a referendum on prohibition, in the opinion of those who are studying this plan. But there is a keen conflict of opinion on whether the convention could be limited to a consideration of the prohibition amendment, and this forebodes a dubious future for the plan.

The Philadelphia convention called to consider amendments to the articles of confederation in the early days of the nation, resulted in an entirely new constitution. From this springs the fear on the part of many that such a convention cannot be limited.

Little hope is held in the commission membership of an early agreement on a prohibition report, although there is a distinct feeling that some manner of report embodying the views of most of the eleven members can be agreed upon in time for submission to the next session of congress which meets Dec. 1.—State Journal.

FINAL BLAST ON ELECTION
Washington—A final barrage of criticism from the administration went out over the air Monday night from Jonett Shouse, the chairman of the democratic national executive committee, and Senator Robinson of Arkansas, the senate minority leader, to wind up the democratic radio campaign for the congressional elections. Shouse gave assurance that if the democrats are given control of congress every one "may be of good cheer" because every action taken would be "solely with a view to the betterment of the American people."

Senator Robinson asserted that "the agents of the administration have merely stood by and looked on with fear and trembling while conditions have grown from bad to worse" and that "nothing is being done, nothing is proposed that any one seems to believe promises a return of prosperity."

Meanwhile, the republican radio campaign was brought to a close in Pittsburgh with an address by James Francis Burke, the counsel for the republican national committee.

THREE BOYS ARE DROWNED
Hickory, N. C.—Three Catawba county youths drowned late Saturday night after their automobile plunged down a steep embankment into the waters of Lake Hickory. A fourth swam to shore. The youths drowned were Cecil Killian and Ralph Killian, sons of James Killian, Catawba county farmer, and Ralph Bumgartner, a son of Allen Bumgartner. John Brinkley, the fourth man in the automobile, freed himself and swam to safety. He suffered from exposure to the cold and was unable to give a coherent account of what had occurred.

DR. GEORGE ELLIOTT DEAD AT FLINT, MICH.
Flint, Mich.—Funeral services will be held in Detroit Wednesday for Dr. George Elliott, editor of the Methodist Review, of New York, who died here Sunday. Dr. Elliott was one of the most prominent figures in the Methodist Episcopal church and had been the pastor for Presidents Benjamin Harrison and Grover Cleveland while minister of the church in Washington. He was seventy-nine years old.

HOMAGE TO KING AND QUEEN
Sofia—King Boris of Bulgaria and his queen bride Sunday received the homage of from 80,000 to 70,000 of their subjects, who marched past the palace while the monarchs stood on a balcony. Villagers, cabinet members and members of the chamber of deputies participated in the reception. The pageant continued until the fatigue of Queen Ioanna became evident, whereupon the police halted the parade. King Boris then invited the ministers and members of the presidium of the chamber of deputies to lunch.

Premier Liaptocheff, heading the members of the government, made a speech welcoming the monarch home after his honeymoon. He said the marriage constituted a very important event for Bulgaria, and told of the intense joy his subjects felt in his happiness.

Earlier in the day a street crowd had surrounded the king and cheered as he left the palace to visit the premier.

Lewis Heavy Victor Over Mrs. McCormick in Ill.

Sweeps Illinois by Vote That Gives Promise of Reaching 500,000—Lead Still Grows

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 4.—James Hamilton Lewis, last democrat to represent Illinois in the United States senate, was chosen today by an overwhelming majority to return to that body as the first popularly elected democratic senator from his state.

Crushing the hopes of Ruth Hanna McCormick, widow and daughter of senators, to be the first of her sex elected to the senate, Lewis swept Chicago and the state by a margin that promised, on the basis of partial returns, to approach a half million votes.

With him the democratic leader carried the entire party ticket in Cook county and threatened to sweep from office part of the republican congressional delegation and possibly state officers as well.

Gets Downstate Districts.
Tabulation of votes from more than one-fourth of the state showed the former senator leading by 411 thousand, of which the downstate precincts claimed in pre-election statements as republican strongholds contributed 35 thousand.

The vote gathered from 3,594 precincts out of 7,109 in the state, stood: Lewis, 748,136; McCormick, 337,444 while Lettie Holman O'Neill, poor third, with 35,876.

In four Chicago congressional districts democrats were leading the republican incumbents on scanty returns.

Election of two democrats as congressmen-at-large in place of republican incumbents was seen as a possibility late tonight when William Dietrich, democrat, climbed into second place in the partial returns and his running mate, Walter Nesbit, was advancing with him as Cook county returns multiplied.

Other State Results.
The vote for representative-at-large at 11 p. m. stood:

Richard Yates, incumbent, republican, 40,722; William Dietrich, democrat, 27,295; Frank L. Smith, republican whose credentials as elected and appointed senator were rejected, 35,680; Walter Nesbit, democrat, 39,097. There were from 342 precincts, only 45 in Cook county.

Mrs. McCormick withheld comment on the result until midnight, when she sent her congratulations to the victor and issued a statement declaring she "cheerfully accepted" her defeat and regarded it her duty as a member of congress to "assist in a solution of the present difficulties" which concern the people.

Coolidge Apparently Elected.
Boston, Mass., Nov. 5.—Marcus A. Coolidge, wet democrat, apparently had been elected to the United States senate. His opponent was William M. Butler, republican dry, for whose election former President Calvin Coolidge appealed by radio to the voters of the state.

Joseph E. Ely, wet democratic nominee for the governor of Massachusetts, was well ahead of his dry republican opponent, Governor Frank G. Allen, when the vote of half the state's precincts had been tabulated.

At the same time that the two wet democratic candidates gained a lead over their dry rivals an increasing trend toward the wet side was noted in returns on the referendum proposing repeal of the state's so-called "baby Volstead act."

Ely was ahead of Allen by almost eight thousand votes. The figures were: Allen, 121,823; Ely, 129,118.

Coolidge had a lead of almost 27 thousand votes, 137,860 to 110,888 for Butler.

With figures available from 269 precincts, all outside of Boston, the vote for repeal of the prohibition law was 65,695 as compared with 52,482 for its retention.

Colorado Democrats.
Denver, Nov. 4.—A democratic tide of votes that started with the United States senatorship and apparently was moving to engulf most of the state ticket swept Edward P. Costigan, former republican member of the federal tariff commission, to a lead of 5,800 votes over George H. Shaw.

Costigan renounced the republican party in 1928 when he resigned from the commission and is running as a democratic candidate. Shaw, corporation attorney and former state chairman of the republican party, had 25,558 votes to 31,724 for Costigan with 263 precincts of the state's 1,582 complete.

Governor William H. Adams, democratic incumbent, seeking a third term, led his republican opponent, Robert F. Rockwell, by almost 10 thousand votes. The count was: Adams, 31,933; Rockwell, 21,999, with 259 precincts reported.

The Denver Post, which supported Shaw, said Costigan had defeated Shaw by probably a 25 thousand plurality.—World-Herald.

OFFICERS SEEK CAPONE IN RAID, SEIZE 13 MEN
Chicago, Ill., Nov. 4.—Three detective bureau squads under command of Lieutenant Walter Storms, acting on information that Al Capone and his first lieutenant, Ted Newberry, would be found there, raided a rooming house at 901 South Halsted street shortly before midnight tonight and seized 13 men and six revolvers.

The raiders failed to find Capone or Newberry, but among the 13 who were taken to the detective bureau for identification was Frankie Rio, notorious hoodlum and public enemy.

Filmy Sheaths of Silk for Evening IN LOVELY MUNSINGWEAR HOSIERY

French Heel

Sheer and delicate as a lacy shadow . . . Munsingwear stockings for evening. Clear dainty colors to complement your formal frocks . . . exquisite tracery of three smart heels—Square, French and slender Sylphine. Yet with their almost unbelievable beauty . . . the famous quality that promises long wear and lasting loveliness! Come in and let us show you these Hosiery.

$1 - $1.35 - $1.50

Ladies Toggery

The Munsingwear Store Plattsouth, Nebr.

Glenwood Institute Shows Lowest Cost

Handles Patients at a Cost of $19.03 Per Person; Clarinda Is Low.

Des Moines, Ia., Nov. 4.—The 15 institutions operated by the state board of control expend from $19.03 to $62.55 for a patient each month, Oscar Anderson, budget director, reported today.

The hospital for feeble-minded children of Glenwood showed the lowest cost, while the highest was at the tuberculosis sanitarium at Oakdale.

Costs at the other institutions were as follows: Epileptic hospital, Woodward, $27.09; insane hospital, Cherokee, $20.94; insane hospital, Clarinda, $20.64; insane hospital, Independence, $20.29; insane hospital, Mount Pleasant, $19.85; juvenile home, Toledo, $22.19; penitentiary, Fort Madison, $27.71; reformatory, Anamosa, $26.60; women's reformatory, Rockwell City, $48.76; soldiers' orphans' home, Davenport, $28.99; boys' training school, Eldora, $31.84; girls' training school, Mitchellville, $47.29.

The average number of inmates during the year was as follows:

Woodward, 801; Glenwood, 1,598; Cherokee, 1,345; Clarinda, 1,403; Independence, 1,428; Mount Pleasant, 1,349; Toledo, 260; Fort Madison, 1,145; Anamosa, 1,095; Rockwell City, 100; Oakdale, 12; Marshalltown 430; Davenport, 509; Eldora, 467; Mitchellville, 172.

ASKS PROBE OF CLASS RATES

Lincoln, Nov. 4.—C. A. Ross, assistant rate expert for the state railway commission, Tuesday announced he will file a complaint with the interstate commerce commission this week asking for an investigation of class rates governing shipment of fruits and vegetables from southwestern states into Nebraska.

Ross said he believed that under existing tariffs Nebraska is discriminated against to the extent of $100,000 a year.

Shipments concerned in his complaint are those from Oklahoma, Texas, Arkansas and Louisiana, he said.

The basis of his appeal to the commission, Ross said, would be that through rates to Nebraska would be more reasonable than the combination class rate schedule now in effect.

FOR SALE

One soft coal heating stove; one oak kitchen cabinet, and oak milk hide dutfold, all in dandy good condition, priced to sell.—J. W. Banning. n3-2tw.

Lots of Warmth
Not much Weight
Good to Look At
Feels Good to the Touch
Serviceable—

Genuine Leather Suede Jacket

$875

See Our Bargains in LEATHER COATS

Philip Thierolf
GALVE GIVING CLOTHES