Enjoyed Visit of Brother.

Dr. and Mrs. G. H. Gilmore and their son John, enjoyed a visit from a brother of Dr. Gilmore, who is a practicing attorney at Hay Springs. They all visited for last Sunday at Peru, where they both were graduated in 1890. They went via Union and were joined there by D. Ray Frans and wife, following the visit at Peru they all went to Lincoln where Mr. John Gilmore took the train for his home in the northwest.

Entertained for the Day.

Mr. and Mrs. Gust Brubacher entertained at their home for the day on last Sunday and had as their guests for the occasion Mr. and Mrs. G. Lash of Auburn, parents of Mrs. Brubacher, and Edward Brubacher and wife, parents of Mr. Brubacher and also Mr. and Mrs. Alex Basan, the latter of Omaha, who are uncle and aunt of Mr. Brubacher, and you may know that all enjoyed a very fine time.

Will Serve Dinner and Supper.

The Ladies Aid of the Christian church of Murray are preparing to serve on Thanksgiving day, dinner and supper to the public. They have just had a kitchen build to their church building which is an admirable adjunct to the original building and places them in position to serve meals equal to any hotel in the county. They have the place equipped so that they can cook as well as their homes. They have electricity installed for light work and a range for the heavier work. Any one who has ever partaken of the meals which have been served by this society will know of their excellence. Remember that these meals, the dinner and the supper will be equal to any served heretofore. There will be a reduced rate for the children. Make it your date for Thanksgiving. Think of two meals and excellent ones at that and all the trouble of shopping and cooking and the after-work, when it can be saved at a very small expense. Remember the date and the place. At the Christian church at Murray on Thanksgiving day.

HOLD COSTUME PARTY

The Cedar Crest Study club of Murray held a Halloween costume party at the home of Mrs. Perry Nickels with Mrs. Elmer Whitesack assistant hostess. The guests were admitted into a darkened room, filled with many obstacles—then conducted into a well lighted room, where stunts of various kinds were led by the hostess. Some of the costumes were the Hawaiian girls, Pretty Holland Miss, girls of the gay nineties, Old Dutch Mamma, Happy Hooligan, Lem Hawkins, Amos and Andy and Johnny Fly by Night with civil war cap and sword created much amusement. The prize was awarded to Mrs. John Hendricks, dressed as a Grandmother of 1878—and singing the Last Rose of Summer, and for an encore "A Sweet Young Lass All Full of Green Apple Sars."

Thanksgiving Dinner and Supper.

There is no need to being hungry on Thanksgiving day nor is there any use of staying home cooking all day and washing dishes either, on that day or the day before, for the ladies of the Christian church will serve both dinner and supper at the church parlors on Thanksgiving day.

Buy a New Shelter.

With the wrecking of the shelter of C. M. Read by an auto driver on the highway last week, it became necessary for Mr. Read to have another machine to care for his business, and he therefore ordered at once through the dealer, Joe Mrasek, a new Ottawa Corn shelter which was delivered last week and now Mr. Read is again well equipped for work in this line.

To Come Home Soon.

Orders Railroads Cut Grain Rates Effective Jan. 1

I. C. C. Also Decrees General Revision of Grain Products Schedule

Washington, D. C., Nov. 11.—Notice was given today by the Interstate commerce commission that it would require railroads to put in effect on January 1 a general revision of rates on grain and grain products which are estimated to entail annual reductions of between 15 million dollars and 20 million dollars in freight charges on the total traffic.

The requirements will be made in spite of protests filed by western, eastern and southern carriers against the reductions and by some shipping interests against portions of the revisions contemplated. The original decision required the schedules to be made effective about November 1, but postponement until January 1 was allowed in view of the objections and the difficulties of preparing the new schedules.

May Be Court Appeal.

There was seen however, the possibility that the railroad protest against the reduction might be appealed directly to the courts. Responsible railroad officials were not in Washington today, however, to discuss the possibility.

"The interstate commerce commission has voted to deny the various petitions submitted to it for modification or rehearing in the grain case," the commission said in announcing its conclusions. "This notice is given in this manner for the informal and early information of all concerned. Formal orders will be entered."

Western Roads Protested.

The decision was in general a reduction of rates but both increases and reductions of specific rates throughout the states west of the Mississippi river were ordered. In addition, rates to the east from the west were affected and nearly all the important railroads in the country have an interest in the controversy.

The western lines, in addition to the specific protests on the details of the new adjustment, recently notified the commission that rates in that territory were considered by them inadequate under the law. This action was considered significant in view of the influence of rate adjustments on earnings.

The last important reduction made by the commission, on California fruit, was invalidated by the supreme court after appeal was taken there against the regulatory action.—World-Herald.

Hansen on Trial for Murder of Stephens

Sate Says Unreturned Love for Victim's Wife Was the Cause of Defendant's Act

Omaha—Taking of testimony in the trial of Hans Hansen, twenty-four, of Omaha, charged with the murder of James T. Stephens, of Omaha, was begun Monday afternoon in district court. The state, which is not asking the death penalty, advanced the theory that Hansen killed Stephens as the latter slept, because of unreturned love for Mrs. James T. Stephens, twice his age.

"Hansen was enamored of Mrs. Stephens and he was desirous and anxious to get Stephens out of the way. He was known to have made statements about Stephens, among them that 'killing would be too good for him.'" Said Deputy County Attorney Yeager in his opening statement.

In an attempt to further strengthen his case Yeager cited the fact that the prints of Hansen's shoes had fitted those found under Stephens' bedroom window the morning after he was fatally wounded by five blows in the head and told of a dispute between Stephens had dismissed Hansen from his service.

The defense stated that it would admit many of the state's points based on an alibi accounting for Hansen's time during the hour when Stephens is believed to have been attacked. Hansen did not appear to be worried during the hearing although he frowned when the state stressed its point of "unreturned love."—State Journal.
