County Officials are Inducted into Offices Today

Official Ceremony That Marks Start of New Terms Held at Commissioners Room

From Thursday's Daily—
 Today marked the official opening of the term of office for the greater part of the Cass county officials and the ceremony that formally inducted the new officers and renewed the terms of the other officers was staged in the county commissioners' room at the court house.

The swearing in of the officials occurred at 11:30 when County Judge A. H. Duxbury officially administered the oath of office and the officials again started in on their four year terms and very little change was to be noted at the court house after the new chapter had been opened.

The officers to be returned were Sheriff Bert Reed, County Clerk George R. Sayles, County Attorney W. G. Kleck, County Treasurer John E. Turner, County Assessor W. H. Pals, County Surveyor Fred Patterson, County Commissioner Fred H. Gorder, while the new officers to take over the duties of office were Clerk of the District Court, C. E. Ledgway, Register of Deeds Miss Lillian G. White, County Commissioner E. B. Chapman.

County Commissioner George L. Farley and District Judge James T. Begley with County Judge A. H. Duxbury are the officials whose terms do not expire at this time and they were merely eye witnesses of the ceremonies.

There will be little changes in the offices at the court house since a number of the stenographers and clerks will exchange offices. In the office of County Treasurer John E. Turner the present force of Miss Ruth Patton and Henry Woster will be continued while in the office of County Clerk George R. Sayles, Will T. Adams will be continued as deputy. Sheriff Bert Reed has designated Rex Young as his deputy for the ensuing term. C. E. Ledgway has named Miss Helen Warner as his deputy in the office of the clerk of the district court. Miss Lillian White will be assisted by Miss Bernice Schaefer, Miss Gladys White, with A. J. Snyder former register of deeds assisting in getting the new register started on her way. Miss Clara Wichmann is the successor of Miss White in the county judge's office and Miss Mildred Jahritz will take Miss Wichmann's place in the office of County Attorney W. G. Kleck.

Miss Janet Westover, Plattsmouth, and Miss Doris Schaefer, Lincoln, and H. C. Cox, Rockport, Mo., who appeared on the program two years ago, presented a variety act featuring songs in dialect.

In response to the applause little Miss Janet Westover was compelled to respond to several encores and finally gave an original poem, written by her uncle, W. A. Robertson, a number of years ago.

Those who attended from here included Dr. and Mrs. E. P. Westover, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Gayer and Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Perry and Miss Jessie Robertson.

Recalls School Days when Lickin and Larnen Ruled

Appointment of Fred K. Nielsen to Claims Commission Recalls Teaching Career.

From Thursday's Daily—
 The press dispatches of today announcing the re-appointment of Fred K. Nielsen, formerly of this state, as a member of the Mexican-American Claims commission, aroused among a number of Cass county citizens, now mature men and women, the memories of their school days, among these being Clate Rosencrans of this city and Ray Lane of near Elmwood.

The Rosencrans family were then residents of Elmwood and where Clate was schooled, or at least as much as possible in those days when the life of the schoolmaster or school narm did not flow along as gently as today. The school had as a teacher an elderly gentleman named Jones, who for several months put up with the varieties of trouble that the boys of the school gave him, but who one day as the school term was nearing a close, shut his desk, packed his books and property and departed, vowing that the pupils and school as well might seek warmer regions. The school board, that all powerful body in the lore of education, hurriedly sent to Lincoln for help and as the pupils, particularly the boys, gathered at school they were full of anticipation as to what awaited them in the way of the successor of Mr. Jones.

As the assembly of a young man arose who wore one of the sweaters with the heavy collars of the athletes of the late nineties and as he stepped to the platform he announced that he was the new animal trainer and that they could all get along nicely or he could handle the case as he was not either timid or nervous and as he spoke he produced a large heavily made weapon of leather and which he caressed as he viewed the ranks of the troubleshooters. This man was Fred K. Nielsen, then completing his work at the University of Nebraska and thereby hangs the tale. All went well until the day before school was to close for the term and then the boys caused an outbreak that led to several of them being lined up for questioning. Mr. Nielsen opened his desk to get his weapon and low and behold from the long mighty leather whip it had been whittled down to a few inches of leather, the boys apparently having secretly whittled off the strap until it was a mere toy compared with its original power and force. Mr. Nielsen quizzed the seven suspects in the case and eliminated all but one—that one being Clayton A. Rosencrans. Mr. Nielsen was in a small recitation room where another grilling was given and the verdict announced that Clate was to receive a general licking and on general principles for the good of the school. While the punishment was in the air Clate received permission to leave the room on a promise to return but when he reached the open there was only a cloud of dust to mark his path homeward and the safety of the parental roof from the wrath of the educator. Mr. Nielsen did not return to Elmwood as he completed his school work and graduated in law in 1904, so Clate was able to return to school the next year, but with a fervent memory of the teacher who was gone but not forgotten.

North High is Turned Back by the Platters

Score of 16 to 9 Marks the Downfall of Vikings From North Omaha High School

From Thursday's Daily—
 The shades of Eric the Norseman failed to hover over the team that proudly is designated the Vikings last night, when they struck the smoothly clicking blue and white machine and when the final whistle sounded, the Norsemen were dragging the Plattsmouth quintet by the score of 16 to 9.

The adjusted lineup that featured Arn at the right forward position proceeded to do things to the visitors from the first tip off and while the final stages of the game was one that was fought on a man to man defense, the lead that the Platters scored rolled up in the opening stages of the game was such that only a miracle or a player gone wild could have overturned.

In the opening quarter on the second play from the tipoff Hartford sank a field goal to hearten his team and a few seconds later Chet Wiles, captain of the team, swept up from his guard position to plant another good one, incidentally that boy Wiles played a game that was worthy of the hottest basketball player that ever performed on the local court. Sam Arn, small forward full of the old fighting spirit, annexed another good one for his team and then Hartford and Wiles repeated, Chet also gathering in two free throws to make the local count 12 to 2 at the first quarter. Mitchell, left forward of the visitors secured one field goal to keep his team in the scoring stages.

The second quarter saw some fast floor work on the part of both teams with the Platters having the edge of the battle as Arn again scored from the field while the Norsemen were held scoreless and at the half time the score was 14 to 2.

In the second half the visitors strengthen their defense and with all confidence gone, they battled desperately to stem the blue and white tide and successfully, as the only rallies for the Platters in the third quarter were two free throws by Wiles and one by Arn. For the visitors in the third quarter, Lane, captain of the Norsemen, sank a field goal and Davis, center, a free toss to life their team to five points on the scoring list against sixteen for the Platters.

The last quarter was desperately fought with the North high team sending in a stream of new players to attempt to check the battle and with their close guarding game they were able to hold the score down, but the Platters also played a real game on the defense, every player getting in to check the visitors and while North was able to keep the ball largely in local territory they were never dangerously near victory. Ziegler and Davis scored field goals for North but were unable to overcome the lead of the Platters.

Every Platter was in the game from the start to the finish and while all did not figure in the scoring their splendid playing prevented the visitors from getting any place.

In the curtain raiser of the game the Platt second took the measure of the Platt second by the score of 12 to 4.

The tabulated score of the main game was as follows:

Platters Take Close Contest from Glenwood

Locals Take Early Lead in the Game But Have a Close Call as Hatcher Gets Hot.

From Saturday's Daily—
 The blue and white of the Plattsmouth high school won their third consecutive victory last evening in the basketball season of 1930-31, when they defeated the Glenwood (Iowa) team on the Iowans floor by the score of 21 to 19 in what proved to be a red hot battle, altho the Platters led at the half by the score of 12 to 8.

The Nebraskans showed their usual speed and fire in the opening of the game and soon swept into a good margin at the quarter. Galloway, right forward, and Arn, left forward both scoring against the Iowans from the field while Donat and Begley each scored a field goal in the opening half of the contest.

The locals played a close guarding game and which drew three penalties for Captain Chet Wiles and two for Galloway and Donat as they kept the Glenwood team from scoring at critical stages of the game. Wiles was out for a short time to be replaced by McCrary but returned to complete the game in the last moments when Glenwood was threatening.

When the third quarter closed the score was 18 to 8 for the Platters but in the hectic fourth quarter, Hatcher, captain of the Glenwood team, who is a guard was switched to forward and proceeded to make the going plenty hard for the Platters as he cut their lead with four field goals and a free throw. In the final quarter McCrary with a free toss and Galloway with a field goal were the only Platters to score.

In the opening game the Glenwood seconds won from the Platter Reserves by the score of 16 to 8 in an extra period, the score being tied 8 and 8 at the end of the game, and the Platter Reserves failed to score in the extra period.

H. A. Schneider Named to Head Local C. of C.

President of Plattsmouth State Bank Selected at Annual Meeting Last Evening

From Saturday's Daily—
 The annual meeting of the chamber of Commerce was held last evening at the auditing of the club library and with a pleasing number of the members out to take part in the meeting of the evening and at which there was the windup of the year's work and the start of the new year.

Treasurer Fred I. Rea reported that there had been collected at the time the report was published at the first of January the sum of $1,172.25 and that the disbursements had amounted to $1,144.01. Mr. Rea also presented a tentative budget for the year that called for the sum of $900 for the club activities.

Secretary George K. Petring gave a report of the year by reading the minutes of the last annual meeting and also the membership list of 124 members for the year.

President C. C. Westcott gave a very comprehensive and thorough review of the work of the club for the year and which is given below:

"To the Plattsmouth Chamber of Commerce in annual meeting assembled Friday, Jan. 9, 1931:

"It is customary for the President to read at the opening of Congress his annual message reviewing the state and the nation and outlining his program for improving the same. The analogy scarcely holds in this case however, for my message is more valedictory in character than salutatory, but since the civic interests of the city are more or less wrapped up in and reflected by its Chamber of Commerce, and since this is our Annual Meeting, I deem it fitting we should take a birds-eye view as it were of the past year as relates to our Civic activities in which the Chamber of Commerce has been more or less of a factor.

"I think you will all agree with me that the year just passed has been a trying one in many respects, not only in Plattsmouth but everywhere. Some superstitious person has suggested that this 'hood' year is easily revealed by adding up the figures in 1930 which equal 13, but be that as it may—we are all glad to see it go and we cross the threshold of the New Year with renewed confidence in the future and sanguine hopesfulness of better times—so let us forget the unpleasant things that lie behind and think of the more pleasant and favorable aspects of our situation as we look forward into the New Year just ahead.

"Before taking up in detail the review of the past year, allow me to say that a large part of the work of a Chamber of Commerce must be classed as 'intangible'—that is, the results are not easily tabulated—you cannot just put your finger on them.

"Our case here in Plattsmouth, I believe any casual observer will recognize the fine spirit of harmony and co-operation that is evidenced in our Chamber of Commerce work. Into this institution is poured much of the civic spirit of the community, and out of it flows constructive activities. This spirit of harmony has been spoken of by visitors from other towns at our Directors luncheons and combining as we do in our membership various creeds and classes and interests, this harmony of thought and action is not among the least of the noteworthy products of our organization.

"In this connection, I wish to bear willing testimony to the influence and assistance of our local Service Club—the Rotary, in their fellowship programs they have put on by visiting nearby towns and making contacts with adjacent communities. This has greatly helped in building up good will for Plattsmouth and the fine spirit of co-operation which they have engendered truly entitles them to the designation 'Service Club.'

"And I also want to recognize and pay tribute to another most helpful and efficient civic club, which we might well term, a sister organization to ours, the Woman's Club. I believe the Plattsmouth Woman's Club is recognized as one of the best offered and best managed club in Nebraska and we are proud of them. I want to especially commend their Community Calendar project and pledge our hearty support.

"I wish to place under three headings this resume of 1930:

"First—Projects of importance to our city.

"Second—Special Chamber of Commerce projects.

"Third—Things in which we have co-operated—and following these: Some things we should plan to do in 1931.

"Perhaps the first thing of importance in order of its happening under the head 'Items of importance to our city' is the completion and dedication of the new Missouri river trestle bridge. This was an auspicious day for Plattsmouth and marks one of the high points in the year. The
