

Inas Wever is Found Guilty; To Serve Life Term

Continued from page one.

of the house, both in the absence of Mr. Wever.

7th Witness: Leonard Wever, brother of deceased Geo. Wever, single, farm hand, Hershey, Neb. Made his home with the Wevers from 1924-1927. Paid board and room at rate of $8.00 and $10.00 per week.

8th Witness: Mrs. M. V. McCrary, was called and testified that she resided just across the alley from the home of Mrs. Etta Wever, mother of George Wever.

9th Witness: Joseph F. Hadraba was called and testified that he had sold a quantity of strychnine to Mrs. Wever on December 8th at the drug store of Weyrich & Hadraba.

10th Witness: Roy Ottosky testified that he was clerk in the drug store of F. G. Fricke & Co., and that he had sold strychnine to a lady whom he identified as the defendant.

11th Witness: James G. Maury testified that two prescriptions had been prepared by him on December 8th and 9th for George Wever.

John Toman, neighbor of the Wevers testified to his being called over to the Wever home to administer aid to George Wever.

Mrs. John Toman, neighbor, told of being at the Wever home and George saying that he ached all over. Said his eyes were glassy and he had vomited.

Mrs. Etta Wever, mother of the deceased, related that on Saturday night George Wever brought her home to her house at about the night while they were dancing.

Dr. Westover, physician, Plattsmouth, was requested by the defense yesterday morning to produce the bottles from which he took the tablets that were administered to George Wever during his fatal illness.

Dr. Geo. E. Neuhaus, mental specialist, Omaha, testified that he had been asked by the state to examine the mental condition of Mrs. Inas Wever.

The court recessed at 10:30 after the close of the testimony of Dr. Neuhaus, and on the resumption of the case, County Attorney W. G. Kleck withdrew the state's offering as to purchases of arsenic by the defendant Mrs. Wever.

At the close of the morning session, the crowded court room burst into applause as District Judge Begley said in a very much annoyed way that this is a murder trial and a very serious case.

The Tuesday afternoon session of the district court as the Wever murder case dragged its course, was uninteresting to the large audience that had packed the room to hear the details of the case.

der case dragged its course, was uninteresting to the large audience that had packed the room to hear the details of the case.

The main witness of the state was Dr. John T. Meyers, of the University hospital who had made the analysis of the stomach of Wever and who testified as to the finding of one-eighth of a grain of strychnine in the stomach which the witness stated had been sufficient to cause death.

It is apparent that Mr. O'Brien, pharmacist, was relied upon as the star witness for the defense. In Mr. O'Brien's testimony he strenuously objected to the method used by the state in examining the organs of George Wever.

Mr. James Taylor, Lincoln, Neb., took the stand in the defense of his sister, Mrs. Wever. He told of having made his home with the Wevers for the period of about a year and of George Wever's habitual drinking.

Mrs. Metcalf of Lincoln, Mrs. Jenks of Chicago, Mrs. Pearl Brink, Lincoln, and Mrs. Paul Metcalf, Lincoln, all sisters of Mrs. Wever testified for the defense.

Mrs. Etta Wever had been there and doctor had left seven or eight tablets late on a dozen—pills were small, white pills.

Mrs. Wever was still undergoing direct examination as the Journal goes to press.

DeWitt, Ark.—A seventeen year old girl in a crowded court room Monday night shot to death a man on trial for the slaying of her father as the jury was ready to retire with the case.

On Saturday night had gone to Eagles dance with George and had met Otto Hike on Main street here.

The court recessed at 10:30 after the close of the testimony of Dr. Neuhaus, and on the resumption of the case, County Attorney W. G. Kleck withdrew the state's offering as to purchases of arsenic by the defendant Mrs. Wever.

At 10:50 County Attorney W. G. Kleck rested the case for the state of Nebraska.

The first witness of the defense caller was Dr. Frank T. Lovely of Omaha, police surgeon of that city, who was questioned by Mr. Jamieson and stated that he had experience with cases of poisoning from bootleg liquor.

bootleg liquor, that he treated four of the recent eleven fatalities in Omaha from that cause.

John O'Brien, Omaha druggist and chemist, was called and stated that he was a graduate of Drane university and had taught there and had been dean of the college of pharmacy of Creighton university.

It is apparent that Mr. O'Brien, pharmacist, was relied upon as the star witness for the defense. In Mr. O'Brien's testimony he strenuously objected to the method used by the state in examining the organs of George Wever.

Mr. James Taylor, Lincoln, Neb., took the stand in the defense of his sister, Mrs. Wever.

Mrs. Etta Wever had been there and doctor had left seven or eight tablets late on a dozen—pills were small, white pills.

Mrs. Wever was still undergoing direct examination as the Journal goes to press.

DeWitt, Ark.—A seventeen year old girl in a crowded court room Monday night shot to death a man on trial for the slaying of her father as the jury was ready to retire with the case.

On Saturday night had gone to Eagles dance with George and had met Otto Hike on Main street here.

The court recessed at 10:30 after the close of the testimony of Dr. Neuhaus, and on the resumption of the case, County Attorney W. G. Kleck withdrew the state's offering as to purchases of arsenic by the defendant Mrs. Wever.

At 10:50 County Attorney W. G. Kleck rested the case for the state of Nebraska.

The first witness of the defense caller was Dr. Frank T. Lovely of Omaha, police surgeon of that city, who was questioned by Mr. Jamieson and stated that he had experience with cases of poisoning from bootleg liquor.

The Tuesday afternoon session of the district court as the Wever murder case dragged its course, was uninteresting to the large audience that had packed the room to hear the details of the case.

der case dragged its course, was uninteresting to the large audience that had packed the room to hear the details of the case.

Johnson children. Billy was sick with ear trouble. Had no quarrel over noise. Told little girl about noise when Billy was sick and the girl had told her mother.

Had given Billy a switching for running away to railroad tracks. Had never been intoxicated and had to be put to bed by Leonard Wever.

Usually had thirty-eight of forty bottles of beer on hand. Leonard did his share of drinking.

On one time Mrs. Wever had called on Rex Young to see about husband in the spring. Found Young at picture show. Young had brought George home. Young had said found George near river.

Had left home Monday between 7 and 7:30 a. m. He had come home between 1 and 2 p. m. and was sick, complaining of being sick at his stomach.

On Monday afternoon she had asked about calling a doctor, had gone on to town to see Dr. Westover and had received some medicine.

Had given George soda water at time with pills. Had tried to raise George's head and George had said to cut off small piece of beer hose.

On Monday afternoon she had asked about calling a doctor, had gone on to town to see Dr. Westover and had received some medicine.

Had given George soda water at time with pills. Had tried to raise George's head and George had said to cut off small piece of beer hose.

On Monday afternoon she had asked about calling a doctor, had gone on to town to see Dr. Westover and had received some medicine.

Had given George soda water at time with pills. Had tried to raise George's head and George had said to cut off small piece of beer hose.

On Monday afternoon she had asked about calling a doctor, had gone on to town to see Dr. Westover and had received some medicine.

Had given George soda water at time with pills. Had tried to raise George's head and George had said to cut off small piece of beer hose.

On Monday afternoon she had asked about calling a doctor, had gone on to town to see Dr. Westover and had received some medicine.

Had given George soda water at time with pills. Had tried to raise George's head and George had said to cut off small piece of beer hose.

On Monday afternoon she had asked about calling a doctor, had gone on to town to see Dr. Westover and had received some medicine.

Had given George soda water at time with pills. Had tried to raise George's head and George had said to cut off small piece of beer hose.

On Monday afternoon she had asked about calling a doctor, had gone on to town to see Dr. Westover and had received some medicine.

Traffic Laws Aid Pedestrian and Motorist

New Kansas City Code Speeds Automobiles but Guards Those on Foot

Kansas City, Mo.—High-priced engineers, under supervision of Dr. Miller McClintock of Harvard University, studied the flow of motor traffic in Kansas City for a year and recommended a new code, and for their services and expenses incident thereto the city paid about $30,000.

The new traffic code speeds up motorists (but it also looks well to the man who walks. Providing he walks in certain designated lanes, and keeps his eyes straight ahead, the code gives the pedestrian the right of way, and the law expresses "the duty of the driver to exercise due care for the safety of the pedestrian."

The Kansas City motorcycle squad is going to make short work of persons driving while under influence of narcotics and liquor.

Street cars have right of way on their own tracks and at a given signal in a line of traffic may be arrested for having committed a misdemeanor.

Street cars have right of way on their own tracks and at a given signal in a line of traffic may be arrested for having committed a misdemeanor.

Street cars have right of way on their own tracks and at a given signal in a line of traffic may be arrested for having committed a misdemeanor.

Street cars have right of way on their own tracks and at a given signal in a line of traffic may be arrested for having committed a misdemeanor.

Street cars have right of way on their own tracks and at a given signal in a line of traffic may be arrested for having committed a misdemeanor.

Street cars have right of way on their own tracks and at a given signal in a line of traffic may be arrested for having committed a misdemeanor.

Street cars have right of way on their own tracks and at a given signal in a line of traffic may be arrested for having committed a misdemeanor.

Street cars have right of way on their own tracks and at a given signal in a line of traffic may be arrested for having committed a misdemeanor.

Street cars have right of way on their own tracks and at a given signal in a line of traffic may be arrested for having committed a misdemeanor.

Street cars have right of way on their own tracks and at a given signal in a line of traffic may be arrested for having committed a misdemeanor.

Street cars have right of way on their own tracks and at a given signal in a line of traffic may be arrested for having committed a misdemeanor.

Street cars have right of way on their own tracks and at a given signal in a line of traffic may be arrested for having committed a misdemeanor.

Street cars have right of way on their own tracks and at a given signal in a line of traffic may be arrested for having committed a misdemeanor.

BANK'S EARNINGS TUMBLE

New York—The effect of an era of extreme ease in credit conditions is mirrored in the annual statement of the New York federal reserve bank, issued Monday, which shows that net earnings dropped from $12,363,000 in 1929 to $4,588,000 in 1930.

Dividends were larger, altho the paid in capital, shrank from $67,301,458 to $65,577,650 due to a reduction in capital of banks and the closing of the bank of United States, a private institution which was in no way connected with the government.

The shrinkage in income was mainly attributable to the reduced earnings from loans to member banks and discounting of eligible paper for them, the rates on which were of course much lower in 1930 than 1929.

The shrinkage in income was mainly attributable to the reduced earnings from loans to member banks and discounting of eligible paper for them, the rates on which were of course much lower in 1930 than 1929.

The shrinkage in income was mainly attributable to the reduced earnings from loans to member banks and discounting of eligible paper for them, the rates on which were of course much lower in 1930 than 1929.

The shrinkage in income was mainly attributable to the reduced earnings from loans to member banks and discounting of eligible paper for them, the rates on which were of course much lower in 1930 than 1929.

The shrinkage in income was mainly attributable to the reduced earnings from loans to member banks and discounting of eligible paper for them, the rates on which were of course much lower in 1930 than 1929.

The shrinkage in income was mainly attributable to the reduced earnings from loans to member banks and discounting of eligible paper for them, the rates on which were of course much lower in 1930 than 1929.

The shrinkage in income was mainly attributable to the reduced earnings from loans to member banks and discounting of eligible paper for them, the rates on which were of course much lower in 1930 than 1929.

The shrinkage in income was mainly attributable to the reduced earnings from loans to member banks and discounting of eligible paper for them, the rates on which were of course much lower in 1930 than 1929.

The shrinkage in income was mainly attributable to the reduced earnings from loans to member banks and discounting of eligible paper for them, the rates on which were of course much lower in 1930 than 1929.

The shrinkage in income was mainly attributable to the reduced earnings from loans to member banks and discounting of eligible paper for them, the rates on which were of course much lower in 1930 than 1929.

The shrinkage in income was mainly attributable to the reduced earnings from loans to member banks and discounting of eligible paper for them, the rates on which were of course much lower in 1930 than 1929.

The shrinkage in income was mainly attributable to the reduced earnings from loans to member banks and discounting of eligible paper for them, the rates on which were of course much lower in 1930 than 1929.

The shrinkage in income was mainly attributable to the reduced earnings from loans to member banks and discounting of eligible paper for them, the rates on which were of course much lower in 1930 than 1929.

The shrinkage in income was mainly attributable to the reduced earnings from loans to member banks and discounting of eligible paper for them, the rates on which were of course much lower in 1930 than 1929.

The shrinkage in income was mainly attributable to the reduced earnings from loans to member banks and discounting of eligible paper for them, the rates on which were of course much lower in 1930 than 1929.

PHILATHEA CLASS MEETS

From Wednesday's Daily—The Philathea class of the Methodist church met last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Wescott, the latter for many years the teacher of the class, with a very large number of members in attendance at the meeting.

The meeting was presided over by Mrs. W. A. Wells, the retiring president and the election of officers and other business matters served to take up the entire time of the meeting so that the social program planned was given up.

The officers selected for the year included the following: President—Mrs. Bert Coleman. Vice-President—Mrs. Carl Groff. Secretary—Mrs. W. L. Heinrich. Treasurer—Mrs. James G. Maury. Teacher—C. C. Wescott.

The class membership discussed the plans for the year and decided to hold the social meetings on the third Tuesday of each month in the future.

This class has in the past graduated many teachers into the Sunday school work and who are now actively engaged in this line of work and once a member always a member is the rule of the Philathea class, members who are teaching are still carried as active members of the class.

At the close of the evening dainty and delicious refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. Wescott and which added very much to the pleasure of the occasion.

Phone your Job Printing order to No. 6. Prompt service.

Phone your Job Printing order to No. 6. Prompt service.

Phone your Job Printing order to No. 6. Prompt service.

Phone your Job Printing order to No. 6. Prompt service.

Phone your Job Printing order to No. 6. Prompt service.

Phone your Job Printing order to No. 6. Prompt service.

Phone your Job Printing order to No. 6. Prompt service.

Phone your Job Printing order to No. 6. Prompt service.

Phone your Job Printing order to No. 6. Prompt service.

Phone your Job Printing order to No. 6. Prompt service.

Phone your Job Printing order to No. 6. Prompt service.

Advertisement for Hinky Dinky featuring a list of products and prices: Ice Berg Head Lettuce, Fancy Bleach'd Celery, Apples, Oranges, Del Monte Canned Fruit Sale, Grape Fruit, Coffee, Butter, Beans, Eagle Brand Milk, Northern Tissue, Post Toasties, Soap, Rinsol, Candy Bars, Cigarettes, Flour.

GERMAN ANNIVERSARY DAY

Berlin—The sixtieth anniversary of the founding of the German reich will furnish the occasion Sunday for church and reichstag ceremonies in which President Von Hindenburg will participate.

GIRL SLAYS MAN ON TRIAL

DeWitt, Ark.—A seventeen year old girl in a crowded court room Monday night shot to death a man on trial for the slaying of her father as the jury was ready to retire with the case.

Poultry Wanted Saturday

GUARANTEE NOT LESS THAN Hens, all sizes, lb... 17c Springs, smooth... 17c Stags, per lb... 12c Old Roosters, lb... 8c

Wanted good healthy Poultry free from feed delivered at our Station

A. R. CASE Phone 391—Corner 6th and Pearl Plattsmouth, Nebraska