Presents Story of the Mass of Catholic Church

Rev. George A. Keith, S. J., in beautifully pictured story tells of Church's Life.

From Friday's Daily— Last evening Rev. George A. Keith, S. J., before an audience that filled the Parme theatre to its capacity, presented ably and eloquently the position of the Roman Catholic church in the world of christian faith, illustrating his remarks with beautifully prepared pictures representing the story of the birth of Christianity as well as that of the old testament days of the first man and of the prophets that were to herald the coming of the Christ, as well as the present day observance of the church.

In a world founded on sacrifice, in pictured story Father Keith traced the offerings of burnt offerings to the God of the Hebrews by the ancient patriarchs, as the acknowledgment of the spirit of meekness and submission to the will of one higher, beautiful pictures selected from among the world's choice art galleries.

From the old testament days to the coming of the Christ, covered there was presented the life of the Christ, the teachings and life of Christ and then the sacrifice of Christ for all mankind that believed in Him. His suffering on the cross, death and resurrection in the body to visit His followers before His ascension.

The Sacred Love Story of the Mass, was the title of the offering of this able and forceful member of the Society of Jesus, presenting with feeling and courage the story of the mass of his church. The meaning of the vestments of the priest, the significance of its symbols and altars laid the background for the presentation of the story of the mass. Clearly and ably Father Keith gave the priest at all of the principal parts of the mass and benedictions, their significance in the life of Christ who had founded the church, how each movement of the priest at the altar represented the acknowledgment of the church to the Master and Prince of Peace. The Holy Eucharist, the christians sacrifice today is acknowledgment of the goodness of God and the forgiveness of sins, was explained in detail by Father Keith with earnest plea for the members of his faith and all christians to more often partake of this sacrifice.

The nuptial mass as well as the requiem mass of the church, were told in pictures and ably and eloquently Father Keith urged his church followers to live their lives that they might approach the altar with clean hearts and in the spirit of the church receive its blessings in their daily life and in the last the final benediction of the church.

Many beautiful pictures of the churches of the world, the services in the trenches and out of the way places of the world were shown, bringing home the fact that the mass of the church is the same here, in Europe, and in any place in the world and given in the ancient language of the church, Latin.

The lecture was attended by large groups of non-Catholics and who followed with the greatest interest the unfolding story of this ancient christian faith and its true meaning as carefully presented by its earnest and able son.

Among the distinguished guests of the occasion were Judges James T. Begley and A. H. Duxbury and wife, Sheriff and Mrs. Bert Reed, Mayor and Mrs. John P. Sattler, Principal of the High School R. F. Patterson and wife, Rev. and Mrs. C. O. Troy, Rev. and Mrs. H. G. McClusky, Rev. O. G. Wichmann, Father O'Sullivan of Fremont, Fathers Weiss, Stolz and Martin of Nebraska City, John Fassbender of Nebraska City, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Bates.

PURCHASE AN ELECTRIC REFRIGERATOR

From Friday's Daily— Yesterday Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Maugay and Daniel Lynn all of Union were in town looking after some business matters for the afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Maugay making the purchase of an electric refrigerator, which they are having installed in their home at Union, and also visiting with friends here. This is the first time Mrs. Maugay has been in Plattsmouth since last fall, as she had the misfortune to slip and in so doing fell, dislocating, one of her ankles and laying her up for the entire winter and is feeling much the better at this time. Mr. Lynn was here to see the county surveyor, Fred Patterson, but as he was attending the funeral of the late W. D. Wheeler he did not get to see him.

PAINTING UP SHOP

The barber shop of Anton Triletz is being given a general decorative overhauling, the interior of the shop being newly painted and papered and with the spotless white paint makes a very neat and attractive object to the eye. This is another of the movements for the spring clean up and paint up movement of the spring season in the city.

FINDS CHICKENS

From Friday's Daily— Sheriff Bert Reed was notified this morning that a crate containing some thirteen chickens had been found near Weeping Water and the sheriff had the fowls taken on into that city to remain until claimed. A search of the neighborhood of Weeping Water failed to reveal the owner of the chickens and it is thought they were stolen from some other locality and probably lost in a car or truck while being transported by the thief.

Seek Member of Robber Gang in This City

Suspect From Omaha Brought Here to Try and Locate Party Named in Confession.

From Friday's Daily— Last evening Detective Palmatog of the Omaha police department was here for several hours, having with him Don Vincent, Omaha man arrested Thursday in connection with the operation of a gang of robbers that have operated in a large number of Omaha groceries and drug stores. The visit of the officers here followed the confession of Vincent and Otto Glaxier, arrested with their wives and Arthur R. Toy, in which the men implicated Toy as a "fence" for the stolen property and in this confession they also claimed that some Plattsmouth party was implicated in the series of thefts and has a large amount of the loot that had been taken from Omaha stores.

The Omaha parties arrested confessed to thefts that aggregated $10,000 in the past few months and covered the proceeds of some twenty-two robberies in the big city.

According to reports of the statements of the Omaha parties they claimed to have disposed of a large number of radios, cigarettes and other articles to a Plattsmouth man, but were unable to give his name and the police brought one of the prisoners here in the hope of being able to identify the purchaser of the stolen property but without success, as the prisoner was unable to find anyone that he could pick as the wanted man. It is stated the alleged purchaser of the goods for the $1,500 worth of the goods for $100.

So far as local authorities could learn there has not been any apparent clue revealed as to anyone having or trying to dispose of any radios in the city and it is thought that the confession was a hoax or that the prisoners were mistaken in the city of residence of the purchaser of the stolen property.

OFFICIALS VISIT FALLS CITY

From Friday's Daily— This morning Mayor John P. Sattler and a number of the members of the city council motored to Falls City where they were guests of the city water and light department and shown over the municipal plant at that place. The representative of Falls City here Thursday to attend the meeting to discuss the problems of a uniform occupation tax, invited the Plattsmouth officials to drive to Falls City and look over their plant in order to gain an insight into the workings of their system, one of the best and most modern municipal plants in the state and who had been a great success. The local officials are trying to secure as much information as possible on the water plant proposition in order that they may deal with the question intelligently when the necessity arises to take definite action and this has brought them in touch with a number of communities in the southeast part of the state where plants similar to one that would be required here are in operation.

OLE OLSON IN CITY

From Friday's Daily— Ole Olson of Weeping Water was a visitor in Plattsmouth looking after some matters of business yesterday and also dropped into the Journal office for a short time to visit with the printers. Ole was showing the hand which he so seriously injured when he came in contact with the highwayman near York some two weeks ago, and when he dismounted knocking the bandit in the ditch by the wayside, and enabling Mr. Olson and wife to make their escape. Mr. Olson's hand is badly swollen yet and very painful. He says for everyone who can to keep off the highways after night when possible, for they are dangerous places.

CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY

From Friday's Daily— Claus Boetel, Sr., one of the old time residents of this city, is celebrating his eighty-seventh birthday today and for his advanced age he is feeling very fine and while unable to get around with his old time vigor is still able to retain a large interest in the affairs of the day. Mr. Boetel, who resides at the county farm was in the city today and spent the day at the home of his son, Claus Boetel, Jr., where the members of the family gathered to spend a few hours with him and to enjoy the passing of the anniversary with the father.

Foreign Missionary Society Has Fine Meeting

Session at Nebraska City Is Attended by Members of Methodist Church Bodies.

On Tuesday February 24th, there was held a two session group meeting at Nebraska City for members and friends of the foreign missionary society of the Methodist church. Mrs. Paul Niemann, local president, called the morning session to order with all present joining in a familiar hymn and devotions led by Mrs. Gates of Lincoln, past corresponding secretary of the conference. Roll call introduced all those present and brought together many from nearby towns. Mrs. Schilder, secretary of Omaha district introduced Dr. Lydia Schaum who served years as physician in the Steeper Davis hospital in Peiping, West China. No one has been sent to fill her place since her return. She gave a talk on the home-base as a missionary sees it, which was such a revelation that many of her hearers could not but see how far shores trust God at the home base, or fail to live in the fullness of His promises. Just before the lunch hour, Mrs. Ella Watson of Lincoln and corresponding secretary of the Topeka branch, made the announcements of the great pageant, "The Golden Bowl," in seven episodes to be given at the Lincoln Field House on March 6th at eight o'clock. The different churches of Lincoln are taking charge of different episodes and the proceeds will be given to the "World's Work." Tickets are 50 cents for adults, and 25 cents for high school age down and to be sent local pastors nearby and seats may be reserved by mail for adults 50c extra, but no extra charge for children reserves. There seems to be some competition as to which will be the best episode.

A delicious luncheon was served by the Nebraska City ladies at noon and the round table was conducted just at its close. Mrs. Schilder presented the altar, the building of which is the goal for this year. As she described each stone she called on a secretary to read the names of the donors to place that stone. The conference treasurer, Mrs. Gregg, of Lincoln, reported the first stone in place; two thirds dues paid by December 15. The Christmas offering stone which sends new missionaries to the field was being led by Miss Watson who through two years of travel visited all the work of Methodist women on the field and all else she had time to visit. Space does not permit review of all stones but it was both illuminating and inspirational.

The afternoon session was opened with devotion by Rev. Albright, local pastor, followed by a demonstration "Self or Service" or "Service Plus," given by the Plattsmouth delegation, and much appreciated. Dr. Schaum again spoke on "The World Family," in a most impressive manner and Miss Watson gave a closing talk on the letter from Bishop McDowell whose late wife was president of the General Executive thirteen years and vice president of the same nine years, just having been released in Nov., 1930, by her request. Also Miss Watson gave a vivid picture of just one Sunday spent in Isabelle Thaburn college with its girls.

Several choice solos were given during the day by the ladies of the local church and the visitors returned their several ways voting the meeting most successful and inspirational. Dr. Schaum will speak at Plattsmouth M. E. church Sunday evening, March 1st at 7:30. The public is cordially invited.

HONOR DEPARTED OFFICIAL

From Thursday's Daily— The Cass county court house was closed this afternoon from two until three o'clock in honor of the memory of William D. Wheeler, who had served the county faithfully and well in the offices of county sheriff and county treasurer over a period of years. The county officials were practically all at the funeral services which were held at the late home, "Oakwood," near Rock Bluffs and where friends from all parts of the state gathered to pay their last tributes to the memory of this splendid citizen, now laid to the last long rest.

Mr. Wheeler has long been a prominent leader in the county and it was a fitting tribute to him that the court house where he had served so faithfully and well for many years should be closed in his honor.

SHERIFF HAS BUSY NIGHT

Sheriff Bert Reed and his force had a very busy night Wednesday when in response to the message from the state sheriff's office that the Hastings bank robbers might be headed for eastern Nebraska, he was out patrolling the highways in this vicinity. The robbers, however, had apparently chosen some other route, as they were not heard from in this section of the state. One of the men was reported as captured at Hebron where he was located in a wounded condition to his wife and child and is held at a hospital there.

Hundreds Pay Tribute at the Wheeler Funeral

Old Friends From All Sections of Cass County Present at Last Service Thursday

The services in memory of William D. Wheeler held on Thursday afternoon at the late home, "Oakwood," near Rock Bluffs, was one of the most largely attended that has been held in the county for many years, hundreds coming from all parts of Cass county to join in the tribute to "Billy" Wheeler, their friends of many years standing.

Rev. J. H. Salsbury, of Wood River, Nebraska, a friend of many years standing of Mr. Wheeler, was in charge of the service and gave a beautiful tribute to the old friend that he had known so well when both were residents of this city. Rev. Salsbury as pastor of the First Presbyterian church and Mr. Wheeler as county treasurer. To his sorrowing family and the bereaved friends he spoke the christian hope of the hereafter and the award that comes to the believer in the faith.

During the service the Masonic quartet of Plattsmouth gave two numbers, "Sometime We'll Understand" and "Safe in the Arms of Jesus," while L. D. Hiatt gave a solo, "Death is Only a Dream." At the conclusion of the service the body was borne to the last resting place in the Horning cemetery, a very large number of the old friends forming the cortege that followed the casket to the grave. The pall bearers were old friends and neighbors, A. L. Tidd, William Schmittmann, G. H. Meisinger, W. T. Adams, Edward McCulloch and John Rauth of Manley.

Representatives of Many Cities Here for Meeting

Discuss the Means of Providing Uniform Ordinances to Deal With Present Conditions

From Thursday's Daily— This noon and afternoon there assembled in this city a group of the representatives of many of the cities of eastern Nebraska, coming here at the invitation of the retail section of the Plattsmouth Chamber of Commerce and to discuss the problems of the several cities in the way of occupation tax levies.

There were present representatives from Nebraska City, including Mayor Vaughn and City Clerk Henry Cleve, Fremont, Auburn, Weeping Water, Louisville, Elmwood, Tecumseh, Falls City, Pawnee City and the members of the local city council that have in formation the ordinance for Plattsmouth, as well as Mayor John P. Sattler.

The smaller cities have in the past had varying ordinances that prescribed different levies from each other on the several lines of local business and industry. The representatives of the meeting, gathered from each other many valuable ideas that can be wrought into practical action by means of city occupation tax ordinances.

Peterson, one of the old and highly respected residents of the city, has for the past week been confined to her home as the result of a severe attack of the flu, and while she is some better she is unable to leave the house and will require some time to recover from the effects of the attack.

Platters Win in Spirited Game from Glenwood

By Margin of 24 to 20 Locals Take Last Home Game of Season From Iowa Visitors

From Thursday's Daily— In the last home game that the Platters of 1930-31 will stage, the local quintet last evening turned back the black and gold of Glenwood by the score of 24 to 20 in one of the most exciting games of the season and which in its finish gave the fans some real thrills as the two teams scored the result up to the last few minutes of the game when a long shot by Wiles and an under basket shot of Begley placed the Platters on the winning side as the whistle sounded that terminated the struggle.

It was the last home game for John Galloway, Captain Chet Wiles, Merle McCrary, and James Begley, who remained in the contest from the start to the finish, Henry Donat, Junior, center, retiring in the last few moments of the game to give way to Arn, and the locals made plenty of talk for the fans in their excellent floor game and the effect of the excellent floor game and the effective submerging of Hatcher, the scoring ace of the visitors.

For the first time this season the Platters showed hot in their opening quarter and held a commanding lead over the visitors at the end of the opening stanza, it showing Galloway and Begley each scoring two field goals and Wiles one to take a ten to three lead over Glenwood. Hatcher with a free toss and Evans with a basket making the visitors score.

The second period was a blank for the Plattsmouth five and the fast and furious floor game resulted in Glenwood garnering some four free throws from the Platters, making all of their gift shots good and Schneckloth, who was the leader of the visitors, scoring, also sang a field goal, to make the count at the half, ten to nine for Plattsmouth.

As the half opened up the visitors showed more spirit in their floor work and were able to tie up the score as Schneckloth tallied two field goals and a free toss and Hatcher thrilled his followers with a long shot and Merle McCrary and Wiles added one field goal each for the locals to make the count sixteen all as the team entered the final struggle.

The final stage of the struggle was a real battle and one that brought the fans to their feet as the two teams would forge ahead and again tie until the very last of the game. Schneckloth of the visitors forged his team to the front with a field goal and for the first time in the conflict Plattsmouth was dragging, then Merle McCrary in a beautifully placed long shot had the old scorebook all tied up, with eighteen alike, only to have Cheney, Glenwood guard, break through the Platters to sink one to put the Glenwood quintet out in front and looking like a winner, but again McCrary proved the undoing of the visitors as another long shot was good and again the score was tied twenty alike and the furious way in which both teams were playing, an extra period loomed in the road, but Captain Chet Wiles sank a bullet like shot in the old basket to make the score twenty-two to twenty and the time hanging on a thread.

Continuing to battle to the last whistle the Platters passed into the Iowa territory to Begley who landed a well placed shot to make the count twenty-four to twenty and then the silvery notes sounded on the whistle by Russell Reeder, made history of the game.

In the preliminary the Platter seconds made a victory 15 to 14 over the Glenwood reserves in another close and exciting battle and in which Robert Hinz gained fame as the leader of the local scoring, so all in all it was a very satisfactory evening for the Plattsmouth basketball fans.

The story in figures is as follows: Plattsmouth (24) Galloway, f 2 0-0 1 4 Begley, f-c 3 0-2 2 6 Arn, f 0 0-0 0 0 Donat, c 1 0-1 2 2 McCrary, g 3 0-0 0 6 Wiles, g (C) 3 0-0 2 6

Glenwood (20) Hatcher, f (C) 1 1-2 1 3 Schneckloth, f 4 2-2 1 10 Evans, c 1 1-1 0 3 Hall, g 0 0-0 0 0 Cheney, g 1 2-2 0 4

From Saturday's Daily— In the office of the district clerk this morning an action was filed entitled Ole Olson vs. W. Earl Towle, former manager of the Olson Quarries at Weeping Water and now a resident of Plattsmouth, in which the plaintiff asks judgment in the sum of $44,004.96.

The petition of Mr. Olson alleges many instances of the sale of the products of the quarries by Mr. Towle to various companies over the country and which it is claimed the plaintiff has never accounted for by Mr. Towle to Mr. Olson. The complaints of the alleged sales covers the years 1925, 1926 and 1927, during which time Mr. Towle was the manager of the quarries of Mr. Olson at Weeping Water.

The plaintiff also asks the issuance of a garnishment on the property of Mr. Towle that may be in the hands of the First National Bank of Weeping Water, the Nebraska National bank of that city and J. M. Ranney.

J. A. Capwell of this city appears in the action for Mr. Olson.

HAVE FINE TRIP

From Saturday's Daily— Mr. and Mrs. Fred G. Morgan returned last evening from Hay Springs, Nebraska, where they have been for the past week visiting with relatives and friends in that city and vicinity. They enjoyed the opportunity of a visit with many of the former residents of this community who are now living in the northwest part of the state. They visited a great part of the time at the home of their nephew, Paul Morgan and family and also were dinner guests at the George Koehnke, Phillip and Henry Horn homes while in Hay Springs.

The Koehnke family have a large potato ranch near Hay Springs and where they raised 25,000 bushels of potatoes this year, shipping out three car loads while Mr. and Mrs. Morgan were there, these going to the south for seed potatoes, where they are early potatoes, shipped back north as early potatoes. There are great cellars at the Koehnke place that hold thousands of potatoes.

At the George Horn pig ranch they say 4,000 head of the pigs, large and small and which were being gotten ready for the market, shipments being made all of the time to the large market centers.

One of the most vivid remembrances of the trip was the airplane ride that Mr. and Mrs. Morgan enjoyed, Fred taking a 300 mile trip while Mrs. Morgan was more modest in her initial air venture. The planes are owned by a company in which Paul Morgan is interested and the planes are largely used by the business men in their trips to the east and Denver.

The old Plattsmouth residents are sending greetings to their many friends in this community, Mr. and Mrs. Morgan also report that Phillip Horn, brother-in-law of the late Mrs. Frank J. Morgan is feeling very poorly of late.

At the close of the evening the ladies served a very delightful luncheon of sandwiches, cake and coffee and after voting it a most pleasant evening all adjourned to wend their way homeward.

Yard and Garden Contest is to be Held This Spring

Civic Bodies Will Back Proposition to Create Greater Pride in the Appearance of the City

With the view of adding to the beauty of the city the members of the civic improvement committee of the Chamber of Commerce, the civic committees of the Woman's Club and Rotary and the city park board, are planning on a campaign this spring for "Better Yards and Gardens" and which will be more fully explained in the rules and conditions to be given later by the committees in charge of the event.

The contest is one that will make for a much more attractive community and as the motto of the contest implies "You Win If You Lose," everyone that takes part will have the satisfaction of knowing that they will have improved the surroundings of the homes and properties.

A preliminary meeting was held last evening of several of the civic organizations and the first plans launched for the work of the contest, which will open entries on March 15th and will continue on over the spring months, culminating it is expected in a flower show to be held in May at the American Legion community building, but this last has not been fully worked out by the organizations and will be left largely to the committees in charge.

Frank A. Cloldi was named chairman of the judging committee, A. L. Tidd of the education and planting training; L. D. Hiatt, awards and prizes; G. L. Farley, publicity; Mrs. E. H. Wescott, entries; with members of the several organizations operating in the work of the contest.

The contest held last year developed a great deal of community interest and many attractive lawns and gardens were found over the city where a wealth of floral beauty made some of the most humble homes truly a beautiful object to the lover of natural beauty.

The Plattsmouth residents should bear the contest in mind and await the further announcements that will be made regarding this most laudible community enterprise. Flowers, trees and bulbs in the glory of the sunshine and rain can transform the most worn and roughened landscape into a thing of beauty and a joy for all the summer season, so householders prepare to make your home attractive to the passerby as well as a source of comfort and pleasure to yourself.

OFFERS REAL TREAT

Music lovers of the city were afforded a most pleasing artistic treat as well as educational presentation at the showing at the Parme theatre on Wednesday night of the "Sacred Love Story of the Mass."

The wonderful story was enhanced by the musical setting that was given by Miss Agnes Knoflickova, widely known violinist of this city, playing the accompaniment for many of the impressive scenes presented by Father Keith, as well as the very artistic prelude for the showing of the story of the mass, the violin offerings of Miss Knoflickova given during the seating of the audience, embraced some of the choicest composition of the masters of the world's music. In her violin selections Miss Knoflickova was accompanied by Mrs. Grace Loidy Burger of Omaha, whose very beautiful technic added much to the musical portion of the evening.

This was one of the first opportunities that the Plattsmouth public has had of hearing our talented artist since she has opened her studio in this city and was a treat that all appreciated to the utmost.

LITTLE ONE IMPROVED

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Chamberlain will be pleased to learn that their little seven-months-old son, Donald, who some ten days ago swallowed a part of an orange and for some time threatened to choke to death, has so far recovered that he and the parents were able to come here for a visit over the week end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John G. Lohnes, parents of Mrs. Chamberlain. The little lad still is suffering from the effects of the ordeal that he has been through but it is hoped that he may soon be entirely over the effects of the accident.
