on last Wednesday, they being guests of the society.

Mrs. O. A. Range has been quite ill at her home near Murray with a severe attack of the flu. Every care is being given and it is hoped she will soon be well again.

Charles Mutz are making their home in Omaha at this time and are located at 2218 Cass street, Omaha, and where they would be pleased to have their friends call when in the city.

Henry Behner has been suffering quite a bit from rheumatism and which has been so severe that he was unable to work for a while but is reported as being better at this time.

On last Saturday John Frans and the family moved to the property of W. H. Pils and on Monday M. G. Churchill also moved to the same place where they will make their home thus making a home for both the families.

Earl Lancaster and the family were enjoying a dinner and a visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Horchar, Mrs. Horchar being a daughter, and who make their home near Mynard. All enjoyed the day most pleasantly.

Chester Shrader was a visitor in Murray for a short time on last Sunday stopping for a visit with his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. George E. Nickles while on his way to Nehawka to visit with his grandmother, Mrs. Z. W. Shrader.

Services Next Sunday.

There will be services at the Christian church the coming Lord's day when the minister, Robert E. Hanson, will be here to conduct the services. He is requesting all members of the church and the Bible school to be in attendance at the respective services. There will be morning and evening services, the Bible school and the young people's meetings in the evening. There will also be some exercises by the boys team from the First Christian church of Lincoln.

Gives Reception to Friends.

Mrs. G. M. Minford of Omaha who has a host of friends in Murray and who she thinks much of, prepared for a reception of the ladies whom she has lived and worked with for so many years. On last Thursday she entertained the Ladies Aid of the Christian church of Murray and later on the following day, Friday, entertained the church of Lincoln.

Governor Bryan Again Bows to Will of House

Proposed Transfer of Child Welfare Smothered on Third Reading Tuesday in House.

The Nebraska house Tuesday again bowed the governor when it smothered, on third reading, H. R. 378, placing the child welfare bureau under the state superintendent. But twenty-six affirmative votes were recorded for the bill with sixty-five against. With the emergency clause attached it required sixty-seven votes to pass. Complete reversal of the status of a measure which a few days ago was advanced in committee of the whole to third reading with nearly fifty affirmative votes, was credited largely to the activity of the women's organizations of the state. The killing was accomplished in spite of bitter denunciation by Democratic Floor Leader O'Malley, of the placing of "clippings" on member desks for the alleged influencing of votes. Mr. O'Malley declared that care had been used in placing clippings from one paper before democrats and from another before republicans.

"The only difference I see," said Hunt of Otoe, "is that Journal clippings were on some desks and Star clippings on others. The subject matter appears almost identical."

O'Malley succeeded, however, in putting thru a motion that prohibits during the remainder of the session placement of any unsigned literature on desks.

Seventeen democrats joined the forty-eight republicans in voting to kill while two members, Sorenson and Raasch, elected as republicans voted with twenty-four democrats on the side of the governor. Floor Leader O'Malley and Chairman Wells of the Democratic wing voted on the losing side.

Another Recommendation. Defeat of the measure accounts for one more executive recommendation gone wrong. It takes its place with proposed abolition of the state library commission, removal of the party circle, establishment of mury gas stations if cities and towns so elect and abolishment of the state railway commission which the governor said, might well be abolished.

Life into the mury gas bill when McCoy, introducer, moved to override the standing committee on cities and towns. O'Malley, spokesman for the governor, immediately asked that the motion be not argued immediately. Whether the democratic floor leader chooses to bring it up Wednesday remains to be seen. There was some speculation as to why he desired the layover.

Heads of women's organizations began active Tuesday morning when they learned that H. R. 378 was scheduled for third reading. They caused to be placed letters on each member's desk. Mr. O'Malley took no exception to these since they carried signatures. He did object to the "clippings." Representative Porter of Boone, democrat, took issue with his leader when he said:

"I am glad to get all the information available. We shouldn't try to keep it from members of the house. The child welfare transfer bill was one of a bundle handed out by the governor on the twentieth and last day for bill introduction. It fell into the hands of Representative Steuterville for introduction."

FOSHAY GOES TO COURT
Minneapolis—A shattered dream of industrial conquest brought W. B. Foshay, promoter, and six former associates into federal district court here to plead not guilty to indictments charging use of the mails to defraud. Judge Molyneux set their trials for June 1 with the understanding that if the defense were not ready at that time the cases would go over to the September term. Bonds posted after the recent indictments against the defendants, were allowed to stand.

Arraigned with Foshay were Herbert F. Welch, former assistant secretary of the W. B. Foshay company; R. T. Andrews, former vice president and president of the Public Utilities Consolidated corporation; Palmer V. Mabry, assistant secretary; H. E. McGinty, secretary-treasurer; C. W. Salisbury, vice president, and H. H. Henley, vice president.

BRYAN URGES BANK MEASURE BE PASSED
Lincoln, March 3.—Governor Bryan issued another statement Tuesday urging the passage of banking legislation.

The opposition of the bankers of the country at large to the bank guaranty law in Nebraska and the repeal of the bank guaranty law under pressure of financial groups of the state and nation," he said, "has resulted in the withdrawal of half the deposits in the state banks since the bankers joined in a suit to nullify the bank guaranty fund of the state.

These funds have gone into hiding to the extent of $130,000,000 in two years. This has resulted in the closing of a large number of banks in Nebraska.

Green Piggott Some Better.

Green Piggott who has been so seriously ill for the past several weeks and has been kept to his bed with a special nurse, is reported as being some improved at this time. His many friends are pleased that he is showing improvement and are hoping for the day to arrive when he will be restored to his former health.

Friends Visit Here.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Boedeker, jr., were enjoying the company of friends for the last Sunday when Mr. Robert Wilson of Nebraska City, son of A. B. Wilson of that place, and his lady friend, Inogene Swanson, motored up for the day. In the evening all went to Plattsmouth where they attended the movies and also visited with friends.

Will Make Home Here.

John L. Young and wife, who have made their home at Colfax for the past nearly twenty years where they have been engaged in farming, last week moved to Cass county again and will farm on one of the farms of Charles Boedeker, sr., west of Murray. The many friends of this estimable couple will be pleased to have them again members of the Murray society.

Likes New Location Fine.

A letter from L. J. Hallas, who is located at Shelton, writes that he is liking the town well and that business is good and that he will return next week to move the family to their new home. The people of Murray are loath to lose this excellent family and dislike to see them go. However, the town where they are to make their home are enriched by them becoming citizens there.

Hold Meeting in Murray.

The county agent and assistants were here one day last week, when they held an extension meeting at the parlors of the Christian church, at which there was a large crowd in attendance.

BODY WILL BE EXHUMED
Valparaiso—The body of Arlene Draves will be taken from its grave in a country cemetery Wednesday to offer mute evidence in the trial of Virgil Kirkland, her accused slayer. Four doctors will study the physical condition of the girl to uphold or disprove the defense contention that a more complete examination might reveal an attack by Kirkland and four friends was not necessarily responsible for her death.

Court will stand recessed while the body, at rest beside the mother who died when Arlene was a child, is the subject of a second post-mortem examination by two surgeons representing the state and two representing the defense.

Two of the Draves sisters fainted after Judge Grant Crumpacker ordered the exhumation. The father was angry. "Why did they have to do this?" he asked.

GAHNDI AND IRWIN CONFER

Dahli, India—Further efforts to settle the complicated political situation in India were renewed when Mahatma Gandhi and the viceroy, Lord Irwin, conferred for more than four hours. Attempts to reconcile the two sides in the dispute received a setback when the working committee of the all-India nationalist congress turned down the viceroy's terms for a compromise settlement. The leader of the nationalists talked with Lord Irwin twice Sunday. After the first meeting he consulted with his associates of the working committee and then returned for further discussions with the viceroy. Hope that a settlement might be reached was again raised.

Believing that efforts for an agreement were deadlocked, most of the members of the nationalist cabinet already had bought tickets for home. It had appeared no power on earth could adjust the disagreement after the working committee of the all-India nationalist congress had rejected the viceroy's offer for a compromise settlement. The sudden optimistic turn came as a greater surprise to members of Gandhi's cabinet than to anyone else.

BERNARD SHAW BIT BETTER

London—Americans do things very well, says George Bernard Shaw after the British show them how. A Bournemouth theater manager sent the Irish playwright an American clipping one of his talking pictures the world's biggest flop. "There's not a word of truth in it," Shaw wrote in reply. "American experts insist on frequent changes of scene and long intervals of silence during which the film is a move and not a talkie. I have repeatedly challenged them to produce my play on the screen just as they produced no talkies on the stage. They declared it impossible they could work only on condition of being allowed to adapt the play to their technique instead of adapting their technique to the play. But Americans will do very well when they've got over the first shock. They always do when shown the way."

FATAL FIGHT IN NICARAGUA

Managua—Five Sandinistas were killed and twenty wounded in a clash with Nicaraguan national guardsmen at the town of Daigubi. The defending forces were five national guardsmen and ten civil guards. Three of the latter were wounded and brought to Managua in a United States marine corps airplane. The attacking forces were estimated at 200, headed by the chief of state, Salgado Hernandez, Diaz and Blandon. They were well armed with machine guns, rifles and grenades. Guard patrols from the towns of Palacaguina, Candeiga, Vall and Estel were ordered to pursue the insurgents, who fled to the hills.

ASKS POPE TO SETTLE MARRIAGE QUESTION

Vienna—The Austrian cabinet has decided to petition Pope Pius XI to settle the principal question of marriage law now in the canonical law of the Roman Catholic church, and a person of that faith cannot obtain a divorce under any circumstances in this country. For years the Austrian government has been pressed by the introduction of civil marriages.

Air Mail Lines See Rate Rise in Investigations

Congressional Action Is Expected to Bring About the Old Schedule

Washington, Feb. 26.—Air mail operators of the United States domestic and foreign mail lines, who will share approximately $27,000,000 during the next fiscal year, are enjoying the prospect of the two congressional "investigations" that loom as the present session comes to a close.

The domestic operators suffered a loss of $2,000,000 and more as the result of their recent conference with Walter F. Brown, Postmaster-General. He advised them to slash their rates and the formula they accepted was that much less than the estimated expenditure for next year.

Mr. Brown said that the saving to the Government would allow for expansion and new routes he contemplated, but the domestic operators are of the opinion an "investigation" will bring about as lucrative earnings as before.

The House of Representatives passed an amendment to the second deficiency bill, authorizing a subcommittee of the Appropriations Committee to carry on an investigation of foreign ocean air mail rates during the summer. Six members will be named and they will have authority to "investigate" in Europe, Central and South America or right here in Washington. No funds were appropriated, for the expense will come from the House contingent fund.

Whether the subcommittee, which will be headed by William R. Wood (R.), Representative from Indiana, chairman, and Joseph W. Byrns (D.), Representative from Tennessee, will go to Europe to seek data about all mail service, seems a matter of debate right now. But it is considered certain they will visit the Latin-American countries. Officials of the largest foreign air-mail service, it has been learned, have tentative arrangements completed to buy the committee over their lines, known as the Lindbergh Trail.

During the debate on the floor, opposition to the amendment cropped out when William H. Stafford (R.), Representative from Wisconsin, sought to confine the "investigation" to the continental United States. He withdrew his objection, however, when he was assured by the two ranking members that it might be absolutely necessary to go outside the United States to complete the task.

Kenneth McKellar (D.), Senator from Tennessee, was more explicit in his resolution. He stipulated $25,000,000, and directed the subcommittee to report at the next session. He specifically requests information concerning all air mail contracts; all ocean air contracts; the use of mail tubes in cities, including transmission of mail from airports to post offices, and the necessity of increasing rates on parcel post and other mail matter.

Investigations may be conducted where necessary, so that operators expect both committees to be hunting data here and in Europe. The $25,000 will not go far, if the investigators go outside the United States, or even if they remain inside its borders, but it has been explained that the Senate committee may also fall back on the contingent fund.

MANY MAKE APPLICATIONS
County Judge A. H. Duxbury, service officer of the Legion in this city, has in the past few days since the loan bill was passed over the veto of President Hoover, been kept busy looking after the applications of the former service men in this community who are applying to take advantage of the provisions of the law that permits loans on the policies. In making the loans the veterans should bear in mind that it means just a loan and the remainder of the policy will be charged with the interest unless the interest is paid at the specified times by the veteran. A very large number of veterans have already applied for the loan, in most cases being circumstances where the veterans have a real need of the money.
