Sport World Mourns Loss of Knute Rockne

Famous Football Coach Killed as Plane Falls to Earth in Southern Kansas.

Bazaar, Kan., March 31.—Knute Rockne, Notre Dame football genius, plunged to his death with five fellow passengers and two pilots on a Transcontinental and Western Air, Inc., air liner Tuesday in the mid-Kansas grazing country near here.

A mist that froze as it fell was blamed Tuesday night for the crash. The plane flew into a fine mist as it took-off from Kansas City. Weather conditions apparently became worse as the ship headed southward toward Wichita. The mist formed an ice and stuck to the plane. Witnesses who arrived on the scene shortly after the crash said ice was on the ship when they reached it.

The plane, California bound from Kansas City, crashed on a farm, killing all eight occupants instantly. Witnesses said the craft, flying through clouds and fog, lost a wing in the air and hurtled to the ground like a crippled bird.

The plane, California bound from Kansas City, crashed on a farm, killing all eight occupants instantly. Witnesses said the craft, flying through clouds and fog, lost a wing in the air and hurtled to the ground like a crippled bird.

The dead: Knute Rockne, H. J. Christensen, Chicago. J. H. Cooper, Chicago. W. B. Miller, Hartford, Conn. Spencer Goldthwaite, New York. C. A. Robrecht, Wheeling, W. Va. Robert Fry, pilot, Los Angeles. Jess Mathias, pilot, Los Angeles.

The body of Rockne was identified by W. L. White, son of William Allen White of the Emporia Gazette. The famous coach boarded the plane just before its departure from Kansas City in mist and rain, at 9:15 a. m. He was bound for Hollywood to complete arrangements for the making of a feature talking picture and several short subjects.

Misses Seeing Sons.

By a margin of minutes he missed seeing his sons, Knute, Jr., 14, and Billy, 11, who arrived in Kansas City, where they are students at Pembroke school, at 8:15 a. m. They were returning from a visit with their mother at Coral Gables, Fla. Rockne was forced to leave the station 20 minutes before the arrival in order to reach the airport in time for his plane's scheduled departure at 8:30. It was then held up 45 minutes by delayed mails.

Mrs. Knute Rockne rushed from Miami Beach to her winter home in Coral Gables Tuesday afternoon, informed her of the death of her husband.

Reservations on a train leaving Tuesday night for the Rockne home at South Bend, Ind., were made for Mrs. Rockne and two of the four children. The plane was in radio communication with the Kansas City airport until sighted Cassoday, Kan., southwest of Bazaar. It asked for weather conditions at Wichita. Then communication was interrupted. This was approximately at the scene of the crash.

Representatives of the Transcontinental Western Air Lines left Kansas City Tuesday afternoon for Bazaar, Kan., to investigate the plane crash.

According to R. S. Bridges, local traffic manager of the T. W. A., smoking was permitted on the plane but he could not ascribe that as the cause of the fatal explosion and crash.

Clarence McCracken and C. Carpenter, ranch hands, saw the big ship rocket out of a fog bank, and spin to earth.

Wing Tears Away.

Describing the tragedy, McCracken said he and Carpenter heard the plane above the clouds and glanced upward from their cattle feeding.

A moment later the plane nosed through the clouds, fell into a spin and came roaring earthward. A wing tore away, Carpenter said, and fluttered to earth a quarter of a mile from the wreckage some moments later.

Dr. Jacob Hinden, coroner, said four of the bodies were thrown clear of the plane. None, he said, was burned.

The plane hit the soft earth half a mile from the ranch hands, one of the three motors burying itself.

The eight bodies, so mutilated that identification was difficult, were taken to Cottonwood Falls.

A watch, stopped at 10:45 a. m., was found in the wreckage.

In the wreckage, in addition to the 43 pounds and ounces of mail carried by the plane, was found a quantity of football equipment. No express had been carried and it was assumed by air line officials that it had been in the baggage of Rockne or of Hooper, a sporting goods salesman.

Spencer Goldthwaite, 25, was an advertising man, flying to Pasadena, to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward S. Goldthwaite.

W. B. Miller was an assistant superintendent of sales promotion of the Aetna Life Insurance Co.

C. A. Robrecht was a produce merchant of Wheeling, W. Va., bound for Amarillo, Tex.—Omaha Bee-News.

WILL USE HORSES
The construction work along the section of highway No. 75 from Union to Nebraska City, will be carried on by horse drawn machinery as far as possible according to Herbert Schwadler, state highway engineer for Otoe and Cass counties. This will give more work for men in the project and help out the unemployment situation.

The equipment is being brought to the scene of the work east of Union and the work is expected to be gotten under way as soon as the weather conditions permit. The grading on this part of the work will all be done by horse drawn machinery as far as possible.

The road construction program of the state is expected to aid greatly in the reduction of the unemployment, especially if the projected $25,000,000 gas tax loan bonds can be put in effect and which would hasten much of the permanent road construction program of the state.

As Iowa has insisted on the employment of residents of that state on the various road projects, it is expected that the Nebraska highway department will also follow this rule to give as much employment as possible to the residents of the localities where the work is being done.
