

Easter Attraction at Ritz to be 'Tol'able David'

Stars rise overnight on the movie horizon! A very short time ago, Richard Cromwell was an unknown aspirant for motion picture work. Now he is in the full glare of the spotlight. It all happened because he was selected for the important stellar and title role in the all-talking version of "Tol'able David." Joseph Hergesheimer's prize story. The film is coming to the Ritz theatre on Easter Sunday for three days.

The story of "Tol'able David" is a simple one of a mountaineer's feud between two families. The worthless Hatburns have maimed the eldest son of the Kinemon household and indirectly caused the death of Hunter Kinemon, head of the house, as a result of the excitement over his boy's cruel injury.

No one is left to avenge the unfortunate Kinemons but David, the youngest son—just a "tol'able" lad. The fact that David is in love with Esther Hatburn, a relative of the treacherous group which has caused so much havoc in the Kinemon household, makes things just so much more difficult all around.

Tragedy and the responsibility of providing for his people cause a transformation in David. Circumstances enable him to avenge himself upon those dastardly cowards who have wrecked his home. Esther becomes his bride and he comes into man's estate with a happy future and a clear conscience no longer made restless with the overhanging menace of an unfulfilled feud.

Richard Cromwell, the unknown who plays the title role is a "find." He possesses all the characteristics required by his role—boyish charm, physical handsomeness and a rugged character. The supporting cast is a distinguished one. Joan Peers plays the feminine lead opposite the star, Noah Beery, a difficult character role. Edmund Bresse the father of the Kinemon household, Helen Ware, his wife and George Duryea, his eldest son. Others in the cast include Henry B. Walthall, Harlan E. Knight and Peter Richmond. John Blystone directed.
