Henry Heinemann and the good wife and I. G. Hornbeck and Miss Elsa Bornemeier were visiting at Plattsmouth on last Sunday and were picked with an out of doors dinner at the Burlington bridge and later visited the old time city, Rock Bluffs, where they looked over the remains of the ancient pioneer village.

Mrs. L. M. Amgwert, who has been making her home in Omaha and Council Bluffs, Iowa, for many months past returned to Murdock last week and will make her home here for the present. She is enjoying a visit from her daughter, Mrs. C. G. Morgan and the kiddies from Murdock, who will visit for a time.

Mrs. Harry Eastman and young son of Stirling, Colorado, arrived on Friday of last week for a visit with her mother, Mrs. Hannah McDonald, and other relatives and friends, and was joined at Denver on her way by Mrs. Amelia Kupke Huntington and her son, who will also visit with relatives and friends here for a number of weeks. It was nice the ladies could make the trip together.

Showing Improvement. Mrs. J. J. Gustin who has been in very poor health for many months past, is reported as being in better health at this time and the fact is a pleasure not alone to her but the family and many friends as well.

Been A Hard Worker. On Thursday of last week, Albert J. Bauer of Murdock, quietly celebrated the passing of his 73rd birthday anniversary. Mr. Bauer has lived in Cass county and has always worked hard and always ready for any job, however hard, and was very instrumental in the developing of this wonderful country from the raw prairie and the wooded tracts into the very fertile country it is at this time. Here is to you Al, we are glad to see your work having made a better place to live.

Enjoyed Fine Meeting. The Ladies Aid of the Murdock church held their regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Louis Bornemeier where they enjoyed a very fine meeting and a being quiet time. They first looked after the business matters which were coming before them regarding the activities of the church and also enjoyed the social hour and the very fine refreshments which were served by Mrs. Bornemeier.

nesday, they passed a resolution for the allowing of an assessment of two per cent of the taxable property of Elmwood precinct, for the graveling of some eight and a half miles of the roads in the precinct. This for the year 1931, more is expected to be later. This with the graveling of highway No. 1 will materially help in the getting over this portion of the county.

Were Seeing Omaha. The Senior class of the Murdock high school were over to Omaha on last Wednesday and were accompanied by Professor P. T. Johnson, superintendent of the school. This had been selected as their sneak day and all went to Omaha, taking passage in their trucks, and where they enjoyed the day to its full seeing the many points of interest in the big town.

Merric, Merric May Day. On last Friday, the May day exercises were held at the Murdock school and was enjoyed by the school and many of the mothers of the scholars and was counted as one of the very finest entertainments which has come the way of Murdock for a long time. The Queen of May was represented by little Dorothy Schlaphoff, and dressed becomingly as the spirit of spring and was escorted by her flower girls, Misses Josephine Morrison and Annie Louise Knaup, while her pages were Merle Buell and George Melvin. The May pole dance and the winding of the May pole were features which attracted the attention of all with their pleasing effects.

Parables of Jesus. By L. Neitzel. XI—THE GREAT SUPPER. Luck 14:14-24

Our Father is very much in earnest about men's happiness and well being. He uses many ways and means to draw man's attention to Himself and the way, where he can be happy. In this parable God uses the illustration of a man making a great supper; to show men how much He cares, and to what length He goes to provide the best for men. For four thousand years God was preparing the great supper, and in the fullness of time He sent His Son, to call men to the feast. The anticipation, by all God-fearing Jews, was raised to a high pitch, as we see by the presentation of Jesus in the Temple, were Simon and Anna welcomed the "Babe." The prophets of the old dispensation pointed the people, the Jews, to the coming of the Messiah; the last one is John the Baptist. God paid a great price for this supper. It is great and ample, enough for all people: "And in this mountain shall the Lord of hosts make unto all people a feast of fat things, a feast of wines, of fat things full of marrow, of wines well refined." Isa. 25:6. Three thousand seven hundred and eighty-two times, sound the blessed word "Come!" in the Bible. God is in earnest, hence the repetition. Listen to God's gracious invitation: "Ho, every one that thirsteth, come ye to the waters, and he that has no money, come ye, buy and eat; yea, come, buy wine and milk without money and without price." Isa. 55:1. Then listen to the text of the sermon preached in the synagogue of Nazareth: "The spirit of the Lord is upon me; because the Lord hath anointed me to preach good tidings unto the meek; he hath sent me to bind up the brokenhearted, to proclaim liberty to the captives, and the opening of the prison to them that are bound, to proclaim the acceptable year of the Lord, and the day of vengeance of our God; to comfort all that mourn." Isa. 61:1-2. But how have men reacted on the invitation? The call comes from God; but man can accept or reject, it is left to his free will. The Jews rejected the Christ and the great supper, or Gospel feast. Jesus made one supreme, last effort to call His people to accept God's great offer: "If any man thirst, let him come unto me, and drink." John 7:37. The most of the excuses that man make are not sincere, not honest, very flimsy. Now as then, men are very clever at making excuses, but they know in their hearts, that they are lying. Who would buy a piece of property without seeing it first? Who would buy oxen, and not know, before paying for them, if they were the kind he wanted? Who would be so unkind, and not take his wife with him to a banquet? If people could only realize what God has prepared in Christ Jesus for the soul of men, surely none would hesitate, but would act like the prodigal son, "arise and go," there is satisfaction, peace and joy, that passeth all understanding, the love of God shed abroad in our hearts, the witness of the Holy Spirit that the sins are forgiven; a faith that does not shrink, but trusts God, under all circumstances. They will be done, is the voice of faith, then the man fills the soul, and joyful the child of God says: "It doth not yet appear what we shall be; but we know that when He shall appear, we shall be like Him, for we shall see Him as he is." John 3:2. Friends! All things are ready now; come and eat, that your soul be filled; and make ready to meet your God!

COMPLETES ASSESSING WORK

B. F. Dill, of South Bend, the assessor of that precinct, has completed his task of the listing of the property of the taxpayers in his precinct and turned in his reports to County Assessor W. H. Puls.

Mr. Dill has served as the assessor in his precinct for a great many years and has held the honor of being the first member of the corps of precinct assessors to complete their reports over a period of years, he having lost this but once in many years.

All of the assessors are getting well through their work and it is expected in the next week that a large number will be ready to file their final reports and wind up the work of assessing.

ENTERTAINS AT SHOWER

From Saturday's Daily—Last evening Mrs. William Schmidtman, Jr., and Mrs. John P. Sattler, Jr., were hostesses at a very charming bridge shower in honor of Miss Catherine Schneider, whose marriage is to take place in June. The shower was held at the home of Mrs. Sattler and the bright and attractive spring flowers made a very pretty setting for the event. In the playing the first honors were awarded to Mrs. R. W. Knorr and the second prize to Mrs. Murna Chadderton. Dainty and delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses. The only out of town guest was Miss Faith McManus of Council Bluffs, Iowa.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to take this means of expressing to the many friends over Cass county, our deepest appreciation of the many kindly acts during the illness of our loved mother and grandmother, also for the words of sympathy in our bereavement and to all those who assisted at the funeral and sent the beautiful floral offerings.—The Children and Grandchildren of Mrs. Margaret Wehrlein.

The girls chose "Jolly Sewing Club" for the name of their club. They have ten members. The Mayor and Mrs. O'Brien returned Sunday from their southern trip, and report a very good time. They drove to St. Louis, and took the boat from there, going down the "Father of Waters" to the mouth of the Ohio, up the stream to the Tennessee river, and then up that stream as far as the Muscle Shoals project, which sight alone was well worth the trip. The trees were all out in full leaf, as well as many flowers in bloom, which makes this trip a very enjoyable one at this season of the year.

The Home Dairy of this city of which Phillip Hoffman is the manager, is now supplying to the U. S. government 300 quarts of Pasturized milk, this being delivered at the U. S. rifle range near this city. The government requires the very best and tested milk for the men of the army and Mr. Hoffman is well pleased that the contract for supplying the milk was awarded to his dairy, which is operating in the Hatt building in the room formerly occupied by the Hirz meat market.

Manufacturing Rivals Agriculture in Nebraska Nebraska is a manufacturing state. That may sound like a strange statement to those who have adopted the idea that Nebraska is pre-eminently a state of crops and livestock. But when it is known that the value of manufactured products in 1929 was only $12,000,000 below the products of agriculture, the importance of manufacturing takes on new significance. The value of manufactured products reached a total of $484,000,000 in 1929, as compared with $420,000,000 in 1927 and $505,000,000 in 1919. The gross income from agriculture for the year ended June 30, 1929, was $496,000,000, which is the highest since 1920. Thus it will be seen that there is only twelve million dollars difference between agriculture and industry for the period in which latest figures are available. The basis of manufacturing statistics is the report prepared by the federal census bureau from figures obtained in the 1929 census. Manufacturing gave employment to 28,219 people in 1929. The wages they received totaled $36,883,000. In addition to the amount paid to wage workers, a total of $14,463,000 was paid in salaries to 6,539 officials and employees. The raw material consumed in manufacturing enterprises is quite generally from the farms of the state. Meat products are the largest item and give Omaha a high rating as a manufacturing center. Creamery butter is a product of immense importance, giving Nebraska fourth place as a butter place. Nebraska wheat is converted into Nebraska flour in some of the finest mills in the country. Nebraska sugar beets, produced from Nebraska sugar beets, The cost of raw materials used in manufactures was $264,306,000. The number of industries grew from 1927 to 1929, from 1,277 to 1,490, which indicates the growing industrial spirit of the people and the well expressed tendency to diversify the interests of the state. Omaha leads all cities of the state in manufactured products with a total of $353,158,836. Lincoln was second with $225,666,542. A list of products manufactured in Nebraska includes: Agricultural implements, aircraft, awnings and tents, beverages, bookbinding, boxes, bread and bakery products, beet sugar, brushes, butter, canned goods, car and general railroad shops, cigars and cigarettes, clay products, clothing, coffee, concrete products, confectionery, copper, tin and sheet iron work, druggists preparations, flour and feed, foundry and machine products, fur goods, furniture, gas, grease and tallow, ice cream, ice, jewelry, marble and granite, mattresses, motor vehicle bodies and parts, paints and varnishes, patent and proprietary medicines, photo-engraving, planing mill products, printing and publishing, rubber tires and tubes, saddlery and harness, shirts, slaughtering and meat packing, structural iron and steel work, wire work.
