Delivering Much Corn.
 Much corn is being delivered at the Rehmeier elevator, the farmers seeking to get out of the way of the rush work which now is crowding and especially on account of the rainy weather which has in a measure put the planting of corn back some.

RATE INCREASE DESIRED
 Washington—An increase in freight rates to aid economic recovery is advocated in the current issue of Labor, weekly publication of railroad labor organizations.
 "Leaders of railroad labor organizations are convinced," the paper said, "that the carriers are facing a situation which calls for an immediate increase in freight rates of from 10 to 15 percent."
 "An increase in freight rates would enable the roads to go into the market and buy the things they need. This would stimulate business along all lines and tens of thousands of men now unemployed would be put back on the job."
 "In the opinion of railroad employees, the psychological hour is near, and if the interstate commerce commission will act without unnecessary delay, it may assist materially in getting the country back on its economic legs."

ANTIMOB BILL IS VETOED
 Jefferson City, Mo.—The anti-lynching bill passed by Missouri legislature, intended to put more teeth in the laws against mob and lynchings, was vetoed by Governor Caulfield. The chief executive rejected the measure, because it did not provide for punishment of guilty officers, such as sheriffs and prosecutors, whose duty is to put more teeth in lynchings. The bill would merely have further complicated the present statutes against lynchings, the chief executive said.

MERGER IS RECOMMENDED
 Boston—Reduction of Pennsylvania railroad ownership in both the Boston & Maine and the New Haven railroads to 19 per cent and consolidation of these two major New England roads was recommended by the New England railroad committee. The committee's report, which was made after an exhaustive study of New England railroad conditions over the past year and a half, was received by the governors who met with Governor Ely of Massachusetts. The committee was appointed by governors of the six New England states at the suggestion of the New England council.

Although the committee favored consolidation of the Boston & Maine and the New Haven, they would not have such a project carried out until the two roads were "freed from the present excess ownership of their stocks by the Pennsylvania."

LARGE NAVY IS FAVORED
 Baltimore—An appeal for a navy built up to the maximum treaty limits and provided with as many aircraft as possible was made by Rear Admiral William A. Moffett, chief of the naval bureau of aeronautics.
 In an address before the American society of mechanical engineers, he pictured the "next war" as being fought and decided principally in the air. The old principle of "control of the sea" he said, has come to mean control of the air above the seas as well.
 "The vast majority of transportation and communication at sea will always be done by surface vessels protected and conveyed by men of war," he said. "But battles on the sea will be waged by vessels carrying not only guns but in ever increasing numbers, the new weapon, aircraft."

Robber Suspects Face Long Prison Term

Towle Rushes Warrants for Three Hoodlums Held in Chicago—Sent by Aair Mail.

Lincoln, May 13.—Maximum sentences of 25 years will be the extent of punishment Nebraska can demand in event of the conviction of three gangster suspects held in Chicago for the Lincoln National bank robbery. County Attorney Max Towle announced upon his return today.

This, Towle discovered upon a close study of the statutes which disclosed that the three men could not be charged with robbery from the person which carries a penalty of from three to five years, but the maximum punishment permitted by Nebraska laws for any form of robbery, he said.

Requisition papers for the extradition of three Illinois gangsters from Chicago to Lincoln for trial for the robbery were dispatched by airmail from here this afternoon to Springfield, Ill.

Hensel to Get Papers.
 Sheriff Claude Hensel of Lincoln will receive the paper and present them to governor Louis L. Emmerson of Illinois.

The statute under which complaints were drawn covers intimidation during the course of a robbery. This carries a maximum penalty of 10 years and a maximum sentence of 25 years.

As drawn the complaints charge the three suspects, Howard Lee Thomas "Pat" O'Connor and John Britt with intimidating Phil Hall, former cashier of the bank, and W. E. Luikhart, another official.

Time at a Premium.
 Time was at a premium this afternoon as the county attorney's requisitions were made to place the papers on the plane.

The county attorney had devoted most of the day to preparation of the requisitions, and did not complete his work until mid-afternoon. They immediately were taken, with the complaint, to municipal court, where warrants were issued.

From there a deputy sheriff rushed them to Franz Radke, secretary to governor Bryan, who was meeting with the board of pardons at the state penitentiary. Arrangements were made for the governor to examine the requisitions at the prison, where they were signed and then rushed to the air mail field, arriving just a few minutes before time of departure of the ship. They will reach Springfield tomorrow morning.

Will Attend Hearing.
 The three suspects scoffed, Towle said, at his suggestion they return without extradition and also declined to say where they were last September 17, the day of the robbery.

At his suggestion they might have been in jail, one replied, "We can't say, we've been there so much."

The county attorney will be present in Chicago at the habeas corpus hearing Friday morning.—World-Herald.

Norris and Seymour Freed on Demurrers

New Indictments Will Be Asked, Says United States Attorney—Flaws Are Found

Lincoln, Neb., May 13.—Federal Judge T. C. Munger today sustained demurrers to perjury indictments against George W. Norris, former Nebraska grocer, and Victor Seymour, a former republican leader in the state, who challenged the constitutional authority of the senate campaign funds committee to investigate the present year's Nebraska primary election campaign.

Robert Van Pelt, assistant United States district attorney, said tonight the government will seek new indictments against the grocer. The matter will not be brought before the present sitting of the federal grand jury, Mr. Van Pelt said, but added that the matter likely will come before the jury before the spring term is over.

"Grocer" Norris and Seymour had been accused of perjury in connection with the investigation of the Nebraska primary election by Senator Gerald P. Nye's committee.

In his opinion the court explained that although the indictments allege the daterality of the questions asked by Senator Nye, it failed to do the same thing could be brought before the grand jury. The indictment charged were false. However, the judge found that such inquiries are legal and valid and recalled the Newberry case in which the supreme court declared a federal corrupt practices act unconstitutional where it applied to primaries.

The court interpreted this decision to mean that congress has no authority to pass upon direct legislation regarding primaries, but that certain indirect regulations may be enacted by congress in legislation regarding the method of holding general elections. The judge suggested that for example congress might require the filing of a statement of primary campaign expenditures as a prerequisite to entry of a candidate into the final election.

After nothing out that congress does, therefore, have some measure of legislative control over primaries, he found that either house may legally investigate primaries for the purpose of ascertaining the need of corrective legislation.

The court's ruling dismissed the eight counts against Seymour and the two against Norris.—World-Herald.

SMUGGLERS ARE TAKEN

Sambridge, Md.—Continuing a cleanup of the base of a Chesapeake bay liquor smuggling outfit declared to have been operating in this section for two years, federal officers seized a second high powered launch loaded with 400 cases of liquor, a third motor truck, and arrested three more men.

The seizures and arrests brought the total in two days to fourteen men arrested, and two high powered launches, three motor trucks and an automobile, 650 cases of liquor, and a quantity of arms confiscated.

The eleven men first arrested were arraigned and remanded for a formal hearing Friday afternoon after customs officials asked that bail be set at $35,000 each on charges of smuggling.

Army is Ready to Mobilize Four Million Men

MacArthur Reveals Plans to Raise Huge Force by Draft if War Threatens.

Washington, May 13.—War department plans for rapid mobilization of an army of 4,000,000 men were outlined before the war policies commission Wednesday by Gen. Douglas MacArthur almost immediately after receipt of a protest from the Federal Council of Churches that elaborate war preparations would diminish national security.

MacArthur appeared at the commission's resumption of hearings to find a method to take the profits out of war.

Earlier, Assistant Secretary of War Payne had said the War and Navy departments, assisted by other agencies, were developing plans adequate for mobilization of the nation's economic and industrial resources.

MacArthur testified the War department plans called for mobilization of an army of 4,000,000 under a selective service draft from a registration roll of 11,000,000.

The chief of staff expressed opposition on behalf of the War department to plans proposed to the commission by Bernard M. Baruch, former chairman of the war industries board, for freezing all prices at the outbreak of a conflict.

MacArthur said experience had shown similar attempts "fostered subterfuge and evasion and dried up the sources of supply."

The chief of staff proposed registration of all wealth in war time, similar to registration of manpower, to facilitate imposition of taxes.

MacArthur testified the War department opposed conscription of labor because it would not be supported by public opinion and would be so resented by workers they would not lend their best efforts.

He took issue with views of the Federal Council of Churches, contending adequate preparation and plans providing no one could escape a share of war's economic loss would exert a sobering and restraining effect upon any group or class "that might be tempted otherwise to urge the adoption of national policies likely to lead to international conflict."
