

MURDOCK ITEMS

M. R. Beeson and family of Greenwood were visiting in Murdock and also came over to consult Dr. L. D. Lee regarding their health.

O. Townsend, the barber at Murray, was over on last Sunday visiting with the family. They will move to Murray as soon as they are able to secure a house to live in.

Miss Henrietta Bauer, who has been conducting the store, took a vacation and is assisting the mother, Mrs. Bauer at the home, during which time Mrs. John Gakemeier is assisting the father, G. Bauer at the store.

Dick Williams and the good wife of Johnson, were visiting in Murdock on last Tuesday, coming to see their friends, Eddie Craig and family, they all then departing for Omaha where they visited for the evening, attending a show.

Not that he is getting too old but that he might want to do some other work, Douglas Took has relinquished the position of representative at Bee-News and also the State Journal, which has been taken over by Eugene Tool, and who is hustling into the work like a sure enough salesman.

Henry Heineman and O. E. McDonald were putting a roof on the barn of Herman Zittel, and as the shingling was attended with some changes, they got the roof in shape and seeing the clouds rolling and the wind blowing, they hastened to get to town but were not swift enough for they were caught in the rain and received a good soaking.

Hail Does Some Damage.
With the rain storms which visited this portion of the county early last week there was considerable hail which left some damage in its wake but it is hoped that this will be overcome as the season advances.

Visits Many Places Sunday.
On last Saturday night, John Ostblom and the family went to Lincoln, where driving in the car of his daughter, Mrs. Wilma Smaha, they starting from Lincoln early, the family drove first to Grand Island, where they visited with relatives and friends and thence to Ravenna, then to Central City, to Fullerton and back to Central City and in the evening returned to Lincoln, having driven during the day a distance of some four hundred and fifty miles. They enjoyed the trip very much, saw much good country and say the crops were looking fine.

New Housekeeper Comes.
There was joy at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Race when one day last week there appeared the stork with a very fine little girl baby and who had informed the bird that she would like a home with Mr. and Mrs. Race. Arrangements was made and the family are exceedingly happy on account of the young lady being installed in the home.

Working in Iowa.
George Miller has accepted a position at Winterset, Iowa, where he is caring for an oil station for a construction company who are doing some heavy work on the Iowa highways. Mr. Miller was a visitor at home over the week end on last Sunday, returning to his work on Monday.

There At the Opening.
Last Wednesday beginning at midnight the day for the permission for fishing for bass, was a portion of the law, and in order to not miss the first opportunity, a number of the fancy fishers of Murdock were on hand as the sun rose over the hills of Cass county at the favorite fishing resorts along the Platte river, and had their hooks all in the river and markers in plain letters "Especially for bass." They enjoyed watching for nibbles during the day and also the refreshing showers which visited them about two o'clock. How many they were able to bag is not known for no official count was made. Among the merry fishers were E. W. Thimman, John Gakemeier, Lacey McDonald, H. W. Tool, A. J. Tool, John Eppings and others.

Not Christmas Gifts.
This is no sign of one getting along in life, but spells a need of something reliable to use in their eating. Lacey McDonald and L. R. Gorthey, who have been getting along on soup and other soft vittals, have gotten themselves a brand new set each of upper and lower teeth and are just at this time learning to whistle and to talk plain but they will get along, others have before them.

Rain Decides Question.
The Order of Eastern Star was to have met at the home of Mrs. C. A. Kupke on last Wednesday and both she and Mrs. A. J. Tool were the likertainers and as there was a likelihood of rain, it was also decided that if it did rain they were to meet at the home of Mrs. Tool instead of Mrs. Kupke. Well all knows that it did rain, and the meeting was held in town at the home of Mrs. Tool and a joyous time was had. For the rain there was a large attendance and a good time.

Same Grade, Different Score.
The 7th and 8th grade of the Murdock schools played the like grade of the Alvo school, a game of baseball a short time since with the result, notwithstanding that Alvo had a high school pitcher, the score was 12 to 3 in favor of the home team.

Ask For Bids For Drivers.
The Board of Education at their last meeting which was last week, among other things, passed a motion to ask for bids for the carrying of the students to and from the homes to the school. The board is also asking for sealed bids for the position for caretaker or janitor of the school building, to be filed with the secretary of the school board on or before July 6th.

Have Good School Attendance.
The Vacation Bible school which has been operating at Callahan for the past week will continue two weeks longer and are making excellent progress. There are now 39 enrolled in the school. The instructors being Misses Hilda Schlapoff, Elsie Schueter, Martha Neben and Mrs. H. A. Norenberg.

Spent Week in West.
Mr. and Mrs. Martin Balsen departed early last week for Denver, they driving, and where they remained for their honeymoon, until Thursday, returning to Murdock and from thence to Omaha. Mr. Balsen had to return to his position at the bank where he works on Tuesday morning of this week. Mrs. Balsen was formerly Miss Elsie Kupke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kupke.

Jolly Cheffs.
The cooking club met at the school house, June 4th. The lesson material had not arrived so we discussed many problems along the line of our club work. Our club meeting will be held at the home of Meta Reickman from now on, or otherwise stated on June 18th, at 2 o'clock, with Hilda Schlapoff and Mary Katherine McHugh as hostesses.—Reporter.

Parables of Jesus.
THE UNJUST JUDGE—Luce 18:1-8
Our Lord teaches His followers a remarkable lesson in this parable of persistence in prayer. No follower of Christ can maintain his relation with Him one day, without prayer. Prayer is the breath of the soul; it is communion with the Deity; the soul of man feeds upon prayer. It is its daily bread, because people pray so little, and because many lean Christians, so little of the Master's spirit shine in the lives of man, so much strife, backbiting, intolerance and wars.

Does the Lord answer prayer? Yes! But only in His own way. God often tries man's faith, by not answering at once. Elias had to call seven times on God to send rain, when he prayed on Mount Carmel. Paul called on God three different times to remove the thorn out of his flesh. God answered by giving him grace to bear it. Jesus had to call three times on His Father, and His prayer was answered by a ministering angel, who strengthened Him. Peter prayed, fell into a trance and God revealed to him His will, in showing him that He is no respecter of persons. In Acts 4:31 we read: "And when they had prayed, the place was shaken. In this parable Jesus says there was a widow who had been robbed, by a rich neighbor, taking advantage of the death of her husband, and stolen her land. There was a judge on the bench at that time that had no regard for God or man. (He must have been a heathen judge, for the Jews required a sevenfold qualification, prudence, gentleness, piety, hatred of mammon, love of truth, that they may be loved, and of good report). This widow went again and again, to plead her case without getting to the judge. But her persistence at last prevailed; it overcame the judge's resistance, he says: "Though I fear not God nor regard man, yet because this widow troubleth me, I will avenge her, lest by her continual coming she weary me." Luke 18:4-5. In this parable God is not so much compared to the unjust judge as contrasted with him. The great compassionate heart of God pities His children. He may delay the answer, for reasons of His own, but He hears before they call (Isaiah 65:24) He will answer "Like as a father pitieth his children, so the Lord pitieth them that fear him." Psalms 103:13. God does take care of his own. The question: Can a person "pray" without ceasing?" should find an answer here. We do not hesitate to say yes. The follower of Christ should never be out of touch with his Lord; never indulge in anything where he could not ask God to bless what he is doing.

His disciples must keep the temple of the Holy Spirit clean, pure, undefiled. The prayerful attitude can only be maintained, if men will "do all to the glory of God." The "what-soever" covers men's life in all his phases. Since men lives in a world, where nothing is certain, it behooves him to be found at all time in such an attitude, that he can meet his God. "Therefore be ye also ready, for in such an hour as ye think not, the Son of man cometh. Who then is a faithful and wise servant, whom his Lord hath made ruler over his household, to give them meat in due season? Blessed is that servant, whom his Lord, when he cometh, shall find so doing." Math. 24:44-46. Therefore "watch and pray."

Popular Murdock Young Lady is Wedded

Miss Elsie Kupke, of Murdock, Married Sunday Afternoon to Martin Bolsen of Omaha

Wedding bells were ringing last Sunday afternoon, when Elsie, the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Kupke, of Murdock, gave her hand and heart to Mr. Martin Bolsen of Omaha to keep and cherish.

It was a gala occasion. Trinity Lutheran church altar was banked in flowers, the church was filled to capacity with friends and well-wishers of the highly contracting parties. A chum of the bridegroom from Omaha presided at the organ. At the hour of four, broke forth the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, and the ushers and best men with the bridesmaids entered and took their stations, followed by the bride, leaning on the arm of her father, who gave her into the keeping of the bridegroom.

The Reverend G. A. Zoch spoke to them, from First Chronicles 17: 27, words of advice, exhortation and admonition, if they will be followed, will assure them the blessings of God, which are needed in their young people's meeting. The text and song were selected by the young people themselves.

The choir rendered a beautiful selection for their departing choir leader. Murdock is losing a very lovely, charming young lady, and Omaha is gaining a very substantial help for their choir and in their young people's meeting. The young folks will make their home in Omaha where Mr. Bolsen is employed in one of the largest banks. They will occupy their own home which Mr. Bolsen recently purchased. Our best wishes follow them.

BOY FELL FROM BUILDING AND WAS INJURED
On Wednesday evening at about eight o'clock a number of boys were crawling around on top of the restaurant building. The post office building and the McFall Millinery building. Edgar Luke, about thirteen years of age, son of Mrs. Geo. Wilson, had reached the top of the roof of the McFall building and as the roof was a hip roof and slick after the rain, he slipped and shot down the other side of the roof, falling on his shoulders partly on the cement walk, a drop of some 12 or 15 feet. Roy Lean and several others were near and saw him fall and hastened to him, finding him unconscious. Wm. Coatsman was standing in front of the Hardware and he called for the doctor. By this time they had gotten him into Mr. Coatsman's car which was standing in front of the store and took him to Dr. O. E. Linton's office where he was attended. It was found that no bones were broken, while the young man suffered some and his back was badly bruised. It was thought that his condition was not serious and he was taken to his home, where he will likely be confined to his bed for several days. Considering the distance of the fall, it is indeed marvellous that he was not more seriously injured at least that there were no bones broken.—Elmwood Leader-Echo.

LEAVES FOR ILLINOIS
On Friday Mrs. Garold Holcomb and little daughter, Florence, departed by auto for their future home at Kankakee, Illinois, where they will join Mr. Holcomb who has been there for two weeks. Mr. Holcomb is now in charge of the large water plant at Kankakee and which is a position of much responsibility and carries with it a very much larger salary than that received here.

The departure of the Holcomb family has brought a great deal of regret from the many friends here and who have known them so well in the past number of years that they have been residents of this community. Both Mr. and Mrs. Holcomb have been active in the community and particularly in the services of the veterans organizations. Mrs. Holcomb having served as the president of the Legion Auxiliary and Mr. Holcomb was serving as the commander of the American Legion post here this year.

The work of the local water plant will be looked after by John Glaze F. G. Egenberger, automobile insurance, liability, property damage, fire and theft. Phone 185-J. Offices 7th and Vine St.

Fair Board Admits Figures are Misleading
About One-Third of the Attendance at the State Fair Are Admitted Free.

Lincoln, Neb., June 12.—Discrepancies in published attendance figures for the state fair and the cash gate receipts are explained in a statement being distributed by George Jackson, secretary of the fair, to members of the legislature.

The fair board is seeking a 75 thousand-dollar appropriation from the legislature, and legislators have been quite critical in their inquiries regarding the ability of the fair to pay for itself.

"We must admit that these figures are very misleading," Jackson said in his report referring to the differences between attendance figures and gate receipts. "Over one-third of our attendance was admitted free."

"This doesn't mean, however, that we are passing off free passes to friends and influential citizens," he said. "The distribution of free passes was explained as follows:

Five tickets to each of seven members of the fair board. Two to each elective state officer and member of legislature. Two to each of 452 newspapers in exchange for five advertisements. Two to the president and secretary of every county fair in the state. Tickets to about 15 thousand members of the Boys and Girls clubs.

Nearly two years later the indictment was dismissed without any of the defendants being tried. —Bee-News.

Hoover Backers Lining Up for a Stiff Campaign
Cabinet Officers and Leaders of Party Urge Aggressive Effort—United for the President.

Washington—The attention of the conference of young republicans was focused again on President Hoover as cabinet officers and party speakers called for an aggressive campaign in 1932. Secretary Hurley, in concluding the conference program, recited the words of Mr. Hoover: denounced his critics; termed his policies progressive and aggressive, and urged that "we keep the leadership of the republican party safe, sincere, intelligent and patriotic." President Hoover, whose renomination and reelection was predicted by administration speakers, thru the two days of the conference, late in the day received the young republicans at the white house.

The sessions during the day were presided over by Robert H. Lucas, executive director of the republican national committee, who called the gathering. He proposed another conference on the eve of the next republican national convention in the convention city a year hence.

The conference stood and gave three cheers for the president. Secretary Hurley declared "President Hoover is all right." A moment later Allan Hoover, son of the president, was applauded.

Discuss Campaign Work.
The speeches by the young republicans themselves were devoted principally to discussions of campaign work and party activities. Many of the group of men and women filling the meeting hall were called on to speak by Lucas.

W. Kingsland Macy, chairman of the New York state committee, assailed "corruption" in the New York city and state government. The two cabinet members condemned the critics of President Hoover and blamed his opposition to politics. Hyde called upon the young republicans to go to the war department and get some polo mallets to use on the "yes-but" members of the party.

Hurley said Mr. Hoover in his other undertakings had the undivided support of the nation. But, he complained, "as the leader of the republican party and as president of the government, his way is beset by political opponents, able strategists, maulers of public opinion, who criticize and obstruct his plans and try to defeat his policies for their own political purposes."

A dinner dance tonight concluded the conference, at which Professor Wm. Starr Meyers of Princeton university called for a "united and courageous republican party."

U. S. Indicts Al Capone as Rum Chief

Set Bail at $50,000; 68 Others Accused With Him; Charge Gang With 5,000 Offenses

Chicago, June 12.—Alphonse Capone and 68 other defendants, many of them members of his liquor-vice-gambling syndicate, were indicted by a federal grand jury Friday for conspiracy to violate the national prohibition law.

The indictments charge members of Capone's gang with 5,000 offenses. His bond was fixed at $50,000.

The gang leader was indicted just a week ago for violating the income tax laws, the government charging he owed $215,080.48 on a six-year income of $1,038,654.84. He is already under six months' sentence for contempt of court.

A continuous conspiracy from 1931—when the law went into effect—until the present is alleged, the purpose being to "manufacture and transport beer for beverage purposes to the Chicago area on a large scale."

The unit of manufacture was alleged to be a 1,500 gallon vat on the premises of transportation an automobile truck load of 30 barrels of beer.

Capone is charged with purchasing trucks from the Betz Motor Co. in Hammond, Ind., which were used to transport beer and then receiving by telegraphic money order payments for the beer.

A meeting is also described in which Capone, Joseph C. Fusco, George Rowlett, Bert Delaney and Jack Heiman (all defendants) are alleged to have "discussed ways and means for the accomplishing of the objects of said unlawful and felonious conspiracy." The government charges the meeting was held June 12, 1930, at the Lexington hotel, a Capone hangout, in Chicago.

Fusco appears from the indictment to have been Capone's second on command in the syndicate. Others prominent in the list of defendants are Michael Potson, who has been interested in several Chicago cafes and roadhouses; Delaney a Capone leader, who was recently arrested when he attempted to re-enter a large brewery that had been seized by prohibition agents, and Nick Juffra, also known as Frank Ross, and Joseph D'Angelo.

Nearly four years ago Capone, his brother, Ralph, and more than 100 others, were indicted in connection with an alleged syndicate operated in Cicero, Stickney and other suburbs. Nearly two years later the indictment was dismissed without any of the defendants being tried.

New Leadership Wanted
Paris—Asserting the debts of the World war must be cleared, "profit and loss," Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia university, told members of the American club at a luncheon that the world needed new men who would take a constructive lead in the present economic and social crisis. All that has been done toward seeking a solution for the present situation, he said, was to try to find somebody to pay the cost of the World war.

"We might just as well try to find somebody to pay the cost of operating the sun," he added. "It can't be done."

Those who heard Dr. Butler's speech included Senator Goff, of West Virginia; former Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska, Robert E. Olds, former undersecretary of state, and Adolph Ochs, publisher of the New York Times.
