Cass County Farm Bureau Notes

Copy furnished from Office of County Agent Waincott

Home Account Keepers Meet.

Seventy-eight women of this county will check up their home account books with Miss Muriel Smith and assistant county agent, Jessie Baldwin, next week, June 22-24 at the following places:

Monday, June 22—Alvo M. E. church, 9:30; Elmwood G. A. R. Hall, 1:00; Eldon Mendenhall home, 3:30.

Tuesday, June 23rd—Murdock school, 9:30; Louisville M. E. church, 1:00; Weeping Water, Farm Bureau, 3:30.

Wednesday, June 24—Myard Community building, 9:30; Union, P. F. Rife home, 1:00; Nehawka Com. building, 3:30.

Since Miss Smith wants to discuss matters with the local women for about two hours in groups of from five to ten, it was necessary to schedule nine meetings while Miss Smith is here. What the ladies have to say to each other and to Miss Smith may be Greek to visitors, but the meetings are not closed and ladies who are interested in home finance records may attend if they wish.

How to enter items, how to bring the totals up to date, how to make the records show helpful facts as a guide to the next six months of spending, are listed as topics for discussion in a letter already sent out to the women who are keeping records. Whatever problems the ladies have will also be brought out in the meetings.

One lady reported to Miss Smith that she had no trouble keeping the records which seemed a little hard to her at first. Another lady said she could see at a glance how much the food and other expenses amount to each month, and that she is now anxious to get the records for a full 12 months.

4-H Camp July 29-Aug. 1

4-H club members from Cass-Otoe-Sarpy and Douglas counties will vacation together at Bellevue Institute July 29-August 1. Camp is open to 4-H club members and local leaders with the Extension Agents from the four counties in charge.

Two dollars and seventy-five cents ($2.75) plus six potatoes and six eggs will cover each camper's expenses for the time they arrive at camp until they leave for home.

Applications plus the camp fee ($2.75) are due at the Farm Bureau office by Saturday, July 25th. Club members may get application blanks from their leaders or from the Farm Bureau office.

May D. H. I. A. Report.

W. G. Hoffman of Alvo leads the list of high producing cows in the Cass-Otoe-Johnson association for May. Mr. Hoffman's herd of 14 registered Holsteins produced an average of 1351 pounds of milk and 47.8 pounds of butterfat for the month.

H. L. Severe of Fairbury was second with 23 registered Holsteins that averaged 1239 pounds of milk and 41.8 pounds of fat. There were 328 cows on test in twenty-four herds. One hundred and four of this number have over 45 pounds of fat and ten produced over 60 pounds of fat.

The highest producing cow was also in Mr. Hoffman's herd. This registered Holstein produced 2201 pounds of milk and 83.6 pounds of fat. This was an equivalent of 190 pounds of butter or 3 1-3 pounds per day. This cow was the seventh high producing cow in D. H. I. A. work in the state for the month of May.

May is usually the highest producing month of the year because the pastures are in their prime. From now on the pastures will be gradually falling and flies will also take their toll. Some protein should be added to the ration to insure an adequate ration when the pastures start failing.

Happy Hustlers Select Judges.

Fourteen of the Happy Hustlers pig club of Murray, met at the John Hobscheidt farm last Friday to do judging work. Classes of hogs, sheep and horses were judged. As a result of two try-outs, the team picked was Elhan Allen, Vernie Pullen, Ralph Timm, and George Hobscheidt. These boys went to Lincoln Tuesday to compete with other Cass county club members.

Spray Fruit Trees This Week.

At this time approximately 85% of the overwintering codling moth larvae have changed into moths. Egg laying has proceeded rapidly. By the end of this week the majority of first brood worms will have hatched. Practically all of the remainder of the overwintering larvae have pupated and should emerge as moths in the next week or ten days. This means that egg laying will continue for two weeks at least. In old orchards where the overwintering larvae may be hidden deep down in the crotches and large wounds, moth emergence will be prolonged even more and may even overlap with the emergence of second brood moths.

Spray recommendations: A second cover spray for the first brood of worms should be applied by the latter part of this week. The apples have grown considerably since the first cover spray. Furthermore the heavy rains of last week have washed off some of the protective spray residue. In old orchards where worms have been numerous in previous years a third cover spray ought to be applied in ten days after the second cover. Use lead arsenate 1 1/4 or 1 1/2 lbs. to 50 gallons of water.

There is little need for a fungicide from now on unless blight or black rot have been had in previous years, in which event Bordeaux 2-4-50 is recommended.

Thoroughness in spraying is very essential, especially in the tops of the trees. Remember that 70% of the worm damage comes in the upper third of the tree. High pressures in spraying fruit are fine but be careful not to hold the nozzles too close to the fruit or there will be injury in the form of russetting.—D. D. Waincott, Cass Co. Extension Agent; Jessie H. Baldwin, Ass't Co. Extension Agent.

MEMBERSHIP NOW 15 PER CENT OVER STATE QUOTA

With the close of the membership contest that has been going on for the past month to bring the local American Legion post membership up to the quota set by the state department, the record shows it as being 15 per cent over the quota of 96 and prospects for further increase.

Twenty-eight members were turned in by the two membership teams, of whom the side captained by June Marshall secured 15, with individual honors going to George Conis, whose dislike for beans caused him to bring in three of the eighteen.

The side captained by Doc Taylor turned in thirteen members, with Aubrey Duxbury, whose service in the navy gave him an aversion for beans that made him almost win the contest single handed to avoid having to eat them, by bringing in ten of the thirteen credited to his side.

The aftermath of the contest comes Thursday night, with the losing side acting as KPs and serving the feed at this last social meeting of the summer season. All members are urged to attend this meeting, and an especial invitation is extended to the new members signed up in this drive, who have never belonged before or at least for several years past. The Legion is an all-representative service men's organization, in the ranks of which creed, race or politics cut no figure.

If you are an ex-service man of this community and not a member of the Legion you are also invited to attend this meeting.

Invitation is being sent to District Commander Fred Witt, of Nebraska City, who was here the night the membership contest was organized, and it may be possible that Department Commander Mike Potot and Department Adjutant Hank Dudley will come down from Lincoln as a special tribute to the feat of Plattsmouth post, which for the first time in several years has equaled its quota in membership.

A special citation, a letter of congratulation and distinguished service stars have been received from the state department.
