Automobile Burns Last Week.

Charles Bloom and wife, living away from here, were visiting at the home of C. W. Erickson, who has been sick for some time, and leaving their car sitting in front of the house in the street, the car caught fire and was burned before anything could be done for it. The car was an absolute wreck but it is thought that there was insurance on it.

Would Sell Entire Crop.

One of the very prosperous farmers living not far from Greenwood has a very fine field of wheat, pretty as a picture, and as the field looked so nice some of the people having knowledge of the same said to him, how nice your field of wheat is. The farmer said, yes, it looks fine but after it has been raised I would be glad to accept five dollars per acre for it as it stands. Well suppose it would yield 20 to 25 bushels per acre. There is the cutting, the threshing, the delivery to the elevator, what would that cost. A careful estimate would put it at as high as the $3.50 per acre which added to the $5 asked for the acre of growing grain makes $8.50 and at a yield of seventeen bushels to the acre would make just an even break. Fields look abundant in results but when the cold figures are applied to them they do not beat out expectations.

HINDENBURG WIRES HOOVER

Washington—President von Hindenburg Friday night sent a personal wish to President Hoover that "the magnanimous action started by you will be a blessing for the whole world."

The reference to the president's plan for a war debt holiday was contained in a message congratulating the United States on the anniversary of Independence day. The message came directly from Von Hindenburg and not through the usual diplomatic channels. The telegram read:

"I should like to convey to you my heartfelt congratulations on the anniversary of the day when the American people obtained their independence. I would add my warmest wishes for your personal well being as well as for the continued welfare and happiness of the American people. I sincerely hope that relations existing between the United States and Germany will steadily grow firmer and that the magnanimous action started by you will be a blessing for the whole world."

U. S. Warns Paris Against Failure of Hoover Plan

Says This Means Moratorium Declaration by Germany—Terms Carefully Veiled

Washington, D. C., July 1.—Raising the specter of a possible default by Germany in payment of reparations, the Treasury today served upon France what amounts to an ultimatum to accept his debt moratorium plan or be left out in the cold. The president informed France that if his project for an all around one-year suspension of reparations and war debt payments should fail, Germany undoubtedly would be compelled to avail herself of a moratorium on reparations, as provided by the Young plan.

Under such circumstances the president calculated, France, obliged to pay Great Britain and the United States on her war debt from an income curtailed by suspension of reparations, would be worse off by more than 100 million dollars than she would be under the Hoover moratorium.

Transmitted by Mellon.

The warning uttered by the French government through Secretary of the Treasury Andrew W. Mellon in a memorandum which was made public at the state department late today.

Behind the phrases employed by the president there lies the intention, according to an administration source of information, to establish a moratorium, "if the American proposal should fail and the suspension provisions of the Young plan be invoked by Germany then France will be the loser during the forthcoming year of general postponement by over 100 million dollars."

Carefully Veiled Terms.

Although clothed in carefully veiled terms the reference in the memorandum to the probable course of Germany, if the Hoover plan fails, unmistakably suggests that Germany is on the brink of financial collapse. When he said that the Hoover plan fails, "Germany will unquestionably give notice of the postponement of all conditional reparations as provided in the Young plan," the president is said to have spoken out of his knowledge gained from the letter he received from President Von Hindenburg of Germany just before he proclaimed his best debt offer.

Under the Young plan Germany may at any time avail herself of a moratorium on the conditional 58 per cent of the reparations. Thereupon France would be required to deposit with the Bank of International Settlements a fund guaranteeing other creditors a share of the 42 per cent unconditional reparations which Germany would still be obliged to pay and five-sixths of which go to France.

William R. Castle, acting secretary of state, said the note does not indicate closing of negotiations. Rather, he expressed hope for a favorable turn soon in the discussions.

Browne Represents Group of Public Utilities

Appears for Nebraska Firms Asking Reduction in Valuation of Franchises by Tax Board

Light and power companies over the state who were unable, because of short notice, to appear before the state board of equalization Tuesday were represented as a group by Thorne Browne, secretary of the Midwest Electric Light association, acting as representative of the Nebraska section of the national association.

The board spent most of Tuesday hearing protests from utilities and car line companies against the present valuations for tax purposes of their respective franchises.

Mr. Browne went rather thoroughly into the matters of valuation of tangible and intangible property to find reasons why the companies should not be taxed on their franchises. He claimed that the franchises of many small companies are near termination and that the value of each varies with the length of time it has to run.

As a franchise approaches its end, it deteriorates in value, and when it terminates not only is it worthless, but the property that is tied up in the town becomes junk," Browne said. "The franchise value depends on the ability of the company to make money. The right to do business doesn't add to the value of physical property but the loss of that right detracts from the worth of the property."

Nebraska Power company, one of two firms in the state whose franchise was valued by the board last year at $1,000,000, was represented by E. J. Swoboda, who declared the burden of a franchise tax shouldn't be placed on the utilities. The utilities, he reminded the board, are regulated by the railway commission and all their property is out in the open. There is no concealment of either tangible or intangible property, he said, while unregulated companies according to various estimates, are able to conceal 50 percent of their assets from the assessors.

W. L. Smiley of the Continental Oil company was present to ask for a reduction of the franchise on its tank car lines as was a representative of the Pullman company, who said their cars are overvalued from $2,000 to $3,000 for taxation.

The board will announce in a short time its decisions on the franchises, which last year numbered 24, with a total valuation of $4,823,500. The number is expected to be somewhat less this year due to absorption by larger companies of some of the smaller ones.

Dr. Herbert Worthman, son of our highly esteemed citizen, Dr. E. H. Worthman, has finished his internship at the M. E. hospital in Omaha and is returning to Louisville to go into business with his father.

This meets with the approval of Louisville people who will be much gratified to have this ambitious and splendidly trained young physician carry on the good work already established by his father who has attended to the sick and afflicted of this community for a period of more than thirty years, giving them careful and conscientious advice and earnest attention. German Unrest Reaches a Stage of Open Rioting Need of Watchfulness at Home While Debt Parleys Proceed—Warning for Communists Berlin—German statesmen and most of the public watched Paris for Hoover plan developments with the tensest attention, while a burst of national socialist and communist activity warned the government that the sharpest watchfulness was also needed at home. The answer of Minister of the Interior Severing of Prussia to the communist challenge, which was sharpened by the killing of a police sergeant Tuesday night in a riot, was to order that police henceforth not wait to be shot, but themselves to shoot down any demonstration taking on the character of "an attack on the state." Severing's order came after secret and political police under the protection of uniformed police had raided communist offices throughout the city. The police found evidence indicating that Tuesday night's riot was one of a series planned in connection with the international communist sparktikiade (athletic meet) which was to culminate July 4 in a gigantic demonstration "against the Brüning government and fascism." The sparktikiade was forthwith outlawed and all its organizing committees ordered disbanded. The national socialists, besides engaging in their customary clashes with communists, have been unusually active in the universities this week. Two German universities had to be closed temporarily and the authorities of several others were forced to appeal to the police to quell clashes between Nazi (national socialist) and communist students. Also there were Nazi demonstrations against Jewish or Pacifist professors. The demonstrations against professors reached a climax with the hurling of a cluster of powderloaded tear bombs into a student audience at Kiel during a speech by Prof. Walter Schuecking, a judge of the world court and a consistent Pacifist who stuck to his anti-military view even during the war.—State Journal. The thing that does most to encourage a taste for finer and better things in a lot of us is credit—dollar down and dollar a week. Splendid, as long as the number of "dollars" isn't too great. A STUDY OF UNEMPLOYMENT New York—Col Arthur Woods, chairman of President Hoover's committee on unemployment relief, returned from Europe stating that he was convinced "the less the government figured as an active agency for relief the better." Colonel Woods spent nearly two months in studying unemployment conditions in England and in Germany. He said that he was not prepared to make public the recommendations for unemployment relief in this country that he will include in his report to President Hoover. He indicated clearly, however, that he was opposed to direct national aid as a relief measure and hoped that industry as a whole could be relied upon for measures to meet the situation. He added that relief must be provided. In Germany, he said, labor and industry are attempting to co-operate in unemployment insurance, but the condition of the country is such, he said, that "a crisis is imminent." Englishmen decry the dole system in use in England, he said. Colonel Wood characterized the industrial and financial situation in Germany as "critical." Need help? Want a job? You can get results in either event by placing your ad in the Journal.

When PAIN Comes WHAT many people call indigestion very often means excess acid in the stomach. The stomach nerves have been over-stimulated, and food sour. The corrective is an alkali, which quickly neutralizes acids. And the best alkali known to medical science is Phillips Milk of Magnesia. One spoonful of this harmless, tasteless alkali neutralizes instantly many times as much harmful acid, and then the symptoms disappear at once. You will never use crude methods when once you learn the efficiency of this. Go get a small bottle to try. Get the genuine Phillips Milk of Magnesia, the kind physicians have prescribed for 50 years in correcting excess acids. 25c and 50c a bottle—any drugstore.
