ELMWOOD MERCHANT DIES. I. J. Fuller, 70, prominent Elmwood merchant, where for the past fifteen years he has owned and operated one of the largest business houses in that place, died Tuesday morning of heart failure. The death came very suddenly and proved a great shock to the community in which he had been such a prominent figure. He had been engaged in the mercantile business for the past fifty years.

He is survived by the widow, a son, Dr. Max Fuller of Denver, and three step children, Raymond Keaton, Frank Keaton and Mrs. Vera Lutz, all of Omaha.

DEATH OF PATTIE METZGER. The death of a well known resident Miss Pattie Metzger, occurred at 8 o'clock Sunday evening at the Methodist hospital at Omaha where for several months she has been in very critical condition and with little hope of recovery, gradually falling until death came to bring blessed relief from her suffering. Miss Metzger was a member of one of the best known families in Cass county and was born and reared to womanhood on the farm near Cedar Creek and where she made her home until the death of her mother, Mrs. Mary Metzger some two years ago, later moving to Omaha where she was residing when stricken with the last illness.

The body has been brought here to the Sattler funeral home at Fourth and Vine streets and where friends may call from 9 to 12 o'clock Tuesday morning to take a last farewell. The funeral of Miss Metzger will be held on Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the First Presbyterian church of which she was a lifelong member. The interment will be at the Glendale cemetery south of Cedar Creek beside the parents.
