William Bowen Brought Here to be Arraigned

Brought Here from State Penitentiary Hospital for Plea—Will Undergo Operation.

William Bowen, charged with forgery, was brought to this city from Lincoln Sunday by Sheriff Bert Reed and placed in the county jail to await his arraignment.

The prisoner will be returned to the state penitentiary hospital at once as he is to undergo a second operation in a short time. Owing to the conduct of the prisoner while at the University hospital several weeks ago, the hospital has refused to receive the prisoner again and the operation will be performed at the state prison hospital.

Bowen started his crime career in this locality on July 4th, when he cashed a forged check here at the F. G. Fricke & Co., drug store, tendering the check in payment of a bill for paint that he had secured and used in his activities as a painter here a few weeks before he started on his career as a check artist. After leaving here he issued a large number of fraudulent traveler checks, his operation covering several towns in Iowa, Missouri, Oklahoma, Colorado, Utah and California. He was captured at Ellensburg, Washington, following an auto accident in which he was seriously injured and the effects of which injury still affects him.

Bowen was brought back to Nebraska by Special Deputy Pat Reed and has since that time been in the University hospital and the state prison hospital awaiting his hearing.

Funeral Services of S. O. Cole Held on Saturday

Pioneer Resident Has Resided on Farm Near Mynard for a Period of Seventy-Four Years

S. Olin Cole was born at Fort Madison, Lee County, Iowa, on October 23, 1853, and came to Plattsmouth, Nebraska, with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Shadrach Cole when but a child of four years. This pioneer family acquired a tract of land a few miles south of Plattsmouth where they established their home and reared a family of eight children. It was in this community that S. O. Cole when a young man, still in his teens, took an active interest in religion, his father being a U. B. minister for some time at the pioneer country church south of Plattsmouth.

On March 27, 1881 he was united in marriage with Miss Caroline Cook and settled on the farm where they have continued to live for fifty years, and where Mr. Cole passed away on Sept. 17, 1931.

The deceased was one of the prominent citizens of his community and was a quiet, reserve nature, and was always known as a man of his word. His interest in religion continued throughout his life, and although not active in church affairs later in life, he derived much comfort and happiness from his daily study of the Bible, in his home.

Besides the widow, six children survive: Earle V. and Carl R. of Brule, Nebr.; Olive M. Wiles of Plattsmouth, Nebr.; Roy O. and Sherman W. of Mynard, Nebr., and Opal B. Wiles also of Mynard.

Of the large family of brothers and sisters there remain: Mrs. W. H. Venner of Plattsmouth, Nebr.; Mrs. Silas Long, Vero Beach, Florida, and Stephen B. Cole of Lexington, Nebr.

There are also eleven grandchildren, two great-grandchildren, besides several nieces and nephews.

The funeral services were at the home on Saturday afternoon, Sept. 19th and were conducted by J. Simlon Davis, First Reader of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, of Omaha, Nebr.

The Masonic quartet sang "It Is Well With My Soul" and "Abide With Me." Mr. Raymond Cook sang "No Night There," all of which were favorite hymns of the deceased. The accompaniments were played by Mr. E. H. Westcott.

Interment was made at the Morning cemetery, and the pallbearers were the four sons and the two sons-in-law: Earle V., Carl R., Roy O. and Sherman W. Cole and C. L. Wiles and Glenn Wiles.

I cannot say and I will not say That he is dead—he is just away. With a cheery smile and a wave of the hand He has wandered into an unknown land.

And left us dreaming how very fair It needs must be since he lingers there.

And you—O you, who the wildest year— For the old-time step and the glad return. Think of him faring on, as dear In the love of There as the love of Here.

Mild and gentle as he was brave— When the sweetest love of his life he gave To simple things: where the violets grew Blue as the eyes they were likened to.

The touches of his hands have strayed As reverently as his lips have prayed; When the little brown thrush that harshly chirred Was as dear to him as the mocking bird;

And he pities as much as a man in pain A writhing honey-bee wet with rain. Think of him still as the same, I say? He is not dead—he is just away!

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to take this means of expressing our heartfelt appreciation of the sympathy extended to us in our bereavement, for the beautiful floral offerings and also to the Masonic quartet and E. H. Westcott for the music at the funeral services. —Mrs. S. O. Cole and Children.

Questioning Fails to Reveal Murder Clues

Several Rock Bluffs Residents Questioned at Office of State Sheriff Endres.

On Sunday five of the residents of Rock Bluffs, who had been witnesses here at the inquest into the death of Fred Patterson, slain county surveyor, were at Lincoln where they discussed the case with State Sheriff Michael Endres in the hope that some new facts that might shed light on the murder could be ascertained, but without any result.

The witnesses who were questioned were Robert and Chase Patterson, the son of the deceased, Joseph Shera, the son-in-law of Mr. Patterson, Mark Furlong, who had been at the store on the night of the slaying and Walter Furlong, a son of Mark Furlong, who had driven past the store at near the time the murder was supposed to have occurred. Sheriff Bert Reed, Deputy Sheriff Rex Young and Pat Reed also told of their investigations into the case so far.

The questioning was the result of the wish of the state sheriff to become personally familiar with the progress of the case so far and to ascertain all of the known facts that have been revealed.

The statements of the parties were the same as given here at the inquest, Mr. Furlong testifying to his conversations at the store and of his departure near 10 o'clock for his home just after Mr. and Mrs. Patterson had started on homeward, they also having been visitors at the store. The testimony of others was to the effect of passing the store later and seeing no light and such other details as to the case that they might know as to the threats that Mr. Patterson might have received and his apparent fear of robbery or killing.

The matter of an increase in the reward for the slayer of Fred Patterson was taken up by the members of the family who were here Saturday to look into the probate of the estate and it was announced that the family will add $500 to the $350 made by the county and it is hoped to have the state add sufficient to make a reward of $1,000 for the apprehension and conviction of the person or persons who killed the aged county surveyor in cold blood at his little wayside store in Rock Bluffs on Saturday night, Sept. 12th.

WEDDED AT FREMONT

Only the parents of the contracting parties were aware of the plans of the young people and the announcement of the wedding came as a great surprise to the host of friends here.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Engelke of this city and was born and reared to womanhood in this county where she has a very large circle of friends. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Howe of Iowa Falls, Iowa, where he was born and received his education in the schools of that city. Mr. Howe is connected with the Peevly Dairy Co., and the newlyweds are planning on locating in St. Louis, where Mr. Howe may be assigned as the representative of the company.
