Santa Claus to Visit This City December 16th

Will Bring Large Party of Assistants as Well as Dog Teams and Reindeer

On account of the long distance we understand that Santa Claus is making a very limited number of Christmas trips into this part of the country. His recent visit to Omaha was on account of his friendship with Mayor Metcalfe who has known Santa for a long while and in this respect we are also very fortunate to have our own Mayor Sattler know Santa quite well in the old country as "Kris Kringle" and he is coming to Plattsmouth to see him as well as all the boys and girls of this vicinity. The date set for his coming to us is Wednesday, Dec. 16th, and Mayor Sattler wants every boy and girl in this neck of the woods to help him give old Santa a royal welcome. The deer are so tired out by their recent trip to Omaha that he feels obliged to leave all but one of them at home to rest up and be ready for their long jaunt on Christmas eve but he tells us he will bring with him this time two teams of swift running dogs so that he can make the trip much faster. One team will be of the black Siberian dog—bred to hardship amid snow and ice and the other team will be Alaskan dogs such as the Eskimos use. They will bring Santa down here in record time and it will be the thrill of your life to see them dash down Main street pulling Santa's sleigh behind them. In the other sled he is bringing along one of his pet deer so the boys and girls can see a real deer and pet him if they want to.

The present arrangements are that Santa will arrive here sometime in the morning of Wednesday, Dec. 16 and he will stay till about 3 in the afternoon so everybody will have a good chance to see him and talk with him. He will also put on some exhibitions with his dogs to entertain the boys and girls. Watch the papers for further announcement and plan by all means to be on hand Dec. 16th.

HAVE PLEASANT MEETING

TAKEN TO HOSPITAL

From Thursday's Daily
This morning Sheriff Bert Reed was taken to Lincoln where he entered the Green Gables hospital where he will undergo treatment and rest until he is able to be up and around. The sheriff has been doing very well in the past few days, but it is necessary that he have quiet and rest in every way and which is hard to secure here as the traffic and other noises in and near the vicinity of the residence at the county jail, has made it impossible to secure the quiet and rest needed. It is hoped that a short time at the hospital will permit the sheriff to return home relieved of his present illness and back in the old time vigor.

Pay Tribute to Retired Burlington Employee

Testimonials by Intimate Associates of Supt. Baird are Given at C. of C. Luncheon.

From Friday's Daily
Twenty-six members of the Chamber of Commerce board of directors were present at yesterday's luncheon. Upon completion of roll call, committee reports were called for, and several committee chairmen responded, including William Baird, of the New Industries committee who told of progress being made on the latest matter occupying the attention of this committee.

Under Good Roads call, W. F. Nolte, well known farmer and poultry raiser who is a member of the C. of C. directorate, offered a suggestion of further improvement of the roads in northern Cass county, urging that concerted action be taken to get the Plattsmouth-Louisville-Greenwood road paved. At the conclusion of his talk, President Schneider outlined the road situation in Cass county, stating that the first east and west paving out of Lincoln is slated to go either on O street or the Syracuse-Dunbar-Nebraska City route, and in his opinion, after that, unless Nebraska adopts a bond paving program, it will be a good number of years before additional east and west paved routes will be available in this vicinity. Following the explanation of Mr. Schneider, County Commissioner George Farley stated that no government aid would be extended for non-federal roads and no state aid given on non-state roads, also that while the Plattsmouth-Louisville portion of this route had recently been added to the state system, the law provides improvements should be made in the order in which roads were taken into the state system. He also said not a rod of the Louisville-Greenwood, or church road, is even now in the state system, which would mean ten years before adequate relief would be available for this road, even if the next legislature were prevailed upon to add it to the state system.

On the other hand, O street road is entitled to both state and federal appropriations, should it be decided to pave this route, and thus Cass county would benefit by the securing of some thirty miles of paving it has no possible chance of getting in any other way or over any other route for a good number of years to come.

In a suggestion of Mr. Nolte for better farm-to-market roads in this vicinity was, on motion of S. S. Davis, referred to the Good Roads committee and it is hoped tangible results will follow along this line.

Chairman Duxbury of Civic Improvement committee told of a plan for consideration of obtaining sufficient street brooms to give work to floaters in exchange for something to eat and a place of shelter on the cold wintry nights ahead. He promised to have definite recommendations for a solution of this problem by the date of next meeting.

Honor "Billy" Baird
At the conclusion of committee reports, President Schneider turned the conduct of the meeting over to Vice President Davis, who stated a little personal testimonial meeting had been arranged as a tribute to William Baird, who, after twenty-three years in our midst, has decided to "locate" in Plattsmouth. Searl called on Attorney William Robertson, who has been more or less closely associated with Mr. Baird in railroad work during the years since 1908 when Mr. Baird came to Plattsmouth as shop superintendent, instructed, Robertson declared, to make a decision as to whether the Burlington should continue to operate its shops here or withdraw entirely from Plattsmouth. Not only did the Burlington remain, but Baird cleaned up the shops, put them in order and increased production with the result that Plattsmouth benefited by two decades of Burlington payrolls that might otherwise have been lost to the community. Now, with economic conditions demanding the curtailment of railroad activities, Mr. Baird had preferred to retire and live here in Plattsmouth, rather than be transferred to another point and continue work for the railroad. Mr. Robertson recalled numerous instances when Superintendent Baird had stood between employees and the company and saved them the loss of their jobs and property interests here.

Following the talk by Mr. Robertson, Roy E. Bailey, president of the Plattsmouth Rotary club, of which Mr. Baird is a charter member, was called upon to extend Rotary's felicitations to Mr. Baird, and responded in brief but to-the-point manner, recounting the past five years he had known Mr. Baird and the many public spirited services he had performed, both for Rotary and for the community at large.

Mr. Baird, himself, was called upon and spoke a few words of appreciation for the fine compliment paid him, stating it was his desire to live in Plattsmouth the rest of his life, to die here and be buried in Oak Hill cemetery.

The meeting adjourned a few moments after the customary hour—1:30 p. m.

The county court was occupied Thursday for the greater part of the day in hearing the case of Guy Heil vs. A. A. Jackman, an action for damages arising from an auto accident that occurred some seven miles west of this city on the Louisville road in October.

The petition of Mr. Heil claimed that the car of Mr. Jackman was on the wrong side of the road and that the Jackman car had run into the car of the plaintiff. The contention of Mr. Jackman was that the Heil car had very bright lights that had blinded Mr. Jackman, the defendant, who had stopped his car and was parked on the right hand side of the road when the Heil car crashed into the one that he was driving.
