ACID STOMACH

EXCESS acid is the common cause of indigestion. It results in pain and sourness about two hours after eating. The quick corrective is an alkali which neutralizes acid. The best corrective is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. It has remained standard with physicians in the 50 years since its invention. One spoonful of Phillips' Milk of Magnesia neutralizes instantly many times its volume in acid. Harmless, and tasteless, and yet its action is quick. You will never rely on crude methods, once you learn how quickly this method acts. Be sure to get the genuine. The ideal dentifrice for clean teeth and healthy gums is Phillips' Dental Magnesia, a superior toothpaste that safeguards against acid-mouth.

Most of Corn Crop in the Bins; Wheat is Good

Bankers Report Rise in Price of Several Important Products—Supply of Hogs Steady.

More than 70 percent of Nebraska's corn crop had been husked by Nov. 20 and the wheat crop is entering the winter with a condition 82 percent of normal, according to Nebraska bankers in their midmonth report to the state and federal division of agricultural statistics. Several important farm commodities show a rise in prices.

Rain during the past week has delayed cornhusking but the work is farther advanced than at this time last year. The percent of the crop cribbed ranges from 61 percent in the western part of the state to 78 percent in the eastern sections. About 57 percent has been husked in south central Nebraska. Bankers report about 22 percent of the corn to be of poor quality which is compared to 14 percent reported by them last year. The price paid for cornhusking is only one-half the price paid a year ago, according to bankers. The average price paid this year is 3 cents per bushel as compared to 6 cents in 1930 and nearly 8 cents two years ago.

Recent rainfall has greatly benefited the condition of winter wheat in the eastern sections. Bankers report the condition of winter wheat 97 percent in the eastern districts, 67 percent in the central and 63 percent in the western part of the state. The average condition of the crop is 82 percent as compared to 95 percent on this date a year ago. The lower condition is attributed to drought in western Nebraska, which has not been relieved for many months. A number of unofficial reports on the condition of winter wheat by Hessian fly has been received by the division most of which come from two areas, one extending from Seward to Thayer county and the other extending from Buffalo to Phelps county.

The average price paid by farmers for feeder cattle is $5.15 per hundred, according to bankers. A month ago bankers reported this price at $5.65. Prices received by farmers for fat cattle show some increase over a month ago, being $7.67 at the present time as compared to $7.43 last month. Farmers are now paying $4.56 for feeder sheep.

The supply of hogs in the state is the same as a year ago. Eastern sections of the state have larger numbers than at this time last year. The panhandle district shows about the same number as last year, while all other sections of the state show smaller numbers.

Farm prices show considerable improvement in most commodities. Grain crops in particular show a rather marked improvement during the past thirty days. The farm price of hogs showed some decrease but this was partly offset by the small gain made in cattle prices. Butterfat slumped from 31 cents to 26 cents per pound, but this also was partly offset by an increase shown in the price received for eggs.

Prices received by farmers now and a month ago are as follows: Corn, 39 and 31 cents, an increase of 8 cents; wheat, 44 and 33 cents, an increase of 11 cents; oats, 24 and 21 cents, an increase of 3 cents; alfalfa, $7.65 and $7.73; corn fed cattle, $7.67 and $7.43; hogs, $5.15 and $4.39; butterfat, 26 and 31 cents per pound; eggs 22 and 17 cents per dozen, an increase of 5 cents per dozen.

Robert Ames Found Dead in a Hotel Room

Actor's Death Caused by Hemorrhage Doctor Says—Autopsy Ordered—42 Years of Age.

New York, Nov. 27.—Robert Ames, blond actor of the stage and screen, whom Broadway knew as an able leading man, was found dead in a Park avenue hotel today of a hemorrhage of the bladder which a physician traced to a kidney disorder.

The 42-year-old actor apparently had been dead several hours when his body was found in bed about 5 p. m. Dr. Eugene Marzec expressed the opinion that Ames had been ill for some time and suffered great pain. An autopsy was ordered.

An inquiry by police developed several hours after the finding of the body. They said that Ames' body was nude except for a silk dressing gown over his shoulders, was lying dead in the doorway between the bedroom and living room when a chambermaid entered the suite. Six whisky bottles, some of them full were in the suite, police reported, and about one hundred sleeping powders were in a box in the bedroom.

Investigation Under Way.

Two detectives who visited the suite reported an investigation is being made pending the outcome of an autopsy. The sleeping powders also were ordered analyzed.

Last night Ames' saw his father and Allen Fagin, brother of Ina Claire, the actress, in his suite. Fagin called at the hotel tonight and immediately telegraphed Miss Claire word of Ames' death.

Friends said Miss Claire was to have left Hollywood yesterday for New York, but found she was unable to do so. Ames telephoned her from the hotel tonight and yesterday. He and Miss Claire were understood to be considering appearing in a play of only two characters called "Interview."

Telegram Found.

A telegram sent from Hollywood, found in the actor's room, read: "Darling, I am necessarily delayed."

(Signed) "Ina." A native of Hartford, Conn., Ames' first outstanding Broadway success was achieved in 1921 when he played in "Nice People." Later he was cast opposite Francine Larrimore in "Rebound," Owen Davis' Pulitzer prize play. His last important New York engagement was with Alice Brady in "Seed of the Brute."

The screen claimed him in 1925. "Three Faces East," "The Trespasser" and "Rebound" were some of his film vehicles.

Divorce dissolved each of Ames' four marriages. Two children, a son, now 22, and a daughter, 19, were born of his marriage to Alice Gerry of Fall River, Mass., in 1908. Two years after their divorce he was married in 1917 to Frances Goodrich. This marriage was dissolved by divorce in 1920 and Ames was wed to Vivienne Segal, musical comedy prima donna.

About a year after divorce separated the actor and Miss Segal, he and Miss Muriel Oakes, Greenwich, Conn., society girl, were married in Waukegan, Ill., in 1927. She obtained a divorce in 1930.

SKILL WITH GUNS!

Frequently bandits are brought to grief by armed civilians, notably the organized Vigilantes in many mid-western states.

Citizens of Menomonie, Wisconsin, recently furnished a striking example of what can be accomplished by armed preparedness. The incident inspired the following comment in the Minneapolis, Minnesota, Journal: "Skill with guns on the part of the citizenry made dead bandits out of two of the four members of the gang that staged the Menomonie, Wisconsin, bank robbery."

"Skill with guns on the part of the citizenry wrecked the formidable Jesse James gang at Northfield, Minnesota, more than half a century ago. "Skill with guns on the part of the citizenry wiped out the equally notorious Dalton gang forty years ago."

And yet there are plenty of reformers, and they are forever pestering legislatures, who think that honest citizens should be permitted neither to possess guns, nor to know how to use them."

Football is a very discussable game, owing to the fact that a play never looks the same to all the spectators, especially to that portion of the active alumni who view it through the bottom of a pint bottle.

Sketch of Life of Jos. Gilmour, Pioneer Resident

Loup Valley Queen Tells of Death of Former Cass County Man at Callaway, Nebraska

Joseph Gilmour, eldest son of James R. and Emma Gilmour, was born in Highland county, Ohio, April 18, 1851, and passed to his reward November 11, 1931, aged 73 years, 6 months and 23 days, after an illness of eleven weeks. He was the fourth child in a family of nine children. He spent his early childhood at the place of his birth, moving to Indiana for a year and then back to Ohio. In January, 1869, he came with his parents to Cass county, Nebraska, where he resided until 1899, with the exception of a year and a half spent in Nevada, where he was employed.

On February 14, 1883, he was united in marriage to Miss Alma Russell of Weeping Water. Nine children were born to this union—Henrietta, Russell, Reuben and Myrtle, in Cass county, and Mary, Willis, Wilmer, Elma and Rachel after they moved to Custer county. The three older children were laid to rest in the Eight Mile Grove cemetery in Cass county.

In 1890, Mr. and Mrs. Gilmour and infant daughter came to Custer county, locating on Redfern Table. They spent their first year on the James Whitehead farm and homesteaded the following year and bought a relinquishment to an adjoining claim. They lived on the homestead until 1900, when they moved to a new home on a tree claim, where he resided until the time of his death.

Mr. Gilmour was converted and united with the Methodist church at Weeping Water in 1882, under the pastorate of Rev. G. H. Wehn. After coming to Redfern he became interested in the Sunday school and church work of the Evangelical church there, and identified himself with many more movements for its progress.

He held various positions of trust in his school district and township, being director of school district 113 for 30 years. He was heartily in sympathy with the progress of the country, and gave a helping hand to everything that was to its interests. He was a devoted husband, a loving generous father and grandfather and a helpful neighbor.

Besides his wife, he is survived by three children, Mrs. Myrtle Massie, Mary and Willie, all of Callaway; two sisters, Mrs. Rachel Hollenbeck and Mrs. Mary Cox; two brothers, John B. of Kearney, and Wilson of Weeping Water, ten grandchildren, and many other relatives and friends. His youngest daughter, Mrs. Rachel Book, preceded him in death eleven years ago. Her daughter, Mildred, has made her home with the maternal grandparents since that time.

Uncle Joe, as he was lovingly called, knew the hardships of the early days. He, with his wife, belonged to that noble band of pioneers who braved the privations and discomforts peculiar to the early settlement of this prairie country.

Funeral services, largely attended by the many relatives, friends and neighbors of the deceased, were held Saturday, November 14th, at 2 p. m., at the Methodist church in Callaway, conducted by Rev. W. H. Garries, of Mascot, former pastor of the Redfern Evangelical church, assisted by Rev.

PERU TEAM HERE

From Thursday's Daily

The football team of the Peru State Teacher's college, were in the city for a short time this morning, the team stopping here for dinner at 11:15 while en route to Omaha. Coach Gilkerson had twenty-eight in his squad and will use a great many of the squad against the Omaha university team this afternoon.

Among the players in this squad were Bernard Galloway and Ralph Mason of this city. The team had dinner at the J. B. Parham cafe and then continued on to the metropolis where they are to meet the maroons.

While Wayne has carried off the honors in the state college circuit, the Peru team has made a good record this year and recently smothered the team of the Chadron state college by a large score.
