Murray

County Attorney W. G. Kieck was the principal speaker at the recent meeting of the Murray Study Club. Alfred Gansmer shelled and delivered corn to the Murray elevator on last Monday, finding the roads very fair for the delivery.

Leo Switzer, Jr., of Nehawka, was a visitor in Murray for a short time on last Monday and was looking after some business matters while here. Business called Earl Lancaster and Will S. Smith to Union on last Monday where they went to spend a short time with some of the merchants of that place. Mrs. Fred Beverage who is at the hospital in Omaha is reported as making very satisfactory progress following the operation which she underwent last week.

Bible School Lesson Study!

Sunday, January 31st

By L. Neitzel

Jesus Feeds the Multitude

John 1:1-13; 48-51. The importance of this lesson is shown by the fact that it is the only one recorded by all four evangelists. After attending the feast at Jerusale... (John 5:1), at which time He healed the impotent man who had been sick 38 years, reproving the Jews for their unbelief. He goes up to Galilee. Jesus went to the northeast of the sea of Galilee, also called the Sea of Tiberias, so named after a city built by Herod Antipas, which was named after the Roman emperor, Tiberius—in the old testament called the Sea of Cinnereth; in new Testament times called the lake of Gennesaret, after a plane to the west of the lake. After two weeks preaching and healing Jesus feels the need of rest, and seeks the same in the mountain range east of the lake. But the multitudes follow Him. They had seen the miracles performed on the sick and suffering. But there is no rest for the great Physician so long as there are sin-sick souls that need Him. It is late afternoon, in a desert or uninhabited place. Seeing the multitude, He is moved with compassion. He healed their sick until evening; now the disciples come and urge Him to send the people away. Not so Jesus! "Give ye them to eat." Math. 14:16. That is the Jesus way. He will not turn a hungry soul away. Here come the masses to our churches expecting to be fed with the living bread, and they receive—a stone. How that must grieve the Lord, that the shepherds do not feed the flock. All kinds of "stories" are dished up to fill out the time and the sheep go away hungry, dissatisfied! The near passover feast accounts for the large audiences. These Galileans are traveling in caravans, for safety and comradeship. Philip—he needs a lesson in faith: "Where can we find food for them?" Philip is practical, but materialistic. He finds out from Judas that there are only two hundred pennies in the treasury (about $24.00); but there are 5,000 men and three times as many women and children. That much money would not buy enough. The disciples are much worried. What woman would not be, if a large number of guests should appear about evening time, all tired and hungry? But Jesus is going to be host to this great company. He who feeds 1,600 million three times a day is not worried. Here comes Andrew, who found a lad with a full lunch box; a prudent mother had filled it, who knew boys are always hungry. He brings the boy to Jesus. (This moment will never be forgotten by this boy.) Willingly he gives up all; a complete surrender is what God expects. The five flat little barley loaves (poor man's food) and two little dried fish are to furnish a banquet for some 20,000 hungry mouths. That is no problem for the Master. Order is necessary; they come to order, the men on one side, in groups by fifties and hundreds—women and children on the other side; mothers and children together. The meal is prepared; it will not be served until the host returns thanks to the Giver. The Talmud says: "He that enjoys ought without thanksgiving, is as though he robbed God." The multitude is fed and satisfied, and there are fragments left. "Gather them up," Jesus says; nothing must be wasted! Men do waste. F. W. Farrar says: "For the sin of all waste—wasted money, wasted hours, wasted affection, wasted health, wasted opportunities—we must give an account." And this passage tells us something still that can be done, even for a wasted life. "The fragments of a life may be gathered up again." Although the men said: "This is of a truth that prophet that should come into the world" (V. 14) the lesson that Jesus tried to teach them by this miracle was lost on them. The lesson for us is "that Jesus is the Bread of Life." He is the Manna come down from heaven. The Jews ate manna for forty years on their trip from Egypt to Canaan—and died; who partakes of this Bread of Life—Jesus living by faith in us—shall never die. He gives the "abundant life" to them that have passed from death unto life. The "Bread" will satisfy and sustain us until we come to the verge of Jordan and cross over into that promised land, where we will eat of the "Tree of Life" that grows in the paradise of our God. "Bread of heaven, feed me 'till I want no more."

Going on Cash Basis

Dear Friends: For a good many years we have extended credit to our customers and have always been glad to do so to those we believed worthy of this convenience. We are now practically the only stores in this vicinity that have continued to this time to extend credit privileges and we have hesitated to make this change in the conduct of our business, but we are now faced with the fact that we must adopt a new method of conducting our business if we are to continue to stay in business and to serve our customers the same quality of merchandise with unexcelled service at a fair and reasonable price. We are convinced that by eliminating the waste and expense connected with carrying charge accounts on our books we can continue to give our valued customers the same high grade merchandise at the lowest prices. We are therefore announcing that on and after February 1st, 1932, we will adopt an absolutely cash basis in our stores. We sincerely trust that the pleasant relations which we have enjoyed with our customers will continue in the future and that we may have the opportunity to prove to you that the new method of conducting our business will be a real benefit to you and will result in your saving many dollars during the coming year. We invite you to come in and compare our new low prices. Sincerely thanking you for your business in the past and trusting that we may continue to merit your valued patronage in the future. We are,

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Cisney, who have been farming this community for a number of years, departed a short time since for Coldrege where they will expect to farm the coming year. John Livingston and the family were guests of relatives in Plattsmouth for the day on last Sunday, where the kiddies sure enjoyed the coasting on the hills of the county seat.

Roy Howard was a visitor in Omaha on last Monday morning, taking with him a number of hogs which he disposed of on the market, the porkers being hauled by the Frank Mrasek Transfer company.

John T. Porter, of near Mynard, was looking after some business matters in Murray for a short time last Monday morning. The roads being so very bad to get over, he made the trip via horseback.

Walter J. Wunderlich of the Nehawka bank was a visitor in Murray for a short time on last Monday looking after some business matters and also visiting at the Murray State bank with a friend, W. G. Boedeker.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Shrader of South Omaha, were visiting for the day on last Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Nickles, as well as with his grandmother, Mrs. Henry C. Long. All enjoyed the visit very much.

Don Seivers of Plattsmouth, representing the Standard Oil Co., was a visitor in Murray on last Monday, being down with a load of gas for the Murray garage which consumes a large amount of the product of this company.

Lavina Troop, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Troop who was quite ill was reported as being better for a time, but last week was again compelled to remain at home during the week, and is still not able to return to school.

Henry Heeber, who has been troubled with rheumatism for many months and in fact which have lengthened into years, still is being given much trouble by the disease, notwithstanding he has tried many remedies to no very pronounced effect.

Miss Mildred Allen was a visitor in Omaha last Sunday, going over to see her brother, Willard Allen, but was not allowed to visit the brother, as it was claimed that she was younger than was allowed to visit the hospital. The following day, Monday, however, Van Allen an older brother, went over and visited the patient.

On last Sunday at their home south of Union, there was born to Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Murray a very fine young girl, which has come to brighten the home and also to bring joy and gladness to the home of the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. David Murray of south of Union. All are doing nicely and are happy. Dr. J. F. Frenkel was present at the time of the arrival.

A. A. Young and wife were called to Plattsmouth on last Sunday, on account of the extreme illness of the mother of Albert, Mrs. D. A. Young. They were very solicitous for the mother's welfare and whatever was done was by loving and careful hands, but the death angel came with the falling of the evening and the spirit of this good woman was borne to the other world where there is no sickness, sorrow, pain or death.

Harry M. Knabe from near Nehawka who is to have a bred sow sale on February 1st, and who has made a wonderful success in the breeding of this celebrated strain of hogs, offering some forty-five very fine specimens of the Hampshire at this sale, was a visitor in Murray for a short time while on his way to Plattsmouth. Mr. Knabe sure has some very fine offering which will enable any one desiring an opportunity to get a start in this line of mortgage lifters and revenue payers. Keep the date of this sale in mind and see the ads in this paper, for if you are wanting one hogs this is the real opportunity.

Considering Change in Business. The merchants of Murray have been revolving in their minds for some time the proposition of turning to a cash business entirely, and making no charges. It is true that when a credit business is followed that there are sure to be some losses, being discriminating as one can well be some bad accounts are sure to creep in. This causes a loss and if the business is to continue it makes the percentage of advance of the retail price over the purchase price greater, and which the people who do pay, have to stand, otherwise the business will go down. The customer also is interested in the proposition. The ones who pay can get goods at a lower price where the cash system is in vogue. And again there are clients who pay and also need credit, and for this credit they are willing to pay a whatever over charge would be charged if all was cash. The matter has been considered and was to be decided this week for the change was to be made February 1st.

Many Horses Dying. There is reports of many horses dying in the vicinity of Murray, Howland, and other places. Some of these that died and as it is not known what the cause is, there is much concern regarding the matter.

Making Good Improvement. Willard Allen, who was injured when kicked by a cow and also trampled on, breaking the large bone in his upper leg, was taken to the hospital at Omaha where he has been treated and the injured leg has progressed so nicely that the first of this week after the bone had knitted, a cast was placed on the leg and it was assured by the doctors at the hospital that the young man soon could return home.

Undergoes Operation. Miss Lois Meade, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Meade was troubled for some time past with repeated attacks of appendicitis, and was taken to Omaha on last Thursday where she underwent an operation and since is reported as doing very nicely and a rapid recovery is expected.

Visited Friends Here. Mrs. Jennie Jeffreys of Shenandoah, Iowa, was a visitor for a number of days with her nieces here, Mesdames Wm. Sworer and A. C. Long. On last Sunday, Mrs. Long entertained in honor of the aunt who had her son, Eddie with her, coming to take the mother home. Mr. Eddie Jeffreys is employed in southwestern Iowa having his headquarters at Council Bluffs and working a good portion of the time at Shenandoah.

Entertained at Kensington. Mrs. Everett Spangler entertained at a Kensington which was given at her home on last Saturday in honor of Miss Leora Farris who is soon to be the bride of Mr. George Reicke. The afternoon was spent making and hemming dish clothes, which Leora and George are to use in drying their dishes.

Ladies Aid Christian Church. The Ladies Aid society of the Christian church will meet Wednesday afternoon, February 3rd. The program will be under the leadership of Miss Helen Reed, who will provide worthwhile entertainment for all who shall come, and an invitation is given for all to be present and enjoy the occasion. The hostesses for the occasion will be Mesdames J. P. Brendel, P. L. Hild and W. L. Seybolt. Do not miss this meeting.

Is Given Surprise. Saturday, Jan. 23, being Stephen Wiles' 10th birthday. Mrs. Wiles gave him a little surprise in the nature of a coasting party. The youngsters came after dinner with plenty of sleds and each and every one had a jolly time. Mrs. Wiles served a lunch with the usual birthday cake. There were seventeen youngsters with fourteen sleds present.

Murray Study Club. The Club met Jan. 21, at the home of Miss Bertha Nickles. The lesson was in charge of Mrs. W. O. Troop. Mrs. Troop had asked Mr. Kieck, our County Attorney, to give us a talk on the work of the County Attorney's office. The talk was most interesting. A business session was had also. Our hostess, assisted by Mesdames H. G. Todd, Vantine and Sporer then served delicious refreshments. Our next meeting is to be at the home of Mrs. Delbert Todd, Feb. 18.

Presbyterian Church Notes. Sabbath school at 10 a. m. Morning worship at 11 a. m. Evening service at 7:30 p. m. (Young people's meeting). Wednesday evening prayer meeting at 7:30. You are cordially invited to worship with us. J. C. STEWART, Pastor.

QUIZ SEVEN IN KIDNAPING. Omaha—Five men and two women were held by police Monday night for investigation in connection with the kidnaping of R. C. Gouldsmith, superintendent of a chain store system here, and the taking from him of $7,214.81 in cash and checks. Names of those held were not revealed by police. Captain of Detectives Frits Franks said, however, that the seven persons held were not suspected so much of participating in the robbery as they were of possibly knowledge of the identity of the robbers.

A Council Fire will be held at the Library February 1st, by the Toheha Campfire Group to celebrate their first anniversary. Those who are interested in Campfire are welcome. JEAN KNORR, Scribe.

The Toheha Campfire Group met at the home of Frances Clويد on January 15th, 1932. To open the meeting we sang "Boogie Man." We discussed our furniture project. The secretary called roll. The secretary and treasurer gave their reports and they were approved. To close our meeting we gave the laws. JEAN KNORR, Scribe.

PLEADS FOR AID. Niobrara, Nebraska, January 22, 1932.

Dear Editor: Will you kindly publish this letter in your paper as a means of getting the desperate situation of Northern Nebraska before the public: "While some of our political leaders are discussing the situation in our territory, the stock is dying by the hundreds. "Below zero weather in the next ten days would kill thousands of cattle and horses that are too weak to stand any further hardship.

WESCOTT'S

"Seeing horses eating thistles and the bark off of the trees is a common occurrence here. Cows are too weak to give birth to their young. The farmers are at their wits end and are losing courage. "While our State officials are passing judgment and some washing their hands of their responsibility to take definite steps to relieve the situation, seven counties in Northern Nebraska are facing one of the worst tragedies in modern times, and unless immediate relief is sent will be obliged to quit and remain a burden to the State of years to come. "The loss cannot be measured in dollars and cents, but in the loss of homes, the people's morale and broken health. "Knox county, possibly the hardest hit by the drought and grasshoppers for the last three years, is in a critical condition. We plead for your help, send grain and hay that the farmers in this section of the State may keep their milk cows and work horses until grass and feed grow again. Respectfully submitted, REV. W. W. HUGHES, Local Committeeman, the American Red Cross."
