Murray

J. R. Mayfoeld of near Weeping Water was a visitor in Murray for a short time on last Monday, having some business at the Murray lumber yard.

Mr. C. M. Read will in a short time move to the place where he farmed last year and which has been farmed during the present year by J. W. Livingston.

Mrs. Albert Rakes who has been at the hospital for some time and who returned home a short time since was able to ride to Murray to see the family doctor, J. F. Brendel, having to use crutches to get about with but is showing improvement with each day.

Carl and George Parks were over to the home of C. M. Reed west of Murray on last Monday, assisting in the dressing of a number of porkers for the summer use.

On last Monday the ladies of the Christian church tackled a comfort for Mrs. Wm. Sporer and on Tuesday they put in a quilt for the same lady which they are hurrying to completion.

James Earhardt is keeping busy and warm by cutting cottonwood trees and converting it into firewood, which in his personal case will warm this gentleman two times, once when he cuts it and again when he burns the wood.

With the returning of Miss Leora Farris to the home of her parents, the position which she has been occupying is being filled by Mrs. Robert Burr who has been staying for some time at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Read.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Lancaster entertained on last Sunday and had as their guests for the occasion the family of John Eppings of Murdock.

Some Points to Remember

MISTER—don't forget those ignition points working away—and wearing away!—down in your distributor. Ought to let us go over them for you—regularly—setting, adjusting and cleaning them. Makes your car easier starting and smoother running.

Bible School Lesson Study!

Sunday, February 7th

By I. Heitzel

"The Slavery of Sin"

Math. 24:45-51; John 8:31-36.

The first part of our lesson deals with stewardship. It applies in the first place to the ministry. In Acts 6:4, we read: "But we will give ourselves continuously to prayer and to the ministry of the word." And in I Cor., 4:1, we have this word: "Let a man so account of us, as of the ministers of Christ, and stewards of the mysteries of God." They are to feed the flock and show good fidelity to truth, duty and master's interest. Such servants (ministers) will be promoted. In the second place it applies to every man. God expects every one to keep his body free from the enslavement of alcohol and narcotics, that is a good stewardship. The best use of one's life and energies demands freedom from every binding habit. But one that disregards the admonition of God will suffer the consequences, receive the reward of the unfaithful steward, consign him to that place of final punishment. God deals justly with every man. The end of a bootlegger is usually premature; his lot is cast with the "gangster" and ends as such.

No man will escape God. He comes unexpectedly and we must give an account of what we do, and for what we fail to do. The drunkard and unfaithful steward will go to the place for which they fitted themselves; deceivers and outcasts will be their companions.

The second part of our lesson deals with freedom from sin through Christ. After Christ's discourse on the Bread of Life, which we studied last week, occurred a number of important events in our Lord's life which John omitted, because they were narrated by Matthew, Mark and Luke. These were the journey toward Sidon with the healing of the daughter of the Syrophenician woman, the feeding of the four thousand, restoring sight to the blind man at Bethsaida, Peter's confession of faith, the transfiguration, healing the demoniac boy, and several discourses. Now we find Jesus at the feast of tabernacles in Jerusalem, where he delivered several discourses which John has recorded. One of these on the Water of Life, which we are omitting.

Our lesson chapter discusses the great topics of truth, light and liberty. The preceding verse tells us that "As he spoke these words, many believed on Him." (Vv. 24-26). The revised version, "believed Him." They had believed His statement that He was the Messiah, but they had not believed "on" Him with religious faith as the light and life of men. "They believed Him" meant merely a recognition of the truth of His statements and the justice of His reasoning. Their minds assented, but their hearts were not yet won, and John here tells how the Lord sought to lead them on from belief to faith. Let no one be content merely with joining the church, with being outwardly and in form a disciple of Christ. Ye shall know the truth!

Take an illustration of the way in which the habit of cultivating truth is acquired. Two boys see a misshapen, hideous object in the dark. One goes up to the cause of his terror, examines it, learns what it is—he knows the truth, and the truth has made him free. The other leaves it in mystery and unexplained vagueness and is a slave for life to superstitions and indefinite terrors.

They did not take kindly to the Lord's statement. They would not acknowledge that they were not free. They had forgotten their years of bondage in Egypt, the captivity in Babylon, in Syria and now the Roman yoke. They may have thought of personal freedom rather than political.

These Jews were unworthy descendants of Abraham. No man should try and deceive himself. The piety and faithfulness of our ancestry cannot save us. Abraham had two sons, one dwelt in his father's house and received the inheritance, the other was sent forth into exile. It was quite possible for them to be Abraham's children and yet be in spiritual bondage. "Every one that committeth sin is the bondservant of sin." What is sin? Any transgression of the divine law (the ten commandments).

Only as we admit Jesus into our heart and life do we become free, because then we surrender our will to Him and let Him rule our life. Then we enjoy perfect liberty. The Christian is a new man. Martin Luther used to say: "When any one comes and knocks at the door of my heart and asks, 'Who lives here?' I reply, 'Martin Luther used to, but he has moved out and Jesus Christ now lives here.'"

May there be many who shall thus go free.

Man that is a slave to the liquor habit, can only be cured by the great Physician. "His blood can make the foulest clean." The user of alcohol is a slave to a habit-forming, narcotic drug. The safest way is as the Apostle Paul states it: "Touch not, taste not, handle not." (Col. 2:21).

James Hambar, Rev. Lloyd Shubert, pastor of the Murray Christian church and Miss Bessie Royer. A delightful time was had by all present.

Don Galloway of north of Union, while sliding on his hand sled was injured on one of his legs when the sled struck a post. While he has been getting about, the leg has been giving him some trouble and on last Monday the parents were over to Murray to see the family physician about the injured leg.

Marion Segal Davis Dies.
Some two weeks since M. S. Davis, father of John A. Davis of Murray had the misfortune to fall on the slippery pavements of Hutchinson, Kansas, fracturing his hip very badly and which made it necessary for him to take to his bed, the injured member having to be placed in a cast. Everything was done for the aged man, who was seventy, at the hospital. However he did not rally as desired and grew worse. The son, J. A. Davis, went to his bedside on Thursday of last week to do all possible for the father. Notwithstanding all that was done he continued to grow worse until he passed on Sunday morning at 2:30.

His brother, O. A. Davis, who has been in California for the past number of weeks, on his return, accompanied by the wife, stopped at Hutchinson to visit the brother, but arrived some three hours after the departure of the spirit of the brother. On Monday morning another brother, I. M. Davis, arrived at Hutchinson.

Arrangements were perfected for the funeral, which was set for Wednesday afternoon at Haxton, Colo., where Mr. Davis resided for a number of years and where the wife of his earlier life passed away and was buried. Some five years ago Mr. Davis went to Hutchinson to make his home with a daughter and after arriving there was married the second time, the wife remaining to mourn his departure.

There are four children, John A. Davis of Murray; Mrs. Mary Hyber, Denver; Mrs. T. E. Johnson of Hutchinson, Kansas; and another son at Denver. The deceased also leaves three brothers, they being O. A. Davis of Murray; Raymond Davis of Denver and I. M. Davis of Lincoln.

Uncle J. W. Berger Dies.

Some ten days since, J. W. Berger, over 86 years of age, slipped and in falling injured one of his legs, which caused the aged gentleman to take to his bed. However he had been in good spirits and on Sunday night was saying he was feeling much improved. During the latter portion of the night the wife went to the patient's bed to inquire as to his condition when he said, I am feeling pretty fine, thank you. Mrs. Berger returned to her bed and after lying there for a while she heard the husband making a noise, went the second time and found him in much distress as to getting his breath. She then called to George Berger who secured a physician, but by the time the doctor got there he had passed on.

Mr. Berger was born at Winterset, Ia., and when but a small child came to Rock Bluffs, with the parents and there resided for some time, coming to Nebraska 77 years ago and landing at Rock Bluffs. Mr. Berger has lived the greater portion of the time in Cass county, was in Lincoln when that place was but a small village. He has been a great reader and was always well informed. He lost a brother in upper California about two years ago. He has another brother, John Berger, father of Nelson Berger and Raymond Berger. Mr. Berger has always been a friend to all who needed a friend, ever ready and willing to do any one a good turn.

Those left to mourn his departure are George Berger, making his home with the parents; Will Berger of Ashland; Mrs. Marie Steiner of Oklahoma City, Okla., and Mrs. J. H. Browne of Omaha.

Visiting in Illinois.

On last Monday morning Mrs. C. H. Boedecker, Jr., departed for Monmouth, Illinois, where she will visit with friends for a week. Mrs. Boedecker was a student in the schools of that place and knows many friends there which it will be a pleasure to meet and visit, and sure she will have a good time there.

Mrs. Henry Vest Still Poorly.

Mrs. Henry Vest, who has been in the hospital for some time, is still very poorly, though she is thought to be showing slight improvement. Her many friends are hoping that she may soon be on the way to permanent recovery. Mr. Vest and the children were over to see the wife and mother on last Monday and were accompanied by Mr. Custer W. Allen who went along to visit his son, Willard, who is convalescing at the hospital following a fracture of one of his legs. Willard is making some very good improvement, but it will be some time before he can return home.

Ladies' Aid Meet Postponed.

The Ladies' Aid of the Christian church of Murray which was to have met yesterday, Wednesday, February 3rd, has been postponed one week on account of the death of J. W. Berger and will meet Feb. 10, at the church. The hostesses will be Mesdames W. L. Seybolt, J. F. Brendel and Fred L. Hill. The leader which was to have been Helen Read will be Miss May Wilson, who has been prevailed upon to act, as Miss Read will have to assist in moving that day.

Library Notes.

The circulation of library books for January was 271. Fines and pay books netted $3.50.

We had hoped there would be more reading, as we have some fine books and magazines on the table. The library belongs to you, use it.

We have a half dozen or more new books this month.

Librarians for the month were Lorene Hatchett, Mrs. Seybolt, Mrs. Spangler, Mrs. Hanna, Mrs. Brendel, Leora Farris, Bessie Royer and Miss Sans.

The Study Club gave us twelve dollars toward new books, which was appreciated, and especially by the children. A permanent book committee was appointed by the President to help in selecting new books which will be done soon.

Presbyterian Church Notes.

Bakers Ask for New Trial in Bread Case

Consider Taking Their Issues Before United States Supreme Court Federal Issue Involved

The P. F. Peterson Baking company of Omaha and other baking companies in the standard weight bread suit against Governor Bryan and the secretary of the state department of agriculture filed a motion for a new trial in district court at Lincoln Tuesday. H. D. LeMar of Omaha, attorney for some of the bakers, stated that the case might be carried to the United States supreme court as there is a federal issue involved.

Judge Broady upheld the standard loaf law passed by the 1931 legislature and the plaintiffs claim his ruling contrary to law. Objections are made to the ruling of Judge Broady that the secretary of agriculture had made new rules fixing the excess tolerance of three ounces per pound and it is claimed that an error was made in deciding the case upon rules adopted subsequent to the institution of the suit. It is alleged that the plaintiffs were entitled to have a determination of their property rights as of the time of the filing of the suit.

It is also alleged that the court was in error in finding that a two ounce tolerance could be compiled with "under modern baking conditions," even tho the supreme court of the United States held differently. It is also alleged that the court was wrong in finding that the United States district court, in passing upon the constitutionality of the 1927 law, held the same unconstitutional but did not disapprove of the tolerance provision. This finding, it is claimed, is not sustained by the evidence.

NO SECRET UNDERSTANDING

Washington, Febr. 1.—Ambassador Claudel, of France, assured Secretary Stimson that reports France had a secret understanding with Japan were utterly false. The ambassador told Stimson France was in exactly the same position with reference to Japanese action at Shanghai as the other western powers.

"We are in the same boat with the United States, Great Britain and the other powers," the ambassador told newspapermen after his talk with the secretary.

Apparently the French foreign office had taken quite seriously recent reports that a secret understanding with Japan was deterring it from opposing the Japanese course in Shanghai.

A local bridge husbands says he is in favor of a rule forbidding anyone to talk while a game is in session. He believes that rule would practically eliminate the clubs, or at least quiet them down.

Iowans Held for Robberies at Seward

Seward Girl Is Found With Them at Ottumwa; Some Loot Recovered.

Seward—Three Seward business houses were robbed Monday night, and Sheriff Karl Greiner left Tuesday for Ottumwa, Ia., where two men are in jail on suspicion of being the robbers. A Seward girl was in the men's company when they were arrested, and will be returned home, probably by the sheriff.

Farmers West Central feed mill and the Imig & Schnebeck elevator were entered early in the night, and a number of typewriters, a radio, adding machine and other equipment taken. Jake Hartrum's garage was entered somewhat later, the robbers breaking in a rear door, and taking about $95 worth of loot. No money was taken at either of the places.

Mr. Hartrum had driven to Lincoln Monday to get some Buick parts for two strangers who had asked for them that morning. These men, the ones now in jail at Ottumwa, had been in Seward about a week, and

Monday morning Sheriff Greiner observed them driving around apparently aimlessly, and took down the license number of their car, a large sedan. When the robberies were reported to him, he sent out the call which resulted in the arrest of the two at Ottumwa. The car proved to have been stolen.

The prisoners called themselves E. J. Miller and John Monahan. Both are young men. The girl with them was Hazel Holloway, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Holloway of Seward. She had been going with one of the men during the week he had been around Seward, the officers said.

HOUSE CLOSES PATH TO SALARY INCREASES

Washington, Feb. 2.—The house today closed the way toward any pay increases for government employes in the fiscal year ending June 30, 1933. It approved by a viva voce vote a rule under which sections may be inserted in all the remaining departmental supply bills to prohibit "the use of appropriations for increases in compensation and the filling of vacancies."

Business will improve only as we contribute to its improvement by exercising our purchasing power.

AIR ATTACK IS PLANNED

Edmonton, Alta.—A war hero of the air was signed up by the mounted police to drop dynamite bombs on a hut in the barren wastes of the arctic circle where a crazed trapper has been hiding since he killed a "mountain." The air expedition against the barricaded man, Albert Johnson, will be undertaken by Captain May, famous northland flier. His flight to the improvised fort eighty miles from Aklayik on the Rat river will take him almost 1,500 miles along the wandering course of the mighty Mackenzie river.

More ammunition and supplies for the mounted force which has been seeking to force the surrender of Johnson since the slaying last Saturday were dispatched Tuesday.

REFUGEE IN UNITED STATES

Nogales, Ariz.—The archbishop of Guadalajara, Francisco Orozco y Jimenez, reported detained at Guadalajara, Jalisco, and later sent to an unannounced destination by airplane, appeared at the United States immigration office here and asked for a six months tourist passport. The passport was granted and the archbishop said he intended to leave immediately for Los Angeles. He declined to see interviewers. The Herald said it had obtained semi-official information that the archbishop, central embroglio, was expelled from Mexico.
