VISITS IN CITY

From Saturday's Daily
J. E. Lancaster, or as he is better known as Jarvis, to the many friends, was in the city today for a short time looking after some business affairs. Mr. Lancaster filed this week for the democratic nomination for sheriff of Cass county and as he has now disposed of the farming interests is starting on his campaign. Mr. Lancaster is a native of Missouri, but has made his home in and near Murray since 1910 and is one of the best known residents of that locality. He has been active in the affairs of the community in which he has resided, having served as road overseer for several terms and was also engaged in road work for the county for a number of years. Mr. Lancaster and his family have moved into Murray and where they expect to make their home for the present at least. While in the city Mr. Lancaster was a caller at the Journal for a social call, having known the members of the family of the publisher of the Journal in their former home in Missouri.

FOUR MILE CLUB MEETS

The Four Mile Club held its achievement day Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Henry Nolting. This was an all day session for the club members and their families. At noon a covered dish luncheon was served. This was very much enjoyed by all.

The lesson "Improvement of the Farmstead Thru Paint" and "Suggestions for Mixing and Applying Paints" was thoroughly discussed by the club leader and several demonstrations were given to explain the lesson. The lesson proved very beneficial to all.

After the lesson a social time was enjoyed, at this time the quilt, which was made by the club ladies, was given away, it being won by Mrs. Carla Worthman, Omaha, Nebr.

On March 19th a party will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Mayabb. The next regular lesson will be held at the home of Mrs. Russell Stander.

V. O. Eaton of Edgemont, South Dakota, is here for a visit at the home of his niece, Mrs. Herman L. Thomas and family.

Endorse Move to Bring Out the Hidden Dollars

Butter Manufacturers Guests at C. of C. Luncheon Thursday—To Urge Highway Improvement

The Chamber of Commerce directorate at yesterday's luncheon took up several matters of business, among them the endorsement of the Government's "Baby Bond" campaign aimed to bring forth hoarded money and get it back into the channels of trade and industry, where it will have a part in wiping out Old Man Depression, who has hovered over us for the past many months.

The purpose of the campaign is not to sell bonds to those having their money at work in private business enterprise or through the medium of banks or building and loan associations, but rather to those who have let fear overcome their ordinary good judgment and removed their money from banks and industrial channels to run the risk of losing it in tomato cans, socks or what not. Estimates of the amount of money thus tied up over the nation run into a startling figure and it is to minimize this tendency that the government is announcing the "Baby Bond" campaign in which bonds of moderately small denomination will be offered to investors who would otherwise hoard their money.

The Chamber of Commerce gave the proposition enthusiastic endorsement and when the bond campaign gets under way, will aid it further by publishing an advertisement setting out the important facts such as the time the bonds run, the interest rate and the opportunity to turn them into ready cash quickly should necessity arise, at par value.

Urge Road Improvement
Another matter taken up was the oilled road running from the end of the pavement to the Platte river bridge. This stretch of highway is acknowledged as the worse anywhere in the state and requires slow and careful driving to avoid damage to the cars of those who pass over it.

The opinion was that instead of attempting to "patch" the broken-down sections, as the highway department had once indicated it would do, the best thing to do would be to break up the "hard spots" and make the road once more just a gravelled road, as it was much better that way than since the oil treatment. The matter was referred to the Good Roads committee with instructions to ask the highway department to take early action to get the road back in shape for safe travel.

Another matter referred to the Good Roads committee was that of paving Sixth street with state aid, as provided by a recent act of the Nebraska legislature.

Butter Makers Present

Wm. Baird, of the Industries committee introduced the two local buttermakers, who were guests of the club at this meeting as a part of the "Get-Acquainted with Home Industries" plan. Both Mr. Hetrick and Mr. Hoffman responded with brief remarks regarding market conditions and their ability to pay a little more for their cream when the butter is sold near at home than where they have to ship to eastern wholesalers and gamble on a market nearly two weeks in advance of date of purchase of the butterfat. Samples of their product were distributed to each of the thirty directors present at the meeting.

Street Improvement Urged

Mr. Baird also advised the members of progress being made in locating the canning factory in their buildings in the shop yard and called attention to some grading and street improvement work that would be up to either the Chamber of Commerce or the city.

council to arrange for. This includes removal of the sidewalk from the east to the west side of Lincoln avenue for a distance of one block, where the canning company plans to locate its scales and dump. The president named a special committee to confer with the canning company officials when they are in town Monday and to have the ground looked over by the city authorities as well, with a view to getting the work done in whole or in part by the city.

Postmaster J. W. Holmes reported on the train changes effective Sunday and pointed out that although served with fewer trains than ever before, mail connections into and out of Plattsmouth will be better than at any time in recent years, since the rail retrenchment program was first begun. This is due to the star route service between Plattsmouth and Oreadpolis and between Plattsmouth and Pacific Junction each afternoon. Mr. Holmes also stated the postal authorities have given permission for the carrying of passengers by the mail messenger, thereby increasing the ability of rail travelers to get in or out of Plattsmouth.

There being no further business, a motion to adjourn prevailed at 1:25—five minutes ahead of scheduled time.

Louis F. Dunkak Files for State Representative

Well Known Resident of Cass County Among the Late Filings on Republican Ticket.

Louis F. Dunkak, for forty years a resident of Cass county, today made his filing for the office of state representative on the republican ticket.

Mr. Dunkak was a resident of the vicinity of Avoca for many years, being engaged in farming as well as the conduct of a hardware store. He has a large acquaintance in the southern and central portion of the county and has since locating here a year ago, made a great many friends in this city and vicinity. His business experience and training will make him a very valuable man for the legislature if he should be chosen for this position.

Mr. Dunkak will have as his opponents at the primary Willard Clapp and William Bornemeier, both residents of the vicinity of Elmwood.

FILES FOR SURVEYOR

Wednesday afternoon Fulton Harris, of Union, filed at the office of the county treasurer his intention to become a candidate for the republican nomination for the office of county surveyor. Mr. Harris is a son of former Commissioner and Mrs. C. F. Harris of Union. He was born and reared in the Union community and graduated from the high school at that place. He took engineering at the University of Nebraska and since leaving school has been largely engaged in surveying work for the state of Nebraska in a great deal of their road development work. He is a young man well qualified in every way for the office to which he aspires.

This is the second filing for the surveyorship which has been vacant since the tragic death of County Surveyor Fred Patterson last September. E. E. Hull of Rock Bluffs, former assistant to Mr. Patterson, is also a candidate for the republican nomination. So far there has been no filings on the democratic ticket.

MARCH MISSIONARY MEETING

On Wednesday afternoon, the Women's Foreign Missionary society held the March meeting at the home of Mrs. C. O. Troy.

The topic for the day was "Training the Mind—for God." Devotions led by Mrs. Troy, followed the same thought. The lesson told how the missionaries in foreign countries seek to help the people physically, for many are too ill or neglected to be helped otherwise, at first. Then the child or parent is taught about the love of Christ, and so lead with mental training to a fuller opportunity of worshiping and serving Him.

A short play given by Mrs. C. C. Wescott, Mrs. C. O. Troy and Mrs. Frank Barkus showed how one may be of very much greater service by pledging his time personality and possessions to God, who gave them. At the conclusion, a prayer was offered by Mrs. W. I. Howland.

A brief discussion of plans for the supper to be given on Saturday evening from 5:30 to 7:00, then followed.

Business will improve only as we contribute to its improvement by utilizing our purchasing power.

Three New Candidates Enter the Political Arena

Joe Rudolph for Representative, J. E. Lancaster for Sheriff and C. C. Barnard for Commissioner.

The last minute filings for the primary brought three new faces into the races, Joe Rudolph of Eagle for representative, J. E. Lancaster of Murray for sheriff and C. C. Barnard of Mynard for county commissioner. Joe Rudolph of Eagle, filed as a republican candidate for representative late Thursday afternoon. Mr. Rudolph is a native of Nebraska, received the greater part of his education in the school of experience. He was compelled to support himself at the age of 11 years on account of the passing of his father, was engaged in farming and stock raising all his life, save for the past eight years he was in business at Eagle. He has always taken a keen interest in civic affairs and is clerk of the city council at Eagle.

Mr. Lancaster, who is a candidate for the democratic nomination for the office of county sheriff, is one of the best known residents of the vicinity of Murray where he has been very active in the commercial and public life of that community. Mr. Lancaster is a gentleman who has a very large circle of friends and who will give him most earnest support in every way for the office to which he aspires.

Mr. Barnard does not need a great deal of introduction to the residents of the first commissioner district, as he has been a lifelong resident here and active in the community life. Mr. Barnard is engaged in farming in the vicinity of Mynard and has also served several times as road overseer of Plattsmouth precinct. Mr. Barnard has been very active in the work of the Mynard community club also.

ENJOY CHURCH MEETING

From Thursday's Daily
The first of a series of Wednesday night meetings to be held through March, was enjoyed by a large gathering last evening at the Presbyterian church. The purpose of these meetings is threefold: Fellowship, instructive and deepening of the spiritual life. The first purpose is accomplished by partaking of the evening meal together. Last evening a church family of over ninety gathered by 6:30 and enjoyed an hour of sociability.

At 7:30 service of song was started, followed by an impressive devotional service, on the "Betrayal of the Master," led by the pastor.

It was a privilege to have had Dr. John W. Pressly of Omaha, with us, who is the executive secretary of the Synod of Nebraska. He gave the church members a stirring address on the different activities of the church work, stressing the place the missionary occupied in the welfare of our country. Dr. Pressly is a forceful speaker, being greatly enjoyed by all.

THE SHOP OF PERSONAL SERVICE
Plattsmouth, Nebr.

Next Wednesday night the supper will be in charge of the Ladies' Auxiliary society, with the ladies of the missionary society giving the program. Wednesday the 16th the young people of the Endeavor society will give a play while the men of the church will have charge of both the supper and program for the meeting of March 23. The 31st will be the annual meeting of the congregation.

Throughout these series the pastor will lead the devotional, taking the events in the last week of our Lord's life as his subject.

PUBLIC LIBRARY NOTES

The report of the librarian of the Public Library for the month of January, 1932, shows 36 registrations, 18 of which are of new borrowers. The total number of books exchanged was 4319. Of these, 1902 were adult fiction and non-fiction. The largest daily circulation was 295.

It may be of interest to note how much the library is being used by adult patrons. The librarians kept a record, during the month of February of the number of adults who came to the library to exchange books and to use reference facilities. The highest number, February 13, on Saturday, was 82. But on February 8, a Monday, there were 72 adults who used the library. On February 15, 36 adults came in and 20 used reference facilities. On other days the following numbers were noted: 65, 50, 33, 57, 52, 73. On doing a little figuring it was found that an average of 46 4-5 adults used the library every day in the month of February. This should certainly be convincing evidence that school children are not the only ones who are benefited by the library facilities furnished by the city of Plattsmouth.

The most called for books are: "White Bird Flying," "Shadows on the Rock," and "The Magnificent Obsession," all by Nebraska authors.

Fifty books in foreign languages have been received from the state university to be used for a time by patrons of our library. There are 44 in German and 16 in Bohemian.

The Y. L. R. R. A. new books are now ready for circulation. The story hour season is proving most successful and the library auditorium is filled to capacity each time. Mrs. Woster's Camp Fire girls had charge on February 29th. Columbian school gave a Lincoln and Washington entertainment. Miss Farley's room gave a Washington playlet in costume. Miss Helene Perry had charge of the playlet entitled: "George and Martha Return."

CLERK'S HEARING SET

New York.—The city court has ordered a hearing Monday of charges brought against its chief clerk, Harry C. Perry, by Samuel Seabury, counsel to the Hofstadter investigating committee. The hearing will be on charges that Perry failed to offer a satisfactory explanation of bank deposits totaling $185,000 between 1927 and 1931.
