May Drop All Tariff Levies from the Tax Bill

Senator Tydings Warns Delay Costs United States 90 Millions Each Month.

Washington, April 8.—Elimination of all new tariff duties from the tax bill was proposed in the senate today while the leaders massed their forces to secure prompt enactment of the fiscal program.

Senator Tydings (dem., Md.) offered to direct the finance committee to strike the import levies from the measure. He warned that a protracted debate would cost the government 90 million dollars a month in collection of new excise taxes provided by the revenue measure.

He will ask a vote early next week and is confident of a majority, but a coalition is rapidly forming in opposition to his measure. The house put import duties on oil and coal in the tax measure. Proposals to include half a dozen meat articles, including copper, lumber, wood pulp, manganese and jute are pending in the senate.

Senator Robinson (Ark.), the democratic leader, who has declared for prompt action on the budget balancing legislation, stated today there is "considerable sentiment" for a general tariff ban.—World-Herald.

T. J. McGUIRE KILLS HIMSELF

T. J. McGuire, 45, prominent Omaha attorney and well known in this city, shot and killed himself at his home in the Tudor apartments at Omaha sometime Thursday night.

Mr. McGuire has engaged in practice in the courts here a great deal and was also well known to local Legion members.

The body was discovered by his daughter, Dorothy, 15, when she returned home about 11 o'clock. A bullet wound was in the right temple, and a pistol lay beside the body.

When the daughter found the body lying in the bathroom she called her grandfather, Detective Sergeant Andrew Trapp, 1122 South Thirty-fifth avenue, Omaha, who called Dr. A. E. Pinto, head of the city health department and McGuire's private physician, and the police station. Trapp and Pinto hurried to the McGuire apartment.

Dr. Pinto found an envelope on the table in the living room, addressed to Amos Thomas, McGuire's law partner, which contained notes to Thomas and the daughter, Dorothy. Thomas declined to reveal the text of the notes saying only that McGuire wrote that he was despondent and in ill health. He had been badly overworked recently, Thomas added.

According to Dr. Pinto, McGuire had been in failing health since he underwent a major operation six years ago. He had been a patient in a hospital recently.

"He took life very seriously," Dr. Pinto explained. "He worried constantly about cases in which he was working, and his duties as legion commander had weighed heavily on him. At times he became very despondent."

FISHER IS FOR 'RELATION'

Cleveland.—The man who reduced the nation's economic questions to graphic and figures Friday night heard Dr. Irving Fisher of Yale university argue "relation". Dr. Fisher told the Ohio group of statesmen at a banquet that "in a nutshell the depression at present may be said to consist of the fact that each dollar of debt has grown to be a dollar and a half."

"It is as if every merchant, who agreed in 1928 to deliver 1,000 yards of cloth in 1932, must now deliver 1,500 instead. We are suffering from a hyperinflated dollar when we should have been provided with a stable or fixed dollar just as we have a fixed yardstick or a fixed kilowatt."

"What is needed now first of all is to reink the dollar. That is we need 'relation' at the price level enough to let people pay their debts on the same basis as that on which they were contracted."

"In short, I agree cordially with Sir Arthur Salter, the recent head of the economic section of the League of Nations, in his book on recovery where he says we need two things: A raising of the price level and a stabilization of the level when restored. This is a problem the federal reserve system and they should be authorized and directed by legislation to perform it."
