Two Prisoners Make Their Escape from County Jail

Clyde Clark, Charged with Joyriding, and William Soucke, Held for Investigation, Escape

From Tuesday's Daily
This morning when Deputy Sheriff Ray Becker made his visit to the cell room of the jail building to feed the prisoners their breakfast, it was discovered that two of the prisoners that had been quartered there had made their getaway.

The two men were Clyde Clark, alias Frank Taylor, 28, held here on a charge of joyriding and William Soucke, held for investigation. The two men made their getaway by prying away bars of the jail window which had been sawed out some months ago by William Carrodo, Omaha man, who was convicted here of burglary at the home of Judge Begley. The two prisoners had made their escape close to 1 o'clock this morning, taking advantage of the storm to make their getaway.

The other prisoners at the jail had made no alarm and it was not until breakfast time at the jail that the escape was discovered. The alarm was sent to the nearby cities and officers to be on the lookout for the two men.

Clark was facing a short sentence for his offense if he had been convicted. Both men if captured, will now face a three year term for jail breaking.

DEPARTS FOR IOWA

From Wednesday's Daily
This morning Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Zondler departed for Harlan, Iowa, where they are expecting to make their home in the future. Mr. Zondler has been engaged in the bakery business here for the past two years, but this week is closing his plant. He will return to Harlan, their former home, to take up his work in a bakery there, being an expert in this line of work. Mrs. Zondler will return the first of next week to supervise the shipping of their household effects to Harlan. The many friends here who have made the acquaintance of this estimable couple will regret very much to see them leave the city.

HAS MANY ESCAPES

John Kugler, 32, Brainard, Nebraska, who fell from the Burlington railroad bridge southeast of this city last week, is now at the St. Joseph hospital at Omaha, where he was taken from Brainard. The patient is suffering from several displaced vertebrae.

The injured man has been interested in church work in prison missions since he was paroled from prison some six months ago and has been making his headquarters at Brainard. He had come to Plattsmouth in the interest of his mission work when he suffered his injury.

Kugler, it is claimed, has a record of five escapes from jail in recent years. Kugler's fifth and most sensational break for freedom was in 1926. Captured on the west coast on a charge of parole violation, he was being brought back toward Nebraska by Sheriff Roberts of David City.

Naked and manacled, Kugler leaped through a Pullman window out into the snow, while the train was going at full speed near Salt Lake City. The train was stopped and a hunt organized. A posse found Kugler at a near-by farmhouse, just as the farmer was trying to saw off his handcuffs. Kugler had told the farmer of being held up, robbed, stripped of his clothing and manacled by bandits.

State Organizes to Fight Against Grasshoppers

Ask the Counties to Aid, and Predict Victory if All Will Co-Operate.

Lincoln, May 24.—The Nebraska department of agriculture and the state extension service joined forces today to conduct upon a systematic and scientific basis, the fight to eradicate grasshoppers from northern Nebraska counties.

After a conference between Prof. Myron Swenk, head of the University of Nebraska department of entomology; O. S. Bare, extension service entomologist, and D. F. Felton, deputy secretary of the agriculture department, plans were announced whereby the campaign will be started tomorrow in the infested regions.

Swenk and Felton agreed, the latter said, that to effectively root the pests the work must be supervised upon an intensive and systematic manner. Eradication work last year, Felton said, lost the maximum effectiveness in certain localities by lack of knowledge in the proper use of poison bran.

The two departments, therefore with Bare and L. M. Gathes, state entomologist, in the field, will direct the use of poison where information is needed to attain the best results.

Bare and Gathes, Felton said, will leave tomorrow for the drouth area where the hoppers again are threatening wholesale destruction of crops. They will survey the situation with the co-operation of county commissioners and will advise the county officials as to the purchase of the bran mixture. According to a plan announced by Governor Bryan, the state will match each car of bran purchased in each county.

Felton is convinced that systematic work in the field at the present time will avert any extensive loss in crops.

"If the counties match the 18 thousand dollars the state has made available," he said, "I am confident that with quick action and efficient use of the poison, we can halt the invasion."—World-Herald.

TO WED AT LOUISVILLE

From Tuesday's Daily
This morning a marriage license was issued to Miss F. Fern Voas of Lincoln and Rev. Thomas Elmer Smith of Lyman, Nebraska. The young people after securing the license motored to Louisville where they were to be married by the Rev. Robert Murphree, pastor of the Methodist church of Louisville.

"My stomach hasn't felt good for several days," said a local man with considerable surprise, "and I don't understand it. I certainly have been drinking good alkyl."

MORE COYOTES

From Wednesday's Daily
Today Victor Schiewe of Murdock, brought in six coyote scalps and C. Baumgartner of the same locality called at the office of County Clerk George R. Sayles, official custodian of the scalps, with one coyote. The bounty of $2 per head was paid and the county ridded of seven of the coyotes.

CURE MARKET IS SLUGGISH

New York.—Oils advanced, specialties reacted and utilities were irregular on the curb market last week. Petroleum shares attracted considerable speculative attention. The supreme court decision on Oklahoma proration, the international marketing conference here and optimistic reports by a few companies' executives contributed to the upward trend.

Weakest spots among industrials were mostly stocks which had recently been under pressure. Thus Singer Manufacturing and A. O. Smith broke sharply, while some selling was noted in Great Atlantic & Pacific, presumably because of the decrease in sales.

In the utilities, Electric Bond & Share common dipped to a new low at 9 prior to the dividend meeting at which the rate previously paid on the old shares was applied to the new. Regular payments were authorized for the preferreds. Columbia Gas preferreds and Commonwealth Edison had sinking spells. American Gas was rather erratic. The market was sluggish.

CREDIT EXPANSION

New York.—The credit expansion committee, headed by Owen D. Young, began a series of meetings Monday to work out plans to aid in putting billions of dollars in bank credit to work. The twelve members of the committee declined to comment on the status of their discussions, but it was learned they had appointed sub-committees to consider various aspects of their problem and the full committee would meet again on Wednesday.

Munich.—There was no confirmation here of the reported engagement of Prince Otto of Hapsburg, pretender to the throne of Hungary, and Princess Maria of Bavaria, as was reported in Budapest.
