

Murray

Jarvis Lancaster was looking after some business in Plattsmouth on both last Friday and Saturday.

Raymond Cook of Plattsmouth was a visitor in Murray, making purchase of a bill of shingles for use on the farm.

James H. Brown of Omaha and the wife were visiting with friends in Murray and vicinity for a short time on last Monday.

W. E. Mackey succeeded in getting two swarms of bees hived and working, which should add to the resources of the home living.

Thomas Nelson was attending the grand lodge of the Masonic order, which is in session in Omaha, for a couple of days during this week.

Troy L. Davis of Weeping Water was a visitor in Murray for a short time on last Monday and was looking over some business matters.

Hiram Gruber and Thomas Nelson were able to corral two swarms of bees during the past few days. J. E. Hatchet was also able to capture a swarm.

Lawrence Nelson, son of Thomas Nelson, accompanied by two friends were down from Omaha Sunday, and with the father went to the home of W. A. Ost where they visited for the day.

Jarvis E. Lancaster, who had some cattle remaining after his sale and which he has been fattening, was having them marketed on last Tuesday. Frank Marasek hauled them to Omaha.

Herman Wahlfarth was a visitor in Plattsmouth on last Monday

12 Steps—and All Highly Important

DID you know that 12 steps are necessary in properly tuning a motor car? It's true—and each must be checked carefully and separately, in proper sequence, from cables to carburetor. When we do a tune-up job, we know it's RIGHT. Yet it costs no more than the ordinary kind. Have you tried our service? If not, begin today!

morning where he was called to look after some business matters for the county as supervisor of the work on the roads in this vicinity.

On last Saturday George E. Nickles was a visitor in Omaha for a short time where he was called to look after some business matters. He stopped at Plattsmouth on his return to look after some matters.

Miss Bertha Nickles was a visitor in Plattsmouth last Monday and was accompanied by her friend Mrs. McDonald. They did some shopping and at the same time visited with friends. They made the trip in the new car of Miss Bertha.

The O. T. Leyda family were enjoying a visit on last Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Rueben Grosser, of near Weeping Water.

There were gathered the family of Mrs. Thomas Wiles, mother of Mrs. Leyda. All enjoyed the occasion very much.

During the time when not pressed with other work at the blacksmith shop Vac Micklusky keeps a work on his hounds and standards which he makes all of steel, and are a prime necessity to the farmers. He was a visitor at Omaha for the day on last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Davis entertained at their home in Murray for the day on last Sunday. Their guests for the occasion were John Perry and wife, formerly of Los Angeles, and Mrs. Catherine Perry, better known as grandmother Perry. A very enjoyable time was had by all.

Tests the Corn Bread

As a manufacturer of corn meal, and as to that all cereals, their proper mixture and grinding, J. E. Lancaster is gaining great fame. Dr. G. H. Gilmore who is a connoisseur when it comes to corn bread, was asked to dinner and try out some of the delicious corn bread which was made from the meal ground by the Lancaster mill and baked by Mrs. Lancaster. It was reinforced by strawberries and cream making it a fine dinner and most highly praised by Dr. Gilmore. Miss Florence Lancaster was also a guest for the very fine dinner.

Have Double Celebration

On last Sunday at the home of Earl Lancaster was held a family gathering which commemorated the passing of the forty sixth birthday anniversary of Earl Lancaster as well as the passing of the seventeenth wedding anniversary of Jarvis E. Lancaster and wife. The day was spent with much pleasure by all and with its closing, best wishes for much happiness were extended. There were there for the occasion Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Lancaster, Earl Lancaster and wife and children, Harry McCulloch and family, John Eppings, wife and son Richard, Rev. Floyd Schubert, pastor of the Christian church, Miss Alice Dill, Albert Schudder, James Hochar

Held Children's Day Program

At the Christian church on last Sunday was held a very appropriate program in honor of children's day which consisted of songs, music, and readings. It was attended by a number of people of Murray and vicinity. The end also being to create a fund for missions which was admirably carried out.

Undergoes an Operation

Eugene Staska, son of Mr. and Joseph Staska, who has been troubled with a hernia since infancy, was taken to the hospital in Omaha on last Monday where he underwent an operation for its correction. A rupture had been created in the walls of the abdomen which had been treated with belts and appliances and it was finally concluded the better way was an operation, which was had on last Monday. The lad was accompanied by the mother and uncle Charles of Plattsmouth, the father not being able to get away from the work here at the station.

Will Give Free Pictures

The merchants of Murray will with the coming Saturday night give each week a free picture show on the Presbyterian church lawn. All are welcome who care to come and enjoy the entertainment.

Married at Omaha

We were not able to secure the news last week of the wedding of one of the popular young ladies of Murray, which occurred in Omaha to late for the paper. Miss Ardella Leyda, the accomplished daughter and one of the very best of school teachers, was united in marriage to Mr. Silas Perry of McCook, Neb. The young people met there when the bride was teaching school. For the present the young couple are visiting at the home of the parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Leyda. They have not yet decided where they will make their home. The Journal joins with the many friends in extending congratulations and best wishes to this excellent young couple.

Mrs. Don Rhoden Jr. at Hospital

Mrs. Don Rhoden Jr. was suddenly taken with an acute attack of appendicitis on last Monday and was hurried to the hospital at Omaha. She was taken in the car of Mr. and Mrs. George Nickles and was accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Rhoden, as well as her husband. It is hoped that she will soon recover from the operation and be well again.

Working on swimming Pool

At the Murray bathing beach there is being a great deal of work done on the pool for the opening of the popular resort. It is hoped it will be completed by the Sunday following this one and open for service.

Many Chavariari's

The popular young couple, Silas Perry and bride, formerly Miss Ardella Leyda, were chartered on last Thursday. Also were that ever popular couple, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Seybolt, who their friends seem to chavariari about two times a year. However the young folks had a good time making entertainment for the newly married people.

Enjoyable Birthday Party

On Friday night some 29 people gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Lancaster to celebrate the 20th birthday of their son, David. The evening was spent by playing games. A very fine luncheon was served at an appropriate hour. All returned home wishing David many more happy birthdays. These presences were James, Nora, and Irene Haschar, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Haschar and Mary Ellen, Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Leyda, Silas Perry, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Seybolt, Mr. and Mrs. Verle Smith, Helen and Malvern Read, Gamber and Bert Worthan, Albert Scudder, Johnny Stone, Charles Sporer, Richard Brendel, Alice Dill, Harold Lancaster, Mae and Nita Wilson and Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Farris.

TAKE AN EASY GAME

The Murray Red Sox on Sunday had an easy contest, their credit from the Sokol Athletic club of Omaha, winning by the score of 10 to 0. The Sox had a new infield combination working Sunday and which clicked well against the Sokols, Alex Schliske being used at the third sack, with Newman at short, Snavely at second and Svoboda at the initial sack. Hopkins of the Sox was in the best of form and but two hits were garnered off his delivery, while twelve blows were secured by the Sox off of S. Kutitek.

The Sox scored eight of their runs in two innings, four each in the fourth and seventh.

The box score of the game was as follows:

Jubilee of Neb. Masons Draws 300 Members

Hold Memorial for Former Officers—Monument to William Heller Unveiled.

Omaha.—The diamond jubilee of the Nebraska grand lodge of Masons at the Masonic temple here opened Tuesday with more than 600 delegates, representing 1,291 lodges, in attendance.

Cyrille A. Andrews, Lincoln, junior past grand master, opened the lodge of Master Masons. The reception of Grand Master John R. Tapster, North Bend, followed and he immediately opened the grand lodge. An address of welcome was delivered by Harold H. Thom of Omaha, and the response was by C. Ray Gates of Grand Island.

Then followed memorial services for the late J. Dean Ringer, Omaha, deputy grand master; George H. Thummel, senior grand master and Samuel S. Whiting, Lincoln, past grand master.

Past grand master's jewels were presented to Charles E. Burnham, Norfolk; Harry A. Cheney, Creighton; James R. Cain, Jr., Omaha, and Andrew H. Velle, Norfolk.

At noon the eleven Omaha lodges tendered a complimentary luncheon to the delegates and in the afternoon the entire attendance went to Bellevue for the unveiling of the William Heller monument commemorating the establishment of Freemasonry in Nebraska.

At night the delegates held another session at the Masonic temple. Mr. Tapster presided and G. Haven Stephens, grand master of Illinois; Ray V. Denslow, grand master of Missouri and Charles S. Percival, grand master of Iowa, spoke. Past Master Henry W. Wilson of Lincoln delivered the oration.

"LITTLE STITCHERS" MEET

The "Little Stitchers" 4-H sewing club, of Cedar Creek, held a meeting June 3rd at the home of Mrs. A. O. Ault. They opened their meeting by singing a song. Their president, Lucille Meisinger, resigned, so the girls had to elect a new president. Dorothy Salberg was elected their new president. They had a visitor, Miss Marie Haddon.

Their leader, Mrs. Cummins, showed the girls how to make their next project, the underwear set.

The next meeting will be June 17. MARYANN SWANDA, News Reporter.

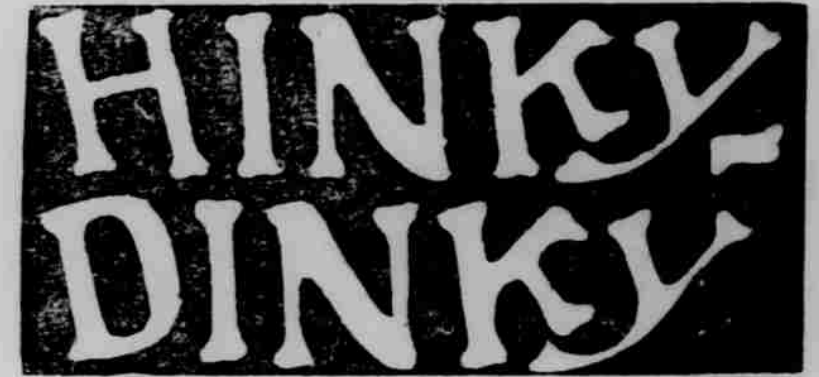

LEAPS INTO A VOLCANO PIT

Hilo, Hawaii.—William Nunes, rejected suitor of Margaret Enos, a high school student, jumped with the girl to death in Halemaumau freight of Kilauea volcano. Officers said Nunes apparently killed the girl before the leap. With powerful glasses Hawaiian national park rangers located the bodies of the pair on a ledge 800 feet below the brink of the 1,200 foot deep pit. Miss Enos rejected Nunes' offer of marriage two days ago. Officers said he entered her home early Thursday and, with a pistol, forced her to leave with him.

Bible School Lesson Study!

Sunday, June 12 By L. Neitzel

"Judah, the True Brother"
Genesis 44:18-34.
It is a pleasant task to chronicle the story of this man, Judah, the fourth son of Jacob, by Leah. He, like the others, had his faults; he was for killing Joseph; it was he who proposed to sell Joseph into slavery; he agreed with the other nine brothers to send the bloody coat with that false report to their father: "This he be thy son's coat or no." (Gen. 37:32.) Other incidents could be related that speak not well of his character; but we want to record and study rather the good side of this man—as a true brother, when the supreme test came. We want to learn from this lesson how to be true to brothers and sisters, how to keep a promise, how to make amends for wrong-doing and how to forgive those who have done wrong to them. We will be shown, also, the terrible results of sin and will be taught to see in Joseph a character somewhat like Jesus Christ. Twenty-two years have passed by since Joseph came into Egypt. The seven years of plenty are at an end; two years of famine have used up whatever was in the hands of the people. The famine extended into Nubia, Arabia and Canaan and reached Jacob and his family. Word came to Jacob that in Egypt was grain for sale and he sends forth his ten sons to buy grain. Benjamin stays home! The son of his beloved Rachel—he would not risk having Benjamin away from him.
As these ten men appear before Joseph, he recognizes them, but they did not know him in his strange dress and as he pretended not to understand Hebrew. Joseph treated them harshly, alleging that they were spies to humble them and force them to feel their guilt. The brothers were shocked by this charge. "We are true men, thy servants are no spies." So they had put out of their memory their terrible sin. So do men today, believing that if they can forget their sin, no one else will remember them.
There is no statute of limitation in the moral universe. We shall never be "true" men until purged from our old sins.
They told Joseph they were all sons of one father, that there was one son who "was not" and still another with his father. Now Joseph tests their truthfulness by keeping them all in prison and sending one to bring the younger brother; three days they are kept in prison; then Joseph changed his terms, sending nine back and keeping Simeon as hostage.

Joseph overhears their talk in prison. Ruben: "Spake I not unto you, saying, 'Do not sin against the child, and ye would not hear!'" (Gen. 37:21-22). Their guilty conscience was awake now: "We are very guilty concerning our brother, in that we saw the anguish of his soul, when he besought us and we would not hear; therefore is this distress come upon us." (Gen. 42:31).
The next test was in finding their money in their sacks, when they arrived home. Then they report to their father of their reception. Jacob laments the loss of his children: "Joseph is not, and Simeon is not, and ye will take Benjamin away." (Gen. 42:36). Ruben will give his two sons to be slain, if he bring not back Benjamin. "My son shall not go down with you" is the ultimatum of Jacob, (Gen. 42:38).
This was a dark hour in that home. So it may seem at times that we may cry with Jacob, "All these things are against me." (Gen. 42:36). When the day dawns you may wake and find that all things have been working together for good. (Rom. 8:28).
We pass up the last test, of having stolen Joseph's "devising" cup and review Judah's acts as a true brother, how he has become surety for Benjamin and pleads for mercy. The speech of Judah in behalf of his younger brother, Benjamin, has been fittingly characterized as one of the masterpieces of Hebrew composition; one of the grandest and fairest in the old testament; one of the finest specimens of natural eloquence in the world. The result was that Joseph forgave his brothers.
All restraint is put aside. Alone with them he speaks their language: "I am Joseph." He spoke in deep emotion; yet the words must have fallen on them like a thunderbolt. Yes, it must be so; and it would explain a good many things which had sorely puzzled them. That is the Jesus way. "Father, forgive them—How like Jesus does Joseph end the agony. All is well that ends well.
