VACATION BIBLE SCHOOL

The vacation Bible school which is being held at the First Methodist church as a part of the special courses of Bible study and training, has an enrollment of some fifty-six at this time. The work of the school will be completed this week.

The school this year is under the direction of Miss Alice Funk, who is a student at the Peacemans school at Kansas City. Assisting has been a staff of teachers consisting of Miss Marjorie Arn, Mrs. R. B. Hayes, Miss Mildred Hall, Miss Jean Hayes, Mrs. Justus Lillie. In the opening week of the school Mrs. Edward Davis and Miss Maxine Cloldt also assisted in getting the work of the school underway.

The students find a very interesting course of Bible study and stories to fit the age and capability of the young people, presented by the efficient teaching staff. Manual training in basket work and other operations along this line is also made a part of the school work. The kindergarten pupils of the school also have the opportunity of supervised play periods.

The school will close this week and on Sunday evening the pupils of the vacation school will give a children's day program at the church and in which all those taking part in the school will be presented, showing what advantage the school has given to the young people in their vacation time.

Louisville Schools Given Drastic Slash

Largely Attended Meeting Moves to Take Sharp Reduction in Expenses of School.

A report was circulated that the school board contemplated building another addition to the school house this year, although there seemed to be no truth in the report. Members of the board denied having any such intentions. However, the memory of the size of their last tax receipt caused taxpayers to turn out in great numbers at the annual school meeting Monday night to offer their protest.

The board had already made a reduction in teachers' salaries and cut the corners wherever possible. The report of the secretary and treasurer showed that the disbursements for last year amounted to $28,850.41. They have on hand $4,412.87 and there is $2,596.09 due the district in taxes. Providing the tuitions bring in as much as last year there will be $5,000.00 available from that source. A motion was made by H. B. Koop and seconded by W. H. Hill that the district ask for $6,000 for school purposes.

The motion carried by a vote of 69 to 21, a number not voting. The board's estimate for school purposes was placed at $18,500.00.

By motion the salary of the school treasurer was cut from $100 to $50 and that of the secretary from $110 to $75, this to include the taking of the census.

It was voted to hold nine months of school next year. — Louisville Courier.

HAS LEG CUT

Wayne Murphy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Murphy, was seriously injured last Monday while working in the corn field with his father. Wayne was riding on a two-row machine, and in crossing a ditch was thrown from the seat, catching his leg in one of the discs and cutting it severely.

As soon as the accident occurred, the injured boy was brought to Weeping Water where Dr. L. N. Kunkel took eight stitches in the wound and put Wayne's leg in a cast.

We hope to hear of the young gentleman's immediate and complete recovery from this serious injury, and we feel that we speak the sentiment of the community in hoping that he will have no serious results from same.—Weeping Water Republican.

Boy Scout Party Have Shipwreck in Platte River

Lincoln Group Enroute to Camp Quivira, Near Cedar Creek Have Startling Experience.

A touch of excitement and thrill was given a party of Lincoln Boy Scouts and three of their adult leaders, Wednesday when the craft in which they were making a trip on the Platte, was capsized.

The party had gone to North Bend for the purpose of having a water trip to Camp Quivira, near Cedar Creek, where the party was to enjoy a camping period. Three men and eleven of the Scouts were in a large river cruiser (twenty-two feet long and six feet wide, which was speeing along the Platte when a stretch of bad water was encountered and in the rough and choppy going, the boat which was heavily loaded with passengers and baggage, shipped a great deal of water. A cross current caught the boat and it filled with water and sank to the bottom of the river. Dr. Max Woodward was the scoutmaster of the troop and was hurried from the boat as it started to sink. He was not an expert in swimming and was rescued by means of a rope sent out by Scouts who had made their way safely to the shore. Two of the Lincoln Scouts, who were not able to swim to any great extent, held to brush along the bank until other of the older trained Scouts were able to bring them on into shore.

All of the luggage and food carried by the party was lost when the boat sank.

To Tour South with Boy Scouts

Trip Below Mason and Dixon Line Substituted for Earlier Planned Yellowstone Park Visit.

From Saturday's Daily Rev. Robert D. Murphree, Louisville minister and Scoutmaster, was a visitor in Plattsmouth yesterday, and while here was a brief caller at the Journal office.

Rev. Murphree stated that although it has been necessary to abandon a contemplated Yellowstone park trip for his Scout troop this year, another extensive tour of the southland has been substituted instead, and all the available reservations were quickly filled for this latter journey, the number who can be accommodated with Rev. Murphree's trailer and camping equipment being from sixteen to eighteen boys.

Two years ago, Rev. Murphree took his troop on a similar southern trip and a most wonderful time was had, as the boys were royally entertained all along the way.

The possibility of making this trip again this year came about thru Mr. Murphree's desire to take his young brother-in-law, Henry Horton, who has been in Louisville attending school, back home, and by combining his own vacation with the trip, he is able to offer the boys a trip of nearly 4,000 miles, touching eight to ten states and lasting approximately twenty days at a minimum of expense. As Rev. Murphree, himself, was located for many years in Alabama, it will be a true home-coming to him and one that he will also enjoy greatly. He has arranged a number of baseball games to be played between the members of his Scout party and some of the southern troops including one near Birmingham over which he presided as Scoutmaster before coming to the Nebraska conference three years ago and locating at Louisville.

The party will leave Louisville early on the morning of July 11th, going via St. Joe, Kansas City and St. Louis, thence to Cairo, Ill., into the edge of Kentucky and Tennessee, and on into Alabama. Neighboring states will also be visited and the return route will be in different territory, so the boys will have opportunity of viewing a large section of the industrial and cotton-growing south, as well as many historical spots dating back to Civil war days.

It will be a great trip and every one of the boys privileged to make it, is most enthusiastically bent on having a real time.

Besides the trip through the south two years ago, Rev. Murphree took the members of his troop on a two weeks' tour of the Black Hills last year, and the Yellowstone park trip was planned for this year, but postponed till later date on account of general conditions and greater motoring expense and hazards in that sparsely populated section of the country.

Push Organization of Vigilantes in Nebraska

Some Ninety Counties Band Together Now to Protect Motorists; Citizen Vigilantes.

Operation of a state-wide system of citizen vigilantes, pledged to work with law enforcement officers in ridding Nebraska highways of violators of public safety laws is well under way reports Friday showed.

To this end between 1,100 and 1,200 representative citizens, scattered thru ninety of the state's ninety-three counties have been drafted into service. Their names are kept secret. Their acts, however, are expected to give wide publicity to persons who habitually violate traffic regulations and to aid county and state authorities in curbing of violations.

Each of the vigilantes committee members is charged with the responsibility of reporting any violation of traffic regulations witnessed. Reports will be addressed to county officials and to the Nebraska Motor club, Lincoln, a unit of the American Automobile association.

Violators will be notified of their violation and of the fact that a permanent record is kept of the offense. Prosecutions will be ordered where the offense warrants.

Already the effects of the operation of the vigilantes committees have been witnessed, officials of the Nebraska Motor club state. A number of trucks which have been habitually operating on the highways without clearance lights, presenting a menace to life of other drivers, have been notified of their offense and ordered to secure clearance lights. Trucks left parked at the highway's edge without proper danger lights are marked and the drivers warned against a second offense.

The Nebraska Motor club will act as a clearing house for all collected information and its records will be open to the public in instances where drivers become involved in accidents.
