Iris May Be Transplanted Now. Horticulturists at the Nebraska Agricultural College say that best results are obtained if the iris plants are transplanted soon after flowering. The various parts of the old clumps should be separated so that at least one good "fin" with a reasonable portion of the rhizome attached is left. The outer ends of the leaves should then be pruned off and the plant placed in a well drained soil containing plenty of life. Lack of drainage will cause rotting. The top of the rhizome should not be covered. No manure should be brought in contact with the root portion.

District 4-H Camp. Plans for 4-H club camp at Bellevue July 27-30 are under way. Camp is open to 4-H club members, whose work is up to date, and leaders. More definite information will soon be sent to all 4-H'ers.

Ten Grain Binder "Is" Attention given to the rusty and worn parts of the grain binder now may help to avoid delay later when the farmers are anxious to get their grain in the shock.

Squirting kerosene over the rusty parts a few days before the machine is to be used will help loosen up parts. All the kerosene should be wiped off and the parts well oiled before starting the machine. The Nebraska Agricultural College offers the ten binder "ifs" in adjusting the machine:

1. If the machine travels with a jerky motion, the main drive is too loose or it may be dry. Try a little oil on it.

2. If the slats rip off the canvas, the elevators are not square.

3. If the knottor hook is rusty and rough, it will not work properly. Polish it with fine emory paper.

MIAMI HONORS HAUSNER

Miami, Fla., June 23.—This vacation city declared a holiday of its own for Stanislaus Hausner, unknown motion picture operator, who clung seven days without food or water to his wrecked plane, then told folks here that "if I had a plane, I'd be willing to try the same flight tomorrow." Hausner was reunited with his wife aboard the Circle Shell here just before midnight, ninety-two miles off shore.

By the light of a brilliant Florida moon and flickering booming newspaper cameramen's flashlights, she embraced the man she had prayed for in the Newark church and home. Mrs. Hausner gave the flier a telegram sent to her by President Hoover expressing admiration of his "valorous flight and your own equally heroic fortitude and faith."

SMALLER WHEAT SUPPLIES

Washington—Smaller world wheat supplies are in prospect. The agricultural department said it seems probable wheat production in the northern hemisphere excluding Russia and China, will be about 200 million bushels smaller than last year. The July 1 carryover in the principal exporting countries, together with the United Kingdom port stocks and quantities afloat, was estimated at 15 millions less than a year ago. The United States enters the new crop year with prospects of a winter wheat crop about 377 million bushels smaller than 1931.

For a real old fashioned 4th of July picnic—a picnic in some out of the way place with Picnic Supplies and Fireworks from the Bates Book Store where prices are the lowest in town.

Enjoyable Occasion

Mr. and Mrs. Major I. Hall, of east of Murray, were in town last Friday and speaking of the little daughter, who was with them, said that her birthday was on that day and they were enjoying the occasion. Unlike her parents, who had passed their thirteenth wedding anniversary the day before, June 23rd, and had worked in happiness during the day, only to remember in the evening that it was their wedding anniversary.

They would have celebrated the passing of the day had they thought of it sooner. Not that they do not cherish the memory of this happy event, but the cares and experiences of each day press so rapidly after each other that they in their busy happy homelife did not chance to remember what the day was until it was about gone and was numbered in recent history. However, the Journal and their many friends are extending wishes to many years of happy wedded life and the more happy as the years go by.
