TICKETS HERE TOMORROW

From Wednesday's Daily Advice from Omaha today is to the effect that a supply of tickets for the Ak-Sar-Ben den show had been sent the local committee ten days ago, but due to their non-arrival a new supply is being sent out this afternoon and will be here tomorrow morning.

These tickets may be procured at either of the banks, as well as several of the stores of the city, particularly those open evenings, and the list of such business houses will appear in tomorrow's Journal.

One ticket is all that is needed to admit a gentleman and any lady companions with him. Inasmuch as a part of the evening's entertainment includes the serving of a luncheon and dancing, the Ak-Sar-Ben management is desirous that as many of the men bring their wives or sweethearts as possible.

It is only in the last few years that the Ak show has been open to women, and the response has been more than gratifying.

The local band will accompany the caravan, many of them riding in the Cotner bus, use of which has been proffered the committee by Clarence Cotner, without cost.

Further details of the hour of departure and stores where tickets may be procured will be made in tomorrow's Journal.

Two Bandits Rob Auburn Bank of Six Hundred

Bandits Exchange Shots With Merchant, Flee West; Cashier Was Forced to Lie on Floor.

Auburn, Neb., July 19.—Two young robbers scooped several hundred dollars from the tills of the Auburn State bank at noon Tuesday, exchanged shots with a merchant and fled west by automobile. A posse followed them.

The chase was spurred when the men were seen about 6 p. m., heading north from Seneca, Kan. Lester Armstrong, hardware dealer, who fired at them with a shotgun, was unhurt by three shots in return. His store is across the street from the bank and he had been apprised of the robbery by George Banks, who saw the gunmen enter. They drove a small coupe with a Gage county license.

R. W. Dirks, the cashier, was alone in the bank when the two youths appeared. They ordered him to lie on the floor of a back room and started to take money from the till. W. L. Orelan, a customer, entered and also was ordered to the floor.

The amount of the loot was undetermined, but bank officials said it was about $600.

The road west led to Elk Creek. Sheriff Carl Broady quickly gathered an enthusiastic posse and started in pursuit only a few minutes after the robbers fled. Officers in nearby towns were notified.

About a month ago David Sata, Chicago, held a number of persons at bay in the same bank, waiting for a time lock to open. He was captured and was sentenced to fifteen years.

Beatrice, July 12.—Police Chief Paul Acton received word Tuesday afternoon that the automobile used by the bandits at Auburn had license plate 3-8154. A car with those plates was reported stolen from Carl Allen here June 29.
