Asserts Republicans Failed to Keep Promises

Arthur F. Mullen in Radio Speech, Says Present Conditions Best Argument.

Present conditions are the strongest argument that can be made in favor of placing the federal and state government in control of the democratic party, declared Arthur F. Mullen, democratic national committeeman from Nebraska and a leader in the Roosevelt campaign, in a radio address over station WOW Friday night.

"The republican party won its victory in 1928 by misrepresentation and deceit," he said. "They pointed out that the election of democrats meant hard times and depression, and that the election of republicans would insure good times and prosperity."

He recalled some of the republican slogans and promises of that campaign, such as, "a job for every man"; "a final triumph over poverty"; and "a chicken in every pot and a car in every backyard," stressed in advertisements of the republican national committee and the speeches of Herbert Hoover.

"Difficult to Convince."

"With millions out of work and many millions living on public charity; farm products selling for less than cost of production; manufacturing plants closed; transportation systems in bankruptcy; general business disasters existing over our country; banks failing on every hand, it will be difficult to convince the American electors that the republican administration fulfilled the promises it made in 1928," he continued.

"The Nebraska farmer who is selling his wheat for 30 cents a bushel in the local markets knows that the republican tariff of 42 cents a bushel does not protect the wheat grower," he asserted.

Less Interference.

"What is needed in our national affairs is for the government to stop interfering with the ordinary flow of commerce, both inside and outside of the nation; open our ports and commerce trading with other people; stop using public money; stop disarranging and interfering with private business and disperse with costly experiments in which public funds are squandered and lost; practice economy in the operation of government, and go back to the simple and effective plan that operated in the democratic administration of 1913 to 1921. Our trouble is that we are having too much government," said Mr. Mullen.

PROLONGING STAY

From Thursday's Daily
Latest news from the Louisville Boy Scout caravan, touring the south, is to the effect that instead of leaving for home Monday, as earlier reports indicated they would, they have gone forth into further new territory on a trip that is taking all this week and will bring them to an Atlantic seaboard as well as points on the Gulf of Mexico. They expect to be back in Birmingham Sunday, for a rest-up from their strenuous sight-seeing tour of this week, preparatory to leaving for home next Monday morning.

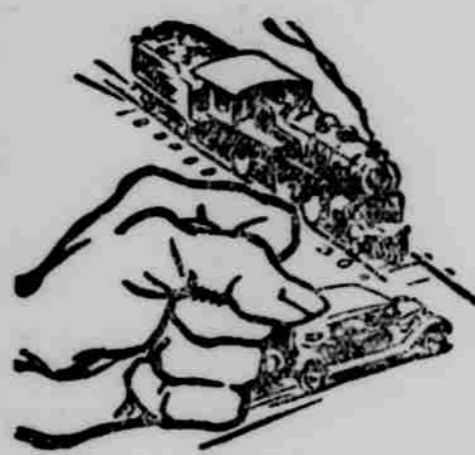

As most of last week was spent in the vicinity of Birmingham, they took advantage of the opportunity of outfitting a new trailer, built on an old Chandler chassis and equipped with larger tires capable of carrying the heavy load, and reports say they have had no further tire trouble on their trip to the Atlantic seaboard.

The load on the trailer when they left here July 11th is estimated at close to 5,000 pounds, including the weight of the chassis itself, and the 30x3 1/2 high pressure tires, although bought new just before the start of the trip, proved inadequate to carry it, accounting for their many flats and a delay of two days in reaching Birmingham.

According to present calculations they will be home around the 5th or 6th of August, after four strenuous weeks of sight-seeing and having visited more than a dozen states.

State Board to Make Reduction of 17 Per Cent

This Reduction of All Farm Lands While City Lots and Improvements Are 15 Per Cent.

The state board of equalization at the session in Lincoln has voted to make the flat reduction of seventeen per cent on farm lands and improvements and fifteen per cent on city lots and improvements. This was the announcement mailed to all county boards of equalization Thursday. In Cass county the farm lands had been reduced to fifteen per cent but will now be placed at the seventeen per cent reduction. The city lots and improvements were left as reduced by the county board.

The state levy will have to be increased to 2.22 mills or more this year as a result of the estimated 5 million dollar reduction in the assessed valuation of all property.

Altho $400,000 less is required this year to raise an amount for the state government equal to one-half the total appropriations for the biennium made by the last legislature, the board figures that an increase in the levy is inevitable.

The reduction of $400,000 this year is due to the expenditure of emergency funds for buildings and legislative expenses last year. Last year the state levy was 2.04 mills, which raised a total of $6,213,419 state revenue. The levy last year required 1.93 mills for the state general fund and .11 of a mill for the capital fund. The last legislature cut the annual levy for the capitol fund in two. Another .11 of a mill levy will be required next year when the capitol levy expires.

In its session Thursday afternoon, the board considered franchise values of public service corporations, land values being laid aside for the time being. No decision was announced.

The board is taking into consideration that counties returned assessed values of lands at $298,327,014, or 17 percent less than the year before, personal property at $99,948,647 less, a reduction of 24 percent, and lots at $92,869,779 less, a total reduction of $491,145,440.

The board has by its own action reduced railroad property $31,000,000, which makes a total cut of $522,000,000 in assessed valuations. A cut in franchises of public service corporations will further reduce the assessed valuation of all property in the state.
