Chris Rasmussen the merchant has been looking for a stove for the last three months and made inquiries among his friends in Weeping Water where he could find one for sale. As he had found none he went to Plattsmouth and purchased one advertised the Grist Furniture store which satisfied him. Returning home he was offered three stoves but did not need one then while before, when he was looking for one he could not find it. Cris says it sure pays to advertise.

Loses Tire and Tools

A. R. Dowler left his car standing in the street by his home the other night and when he went to use it in the morning found that the spare tire and the license number were gone and also the tools of a neighbors car. Evidently who ever took the tire wanted to use the number so that they might escape arrest should their own number betray them.

Frank Davidson Dies

Frank Davidson was born January 31, 1859 at Williamsburg, Pa. He resided there until he was some thirty years of age when he came to Nebraska, settling near Weeping Water. On December 10, 1892, he was united in marriage to Miss Lucy Squires, from which union there were nine children born of which two have preceded the father in death. Mr. Davidson was a member of the Methodist church and was a worker in the stone quarries for the greater part of the time that he was here. He had been in poor health for some time past and passed away on last Tuesday just before the noon hour.

The funeral will not be held until communication can be had with a number of children who are away. The body is resting at the Hobson Funeral Home until the funeral and burial.

Entertain Their Friend

Henry Mogensen, who has been at the Veterans hospital east of Lincoln since he underwent an operation for gall stones and appendicitis, was given a surprise by his friends, the members of the Weeping Water band. They went over in a body last Sunday and gave him a concert and the glad hand and made him merry for an hour. Henry surely enjoyed the visit and considered it better than medicine. He is doing fair.

Opening a Quarry at Nehawka

Ole Olsen has been at Nehawka most of the time of late where he is looking after the opening of a stone quarry there. He is to take his large crusher from this place to there. A road is already graded to the quarry and there is also a large boiler for the steam engine that is to operate the crusher. The crushed rock will be used on the O street paving.

Received Severe Injuries

Phillip Spangler has had a bull in his herd that during the past few months has had to be watched to keep him from hurting some one. While he had been deborned he still had some stumps which would injure a person. The other day while passing through the barn lot at his work, in which there were also some horses with the cattle, the bull attacked Mr. Spangler. The bull knocked him down and the horning and pummeling that Mr. Spangler received nearly killed him. Mr. Spangler endeavored to get out of the lot and called for help but the house was some distance away across the road. Mr. Spangler was able to get on his knees with his face to the fence and the bull kept butting him in the back until he was almost killed. The horses stampeded out into the pasture and the bull followed them. When found Mr. Spangler was scarcely alive and could not speak. He was carried into the house and a doctor called who gave him treatment and bound up his broken ribs. After some time he was able to speak but he is so sore he can scarcely move in his bed. After three of four days he is reported as being slightly better.

CHARGED WITH INTOXICATION

From Tuesday's Daily Last night Officers Dave Pickrel and Roy Stewart gathered in a man giving the name of Claude J. Akins, who stated that he was engaged in working with the grading gang on the Union-Nehawka highway. He with two companions, had partaken freely of the refined spirit of the corn at Union and decided to go places and do things and accordingly drove to this city. When he was discovered by the officers he had backed his car for a block down Main street and investigation of his action led to the discovery that he was intoxicated. Bond was supplied and he was allowed to be taken on home by his companions.

Betty Lou GOES SHOPPING

A TOUR of the Plattsmouth stores convinces me that there's never been a more gorgeous display of fall merchandise. If anything can cure Old Man Depression, these fall offerings ought to do it. These articles I have mentioned are merely indications of the values to be found right here in your home town stores.

Sincerely,

Betty Lou

THE VERY LATEST—and there seems to be much truth in the rumor—is that short bobbed hair is returning to favor again. It seems that the new hats require an even trim back hair line, and for that reason the curls that you have been growing so assiduously will have to be removed from the back of your neck—and aren't you glad? I'm sure not many women would truthfully say that they preferred long hair. The Etta Belle Beauty Shoppe is "up" on the latest hair cuts. Etta Nickles will thin and trim your hair in the latest mode, and you may be sure that the finished job will be an artistic piece of beauty work. Call 20 for appointments.

CLOTHES that are clean and well pressed give you a feeling of confidence that is needed in these days of competition. There's no doubt about it, personal appearance goes a long way toward success these days, and the man or woman who sends his or her clothes to the cleaners at frequent intervals is the one whose clothes are going to look the best and wear longer. It's a fact—Mr. Fred Lugsch at the Lugsch Cleaners tells me that the surest way of getting the maximum wear from clothes is to keep them clean—and have them cleaned as soon as they get dirty—don't let those spots "set." Call phone 166 and their delivery truck will pick up your bundle. By the way, they're equipped to recondition men's and ladies' hats, giving a factory-finish job at small cost. Also, special equipment just installed to handle men's caps. No need throwing that old hat or cap away—take it to Lugsch.

THE NEXT TIME someone in the family casts reflections on your cooking ability by asking "Who made the biscuits soggy?" just come right back at them and say, "Well, I could show you who's a good cook if I had a decent stove—one of those fine Copper Clad ranges that the Bestor & Swatek Co. sell would suit me fine." But, don't stop there—renew the attack by leading the man of the house down to the hardware store and showing him those wonderful Copper Clad ranges. He will understand how the copper-astobes lining that takes up the "sweat" prevents rusting out of the stove and they will refer you to scores of Copper Clad users who can attest to many years of satisfactory service. Then, too, the whole thing is so compact and neat looking. Your cooking will be improved a hundred per cent when you cook on a Copper Clad range. The regulator on the oven insures your biscuits baking at the right temperature—they'll never be soggy again.

ANOTHER WAY to make meat loaf more interesting—and this is particularly nice for beef loaf, is to put whole, shelled hard-cooked eggs in it. Press the meat down well around the eggs and on top, else when the meat is baking the eggs have a tendency to pop out of place. When the loaf is sliced the eggs make an attractive "design." Mr. Mullen at the Mullen & Sons Meat Market and Grocery Store suggests adding a can of mushrooms to a veal meat loaf and pouring the liquor over the loaf. It imparts a delicious taste and places the meat loaf in the "elite class." You'll find a fine line of meats of all kind, in addition to the complete grocery stock at the Mullen & Sons store. Watch their ads regularly in the Journal for news of real money-saving specials.

IT'S SIMPLY IMPOSSIBLE to "tie" a tie or an oxford for style and smartness—as perhaps you already know if you've been searching for fall shoes. Yes, indeed, the majority of the fall shoe styles are in oxford effects of some sort. Only a small percentage are in the strap models! But don't think for a minute these are awkward or clumsy shoes, because they're not. Those new suede oxfords are as smart and graceful

"I CAN'T AFFORD to heat my house with gas any longer," remarked a man who was discussing the problem of heating his home this winter. Lots of people all over the country are discovering that the cheapest and safest way to keep their house comfortable during the cold winter months is to burn coal. They have found, too, that the insurance rate on homes and furniture is much less when coal is used as a medium for heating purposes. The Hartford Coal Company will deliver coal to your house any time. If you have not ordered your winter's supply, better do so now before the really cold weather arrives and you're caught without an adequate supply. Call No. 22 for prompt service.

THEY SAY that eighty-five per cent of the nation's shopping is done by women. And at the H. M. Soennichsen department store they tell me that fully half of the men's furnishings are purchased by women. In that case, of course, most of the Plattsmouth ladies are familiar with the men's furnishing section at Soennichsen's, but to those who aren't I'd like to suggest that the next time you're shopping for the male members of the family, you go to Soennichsen's. Just notice the fine shirts, ties, belts, socks, underwear and pajamas and other wearing apparel for the men folks, and don't forget they have an equally complete line for the boys, including everything that's new. They carry as large a stock of men's and boys' caps as you will find in any store. You'll see for yourself the values to be found at this store.

AUTUMN DAYS call for new clothes. And a stock of the newest styles right from the Eastern style centers is awaiting your inspection at the Ladies Toggery. Just now you'll find frocks of light weight woven fabrics, deeply crinkled rough silk crepes and for more formal wear, luscious velvets. And by the way, the newest velvets have a dull finish. Wide shoulder arrangements predominate with an otherwise slim silhouette. And if you don't love the dozens of shiny buttons that are being used for ornamental as well as utilitarian purposes—you're not the girls I thought you were. Whatever is smartest in dresses and coats will be found at the Ladies Toggery.

LET FOOD be my theme—Dessert my song! Yes, indeed, as far as I'm personally concerned, I'd like my meals to consist mainly of desserts. But of course, that's not done in the best regulated diets. Pies have always been a favorite of mine, and since the discovery of "cracker pie crust," the making of pies is not so hard on the cook. "Cracker pie crust" actually has its own individual flavor! Imagine the delightful flavor of a pumpkin pie in a ginger crust. You roll fine, 18 old fashioned ginger snap cookies, mix with one-third cup of softened butter and a tablespoon of granulated sugar. Press mixture firmly with fingers into a buttered pie plate and bake in a rather hot oven for ten minutes. The Red and White Grocery Store has a fine line of cookies. The ginger snaps are grand!

LOOKING as one could ask for—and much more sensible than the sandal effects we have been wearing. Oxfords hold the instep and arch snugly which all makes for greater foot comfort. Fetzler Shoe Company is showing the latest in fall shoe styles.

IT JUST DOESN'T PAY to gamble with canned goods with whose label you are unfamiliar. You'll never be disappointed in any food products bearing the "Advo" label. Take coffee for instance—Why, there are certain foods that you wouldn't dream of serving for breakfast unless you knew they were strictly fresh (eggs, for instance); then why not be just as particular about your coffee. "Advo" coffee is always fresh and of uniform flavor. After all, good coffee is one of the small details that contribute so much to the satisfaction of a good meal—and you're always assured of satisfaction when you order "Advo" coffee. The A. G. Bach General Store has "Advo" coffee and all the other Advo label canned goods in their fine grocery department. You just simply can't go wrong when you specify "Advo." Phone your order, they'll deliver. Call 18 or 19.

YOU'LL ALWAYS FIND a bridge party going on some place, somewhere. How do I know? Well, I just do. And, besides, I notice that the line of bridge tables, cards and other accessories at Knorr's Popular Variety Store is always being inspected by a hostess. It's a fascinating and interesting assortment and as varied as you could ask. If you're making plans for a bridge party, stop in at Knorr's and select your bridge prizes there—they have an endless variety from which to make selections. By the way, I saw some wool jersey dresses for girls and wool knit suits for boys at Knorr's Variety Store. They were exceptionally attractive, and the price was only 95c. These deserve your attention!
