Reception for John Mefford

A family reception was given in honor of the 75th birthday of John Mefford at his home on Tuesday evening, September 27th. About 48 of his relatives gathered to celebrate the passing of his birth anniversary with him. Many well-filled baskets were brought and a happy social time was enjoyed by all. Those from Greenwood were Henry Kirk and family and Albert Bauers and family. Among those from out of town were Mrs. W. J. Kelly and son, Ellsworth, of Walnut, Ill., Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Homan, of Omaha; Lela Rung and family, Keith Armstrong and family, Glenn Armstrong and family, Steve Mefford and family and Myron Laughlin, of Ashland, Nebr.; Ira Chapin, of Houston, Texas; Sterling Amick and family and Nettie B. Amick of Weeping Water, Nebr.; G. G. Mefford, of Lincoln and A. G. Swanda and family, of Cedar Creek.

At a late hour all departed, wishing Mr. Mefford many happy returns of the day. John Mefford is an old time resident of Cass county, having resided in the county for over 55 years.

Buried in Christian Church

Mrs. Hattie Lundy, former resident of Greenwood, but who has been making her home in Lincoln for some years past, died last week, the funeral being held here from the Christian church, while burial was in the beautiful Greenwood cemetery. The funeral was conducted by a former student of the Christian Bible school, Manson Miller, who was a scholar in the Bible school when the deceased was superintendent. A friendship was thus former when Rev. Miller was a small boy that has lasted thru the years. Rev. Miller is now pastor in an Iowa town and it was with profound grief that he learned of the death of his old time friend and he hastened here when asked to say the last few words in her honor.

Harvesting His Seed Corn

Arthur Stewart, during the past summer, had some 38 acres of sweet corn, which he planted for seed and at this time he is gathering the seed, which is of a very fine variety and which he is caring for in the best manner and will have in the very best condition for seed the coming spring.

To Make More Freezers

It will be remembered that last spring E. F. Smith designed and with Edward Stradley manufactured the initial freezer, which he has used during the past year and which is still in use. Now these gentlemen will make others slightly different in design and will offer the same for sale to the trade this coming season, revolutionizing the manufacture and care of ice cream if they are generally used, as these men believe they will be, when their merits are known and understood.

High School News

Those who were appointed on the High school news staff are: Velma Rogers, editor in chief; Anna Hurlbut and Jennings Sorman, associate editors; Daisy Hurlbut, Ivan Anderson and Wayne Armstrong, high school news; Orval Stevenson, grade school news; Lucile Leesley and Margaret Kelly, humor; Eugene Weibke and Lewis Stevenson, sports; Minnie Palmquist and Anna Nichols, features, and Frieda Woltzel, faculty advisor.

Anyone finding a lavender and black fountain pen or a black and white fountain pen, please leave at the desk of the principal or superintendent.

The entire school from primary to high school recorded a perfect attendance last week. The attendance thru-out the entire school has been excellent, but a week with no absentees or tardy marks at all is very unusual.

The fifth annual convention of the Nebraska High School Press association will be held October 7-8 at the University of Nebraska. Many attractions, including the Iowa grid game, addresses by prominent news writers, a tour of the city and of a newspaper plant, will be awaiting those who attend. The Nebraska High School Press association is composed of schools in which journalism is taught or in which some sort of publication is issued by the pupils. Schools which conduct departments in local newspapers are eligible for membership. Member schools pay dues of $2.50 a year, which dues also constitute the registration of the convention. Whether the "Broadcaster" staff will attend has not yet been decided.

Norman Peters was a visitor Wednesday afternoon. Vera Payne of Beaver Crossing was a visitor Friday afternoon.

The High school is receiving some house plants from Mrs. D. S. Rogers and from Mrs. R. E. Mathews.

The boys and girls glee clubs are practicing on "The Harvest," a cantata which will be produced Thanksgiving week.

Early Saturday morning Miss Woltzel, Miss Larson and Miss LeValley motored to Weeping Water, where they had breakfast with Miss Holden and four other Weeping Water teachers. Breakfast was cooked outdoors northwest of town on a large flat rock. Large quantities of food were consumed.

Alvo News

Mesdames Frank Taylor, Frank Edwards and A. B. Stroemer were Lincoln shoppers Tuesday.

Elmer Klyver was shelling and delivering corn to the Rehmeier elevator on Wednesday of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Fischer were visitors at the Wm. Fischer and John Fischer homes Sunday afternoon and evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Linder and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Coatman and son were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Fischer Friday.

Rev. McKenzie was present to conduct the church services on Sunday morning, but his family are not entirely located with the household goods.

Ivan Barkhurst was a visitor in Lincoln on last Wednesday evening, where he was calling on a friend as well as looking after some business matters.

The Mother and Daughter Council club met at Mrs. Klyver's home Tuesday instead of Friday, due to the Cass county club convention being held that day.

L. D. Mullen has been having a new roof placed on his home. The shingles were purchased from the Banning lumber yard and the work was done by John Coleman.

Dick Shera, of Nebraska City, an old time friend of Eugene Barkhurst, stopped in at the store on his way to Lincoln to look after some business and enjoyed a very fine visit with his old time friends.

George Fairfield was shelling and delivering corn to the Rehmeier elevator on Thursday of last week and was getting the cribs cleared that he might have a place to store the corn of this year's crop.

Frank Warner, of Lincoln, was a visitor in Alvo last Wednesday afternoon and was a guest of his brother, Will Warner. Frank is to depart for California soon to look after some business as well as to visit with his sister, who resides there.

Louis F. Langhorst, who has been in Washington for some time past, and who has returned to Nebraska to remain until congress resumes in December, was a visitor in Alvo on last Wednesday and was engaged in furthering the candidacy of Hon. John H. Morehead, for first district congressman.

The new barn of August Johnson, northwest of Alvo, which was burned some time ago was replaced during the past few weeks and is again in readiness for use. This puts Mr. Johnson in position to care for his stock, in accordance with his practice of always having good places to care for his stock and also for his grain.

Mrs. Roy Stewart and Mrs. Elmer Klyver received several premiums at the Cass county fair with their domestic products this year; Mrs. Alva Skinner also receiving recognition in the fancy work and agricultural departments. Billy George Coatman received a premium in the Better Baby contest and several parties residing in this vicinity received premiums from other departments, showing that Alvo was well represented at the fair.

E. L. Nelson was a Lincoln visitor Thursday.

Returns from Trip to Kansas

Charles F. Rosenow and sister, Mrs. C. C. Bucknell, were visiting in Kansas for some ten days, and returned home on last Wednesday. They first went to Clay Center, where he went to visit with his brother, Ferdinand Rosenow and after a visit there for a few days they went to Howard, Kansas, where they visited for a time at the home of Herman Rosenow and family. Charlie tells of the crops being very good down that way, and that he had a good time while there. Herman, his brother, said: "Tell all my friends in that section Hello by placing the message in the Plattsmouth Journal."

Give Reception for Minister

The members of the Methodist church met at the church basement on last Friday evening, where they made a very merry evening for the new minister, the Rev. J. R. McKenzie and the good wife. A very appropriate program was rendered and a most enjoyable evening was spent. The membership of the church extended to the new minister and wife a most cordial welcome, which was duly appreciated by them and which they are reciprocating by entering into the work here with a most cheerful spirit.

Visited at Rulo

Mr. and Mrs. John Banning were over to Rulo last Sunday, where they went to spend the day and to enjoy a splendid dinner at the home of the uncle and aunt of Mrs. Banning, Tom Egan and wife, who are making their home at Rulo. They also visited

OFFICIAL PROGRAM

Corn Festival & Plattsmouth & Oct. 5-6-7-8, 1932

Under Auspices of King Korn Club

This is NOT a County Fair and it is not the intention to make it so. This is a CORN FESTIVAL—appropriately so called because this is the Corn season and further because in this locality is grown the finest corn in the world. We are honoring King Corn with 4 days of Fun, Frolic and Clean Amusement, to which we most cordially invite all our friends. Come and enjoy this celebration and its many Free Attractions.

NOTE—All events will be broadcast over public address system, from platform, 5th and Main, unless otherwise specified. All parades will go down to Lower Main street and double back. Spectators are requested to scatter out in order to have better view of same.
