REHEARSING FOR "WILD OATS BOY"

A home talent play, "The Wild Oats Boy," sponsored by the Holy Rosary church of this city, is scheduled to take place Oct. 18th at the Platz theater. Mrs. O. Sandin is directing the play and has picked an excellent cast. A full orchestra will furnish music for the production and thirty of Plattsmouth's prettiest girls will brighten up the choruses. The play itself is for laughing purposes only. In fact the whole show with all its specialties, and catchy songs and dances promises an evening of rare entertainment. Following are the members of the cast:

- Aunt Anne, Uncle George's house-keeper.....Gertrude Vallery
- Della, the maid.....Edna Herring
- Judy, Uncle George's adopted daughter.....Ruth Janda
- Danny Murphy the cook.....Herb Patterson
- Patricia Gilden, Judy's friend.....Mary Beveridge
- Eve Martin, another friend.....Helen Virginia Price
- Eddie, the Wild Oats Boy.....John Svoboda
- Jake Peters, cousin from N. Y.....James Nowacek
- Prus, the country cousin.....Mollie Gobelman
- Chuck Benton, ex-prize fighter.....Hilt Martin
- Trout, Prue's pestiferous son.....Lawrence Sprecher
- Seth, uncle from Maine.....Frank Koubek
- Mose, Uncle George's servant.....Louis Sedlak

HERE FROM LOUISVILLE

From Friday's Daily This morning Mrs. W. F. Diers and son, W. E. Diers and Ernest Pautsch, all of Louisville, were in the city. Mr. Diers and mother were attending to some matters in the county court while Mr. Pautsch was a pleasant caller at the Journal office and renewed his subscription to the Journal.

Cactus John Garner is in New York enjoying the world series. Unfortunately the series lasts only about a week, and then something else will have to be devised. Keeping Mr. Garner amused during a long political campaign is doubtless quite a chore.

Schools and Business Houses to Have Floats

Schools to Compete for Prizes in Parade to Be Staged on Next Saturday Afternoon.

The rural school and industrial parade, which will start from the Hesel mill on Washington avenue, will be a gigantic spectacle. Eighty-three business men are putting in floats to add to it's length.

The rural schools have made an unusually good response to this undertaking. The following is a list of the schools and the teachers' names of each district:

District No. 21, teacher, Bernice Hogue, eighteen pupils; district No. 3, teacher, Frances Wiles, fourteen pupils; district No. 25, teacher, Florence Shogren, twenty-three pupils; district No. 42, teacher, Marie Nolting, twelve pupils; district No. 29, teacher Marie Meisinger, ten pupils; district No. 91, teacher, June Kell, eleven pupils; district No. 31, teacher, Mrs. Lorene Cummins, twenty pupils; district No. 45, teacher Winifred Rainey, seventeen pupils; district No. 37, teacher, Margaret Bauer, twelve pupils; district No. 28, teacher, Mary Swatek, twenty-four pupils; district No. 60, teacher Anne Harris, fifteen pupils; district No. 74, teacher Alotha Tyson, fifteen pupils; district No. 55, teacher Loa Davis, eight pupils; district No. 27, teacher, Marjorie Arn, thirteen pupils; district No. 83, teacher, Alma Neill Wilson, six pupils; district No. 67, Florence Zaar, teacher, 14 pupils; district No. 6, Miss Fulton, teacher, twenty pupils.

The following is a partial list of the business men who are adding floats:

W. E. Rosengrans, real estate; Plattsmouth Steam Laundry; Wm. Puls, Hardware; August Each, grocery; Farmer's Co-Op. Creamery; Grist Furniture Co.; Jesse Perry;

Fricke Drug Co.; Ptak Confectionary; Martin Lohnes; Mullen & Sons; Louie Keil; John Tidball; Ofe Oil Co.; Petring Garage; Rhodes Tire Shop; Red's Barber Shop; Harvey Garner; Iverson shop; Ben Turner; Margaret Scotten; W. P. Johnson; Red & White; Black & White Cloidt Lumber Co.; Mauzy Drug Co.; H. M. Soennichsen; C. Peterson, pool hall; Kroehler Hardware; Pease Style Shop; Platts-mouth Building & Loan Assn.; M. D. Brown, jeweler; Shea Cafe; B. C. Cohn, hamburger stand; John Frady Garage; John Bauer, garage; Conoco Oil Co.; Telephone Co.; Lorenz Bros.; Kruger Paint Shop; Brown's Cafe; Weidman Beauty Shop; Hotel Barber Shop; Rosencrans Barber Shop; Bob Walling; Phillip Thierolf; Henry Goss shoe store; Majestic Cafe; Fred Lugsch, cleaner; Farnham Cafe; Hinky-Dinky; Home Dairy; Bates Book Store.

In case any of the business men's names have been omitted, they are asked to report at the mill Saturday afternoon, at 1:15 to help give the parade length.

LAND BELONGING TO REUTER ESTATE SOLD LAST MONDAY

On Monday afternoon at the Bank of Murdock, Murdock, Nebr., the land belonging to the estate of Peter Reuter was sold at referee's sale. Quite a large crowd was present at the sale.

The well improved 240 acres located on highway No. 1, one mile south and three east of Murdock, and upon which Henry Reuter has made his home was bid by August Stander at the price of $81.00 per acre.

The other farm of 240 acres upon which Wm. Rueter lives and located three miles north and one-fourth east of Elmwood was bid by Wm. Rueter at $55.00 per acre. This is an excellent farm and well improved.

The unimproved eighty located south of Wabash was bid by Dan Rueter at $41.00 per acre.—Elmwood Leader-Echo.

Road paving in Cass county this year will run about ten miles. Not so bad, for "depression" times.

FAIRVIEW WORKERS MEET

The Fairview Workers club held their first meeting for the year at the home of Mrs. Lon Jordan, the new officers presiding over the meeting.

There was a number of absentees as the roads were bad and sickness interfered.

The club is sorry to hear of the accident of Mrs. Will Wehrlein, as she has been an active and faithful member of the club for the past two years. She is missed a great deal by each and every one. A bouquet of flowers was presented to Mrs. Wehrlein from the club.

There were several discussion for the day. Among them was the project and study club. Nothing was definitely decided so we will wait a couple of weeks.

The meeting was adjourned at a suitable hour and a delicious luncheon was served by hostess of the house, assisted by Mrs. Dan Terryberry.

A new member was added to the club, she being Mrs. George Privett. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Herbert Franke, October 13th.

AWOENT CAMPFIRE

The Awoent Campfire Girls had their annual dinner party at the home of Edna Mae Peterson, Sept. 29, 1932.

Jacqueline Grassman and Mary Jane Mark were on the entertainment committee. We played several games in which prizes were awarded to Marjorie Tidball and Edna Mae Peterson.

Rachel Robertson, Mary Jane Marks, Edna Mae Peterson and Jacquelyn Grassman were on the dinner committee.

The dinner was served in four courses, cream tomato soup, mashed potatoes and gravy, steak, Gelatin salad, peas, cocoa, pickles, gems, apple Brown Betty and mints.

HEAR FINE ADDRESS

Friday afternoon the members of Chapter F. P. E. O. held a most interesting meeting at the home of Mrs. Bertha Shopp, the local ladies having as the guests, the members of the Weeping Water chapter.

The speaker of the afternoon was Prof. Paul H. Grummann, curator of the Joslyn memorial in Omaha. Prof. Grummann gave a most interesting description of the building presented by Mrs. Sarah Joslyn as a community center to the city of Omaha and which was dedicated to her husband, the late George A. Joslyn. The beauties of the building and its great art collection and as a home of the fine arts was detailed by the speaker. The meeting was under the leadership of Mrs. P. T. Heinemann.
