The Cass County Paper
The Semi-Weekly Journal is a Cass county paper for Cass county folks. News departments from almost every town in the county are just one of the many features that should make it the logical paper for Cass county residents to take. All the county seat news is another. The subscription price is no more than you pay for ordinary weekly newspapers and you get more than twice the amount of reading.

If you would like to try a three months' trial subscription before becoming one of the Journal's growing list of subscribers, just hand 50c to the Journal field man when he visits your town and we will arrange to have your name put on the list.

A GAME OF CHESS

Our destinies meet us like plays in chess,
And we pilgrims are "pawns" in the game;
The result of a "move" we can only guess—
Carry on to the end just the same.
We face opposition—keep pushing along
Through the struggle—determined to win;
Till we forfeit a "piece"—see our "game bits" was wrong.
And another stern combat begin.
An ill-omened "play" puts a "check" on our "King."
And we crowd all our strength to its aid.
Our "knights" and our "men" in a protest we bring—
Staunch "defense"—and a rescue is made.
A sortie we try, and we earn a "fool's mates"—
Then essay to recapture lost ground;
To find with regret our endeavors too late,
For we'd lost the few "homes" we had found.
The walls of our "castles" are too frail to stand,
And our "bishops" too weak in estate
To repel the grim foe that on every hand
Is sounding the tossing "check mate."

VISITORS IN CITY

Thursday a group of several of the residents of the northwest section of the county were here to spend a few hours visiting and taking in the Korn Carnival. Happy Wedding Last Tuesday

John C. Rauth, of Manley, and Miss Anna Tighe, of Omaha, were united in marriage on Tuesday of last week. The bride was the daughter of the late John Tighe and wife, of Omaha, and is a lady well known for her good deeds and kindness of heart, a sister of Mrs. Walter Mockenhaupt and a woman with a host of friends, while the groom is well and very favorably known around Manley and one of the pioneers of this section—a man in whom everybody implicitly believes. Honest, industrious and always willing to do all possible for a friend, he has a host of such, who wish them well.

The bridal party departed on a trip to the Dakotas and after a visit there will be at home to their friends on the farm near Manley. Congratulations are in order.

Many People Shelling Corn

Not because the price is enticing, but because the room is needed for storing one of the finest corn crops grown in years, the farmers are disposing of their present holdings rather than build more cribs to take care of the new crop. Among some who have just recently shelled are Oris and Arnold Schliefert, Andy Schliefert and Henry Sass.

Sang at Corn Festival

Miss Anna Rauth, the talented artist, who sang at the Corn Festival in Plattsmouth Friday night, pleased the large audience who called her back for an encore number. She was accompanied on the piano by George Rau, also an able artist in that line.

Played Off Tie Game

During the course of the season's play in the C. S. & L. league last summer, Manley and Eagle played a tie game, making necessary the playing off of this tie as well as postponed games, before the final standings in the league could be determined. In the play-off last Sunday, Manley was victorious by a score of 3 to 1. This gives Manley second place in the percentage column, Ashland being first, and Eagle third.

CO-OPERATION DID IT

From Saturday's Daily
Plattsmouth is closing one of the most successful entertainments it ever pulled off, tonight. The four day corn festival has been accomplished without the expenditure of any great amount of money, principally because the men behind it did not believe in the squandering of money was necessary to provide entertainment for the people in these times when excess money can be put to such good use in providing sustenance for poor and unemployed people.

Their belief has been justified. Back of the whole show has been a kind of co-operation that has caused people to remark time and again that never before has Plattsmouth pulled together so completely and efficiently as in the promotion of this festival.

Everyone asked to help with the plans responded readily and willingly and then worked in harmony with the entire organization. Weekly luncheon meetings were held for the past five weeks to lay the more extensive plans, while conference followed conference in working out the finer details. Not once has crabbiness been heard nor has anyone on the committee failed to fit his individual ideas to the general program.

It is the kind of co-operation that erects walls, builds cities and does things generally. China knew it in the days when its great engineering wonder of the ages was being constructed and other nations, states and cities have known it—invariably having their efforts crowned with success as a result.

Co-operation will work wonders and its continuation in the degree it has been practiced here the past six weeks will do more toward keeping Plattsmouth before the world in a favorable light than any other power that could possibly be evoked.

All praise to the men who have engineered the Corn Festival.

POPULAR YOUNG COUPLE SURPRISE THEIR FRIENDS

Henry Davis and Miss Dorothy Knutson, two of Louisville's popular and highly esteemed young people, surprised their friends last week by announcing their marriage which occurred at Blair last Saturday afternoon at the Lutheran parsonage of Rev. Frese, who officiated.

They were attended by Mrs. Eric Davis, sister-in-law of the groom, of Fremont, and Mrs. Elmer Clausen, of Ames, Nebraska.

The groom is a graduate of Louisville High school of the year 1931, since which time he has taken post graduate work there. The bride is of the class of 1932 and was taking post graduate work this year. The romance which culminated in their marriage began in high school days two years ago.

They expect to live in Fremont soon, but for the present they will remain at their respective homes. They are being showered with many good wishes and hearty congratulations by their host of friends.—Louisville Courier.

NELSON WOMAN DIES

Nelson, Neb.—Mrs. Lillian Hamilton Burd died here Friday morning at the age of fifty-five. Mrs. Burd had been an operator for the Lincoln Telephone & Telegraph company for a number of years. She was an active worker in the Christian church, having served as president of the Ladies' Aid, and also in the Sunday school as a teacher. She was a former president of the Nelson Woman's club. Surviving her are her husband, Dr. B. H. Burd, and one son, Ross. Mrs. Burd was a graduate of Nelson high school.

The Journal will appreciate your phoning in news items. Call No. 3. Thanks!

Barred from Grid by Marriage

Believing that a good husband cannot be a good football player, Coach Hanley of Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill., has barred Kenneth Meenan, varsity fullback, from participation in the game this season. Meenan brought his wife to plead with the coach, but the mentor remained adamant. So Kenneth will have to devote all his talents to being a good hubby. Mrs. Meenan, the former Jean Rogers, is shown above. The photo of Kenneth was made during a recent workout on the grid.
