School Parade Brings Out Many Handsome Floats

Country Schools Are Represented With Attractive Floats of the Corn Season.

The school parade participated in by the various rural schools of the county, the closing feature of the Korn Carnival Saturday, was one of the most attractive events of its kind that has been offered in the city in many years.

The weather conditions were not the best for the parade, but despite this fact a large crowd was present on the main streets to see the passing of the colorful array of floats and decorated cars.

The parade was formed on Washington avenue and moved east to the business section of the city. It was headed by Dr. G. L. Taylor and Chief of Police Libershal, mounted, the American Legion drum corps following and heading the cars of the mayor and city officials.

The Farmers Union band and the Plattsmouth band were in the line of march and their snappy musical numbers added to the enjoyment of the parade. As the parade moved through the streets the spectators were given a fine opportunity of seeing the different clever designs that had been made to honor the harvest season and King Korn.

A GALA OCCASION

From Saturday's Daily The Coronation ball, annual Ak-Sar-Ben highlight, was held last night at the "Ak" coliseum, attended by a crowd of spectators that taxed the capacity of that large building, and is estimated in excess of 10,000.

The coronation this year is of particular interest to Plattsmouth inasmuch as one of our Plattsmouth young ladies had a part in the cast that enacted the coronation of the reigning monarchs of the mythical land of Quivera—Miss Ruth Tibball, countess of a neighboring realm, who was summoned by royal command to appear before His Majesty, along with seven other out-state young ladies, playing similar roles.

The pageantry of an Ak-Sar-Ben coronation is something to talk about, all right, which doubtless explains why Omahans fight for choice seats in the spectator galleries and sit for an hour and a half to two hours waiting for the show after they get them.

Style Show Scores Another Great Success

Peace Style Shop Offers Wide Range of Beautiful Costumes for Inspection of Public.

From Saturday's Daily The style show in its concluding showing at the American Legion building last evening, was enjoyed by a very large audience and which appreciated very much the wonderful array of costumes that had been furnished.

The showing was of street wear, party and house dresses as well as sport wear, a large array of the most attractive gowns which are carried by this popular ladies furnishing house.

One of the features that was especially impressive was that of the black and white gowns and hats which showed a large number of the latest modes. The showing of the gowns was made by Miss Ruth Janda, Miss Grace Nolting, Miss Ann Ulrich, Miss Mary Ann Rosencrans, Mrs. Mary Beverage, Miss Fern Silvers, whose personality added greatly to the delightful evening of beauty and charm.

During the evening Miss Anna Mae Sandin and several of her pupils entertained with tap and other dances which made a pleasing feature of the evening. The musical score for the style show was given by Sergeant Bondy of the 17th infantry of Fort Crook.
