Bible School Lesson Study!

Sunday, October 16

By L. Neitzel

The Home and the Coming Generation

Gen. 18:17-19; Deut. 6:4-9; Mark 10:13-16. An exhaustive study of this topic will take us through the whole Bible. And for an analytical plan we will study this subject under five topics.

1—"Homes Looking Ahead." (Gen. 18:17-19). Homes exist for what they can do to make the world better and also for the sake of a nobler future, for the community and nation and world—as far as they can reach. The second purpose of the home is the subject of today's lesson which is the second of the series of three lessons in our quarter's course on "Christian Standards of Life."

Our Bible passage is from a striking scene of that great pioneer in faith—Abraham. He had received God's promise for a son; but had to wait until he was a hundred years old and Sarah ninety years old. It would not have been strange if his faith had failed. But God knew his man. He could trust him. The future family and home was safe in his hands. "For I have known him." Thus God selects the leaders in his course far ahead. To these chosen ones, he reveals his plans, because they are his "friends."

Isa. 41:8. "The future is only safe in the hands of men like Abraham—"that keep the way of Jehovah, to do righteousness and justice."

2—"Homes Built on the Bible." (Deut. 6:4-9). This is one of the most important passages in the book of Deuteronomy and in the whole of Hebrew literature. Here is set forth the doctrine of Monotheism, as against Polytheism. And this God is not satisfied with less than the whole being. He is a jealous God. "We can learn much of the Jews in the way of worship, in the use of the phylacteries, in committing to memory God's commands; in the use of his words on the right door post, thereby calling to mind that God must lead us out and in, if we would be safe. Man is safe from the temptations of the Devil, when he is always in close communion with God, and can say with the Psalmist: "O how love I thy law; it is my meditation all the Day." Psalm 119:97. The home is safe when built on the Bible.

3—"Children Given to God." (I Sam. 1:24-28). Here is a woman without a baby, who suffered much from her husband's other wife. Peninnah has sons and daughters and Hannah is childless, but Hannah knows that "Children are an heritage of the Lord." (Psalm 127:3). Therefore she prays for a child—a son—and God hears her prayer. "For this child I prayed; and the Lord hath given me my petition, which I asked of him." That is her testimony. "If all parents

Dr. G. H. Gilmore of Lincoln was a visitor in Murray for a short time one day last week, meeting many of his friends as well as looking after some business matters.

Will Smith was a visitor in Plattsmouth on last Saturday night where he was enjoying the Korn Karnival. Besides him there were many other people from Murray there enjoying the occasion.

Boedeker and Wehrlein East shipped a car load of very prime cattle to the Chicago markets on last Monday evening. They went via Plattsmouth and were hauled to Plattsmouth by the trucks of Frank Mrasek.

Ralph Kennedy has been feeling quite poorly for some time past but has been keeping up his work whenever he could, and at this time is feeling some better. He is now working on the new home of Mrs. Betty Barrows with the co-operation of J. A. Scotten and George Nickles.

Aust Nelson, Mrs. Gertrude Carper and Miss LaVerne Ingwersen, all from Nehawka, were visiting for a time at the home of Lucian Carper and Harry Nelson on last Monday afternoon. They had also been guests at the home of Sterling Ingwersen who resides west of Plattsmouth.

Will Build New Cave Mrs. D. C. Rhoden will have a new cave built at her home. The work will be done by her son, Kelly Rhoden, with the assistance of others that he will have working with him.

Services at Christain Church On last Lord's Day the Rev. Lloyd Schubert, pastor of the church, delivered a very thrilling sermon that was listened to by a large number of people. Rev. Schubert was taken with acute indigestion and was compelled would regard their children as precious jewels, intrusted into their keeping, to enjoy; but since they are only "loaned," we should be ready and willing to return them to the owner, when he calls for them. But how jealously parents should watch over them, that not one of them is lost. What a terrible awakening it will be in the judgment day, when the judge demands those interested jewels (our children), of our hands; blessed will be such parents if they can say with Jesus: "I kept them—that thou gavest me—and none is lost." John 17:12. Hannah consecrated her son to the Lord, as she had promised (I Sam. 1:11). That is what Godly parents will do. In holy baptism the children are presented to God and enrolled as members into the visible church. No Christian parents should neglect this.

4—"The Heart of a Child." (Mark 10:13-16). That lovely incident, Christ's blessing the little children, took place during the closing three months of our Lord's earthly life. Three of the gospels have the story. Children of various ages were brought. Jesus was a great friend of children. He would stop in his most important work of teaching and fondle a child. His disciples had not yet learned the lesson that the future belongs to youth.

Not only to children, but to adults, that have the childlike heart, the child's innocence, the child's simplicity, trustfulness, teachableness, belongs the kingdom of God. What wonderful encouragement there is in this scene for parents to seek a blessing for their children, in simple, loving confidence. "He took them in his arms," etc. Where are our children safer than "in the arms of Jesus?" When Jesus put his hands on the heads of that little crowd of Jewish children, he practically blessed all the little children of the earth with tender loving sympathy.

5—"A Godly Home." (II Tim. 1:3-6). This letter was written just before Paul's execution, to his beloved young convert, Timothy. Here is a fruit of a Christian home. Grandmother Lois, Mother Eunice, with a Greek for a father, bring up a son filled with the word of God; thought engendered by these Godly women that led this lad to the preaching of Paul, where the Holy Spirit brought the word to fruition, he embraced Christ. Paul lays his hands on him and filled with the Holy Spirit, he becomes a very efficient preacher at the important church of Ephesus. The groundwork of his character was laid in the old home at Lystra, by those Godly women. God bless our homes with God-fearing, loyal, true-hearted mothers and fathers for our youths' sake.

to go to his bed and has been at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Carroll. It was until the middle of this week before he was able to return home. He is feeling much improved at this time.

Services at Church There were services at the Presbyterian church on last Sunday. The superintendent of the churches of America, Rev. J. H. White of Pittsburgh, Pa., was here and delivered a most wonderful sermon. The congregation was well pleased with the discourse that was delivered.

Preached in Iowa Sunday The Rev. J. C. Stewart, late pastor of the Presbyterian church, was a visitor at Shannon City, Iowa. He delivered a very able discourse at the Presbyterian church of that place last Sunday which was well received. He accepted the invitation to return the coming Sunday and give another sermon. Mr. Stewart is well pleased with the city of Shannon which has an accredited high school and is a very lively place.

Liked the Korn Karnival John H. Farris, who is very discriminating with what he considers good and what he considers not good, said that he liked the Korn Festival and that it was a good show. John received first on wheat and second on popcorn, which was a good recognition.

Entertained Sunday Earl Lancaster and the good wife entertained for the day and dinner at their pleasant home south of Murray on last Sunday. They had as their guests Everett Lancaster and family of Nehawka, Jarvis E. Lancaster and family of Murray, John Eppings and family of Murdock, Roy Watson of Nebraska City and Dan Hoppehar of northwest of Myard. A very pleasant time was had.

Organize Junior Endeavor At the Christain church on last Sunday night was organized a large and very much interested Junior Christain Endeavor, who following the work of the endeavor, proceeded to elect officers for the present term. Miss Lois Davis sponsored the organization and did much to perfect the work.

These present were Mr. and Mrs. James Gruber, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Carroll, Mr. and Mrs. P. T. Wilson, Dr. and Mrs. J. F. Brendel, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Jennings, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. SEEK SHELTER

From Wednesday's Daily The city jail is commencing to resume the usual winter activity and each night the police have a large number on hand to seek shelter from the chill of the night. The number has been increasing in the past week since the first real cold snap and from ten to twenty-five are sheltered each night.

With the more severe weather of winter coming it is expected that the number will be even larger. Those cared for at the jail range from boys of 15 up to aged men, who by the force of circumstances and depression have been forced out to seek work of some type if it is possible to find. They have traveled over the greater part of the country and report closed condition in every section of the country; with the industrial east perhaps the heaviest sufferers from the drop in employment.

Nearly a thousand head of cattle on feed in the Plattsmouth yards and employment provided for a dozen or fifteen men. Isn't that better than nothing to "drive depression away?"

City Council Holds Very Short Meet Last Night

To Lay Matter of Needed Legislation Before League of Nebraska Municipalities.

From Tuesday's Daily The city council had a short and snappy session last evening and a thirty minute period permitted the transaction of all business and the councilmen on their way homeward to their families.

The report of City Treasurer M. D. Brown was received and showed there was a balance as of September 30th in the treasury of $13,087.58 with an overdraft of $10,756.48. The cash balance was divided among the banks of the city, the Plattsmouth State bank, $181.80; Farmers State, $1,884.58 and the First National, $264.72. Outstanding registered warrants were reported at $46,000.

The report of City Clerk Herman L. Thomas showed the sum of $155 to have been collected and paid over to the city treasurer.

The reports of the chief of police and the police judge were read and showed that three arrests had been made for the month of September and fines and costs of $20 collected.

Councilman Smith moved that the city treasurer be authorized to refuse the tender by the police judge of court costs that the law has set aside as belonging to the judge where the office was maintained as a fee and not as a salary office. This motion was passed by a unanimous vote. A bill was also presented to the finance committee for the salary of the office of police judge but which was not acted on as the council had at a previous meeting adopted the resolution to place the office on a fee basis instead of a salary which it has paid for many years. A communication was received from C. E. Beels, secretary of the League of Nebraska Municipalities in which the city officials were invited to attend the annual convention of the association at Broken Bow, October 11, 12 and 13. On motion of Councilman Davis the city finance committee was authorized to prepare a letter and send to the league regarding needed legislation that might tend to ease the tax burden on the payer and the city employees where municipalities have caused a serious problem.

The following bills were ordered paid by the council: Iowa-Nebr. Light & Power Co., street lights $295.75; Platt. Water Corp., rental $43.96; A. L. Brown, lunch $1.20; George Taylor, street work $2.80; John Kubicka, same $1.20; Ivan Taylor, same $2.40; Carl Eichenberger, same $11.20; Walter Byers, same $1.20; John Boedel, burying one dog $6.00; Iowa-Nebr. Light & Power Co., meter reading $1.69; Sinclair Refining Co., gas and kerosene $12.19; Lincoln Tel. Co., rentals $4.75; Platt. Motor Co., repairs $7.29.

GARNER EXPECTS BEER SOON

New York.—Expressing the "possibility" that beer would be legalized before March 4, Speaker Garner visited New York democratic headquarters en route to Albany for conferences with Governor Roosevelt. The vice presidential nominee said his "guess is that there will be some legislation for modification of the Volstead act when congress meets for the short session in December." Garner said this would probably result "from the demands of the democratic platform and the statements by democratic congressmen, many of whom are now up for re-election. It is practically certain that such legislation will be acted upon in the house. But, of course, I can't speak for the senate."

It is he you must trust to guard and protect the interest and welfare of your loved ones. You have a personal interest in the election of a County Judge who has had actual legal training and experience in the practice of probate law, who is incorruptible, fearless, and yet whose "heart beats in human sympathy," and who will extend every kindness, courtesy and thoughtful consideration to your dependent family when they appear in the County Court to settle your estate, and who will protect their property interests according to law. Upon this basis, I respectfully and earnestly ask for your vote. A. H. DUXBURY, County Judge Cass County.

PUBLIC LIBRARY NOTES The report of the Plattsmouth Public Library for the month of August shows 13 new borrowers. The largest daily circulation of books was 261. 534 more books were exchanged in August, 1932, than in August, 1931. These few statistics from month to month indicate quite clearly that the library is serving more readers now than ever before and, as most people are aware, the funds on hand to meet the expenses of this greater service are less than ever before since the library became such an important part of the community life. These two incompatible factors—more service and less money—have to be harmonized as much as possible by a careful budgeting of expenses. And some things, which we have had before as a matter of course, must be gone without. We have always made it our policy and felt it important and necessary to a live and growing library to send our librarian to district and state library meetings whenever possible. The inspiration and ideas which she brings back are invaluable in maintaining the high standard which it is our community's right to have. In this connection, we find it impossible this year to send our librarian to a regional meeting of the American Library association which is held in Des Moines, Iowa, in October. Five states are included and a fine program has been planned. And with the same purpose in mind—the giving of the most possible service at the least expense—the library is installing a small collection of what are commonly known as pay books, such a collection containing the latest in fiction, and under existing conditions, there is not the money to buy all the latest fiction as it comes out. The pay shelf books will circulate on the regular book card, but a small charge of a few cents a day will be asked for their use. As new books can be added to the collection, the old ones will be placed on the regular shelves to be taken out under general circulation. In this way, those who wish may read for a few cents new fiction which would cost from $2.00 up a book, if bought for private use. The demand for new fiction is always active and in this way we hope to meet the demand more fully. When the pay shelf is ready for use further announcement will be made of it. The school grades are showing much friendly rivalry in their reading contest again this year. Miss Haskaworth's room became 100% first and will have the banner first for the beginning quarter. Other rooms will have it in turn as they become 100%. Everything for school—most complete line in Cass county at Bates Book Store.
