Rock Bluff Democrats Hold Primary

Select Candidates for Precinct Officers and Organize Democratic Club.

From Wednesday's Daily
At the schoolhouse in East Rock Bluffs last evening the democratic primary for that precinct was held. J. L. Stamp was nominated for assessor, J. I. Fitch was nominated for road overseer and Perry Graves was nominated for justice of the peace. The attendance was exceptionally large, it filling the schoolhouse to its seating capacity.

After the primary the meeting was turned over to D. O. Dwyer, county chairman, who after discussing the political issues presented a plan of organizing a democratic club for that precinct. The organization was perfected by electing J. L. Stamp president; Mrs. W. A. Wheeler vice-president; Mrs. E. B. Hutchinson, secretary and Mrs. Robert Patterson, treasurer.

The county candidates were all present and made short talks upon the political situation throughout the county. The meeting was a pleasant and an enthusiastic one.

IN HONOR OF FRIEND W. T. ADAMS

By ROBERT L. PROPST.
It was just this summer while visiting in my home town, Plattsmouth, I called on my friend Adams employed in one of the departments of office in the court house. We had a friendly and social visit, greeting with a hearty handshake. That warmth of grip, that genial smile with a friendly "Howdy-do." Oh! I'm feeling fine, and how is Robert? After a brief visit we parted with another handshake. Goodbye Billy, Goodbye Robert. I went my way.

As I look back for more than forty years I have always closely associated with him. I have witnessed his development from a quiet citizen and farmer to one of the leading men of the community. Then I see him as a school teacher, and last but not least "bookkeeping" with spotless pages. His place will be hard to fill. Billy Adams had his ups and downs. But he fought the brave fight, and he never wearied in well doing or in helping. He carried all that he was in every day life. In all his intercourse with his fellows.

He walked along in hand with friends, and always bore his share of whatever burdens there was to carry, never complaining. No man in the community has ever enjoyed higher respect and a larger degree of confidence, the word of Billy Adams was as good as his bond. He never wavered. He stood for right, principals of living and right thinking, as well as equitable acting. He was always found battling for that which advanced and uplifted the community.

Sorrow's tears flow from great depths in contemplating passing. Just at a time when it seemed well, God's finger touched him, and he slept. So vanished to its eternal reward the spirit of W. T. Adams.

No truer words were ever spoken than these: He was honest. He was true. He was a friend. He was on the dead level. He was a patriot. And he was a Christian.

With a passionate faith born of hope and longing, we believe that sometime, somewhere, all the blackness of life will be made white. And the darkness will be made light and the loneliness will be compensated with an eternity of companionship and of love unalloyed. And with these thoughts I salute my friend W. T. Adams, and bid him "Good night." Tomorrow when we awaken at the dawn of another day we shall again salute, good morning. Farewell till we meet again.

PLEASANT BIRTHDAY PARTY
In honor of the passing of the eighteenth birthday of Miss Florence Schutz, a number of the young school friends were invited to join in a pleasant birthday dinner at the Schutz home.

The table was arranged with the decorations of the bright hued fall flowers and made a most pleasing setting.

Following the dinner served by Mrs. John E. Schutz, the members of the party spent several hours in games of various kinds and in which much talent in drawing was developed especially in that of the sea. In the sea drawing contest, Earl Mrasek proved the winner, while in Keno bridge, Miss Vera Johnson was the winner of the prize.

At a late hour the members of the party departed for their homes wishing Miss Florence many more such pleasant birthdays.

Candidate for Chief Justice Visits in City

Harry O. Palmer, nominee for Chief Justice of the Supreme court of Nebraska, and his aviator-lawyer brother, Arthur L. Palmer, both former Louisville boys, spent Monday in Plattsmouth and Cass county calling on the voters and visiting old time friends. They come from pioneer Nebraska and Cass county stock. Their grandmother, Matilda Peterson was among the first Scandinavians to settle in Nebraska. She built the Scandinavian hotel in Omaha more than seventy years ago. Their mother was born there. They settled in Cass county at Louisville in 1876, where the brothers were born, and where their father was a pioneer. He was formerly a Burlington railroad mechanic at Plattsmouth, and later a farm owner and merchant at Louisville where the brothers still have their farming interests. Their uncle and aunt publish The Courier at Louisville. Their mother's cousins are the Misses Alpha and Gerda Peterson of Plattsmouth. They say that it is a great political asset to come from Cass county as they have met hundreds of old time Cass county folks in their state wide campaign which has taken them into more than eighty-six counties.

Both are ex-service men and Legionnaires. Harry O. Palmer was executive officer to the Judge Advocate General of the Army, and he served in China, Siberia and Japan as Judge Advocate of the American Asiatic Expeditions. In Siberia he was for a time with the famous Czech-Slovak regiments which broke away from Austrian commands and fought their way across Siberia. One of the purposes of the Siberian expedition was the rescue of these Czech-Slovaks. They, however, were not in need of rescue as they were in command of most of the principal towns along the trans-Siberian railway, according to Harry O. Palmer. He pronounces their feat as the most remarkable military act in military annals.

The brothers are graduates of Nebraska Wesleyan University, the University of Nebraska, and Harvard Law School. Harry O. Palmer was two years editor of the Harvard Law Review. The brothers are linguists, and speak the Scandinavian tongue and German fluently. They say that most of the troubles in the world today are due to the desire of France to destroy the German nation, and the German people, and that most ex-service men would be glad to take the side of Germany to hold the evil designs of France in check.

After a campaign that has lasted since early in May, and has taken them to all parts of the state, they say that those who pretend to know, are of the opinion that Harry O. Palmer will be elected Chief Justice of the Supreme Court. They say that Cass and Sarpy county people who have moved to other parts of Nebraska are working to bring about his election.

11 COUNTIES FAVOR BUREAU

Eleven counties have now decided the farm bureau question favorably. R. E. Holland and H. G. Goyld, district leaders of county agents, said at agricultural college Monday. Sixteen counties had no remonstrances. Clay and Valley county officials voted Friday that the remonstrances were insufficient to bring the question to a vote at election time. During the past few days, Polk, Johnson, Otoe, Thayer, Dundy, Morrill, Keith, Custer, and Dawson counties have cleared up the question favorably to the farm bureaus and agricultural extension work.

County officials have not considered the question yet in two counties, and in several other counties the decision of the county officials will be contested in court either by the farm bureaus or the remonstrators.

TAIT-PITZER

Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Tait of Lincoln, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Frances, to Marshall Pitzer, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Pitzer of Nebraska City. The wedding will be an event of Oct. 30, and the service will take place at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Dave Noble, and Mr. Noble, in Omaha.

Bith Miss Tait and Mr. Pitzer are graduates of the University of Nebraska, where Miss Tait is a member of Delta Delta Delta sorority, and Mr. Pitzer of Phi Kappa Phi and Phi Delta Phi fraternities.

CANDIDATES GETTING BUSY

With the political campaign of 1932 getting into the home stretch, three weeks to go to the touchdown for someone, the candidates are living up their efforts. Many of the candidates have been touring the country districts and are now moving into the towns and cities to seek out the elusive voter and have their viewpoints of the issues impressed. So far there has been little shown of a speaking campaign in Cass county aside from two days at the county fair and the republican state candidates on their auto caravan tour through the county. If possible it is hoped by the democratic county committee to have a speaker of national note here before the close of the campaign.

WAR ON MOTORISTS

The motorist who visits Omaha after October 15th should be prepared to see that their cars or trucks are equipped as required by law. Letters have been sent to the sheriffs and police officers of the communities adjacent to Omaha regarding the proposed drive on traffic violators.

The letter asks that the police officers notify the residents of their communities as to what requirements will be demanded of the motorists who come to Omaha. Arrests will be made for paper license numbers, no rear view mirror, illegal lights, one headlight, no tail lights, trailers without license, trucks too wide or too long to comply with the state law.

The traffic regulations will be enforced to the letter and those who are found guilty will be fined for the offense or given a more severe penalty.

The large number of wrecks and deaths in Omaha as the result of the reckless driving and not properly equipped cars has resulted in the drive that is to be made by the city police department as well as the sheriff of Douglas county.

OLD TIME FEEDERS

The old addler's contest held at the platform at Fifth and Main streets Saturday, brought out several of the veteran handlers of the addle and how to delight their audience with numbers that have in the past served at the old time dances.

Rock Bluffs, 75 years old, was the winner of the first prize with J. C. Finley of Graff, Nebraska, 80 years old, a close contender for this honor.

Others who competed in the contest were Harry Rainey of this city, who received the third prize and Fred McClain of Nehawka, winner of the fourth place. Jarvis Lancaster was also heard in several of the feet tickling melodies of the square dance.

HEADS HOME LOAN BANK

Washington.—H. T. Donaldson of Lansing, Mich., was named president of the Sixth district home loan bank at Indianapolis, replacing F. S. Cannon of that city. The home loan board said Cannon could not serve.
