Murray

Mr. Vernon and his niece were calling on Arthur Hansen Sunday. Come to Lewiston Community Center to a 25c chicken dinner Sunday, the 13th.

Mrs. Sadie Oldham met with a very sad misfortune, falling and breaking her hip.

Mrs. Etta Moore has been confined to her bed the last few days with a severe cold.

William Patterson is suffering from a badly mashed thumb which was caused by the wind slamming the storm door on it.

Lon Crosser was over to Weeping Water on last Tuesday afternoon where he was taking a truck load of coal to a party there.

Mrs. Richard Williams and children, of Omaha, spent last week end at the home of her mother and step father, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Douglas.

Thomas Nelson was looking after some business matters in Plattsmouth on last Saturday afternoon, driving over to the county seat in his car.

T. J. Jamsen of Weeping Water was a visitor in Murray for the day on last Sunday, coming on account of the very severe illness of Dr. J. F. Brendel.

Phillip Kell was called to Platts-mouth on last Saturday to look after some business matters and while there visited with his daughter, Mrs. Otto Wohlforth.

Mrs. W. F. Moore has been quite poorly for the past week at her home near Murray. All is being done for the patient and it is hoped that she may soon be well again.

While chopping wood John H. Farris had the misfortune to have the axe glance and strike him on the leg. This caused him to be lame but he is able to get around with difficulty.

John Hobscheidt and son, George was called to Miami, Florida on account of his son's illness. They were accompanied by Mrs. Asche. They expect to return the later part of the week.

Mrs. Myra McDonald, Mrs. Etta Moore and Margaret, Mr. and Mrs. O. E. McDonald and son, Robert, celebrated Mrs. O. E. McDonald's birthday at their daughter's, Mrs. William Myers of Ashland last Thursday.

Mr. George S. Ray is staying at Platts-mouth where he can be near a physician as their family physician, Dr. J. F. Brendel is in the hospital. Mr. Ray is still suffering from injuries received in a fall from the haymow some time since.

Dr. and Mrs. G. H. Gilmore of Lincoln were over to Murray on last Tuesday, they coming to cast their vote at their home town. They have been at Lincoln where their son is attending school but they are keeping their home at Murray.

Mrs. W. H. Rishel, who has been visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Earhart, returned to her home in Platts-mouth last Sunday. There another daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. George Hall, were visiting at the Earhart home.

George E. Nickles was over to Omaha on last Monday and while there went to the Saint Catherine hospital. There he visited with his friend Dr. J. F. Brendel. He found the doctor cheerful and expecting to return home the latter part of this week.

Mrs. Hattie Royal was a visitor in Murray on last Tuesday, coming to vote and to see her friend, Mrs. Sadie Oldham, who was injured by a fall last Monday. Mrs. Royal is staying at Platts-mouth where she is assisting in the care of Mrs. Annas Ellington who is a sister-in-law and who is poorly at this time.

Twelve Knights of Murray School The meeting was called to order by the president and the roll called by the secretary.

The committees then gave their reports. It was suggested that we have a club motto. It was voted on and it was decided for it to be, "A deed a day is a star in your crown."

We voted on whether to have something for Armistice Day. We decided to raise the flag on that day. The members will find pictures of generals who fought in the World War.

It was suggested that the president appoint a committee to see how many good deeds our members do. The girls are going to dress their dolls like pilgrims for Thanksgiving day.

The boys are going to bring wooden soldiers for Armistice Day. Charles Staak News Reporter

Meets With Severe Accident

While Mrs. Sadie Oldham was attempting to hang up a coat which had been left on a chair, her foot slipped. In an effort to steady herself she slipped farther and fell. In falling she sustained a fracture of the head of the femur of the thigh bones which caused this excellent woman much suffering. Dr. Tyson was called into consultation and also Dr. O. C. Hudson of Platts-mouth and they placed the unfortunate woman in a cast that the fracture might mend. Mrs. Oldham is eighty four years of age and this injury comes very hard on her. She is receiving the very best of attention and it is hoped that she may in the course of time be able to be up and about again.

Dr. J. F. Brendel Very Poorly.

Dr. J. F. Brendel who has been in poor health for some time past was so very sick last Sunday that he was taken to Omaha where he is under observation and treatment. It is hoped that an operation may be deferred until the winter is past. He was taken over to Omaha by W. L. Seybolt and was accompanied by Mrs. Brendel, they returning in the evening last Sunday. Dr. Brendel will remain for the week for observation and treatment.

Surprise Their Friend.

The ladies of Murray and friends of Mrs. C. E. Carroll, who are many, conspired to give this excellent woman a very pleasant surprise. On November 2nd which was her natal day, they brought with them a quantity of well filled baskets of good things to eat which they had prepared. They made a most pleasant afternoon which they had designed and gave many tokens of their love and esteem which were compliments with the wish for many more such happy events.

Those present were Mrs. O. T. Leyda, Mrs. Font Wilson and son and daughter Roy and Mae, Mrs. Frank Moore and daughter Margaret, Mrs. Fred Hanni and daughter Marine, Mrs. T. E. Jennings, Mrs. Jim Gruber and son Gene, Mrs. John Campbell, Mrs. Jim Hatchett, Mrs. Myra McDonald, Mrs. Will Sporer, Mrs. Fannie Crosser, Mrs. Don Rhoden, Mrs. Betty Barrows, Mrs. Geo. Parks, Mrs. J. F. Brendel, Mrs. Will Seybolt, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Carroll and Miss Harriet McCarroll.

Enjoyed Very Fine Meeting

The Methodist church at Ong was organized sixty years ago near that place in a sod house on the prairie. With the coming of the railroad and the building of the town, it was moved to town where it has stood a testimony to the devotion of the people of that community to the teachings of the Master. Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Smith were residents of that place years ago and received an invitation to come to the celebration of the birthday anniversary of the church on last Sunday. They hitched up their gas wagon and at five o'clock started for Ong, arriving there at nine twenty five. They attended the church celebration and the excellent dinner which was a feature of the affair. They found only two who were members at the organization of the church, they being Mrs. J. W. Johnson, a sister of Mr. Smith, and Mrs. Will Stacey.

John Hobscheidt Very Poorly.

John Hobscheidt, jr. son of Mr. and Mrs. John Hobscheidt, is suffering very much from rheumatism. John is in Florida where he went with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Baldwin to spend the winter. He has not been able to get about except with the aid of crutches. On last Monday John Hobscheidt sr. and another son, George Hobscheidt, and Mrs. Davy Asche departed for Florida via auto. Mrs. Asche will remain there and the father and brother will bring John home with them.

South Votes Solidly for the N. Y. Governor

Four States Return to the Fold They Left for Hoover in Presidential Election in 1928.

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 8.—The south voted solidly for Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt today from the first report and then went on to increase his majority as additional returns came in from the presidential election.

South Carolina and Georgia, two states which have voted democratic regularly since the reconstruction days, showed the way. The lead in South Carolina for Roosevelt was overwhelming and his ratio in Georgia over President Hoover was more than 17 to 1 when a little less than half the state had reported.

Virginia, Florida, North Carolina and Texas returned to the democratic fold which they left in 1928. Tennessee likewise showed a big Roosevelt lead from the first figures. This state four years ago and in 1920 voted republican in the presidential contests.

Smith Easy Victor.

Senator E. D. Smith, veteran democratic member from South Carolina, snowed under his republican opponent, Miss Clara Harrigal. Senator Walter F. George, democrat, was leading his republican opponent, James W. Arnold, nearly three to one in Georgia.

A hotly contested three-cornered race for the governorship of Tennessee showed Hill McAllister, democratic candidate, in the lead over his two opponents, John E. McCall, republican, and Lewis S. Pope, independent democrat.

Florida returned Senator Duncan U. Fletcher, democrat, without opposition.

In North Carolina Robert R. Reynolds, democrat, was ahead of J. F. Newell, republican. Reynolds is for immediate repeal of the prohibition law and Newell is for its retention.

Alabama Back in Fold.

David Sholtz, democrat, was leading W. J. Howey, republican, for the governorship of Florida.

Alabama, which went democratic by less than seven thousand votes in 1928, indicated on early returns today its return to a big democratic majority. Roosevelt was holding a lead of more than eight to one over Hoover. Majority for the state ticket equalled those of the democratic candidate for president.

Mississippi polled its usual overwhelming majority for the democrats and Arkansas followed suit.—World-Herald.

Bible School Lesson Study! Sunday, November 13th By L. Neitzel

"Making a Living"

Amos 5:11-15; Luke 19:16-23. Our lesson study will teach us how man may acquire wealth, how to treat the employee and how to use wealth when we get it. Seven scriptural passages are to be studied: Deut. 24:14, 15; Amos 5:6-15; Mark 6:3; Luke 12:13-21; 19:1-26; II Tim. 3:6-13; I Tim., 6:6-16.

The first text shows us how a servant should be treated. Not to take advantage of him because he is poor, for God himself will take a hand in the matter. The Christian would follow the Master's example and show pity and mercy and treat him as a brother. The golden rule is the rule for employers and employees. Not only in regard to money, but in regard to thoughtfulness and courtesy, treat all subordinates as you would yourself be treated. That would end all strikes and other labor difficulties.

Our second text, Amos 5:6-15, shows us that ill-gotten wealth is an unprofitable possession. This farmer prophet could sympathize with the poor, being himself very poor and working hard for what he got. He rebukes those who mistreat the poor by charging too high rent, "cornering" the crops, by tariff charges, by stock market speculations, by short weight and measure and the giving of poor quality. The homes and estates of the multi-millionaires are a witness against them; they are not built from the honest earnings of honest toil.

Then we see the misuse of wealth in courts. The poor man is at a disadvantage against his wealthy neighbor, who can hire the best counsel, in some cases bribe judge and jury, and take every advantage of delays and loopholes in the law. "You cannot convict a million dollars" is a title old saying, but thanks to an awakened conscience, it is becoming easier each year to convict a million dollars and the time will come when these inequalities between the rich and poor will cease to exist so far as the jurisdiction of our courts is concerned. It would be well for the rich to heed the prophet's warning.

Our third text gives us the only picture of Christ as a toiler in the carpenter shop. (Mark 6:3). Nowhere else in the scriptures is Jesus called the "Carpenter." The Rabbin had a proverb, "He who taught not his son a trade, taught him to be a thief." With his trade, Jesus could support the family after Joseph's death. Kings are a luxury, carpenters a necessity. Christ's work in that carpenter shop put him in touch with all the world's workers. Toilers everywhere recognize in him a toiling brother, and know that he is one of them. He would give an honest day's labor for the pay he received. A Christian would do the same as his master.

Our fourth text, Luke 12:13-21 shows us a covetous man who wanted the Lord to persuade his brother to divide an inheritance with him; but Jesus told him that was the business of the law and courts, and added this injunction: "Take heed and keep yourselves from all covetousness" etc. Then follows the story of the rich man, who toiled a lifetime in greedy accumulation and expected to take his ease, but God said to him: "Thou foolish one, this very night you are to die; and whose shall be all this wealth." The Lord gives this impressive moral: "So is he that layeth up treasure for his own selfish purpose and it not rich toward God." A Spanish proverb says: "There is no pocket in a shroud."

The millionaire had died and one man asked another, "How much did he leave?" Answer: "All he had." Our fifth text, Luke 19:1-26, will teach us honest labor will receive rich reward. The pound (talent) given to man must be used, developed, which requires close application, study and exercise, but it pays, ten thousand per cent increase; the Master does not stint his praise, but is quick to recognize faithful service. Faithfulness is rewarded with more work for God. The man with less ability receives a reward in keeping with his opportunity and service. The third one committed the sin of omission.

In our sixth text, II Thess. 3:6-13, we find the admonition not to grow weary. Discouragements should rather urge us on to greater effort. Honest labor is commended. "No work—No eat" is Paul's injunction. Slothfulness should be discouraged.

Seventh, in I Tim. 6:6-16, we are warned against the sin that has ruined many, "the love of money." We are here counseled to be content. Striving to become rich is encompassed with many temptations. Not many can resist them, but are drawn to destruction and perdition. "The love of money is the root of all evil." There are better things for the Christ-man. Fighting the good fight of faith, laying hold on eternal life, which will require all his time and energy, and all the God-given powers. It is foolish to spend our lives in seeking wealth, for just as surely as we brot nothing into this world, so surely can we take nothing out of it.

Man should earnestly seek to be without spot, unrebukable, when his Lord appears at the last day, to give a crown of righteousness to all them that love his appearing.
