Do Your Ankle a good turn!

Exquisite Munsingwear Hosiery makes even the loveliest ankle lovelier and infinitely more alluring. Maybe it's the subtlety of their smart new shades, or the glamor of their cob-web sheerness, or the perfection of their shadowy clearness. You really should give your ankles a beauty treatment with Munsingwear Hosiery.

Greenwood City Ticket
The city ticket, which was voted on at the general election last Tuesday, includes the following successful candidates: Otto F. Peters, village magistrate; John Mefford, assessor for the town and precinct, and Jacob Witt as road overseer. Mr. Mefford has been serving in this capacity for 28 years. Jacob Witt, who has served the county well and kept the roads in splendid condition was elected because of the confidence the people have in him to handle this work. O. F. Peters, with his good judgment and knowledge of the law will make one of the very best of justices of the peace.

Election Day in Greenwood
The largest number of voters to exercise the right of franchise at the polls here in many years, turned out Tuesday to cast their ballots for the candidates of their choice, and while the greater number seemed to favor the democratic nominees from the head of the ticket down, there were a few republicans out. The crowd at the polls was large and at times a line was waiting to enter the booth and mark their ballots. One woman, Mrs. Fritz, of between Greenwood and Ashland, appeared and while she was able to negotiate the flood about the polling place, was assisted to the booth by two of the judges and when she got there was able to mark her own ballot. Another woman well past the meridian of life came in a car, and was waited upon by a clerk and judge, being able to vote while sitting in the auto. However, all got to vote, notwithstanding the large number.

Will Buy and Crib Corn
Rex Peters, the veteran grain man who some time since left the elevator line of work and went into the purchasing and shipping to Omaha of corn for the feeders in that vicinity, has arranged with a grain and cereal concern in Omaha, and is having a good sized crib built on the concrete platform that was formerly the floor of the building of the Nold Lumber company, where he will store ear corn as purchased from the farmers hereabouts. This arrangement will permit the farmer to dispose of a load or so of his corn whenever he desires, and when a carload is accumulated it will be shipped to the firm in Omaha.

Thanks His Many Friends
I wish to extend thanks to all those of my friends who voted for me at the recent election and brought about my re-election as road overseer. I feel that you did it because you believed I have been doing the best possible to maintain the roads of this precinct in good condition for travel at all times, and assure you I will exert my best efforts to that end in the future as in the past. Again, I thank you.—Jacob Witt, Greenwood.

BYSTANDER SHOT TO DEATH

Buffalo, N. Y.—Two men, one of them a bystander, were shot to death in front of a barber shop during a clash of rival gangs believed by police to be battling for control of the policy racket in Buffalo. The men killed were: Anthony Bonvita, thirty-one, said to have been one of several men engaged in the dispute, and Charles Cutinello, twenty-seven, reported to have been a bystander.

The double killing culminated a heated quarrel among four men who pulled up in front of the barber shop in an expensive coupe and three men who were standing outside the place. Two of the men engaged in fistcuffs and one of these drew a pistol and fired two shots. One bullet struck Bonvita. The other struck Cutinello. Both victims died in Emergency hospital. The fight had attracted a crowd of thirty or more persons. After the shooting all of the disputants made a hurried getaway.

Montana Pulls Out of the Mud to Solid Ground

$28,000,000 Spent on Highways Makes Good Roads in Every Direction.

Spokane, Wash.—Of importance to tourist travel in the northwest is the improved condition of Montana roads. That Montana has pulled itself out of the mud and now presents good highways north and south, east and west, was the substance of a report made by Mr. O. S. Warden, chairman of the Montana Highway Commission, to the thirty-third annual convention of the Washington State Good Roads association here.

Ten years ago Montana presented a difficult problem for motorists. Its great territory and its comparatively small population made road construction slow, tedious and costly. But it has surmounted its innumerable road problems and now presents completed highways comparable to those of other northwest states, Mr. Warden said.

From 1927 to July 1, 1932, Montana has completed 70 miles of paving, 740 miles of oiled roads, 2060 miles of gravelled surface highways and has graded 550 miles of roadway. Twenty-eight million dollars in government and state money have been expended. Five hundred forty-three bridges have been constructed at a cost of $4,000,000.

Contracts amounting to $4,000,000 have been let this year to construct 753 miles. At the end of 1932 only 800 miles will remain to be improved, said Mr. Warden. The state is letting $6,000,000 under the present emergency fund and $1,300,000 in forestry contracts.

The result is a completed highway across the northern part of the state from the North Dakota line to Glacier National Park, and across the southern part of the state except for a small portion; also a completed highway from Glacier to Yellowstone park.

The technical hour brought out some interesting facts about the cost of travel to the motorist. Poor roads and good roads, high pressure and low pressure tires, different speeds and rigid car tests over each type of highway were cited. The effect of shock absorbers on tire life, and the reasons for "washboards" were explained. Ratio of wear was shown as follows: Pavement 100 per cent; macadam 1700 per cent; rough macadam 5600 per cent.

VIVIAN DUNCAN DIVORCED

Los Angeles.—Successfully seeking a divorce from Nils Asther, film actor, Vivian Duncan Asther, the famous "Little Eva" of the musical show "Topsy and Eva," recited rhythmically for the information of the judge.

"Nils knew how to speak Swedish. "His mother also spoke Swedish. "But I couldn't speak Swedish. "So we three just couldn't get along."

She was granted not only a divorce on grounds of cruelty, but custody of their fifteen months old daughter, Evelyn Rosetta Asther—named after Vivian's equally famous theatrical teammate and sister, Rosetta Duncan—and an out-of-court property settlement of $25,000 to be paid by Asther at the rate of $500 monthly.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Rauth and Miss Theresta Rauth of Wabash were here today to look after some matters in the county court. While here Miss Rauth called at the Journal to renew her subscription.

An Overturning Country Over by Tuesday Verdict

Republicans Find Little To Salvage from Political Wreck—New Faces Next Congress.

The revolution at the polls which elevated Franklin D. Roosevelt to the presidency and cut down republican officeholders was emphasized by late election tabulations. The figures told the story of an electorate so determined upon a change that it braved almost every variety of weather to register the greatest popular vote ever known, millions higher than the outpouring drawn by the intensity of the 1928 campaign.

President Hoover saw every state west of the Alleghenies turn against him. Only Pennsylvania, Connecticut, Delaware, New Hampshire, Vermont and Maine kept the republican faith.

Roosevelt's electoral vote reached a new high figure of 474. Mr. Hoover had 59. For election 266 were necessary. Hoover received 444 four years ago. Michigan went democratic. So did Iowa, birthplace of Herbert Hoover; California, where he lives; Kansas, home of Vice President Curtis, and among others, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and Minnesota.

That was only part of a country-wide political upheaval. The result was substantially the same whether one looked at the senate, the house, gubernatorial races or even returns affecting prohibition.

Political oldtimers blinked as they tried to envision a senate without such captains of the republican old guard as Jim Watson of Indiana, Reed Smoot of Utah, George Moses of New Hampshire and Hiram Bingham of Connecticut. All beaten by democrats. Add to them another veteran, Senator Wesley Jones of Washington. The eloquence of Senator Borah in Idaho apparently failed to save his republican colleague, Senator John Thomas.

New Faces in the Senate.

The opposition of anti-prohibition organizations and of devoted followers of Al Smith, combined with the ordinary republican opposition, did not prevent William G. McAdoo from winning easily in California.

There were thirty-four senate seats at issue. The democrats captured twenty-five of these to give them fifty-six seats in the seventy-third congress. The republicans took five. The others are still doubtful.

On the house side, already democratic, the tale of republican disaster was repeated. The winners have 218 seats there now. They are certain of about 260 after next March 4, and 78 house races are still in doubt.

The aggressive and independent LaGuardia of New York sits often with house democrats, but the label, republican, seemed too much for him to overcome. A democrat will take his place. Ruth Pratt of New York lost to a democrat. Republican Floor Leader Snell was re-elected, however, from upstate New York.

JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL OBSERVES ARMISTICE

An interesting program in the observation of Armistice day was held by the Junior high school in the gymnasium. The program opened with the singing of "America" under the direction of Miss Cora Williams, followed by the flag salute led by Marjorie Tidball. The principal address was given by Attorney J. A. Capwell on "What Armistice Day Means to the Boys and Girls." Following Mr. Capwell's address Ed Westcott rendered several numbers on the marimba accompanied by his father, E. H. Westcott. The popular number proved to be "The Stars and Stripes Forever." The concluding part of the program was the bugling of the army calls by Roy Holly. He played all the regular calls used by the army and explained the significance of each.

CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY

The eighteenth birthday of Miss Mary Chancellor was observed Friday evening by a dancing party held at her home and enjoyed by some sixteen of the young friends. The time was most enjoyably spent and at the close dainty and delicious refreshments were served to add to the pleasure of the jolly party.

Buying Wave Lifts the Stock Market Prices

Brokers Point to Optimistic Statements by Leaders—Rail Securities Strong.

New York, Nov. 10.—The traditional post-election rally appeared in the stock market today, a day late.

Prices surged up buoyantly during the last hour of trading and many issues scored advances of $1 to $5 a share, substantially more than ebbing yesterday's losses.

Stocks were joined by cotton, which shot up $1.50 to $1.75 a bale, and the bond market forged ahead, particularly the railroad issues. The wheat market also improved, but net gains were limited to ½ cent a bushel.

For more than 30 years, the Wednesday after a national election had seen an upturn in the stock market, until yesterday, when prices quietly slumped. But the market made up for lost time today. As measured by price averages, the advance was one of the most sweeping of the year, and was the sharpest since September 21.

Rail Securities Strong. Railroad securities were particularly strong, but practically all groups joined in the movement. The turnover in the stock exchange was 1,558,010 shares.

The upswing in the market brought average prices back to the best level since the first week of October. Brokers pointed to optimistic post-election statements by some business and financial leaders as probably an important factor, particularly the statement by Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., president of General Motors corporation, who expressed confidence that business would "push forward aggressively."

Railroad Heads Meet. Strength of the railroad issues coincided with meetings of the Association of the Railway Executives.

After the close of the market, the association announced that it had decided to ask the interstate commerce commission to continue the freight surcharges which took effect early this year.

These meetings followed yesterday's meeting of the railroad commission headed by former President Coolidge, and in Wall street banking quarters, the hope was expressed that a unified program of dealing with the railroad problem would begin to take shape.—World-Herald.

Christmas Cards

A little early—yes and no, mostly no—to be talking about this subject, but we do want to tell you here and now that—

You can buy better Christmas cards at lower prices right here at home than you can get of door bell ringing salesmen now going around the country, if you will make your selection now.

Not all the Christmas cards sold in Plattsmouth stores are sold by us. Other stores carry complete stocks and what we want to impress on you most is to BUY YOUR XMAS CARDS IN PLATTSMOUTH, and make your selections early while stocks are most complete.

As usual, we can give you personal imprinting service on the cards you select at a very moderate additional cost. Early purchasers can be accommodated at our store and thus get the matter out of the way before the big rush a few weeks hence.
