Thanksgiving dinner at the Christian church for 35 cents. Eat your Thanksgiving dinner with the ladies at the Christian church. Earl Lancaster was having his doctor hulled on last Monday. Paul Richter was doing the work. Mrs. Frank Moore, who has been quite ill for some time, is reported as being somewhat improved at this time. Dal Young is picking corn for J. Y. Pitman and with the excellent quantity of corn he is able to make some pretty good records. Don York of Harlington, Texas, was visiting with his friend E. S. Pitt, and these two gentlemen enjoyed a very pleasant visit. Roy Stine of Plattsmouth was a visitor and was also looking after some business matters in Murray for a few hours on last Monday. W. G. Boedecker was looking after some business matters in Omaha on last Monday, where he was looking after some cattle and made a purchase of 40 head. Will S. Smith and wife were over to Plattsmouth on last Sunday where they were guests for the afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Lewis. James Horcher and Miss Neva Lancaster were over to Plattsmouth last Sunday evening where they attended church services at the Methodist church. Jarvis Lancaster was called to Plattsmouth where he was looking after some business and while he was away the mill was looked after by T. E. Jennings.

Mr. and Mrs. Lon Crosser were enjoying a very pleasant visit with friends in Omaha on last Sunday, they driving over to the big town to see their many friends.

A. A. Young has been kept busy with his carpenter work in the construction of cribs and other carpenter work, he going to work before daylight and returns after night.

Edgar Howard who is attending college at Monmouth, Ill., writes home that he is liking the school very much and is progressing with his studies as well as liking the town.

Mrs. James E. Gruber is caring for Mrs. Sadie Oldham during her illness following the accident which resulted in the fracture of her hip, and is proving an excellent nurse.

Dr. R. W. Tyson and wife were over to Elmwood on last Sunday where they spent the day at the home of his parents and incidentally celebrated the passing of his birthday anniversary.

A. D. Bakke has been on the sick list for the past nearly a week, and was so that he had to keep to his bed and while he is some better he is not as yet able to be back to his work at the garage.

Earl Lancaster is expecting to get the corn crop all gathered by the end of this week and while he is getting along nicely it takes a lot of hustling to get it done and will sure be pleased when the job is done.

Miss Ruth Young, who has been at Chicago since the folks, Dal Young and family moved west, returned home last Saturday, she being met at Omaha by her brother and sister, Bud and Vivian Young who brought her to Murray.

The Murray Study club held their regular meeting on last Wednesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Long where they had a most worth while program and where the gathering of the ladies were entertained by Mesdames A. G. Long, Wm. Sporer and Mrs. George Parks.

Thomas E. Nelson was a visitor at Diller for over the week end on last Sunday, stopping at Lincoln where he picked up an old time friend who formerly resided at Diller when Mr. Nelson did and who was also anxious to visit with their friends here.

Dr. and Mrs. G. L. Taylor of Plattsmouth were called to Murray on last Monday afternoon, coming to see their friend, Dr. J. F. Brendel, who has just returned from the hospital and found him at the office. They also visited with other friends.

Mrs. Addie Frans who is making her home at Louisville, was visiting at Murray on last Friday and was guest at the home of her friend, Mrs. Sadie Oldham, and whom she found some better but still kept to her bed by reason of the fractured hip which she sustained when she fell some time ago.

Mrs. Hattie Royal who has been making her home in Plattsmouth where she has been assisting in the care of her sister-in-law who is quite ill at this time, was a visitor in Murray on last Monday and was guest at the home of Mrs. Sadie Oldham, returning to her home in Plattsmouth in the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. George E. Nickles and Mrs. Henry C. Long were over to Omaha on last Sunday where they were visiting with Mrs. Bertha Shrader who is a sister of Mrs. Nickles and where she is recovering from injuries received when struck by an auto some month or more ago and who is getting along fairly.

Thanksgiving Dinner at the Murray Christian Church Following is the menu for Thanksgiving dinner at Christian church of Murray:

- MENU Roast Turkey and Dressing Chicken and Noodles Mashed Potatoes Baked Beans Candied Sweet Potatoes Waldorf Salad - Slaw Celery - Pickles - Jelly Cranberries Hot Rolls and Butter Pumpkin Pie with Whipped Cream Coffee Dinner ----- 35 cents Supper ----- 25 cents

Home from Hospital. Dr. J. F. Brendel who has been at the hospital for the past week and where he has been receiving treatment and also been under examination was so far improved that he was able to return home last Saturday and while feeling better he is taking the work very slow for a time.

Makes Purchase of Large Truck Frank Mrasek, the head of the Murray Transfer company, one of the principal transportation companies of this county and whose business is very extensive and which extends over a large portion of eastern Nebraska, on last Monday purchased a new International truck and with its trailer, it being twenty-eight feet in length, and with the truck proper is capable of hauling a full railroad car load of stock. Mr. Mrasek has been in the business for the past number of years and has always given the very best of satisfaction and has observed the greatest care of all property entrusted to his care.

The acquisition of this additional transportation facility will enable him to better conduct the business and to the advantage of himself and all his customers. The first piece of work which was allotted to the care of this gentleman, was the transportation of some forty head of feeders which W. G. Boedecker purchased last Monday at the stock yards in Omaha and which were delivered to the feeding lots of Boedecker and Wehrlein West and where they will be fed for returning to the market at a later date.

The Fourth Granddaughter. On last Saturday night the stork in conjunction with Dr. R. W. Tyson welcomed a very demimotive young lady to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Sporer, with the mother and little daughter doing very nicely. This makes the four granddaughter which had come to Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Sporer and they sure were pleased but they might have been more pleased had the last been a grandson. However joy reigns supreme in the homes of all concerned.

Will Conduct Revival. The committee having charge of the matter of installing the furnace in the Christian church and which under the supervision of C. M. Reed, are getting along nicely and have at this time completed the work so that it is possible now to have heat in the building, and following the Thanksgiving day supper, there will commence a series of revival meetings. Keep this meetings in mind and be sure to come. Harry Nelson installed the furnace.

Honorable Knights of Murray School The meeting was called to order by the president. The roll was called by the secretary, Virginia Townsend. The reports were given by the committees. The news reporter, Donald Nelson was elected. New committees were elected. Theodore Baker and Donald Nelson made a good and bad English box. The decoration committee has arranged pictures and drawings on the bulletin boards.—Donald Nelson, reporter.

In Memory. In memory of Herbert Archeus Pointer who departed this life one year ago today, November 17, 1931: One year has passed since that sad day. The one we all loved was called away; God took him home, it was his will. But our hearts retain his memory still. Our lips can not tell how we miss you. Our hearts cannot tell what to say. God alone knows how we miss you. In our home that is lonesome today. We miss your voice so soft and sweet. We miss the footsteps of your feet. We miss the good deeds, your dear hands did. We miss the smile of your dear face. No one knows how much we miss you. No one knows the bitter pain. Our hearts are broken dear Herbert. And our home will never be the same. In our hearts your memory's linger, sweetly, tender, fond and true. There is not a day, dear little Herbert That we do not think of you. You are not forgotten dear little Herbert. Nor ever shall you be As long as life and memories last. We shall always remember you. Sadly missed by father, mother, brothers and sisters and aunt. Mr. and Mrs. Archeus Pointer, Edgar, John Henry, Effie, William, Raymond, Harriet and Ernest Pointer, and loving aunt, Mrs. Lula McKinney.

MANY TO ATTEND TURKEY DAY "Everybody and their uncle" will be in Plattsmouth next Saturday to see the big turkey chase, for next Saturday is Turkey Day and a red letter day it will be. Live turkeys will be released from atop store buildings and anyone and everyone will have a chance to participate in their capture. The one who gets him can have him for Thanksgiving dinner. Old and young, rich and poor, little and big are all permitted to contend for these turkeys. There will be two releases—one at 10:30 a. m. and one at 3:30 p. m. At the same periods, as a sort of consolation prize there will be released between each turkey a good fat chicken—a piece of white meat, please. We advise you to come for the 10:30 event in the morning as you will likely have more elbow room. Remember its next Saturday.

LET'S TAKE ANOTHER START Old Sol in his glory, with effulgent ray. Gave promise to us of a most perfect day— When a shadow floats by and he's hidden from sight. By mists that obscure the faint glimmers of light. There are rifts in the clouds that now o'er us hover, But anon through the shadow a ray we discover. Presaging the burst of a glorious dawn When the gloom that enveloped us erstwhile has gone. We accept the glad promise and enshrine in our heart The covenant and faith that its symbols impart; So we delve in its depths and eftsown we may solve The mystical problems its studies involve. Then we'll face the wide world with beneficent smile And erase from our soul all its base, sordid guile; With our thoughts rid of error, of envy and strife We can start out again with a new view on life. BLEEDS FOR THREE DAYS Irvin Frolich, 2-year-old Eagle boy, who nearly bled to death from a slight cut on the inner lip, was somewhat improved in a hospital at Lincoln Sunday night. Blood seeped from the cut steadily for three days. The wound was made by an accidental bite. Dr. E. V. Wiedman said the boy is what is commonly known as a "bleeder," and that the flow was stopped Saturday by transfusion of a pint of blood. His condition still is critical, the physician said. The blood was given by a friend of the boy's family.

Bible School Lesson Study!

"Stewardship of Money"

Deut. 8:11-14, 18; II Cor. 9:6-15.

The subject matter of this lesson has been emphasized more in this century than formerly; for it had been neglected until almost forgotten. And still it is one of the most precious fruits of a living faith. A systematic study will be very helpful to a perfect understanding. First of all, we want to know: What is a steward? It is one entrusted with goods or authority for which he must give an accounting.

God has entrusted man with "pounds" and "talents" and "wealth" for which he is accountable to God. How should a Christian use money? How should he give? According to Deut. 8:7-18—

1—Give from gratitude! what church, what mission board, what Christian organization is not constantly in need of money? The Hebrew leader recites the many mercies the people have received from Jehovah, the guidance through the wilderness and the goodly land to which he had brought them. Let the Christian "count his many blessings," and his heart must be filled with gratitude, when he remembers: "that it is He that giveth thee power to get wealth."

2—Robbing God, Mal. 3:7-10. The withholding of our dues to God is likened to robbing God. And how many Christians will have to plead "guilty" to this charge? It is a fearful charge. Men have spent the wealth that God gave them, for themselves, in luxuries and non-essentials and God's treasury is empty. Man does not profit by holding back what belongs to God; the scriptures condemn him as a "robber."

3—Man's Heart follows His Treasure. Luke 12:22-24. The example of the foolish rich man proves it. He had no treasure in heaven; he had lived a selfish life and proposed to keep on; he had no thought for the suffering of others, had nothing for the cause of God's kingdom—that night he had to meet his maker. Jesus teaches his disciples to trust God, who will reward them richly. No man has ever given himself poor. By giving to God, even when money is scarce, we can "prove him." His promise is: "I will open the windows of heaven and pour out a blessing, that there shall not be room enough to receive it."

4—Giving Regularly. I Cor. 16:1-4. Paul was a man of method and system. How much easier and better to give regularly. God complains "that there is no meat in his storehouse." Mal. 3:10. So many church treasuries are empty, deficits are growing to enormous proportions.

The officials are pleading for funds, but to no avail. If all Christians would follow Paul's suggestions, there would be no lack of funds to carry on the work of the church.

5—Abundant Giving. II Cor. 8:1-15. The Macedonians are used as an example for abundant giving, thus inciting the Corinthians to rivalry. When all is on the altar—body, soul and spirit—then there is no need of begging for gifts to the king, then Christians will entreat the church to take their gifts. Such giving would cause quite a commotion in heaven. Methinks I can hear the heavenly host shout, "Praise ye the Lord; Sing unto the Lord a new song, and his praise in the congregation of Saints."

6—Cheerful Giving. II Cor. 9:1-15. This chapter follows close after the last. In this chapter, Paul urges the Corinthians to not lag behind others, and points out to them the picture, so well known to his hearers, of the man that sows sparingly that the harvest will be likewise. Time is a seed-field; in youth we sow it with causes and in after-life we reap the harvest of effects, as is apparent to all. We have the wrecks all around us of indulgence in youth, of premature old age. But of the cheerful giver it is written in Psalm 112:9, and repeated in II Cor. 9:9: "He hath dispersed, scattered abroad; he hath given to the poor, his righteousness abideth forever." "In return for his generosity, God will give him continually the disposition to be generous; the charitable man has his reward in becoming more charitable—a true spiritual blessing." (Dummelow).

7—Rich in Good Works. I Tim. 6:17-19. This is Paul's charge to the rich members of that church at Ephesus—to remember, first, that it is God who gives wealth, and wealth is uncertain, but put and fix their minds on the certainty of God. "who giveth us richly all things to enjoy; that they do good, be rich in good works, willingly give, thereby laying a foundation against the time to come, laying hold of eternal life."

Having made good use of all that God had entrusted to him, he can on that day of reckoning say: "Lord, thou deliverest unto me five talents; behold, I have gained besides them five talents more." His Lord will give him a rich reward. "Enter thou into the joy of thy Lord."

The Christian should definitely recognize and regard the fact that he is God's steward in his business or whatever way he acquires wealth. Unfaithful stewardship hinders the coming of God's kingdom, and who would be guilty of this charge?
