

GREENWOOD

Nell Marvin has been quite sick with the flu, but was able to return to school last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Headley and son spent Thanksgiving day with his sister, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Rudolph at Eagle.

Mrs. C. A. Mathis received the sad news last Thursday evening that her sister had passed away at Alhambra, California.

Mrs. G. V. Vant and children, Dorothy and Jack, and Lucille Norton spent Thanksgiving in Lincoln visiting her sister.

Mrs. M. G. Wright was a visitor in Ashland early last week, where she was looking after some business matters for a few hours.

D. S. Rogers went to Louisville Saturday morning and then Mr. and Mrs. Urwin all went to Omaha. D. S. Rogers returned home on Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Zeigler, Mr. and Mrs. Hagland and Mr. and Mrs. Shellenberger, all of Omaha, spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Armstrong.

Mr. and Mrs. Austin Finlay and son Howard of near Emerald and Mr. and Mrs. John Meyer, of Lincoln, all spent Thanksgiving in Omaha with Mrs. Finlay.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hurlbut and family went to Falls City Saturday afternoon to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mercer. They returned home Sunday evening.

The King's Daughters Sunday school class will meet on Friday of this week, December 9th, at the Christian church with Mrs. Clyde Newkirk as hostess.

Clyde Newkirk has been out in the timber during the nice days, chopping wood for the home and the filling station and should any one want any he has it to sell.

Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Peters entertained Mrs. James and two sons and Miss Maxine Gumble, all of Omaha, and Norman and Glenn Peters for Thanksgiving dinner.

E. O. Miller accompanied his father to Omaha last Tuesday evening, at which place the latter will spend the winter with his daughter, Mrs. Herbert Hardin and husband.

Mrs. Opal Hartsook came in last Monday, November 28th, from Chicago, to visit her son Earl, who is in the Lincoln General hospital and also with other relatives.

The Woman's club will meet on Wednesday of this week at the home of Mrs. E. A. Landon. Plans for the community Christmas will be discussed by Mrs. O. F. Peters.

Mrs. George Shellberg, of Omaha, came down to visit her mother, Mrs. Katie Woodruff on Thanksgiving day. They were dinner guests at the Harry Lesley home that day.

Miss Mary Rogers, of Omaha, Mr. and Mrs. Don Wevin and son, of Louisville, came Wednesday and visited over Thanksgiving with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Rogers.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray McNurlin, Mrs. Rosetta Axmaker and Mrs. Ellen McNurlin of Broadwater, Neb., and Gus McNurlin were guests of Mrs. Myra Howard on Thanksgiving day.

Robert E. Mathews and his right hand man, Walter Lovelle, were getting ready for the annual inventory and as well were re-arranging their stock while the day was fine and the weather pleasant.

Miss Marian Hartsook, who is engaged in teaching school at Red Cloud, was home over Thanksgiving visiting her father, O. M. Hartsook and aunt, Miss Ethel Hartsook. She left Sunday for Red Cloud.

Ross Clary and Clayton Sanborn, who are pals in the wood-cutting business, have been making wood while the sun shines on the timber of Ole Olson, northwest of Greenwood and are getting the wood ready for winter use.

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Marvin, Helen and Nell, Mrs. Mamie Kimberley, Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Blair and daughter, Lois, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Shepard and daughter Carmen were guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Wiedeman on Thanksgiving day.

Miss Catherine Coleman was a visitor at Ashland on Tuesday of last week, where she was called to look after some business matters for the day and while she was away, the postoffice was looked after by Mrs. M. G. Wright, her sister.

Stanley Vance and wife, who have been visiting for some time past at the home of her parents, at LaGrand, Iowa, report a very pleasant visit. They found an excellent crop of corn in that vicinity, but the grain bringing only 8 cents a bushel.

Alfred Hutchinson, who had the misfortune to have the end of his thumb cut off in the chain of an elevator, is getting along nicely and it is thought the injured member, which is being cared for by Dr. N. D. Talcott, will soon be entirely well.

Hon. Wm. Potter of Plattsmouth was called to Greenwood last Wednesday to look after some matters of business for a short time and was accompanied by his grandmother, Mrs. Berla and great aunt, Mrs. Clarey. They also visited with friends while here.

Mrs. W. A. Armstrong and Mrs. O. F. Peters drove to Plattsmouth on last Wednesday, where they got the Red Cross material. Miss Florence Beighley returned home with them for a visit over the Thanksgiving vacation. She returned to her school duties on Sunday evening.

M. L. Evans and wife, of Ashland, were visiting last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Smith, being accompanied by Miss Fern Ridgeley, who is a niece of the Smiths, residing at Wewela, South Dakota, but who has been visiting with friends and relatives here for some weeks.

Will be Well Represented

Greenwood Legion post will be well represented at the district convention at Plattsmouth Tuesday. Commander Phil Hall will be principal speaker at the six o'clock stag dinner at the Legion building and a goodly delegation of the members will attend the convention in support of the candidacy of "Duke" Headley, local post member, for the office of next district commander. The post also expects to have its cannon that was featured in the parade at the state convention at Norfolk at Plattsmouth.

Getting Along Nicely

Turner M. McKinnon who a short time since had the misfortune to fracture a number of his ribs, is reported as getting along nicely at this time and it is hoped that he will soon be well again.

Were Winter Fishing

A party from Alvo composed of L. D. Mullen, Carl Rosenow, Edgar Edwards and Charles F. Rosenow were over and engaged in the sport of winter fishing, being able to secure some forty pounds of fish, which they took home, a portion to eat and the rest to give to their friends.

Has Badly Infested Hand

Warren A. White, senior member of the firm of White & Bucknell, recently received an injury to one of his hands, which later became infested and has proven to be a very sore member of his anatomy. He has been under the care of Dr. Talcott and while not yet out of danger, is showing marked improvement. It is hoped that he will soon be safely over the injury that is causing him much inconvenience.

Buying Much Corn

Rex Peters has been buying a great deal of ear corn, placing it in his cribs, which have a capacity of 13,000 bushels and are now filled to overflowing, with the grain still coming in at a lively rate. Mr. Peters is paying 12 cents a bushel for the corn and will shell and ship what he has on hand to make room for more.

Married at Omaha

On last Saturday night, at 8:30, at Omaha, occurred the wedding of Glen Peters and Miss Maxine Gumble, the latter of Omaha. The young people have not gone to housekeeping as yet and will wait for a short time before deciding as to where they will locate. Their friends are extending best wishes for their happiness, health and prosperity.

Death of Mrs. Wilburn

Mrs. Thomas J. Wilburn, first white child born in Saunders county, died Wednesday evening at the home of her daughter, Mrs. R. C. Cole, in Brunswick, Neb., at the age of 72. She was Lona C. Chapin, daughter of W. F. and Margaret Chapin, prominent in early Nebraska history. Mr. Chapin had come to Nebraska in the year 1854 from New York and immediately entered into the political life of the territory of Nebraska. He was receiver of the first land office in the state, served in the legislature for many years and was speaker during the memorable session of 1867, when the capital was removed from Omaha to Lincoln. He was also the first mayor of Lincoln and his portrait hangs in the city hall today.

During all the years of her father's political life, Mrs. Wilburn (and for many years the entire family) lived near Greenwood. There three children were born to them, Carleton C. Wilburn, of Jerome, Idaho; Vernon C. Wilburn, of Atkinson, and Mrs. Lona C. Cole, of Brunswick. In 1908 the family removed to At-

LEGION NEWS

By Post Adjutant

Tuesday is convention day!

Pay your dues and save a buck!

All members are urged to turn out Monday night to help get the halls ready for convention day.

It would be difficult to even hazard a guess of the number of visiting Legion and Auxiliary members who will be here that day.

Offhand, we would say, three to four hundred if the weather is at all favorable. Plattsmouth has created a fine reputation as a host city as a result of the splendid way it entertained the old First district convention in 1926, and many who are not in the habit of attending district conventions as they are now conducted will be here.

Post cards have come in from four of the nineteen district posts asked to report not later than Monday the probable number of their members who will attend. The lowest estimate on the cards so far returned is seven, while Greenwood is high, with 44 promised.

It has taken a lot of work and some money to put this year's convention over, but there has been splendid cooperation among our post members to the end that the task may be successfully achieved and with any kind of a break from the weather man, a real crowd may be looked for. It is a credit to us, as Legionnaires and to the business men and citizens of the town to see that they do not go away disappointed in the entertainment and general good time provided.

Our own membership situation— which is in the "red" as the banker would say—should be greatly benefited as a result of the action taken at Thursday night's post meeting, to wit: Every member who has his dues paid up for 1933 by convention day will be relieved from payment of the $1 registration fee. In other words, pay your dues pronto, and get the $1 worth of food and entertainment thrown in at no extra cost. Everyone will want to attend the stag dinner, floor show and dance and can do so without cost by paying his dues now. Cards will be made out for everyone paying dues up to Monday night, and those who still want to get "under the line" Tuesday, can pay their $3 dues to the registration committee instead of paying a $1 registration fee and take advantage of this opportunity.

Chairman Soennichsen of the feed committee (who, by the way, has charge of the feed in 1934) is arranging a real treat, with plenty to eat, and will again provide "A pie apiece in Plattsmouth" as part of the menu. Baked Virginia ham and escalloped potatoes will comprise some of the other portions of the menu. In style, instead of the barbecue or buffet luncheon so often dished out at gatherings of this kind.

Committee members appointed to look after some of the detail work in connection with the convention are: Registration—L. D. Boynton, George Conis and Maldon Brown.

Reception—A. H. Duxbury, W. G. Kieck, John Turner, Joe Capwell and Dr. Westover.

Arrangement of Meeting Halls, Providing Color Guard, etc.—James Farnham, Dr. Taylor, John Potter, Eugene Vroman, C. E. Ledgway, Pat Reed, Dave Pickrel and June Marshall.

Stag Dinner—Henry Soennichsen, Don Siever, Fred Lugsch, Maldon Brown and Tom Walling. Supt. L. S. Devoe, toastmaster.

Dance—Fred Herberster, John Hadraba, Frank Rice, W. D. Tincher, Pat Reed and C. E. Ledgway.

Roy Holly is general convention chairman.

The assistance of every member of the post is needed, whether on committee or not, in order to make the convention a success.

The delegates and alternates to the convention from our post are: Commander Albert Olson, Adjutant Elmer Webb, A. H. Duxbury, Supt. L. E. Devoe, Leslie Niel, W. D. Tincher and John Wickham. Floor show: Frank Barkus, John Hadraba, Tom Walling, Frank Aschenbrenner and Raymond Larson, alternates.

At our meeting Thursday night it was voted to ask the business men to display their welcome banners convention day and co-operate in every way possible toward making the convention a grand success and sending the visitors home loud in praise of Plattsmouth's hospitality. This is the first convention held here in recent years at least, where the Chamber of Commerce has not been asked for financial backing.

We are pleased to give the following space to announcements concerning the Auxiliary convention, furnished us by Mrs. Herman Thomas, president of the local unit: "Plattsmouth American Legion Auxiliary unit is ready for the entertainment of the 12th annual convention of District 12 next Tuesday. The Auxiliary meetings are to be held at the public library auditorium. Registration begins at 9 o'clock and the opening program at 9:30.

"A luncheon at noon is to be served by the Q. Z. society in the Fellowship rooms of the Presbyterian church. This luncheon is not only for members of the Auxiliary but for any others who care to be served a splendid meal for 25 cents.

"Dinner will be served at the same organization at the same place, at 6:30 to delegates, guests and all members of the American Legion Auxiliary. An interesting program is planned, with Mrs. Lottie Rosencrans acting as toastmistress. Tickets for both luncheon and dinner may be procured at registration desk at the library.

"Committees have been appointed and everyone is eager to show our visitors a real pleasant time, such as Plattsmouth is known to always provide for her guests.

"This is an opportunity for all Auxiliary members of Plattsmouth to attend a district convention. There will be interesting and instructive talks by men and women well known in Legion and Auxiliary circles, and we are sure to profit by these talks.

Unit members, please plan to attend not only the meetings at the library, but both the luncheon and dinner, and help entertain the visiting delegates and guests."

Programs of both the Legion and Legion Auxiliary conventions will be published in Monday night's Journal. Watch for them.

Parting Shot: Remember all dues by Monday night, or paid at the registration desk Tuesday, will excuse such members from payment of the $1 registration fee. Worth saving, isn't it?

Remember, the membership card of every comrade whose dues are received by the post adjutant up to 8 p. m. next Monday night will be in the hands of the registration committee for distribution to him when he comes to register and he will not have to pay the $1 registration fee.

Those who fail to get under the wire before convention day can still leave their $3 with the registration committee for 1933 dues and escape the $1 registration fee. This applies ONLY to members of Plattsmouth post.

GREGG CLUB MEETS

Tuesday evening the Gregg Club held a very interesting meeting at the high school.

Two of the advanced shorthand students, Marseilla Ramel and Floyd Shanholtz, gave a short demonstration of writing fast shorthand, which proved very interesting to the students.

A program arranged by Amy Elliott, chairman, Marion Fricke, Donald Bushnell, and Aulton Rolland was very much enjoyed by all.

Donald Cotner entertained the group with several saxophone numbers, accompanied by Miss Emily Lorenz, which were enjoyed by all. Miss Amy Elliott then favored with a piano number. The most interesting number of the evening was a talk given by Mr. Devoe, superintendent of schools. His topic was "The Qualifications of a Stenographer." In this speech Mr. Devoe brought to the attention of the pupils what is expected of a person on entering the business world.

Miss Leona Meisinger played a solo selection. David Robinson, old faithful singer of P. H. S. favored the audience with several numbers playing his accompaniment on the guitar.

After the program the group adjourned to the gymnasium, where several games were played. The group being led by Mr. Devoe.

At the close of the evening delicious refreshments were served by the committee composed of Rose Westerman, Margaret LaHoda and Eleanor Black. The next meeting will be held the second week in December.

REV. HARTMAN BEDFAST FROM RESULT OF FALL

Rev. T. Hartman, past of the Evangelical Lutheran church, is receiving the sympathy of his host of friends in his misfortune in being put to bed with orders to remain there quietly for several weeks, the result of a painful fall he sustained about a week ago. He is resting more comfortably at present but to be kept so quiet when he is naturally and ordinarily so active is indeed a punishment, but he is bearing it with his usual cheerful philosophic attitude of mind. He is receiving many visits from his parishioners and other friends who will do their utmost to help pass the time away pleasantly for him.

There was no services at his church last Sunday, but he is endeavoring to have some one on hand to take charge of the services in the future, although at this time we are unable to state definitely what his plans are.—Louisville Courier.

CONVICT ASKS FOR PAROLE

Joliet, Ill.—Walter Wolf, who embezzled $3,666.929 from the Continental Illinois Bank and Trust company in Chicago, applied for parole from the state penitentiary. His application, if granted, would free him in fourteen years. He entered the prison on Oct. 22, 1931, to serve terms of from one to ten years on each of ten charges of larceny by embezzlement. Attorneys for the bank and the state's attorney who prosecuted him appeared before the parole board and said they would not oppose the program.

Business Deal is Motive in Omaha Theater Slaying

Harry Goldberg Killed and Brother Wounded by Jules Rachman; Surrenders Peacefully.

Omaha.—An alleged business "squeeze" by which he was being "beaten out of my life's savings," Friday night was given by Jules Rachman, thirty-eight, Omaha theater manager, as the reason for his fatally shooting Harry Goldberg, forty-two, treasurer of the Omaha amusement company, and seriously wounding Sam Goldberg, forty-eight, president of the company.

The shooting occurred in the office of the amusement company. Harry Goldberg was almost instantly killed and Sam was believed dying at a hospital after an emergency operation. The three men were cousins.

Rachman surrendered peacefully to police officers, who, answering an emergency call, met him as he was leaving the office. He greeted them with the words:

"I'll shoot their heads off if they don't quit crossing me."

Rachman then lapsed into silence and did not speak again until police headquarters were reached and he was taken before Detective Captain Franks for questioning. He spoke freely then, saying:

"They were trying to ease me out of the company and beat me out of my life's savings. When I kicked they started to get rough and I thought they were trying to beat me up. I had to shoot them to protect myself."

Asks About Brother.

He said he was "squeezed" out of the company three days ago. At a hospital police attempted to question Sam Goldberg, but could obtain from him only one brief statement. That was:

"Jule must have been crazy."

He said he would rather not talk about it any more now. As he was being wheeled into the operating room, Sam asked about his brother.

"How's Harry?" he asked weakly. "I don't care about myself. I wish you would take care of him. He's such a white guy and has a couple of kids."

He said Rachman shot him first, then turned the gun on Harry. When police entered the office they found Harry's body lying on the floor under a chair. Sam was sitting on a chair at the opposite side of the office, gasping for breath.

Sam and Harry Goldberg were pioneers in the motion picture industry in Omaha, starting in business in 1909. Their holdings were gradually extended until in 1921 they controlled practically all of the local business. Five years later the hold- ings of the brothers had grown to a point where they controlled fifteen theaters in Omaha and throughout the state. In late years they had gradually cut down their holdings, selling many of the theaters. They were reputed to be wealthy. Sam is unmarried.—State Journal.

ACCESSORY IN A KILLING

Natchez, Miss.—For an alleged conspiracy to rob a wealthy reclusive who kept hardly a dollar of her money in her home, Emily Burns, negro rooming house keeper, must go to the penitentiary for life. On a night of last August, officials charge Emily Burns went to the suburban residence of Miss Jane Surget Merrill, daughter of Ayres Merrill, late ambassador to Belgium, and saw George Pearls, a negro, shoot her to death and hide her body in a thicket. Pearls was killed three days later by an Arkansas officer. While in Natchez Pearls stayed at the house of the Burns woman and officers found a rifle and other things he had left there.

'HARD LABOR' IS SOUGHT

O'Neill, Neb.—The Holt County Taxpayers' league wants hard labor assigned to all convicted prisoners during jail sentences.

It has asked all peace officers and magistrates to include a stipulation for hard labor in jail sentences, where practical. It also asked the county board of supervisors to establish a county woodpile on which the destitute or prisoners could work.

Frank G. Schmidt of Ewing and Martin Conway of O'Neill were elected delegates to the state convention of county taxpayers' leagues at Columbus, Dec. 6. They were instructed to ask the convention to favor repeal of the "dollar matching law" for employing county agents.

Orders for Christmas cards printing can be made now at the Journal.

SANTA CLAUS COMING

Santa Claus will be in Platts mouth again on December 17. On this day he will have a toy for each boy and girl in town. He will distribute the toys at the court house lawn at 10:30 a. m. After that time he will be at the Masonic building all day of December 17 for into views.

Children who wish to see Santa Claus should be in Plattsmouth on December 16 and December 17. They will have candy bars on December 16 and toys on December 17. Every boy and girl in Cass county and vicinity is invited to be the guest of Santa Claus on these two days.

Prisoners to Pay for Radios in Their Cells

Warden W. T. Fenton Says Taxpayers Never Foot Bill for Amusements.

Lincoln, Neb.—Warden W. T. Fenton of the state penitentiary said today he had been unjustly criticized as a result of a story which appeared in print inferring that taxpayers' money had been used to equip every prison room in the prison's new cell block with a radio.

Warden Fenton was quick to explain that while the new cell block has a radio in every room, that one cent of taxpayers' money was expended for them. The radios were purchased out of the prisoner amusement fund, which is derived from prison plays at which the public pays admission and also from the profits of the prison cigar stand, financed exclusively by prisoner earnings.

The warden listed the prison talks, the baseball team, radios and a number of other prison amusements as activities financed solely of the amusement fund which total still totals about two thousand dollars.

"Never, since I have been warden here, has one penny of taxpayer money gone for amusement of any sort," said Mr. Fenton. "The prisoners work on their plays after the day's work is done, and we have found it is very wholesome for them."

CELEBRATE BIRTHDAYS

The passing of the seventh birthday anniversary of Catherine Conis and Frances Krejcl, was observed Thursday by a gathering of the little friends at the Conis home, where Mrs. Conis and Mrs. Krejcl had prepared to entertain the jolly party.

The afternoon was spent in playing of games of all kinds added to the enjoyment of the group of little folks. In honor of the birthday the guests of honor received many pleasing remembrances.

At a suitable hour dainty refreshments were served by Mesdames Conis and Krejcl and who were assisted by Miss Isabel Dew.

Those who enjoyed the event were Betty Ann Thomas, Dorothea Duxbury, Robert Grassman, Lars Larson, Bobbie Hoffman, Edith and Fern Taylor, Rachel McMaken, Raymond Evers, Clara Ella Farnham and John Conis.

WINS 4-H CHAMPIONSHIP

Miss Mildred Egan of Edgemont South Dakota, champion 4-H club girl of Fall River county, will leave Friday of this week to attend the International Livestock Exposition at Chicago, an honor which accredits the annual championship. Miss Egan is the only one going from this county, but she will be joined by a girl from Butte county and a girl from Lawrence county.

Expenses of Miss Egan's trip are paid by the 4-H club department of South Dakota.—Hot Springs Daily.

Miss Egan is a former Plattsmouth girl, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Egan having resided here for many years prior to removing to the western part of the state and later to Edgemont.

HOOVER PONDS TAXATION

Washington.—A general manufacturers sales tax is being considered by President Hoover for recommendation to congress. The president has reached the phase of his last message to congress dealing with the vital budget problem. Despite a record slash in expenditures which the administration is proposing for next year, the new budget is threatened with a deficit. Republican financial leaders of congress are consulting at the white house, and Mr. Hoover is pondering a decision on the general manufacturers' levy as the solution of the ever widening gap between government income and outgo.
