Stone Quarry Employes Many at Nehawka

Opening of New Quarry by Ole Olson for Securing Supply of Rock for Riprap Work.

The new stone quarry which has been opened by Ole Olson, well known quarryman, at Nehawka, is proving a much appreciated asset to that place.

The quarry is located at the southwest edge of the town and already a large amount of rock has been removed and shipped to Omaha where it is to be used in riprap work along the Missouri river. The quarry has a large number of men and boys engaged at this time in the work of removing the rock.

In the last few days a large sixty-five horse power tractor with an attachment for removing the dirt from the face of the ledge of rock, has been installed, making it much easier for the workmen to get at the rock and remove it.

The rock is picked and shoveled from the ledge and in turn is loaded into trucks and large two wheeled carts, made especially for this work and it is then hauled several blocks to the loading dock where it is dumped into cars for shipment. The loading dock has been constructed of rock and a roadway that the trucks and teams are driven up and backed so that the contents can be dumped directly into the cars beneath.

It is planned to have electric lights installed at the quarry and at the loading dock so that the work can be carried on at night and which will mean a double force of workmen to be employed and the doubling of the output of the quarry.

FUNERAL OF MRS. NAVE

Funeral services for Mrs. Katherine Nave, 72, were held in Sacred Heart church, Crete, November 25, Father Mosler officiating. Mrs. Nave, who was born in Russia, passed away at the home of her son in Crete on November 23. Mrs. Nave came to America in 1880, with a colony of Austrians, who homesteaded in northwestern Kansas. She was married to Theodore Nave on May 11, 1880, at Herndon, Kans., and to this union were born two children, a daughter, Susie Lindeken of Chadron, and a son, Clemens D. Nave of Crete. Mr. and Mrs. Nave came to Saline county in the spring of 1881 and lived on a farm six miles northwest of Crete, until Mr. Nave's death in 1923, when Mrs. Nave moved to Crete and lived there until 1927, when she again went back to the farm, where she kept house for her son and family. Mrs. Nave was a charter member of the Altar society and of the Country Sewing circle of Sacred Heart church, and was never happier than when she was doing something for her long list of friends, who join the family in their sorrow. She leaves to mourn her loss besides her two children, six granddaughters and six grandsons.

ENTERS GUILTY PLEA

From Thursday's Daily
The jury in the district court was excused for the day this morning by Judge James T. Begley. The case of the State of Nebraska vs. Walter C. Johnson, charged with transportation and possession of intoxicating liquor, which was to have been heard, was settled. The defendant, Mr. Johnson, a resident of Cass county, Iowa, appeared and changed his plea of not guilty to that of guilty, the charge of possession being dismissed by the county attorney. On the transportation charge he was fined $100 and the loss of his car. The car, a Chevrolet coupe was sold last spring on agreement with the finance company who had a lien on the car and the case is now settled.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to express my thanks to Sheriff Homer Sylvester for his appointment of myself as deputy sheriff. I will endeavor to serve in the office to the best of my ability and in a manner that will not cause Sheriff Sylvester or the people of Cass county any regret at my appointment. The honor is one that I appreciate and will strive to fully merit.

AN APPRECIATION

We wish to take this opportunity to thank the friends who so generously assisted in gathering the corn crop on our farm. This demonstrates a real feeling of friendship and which we shall long remember most gratefully. Especially do we wish to thank Dr. O. Sandin and Andy Snyder for their efforts in this neighborly action of friendship, also Glen Valery for the husking mittens.—Walter Martin, Charles L. Martin.

Wednesday Case of State vs. Ed Murray Now on Trial

Defendant Charged with Assault with Intent to Commit Great Bodily Injury on March 25th

From Friday's Daily

This morning in the district court the trial of the case of the State of Nebraska vs. Edward Murray, was taken up by the jury before Judge James T. Begley.

This case is one in which the defendant is charged with assault with intent to commit great bodily injury on Ed W. Thimgan, sheriff of Cass county, which it is alleged occurred on March 25, 1932.

Mr. Murray, who was residing on a farm north of Nehawka, had been dispossessed of the farm on court order and sale of property ordered, which was sold at auction. The following day Mr. Murray was at the farm to secure some property which he claimed as exempted from the sale and at which time he was prevented from removing the property by the new tenant of the farm, Fred Druecker. Later Ray Becker, deputy sheriff, arrived and Mr. Murray was stopped from the removal of the property. The sheriff later arrived, when it was claimed that Mr. Murray had a rifle and automatic pistol in his possession. His actions at that time constitute the grounds on which he was charged with the offense for which he is now on trial.

Mr. Murray is represented at the trial by William Jameson and S. Arion Lewis, of Omaha, while the state is represented by County Attorney W. G. Kleck.

The first witness of the morning session was Fred Druecker, the tenant of the farm, who had been left in charge of the property on the farm over night on March 24th, having been appointed a special deputy sheriff for this purpose. The witness related the visit of Murray to the farm and under the grueling cross examination of Mr. Jameson stated that he had pulled his revolver out on Theron Murray, son of the defendant, and that he and Deputy Sheriff Becker had gone to the field where the Murrays were loading some wire and had come from the car with drawn weapons.

Deputy Sheriff Ray Becker testified as to his being at the Druecker farm on March 26th, of having seen Murray at the place and told of Druecker calling the sheriff. He identified the gun and automatic which were a part of the state exhibits, as those which had been taken from Murray and the hay rack on which he was sitting.

Hallis Atkin also testified as to incidents at Druecker farm when Druecker had told Murray that he was a deputy sheriff and showed his revolver and Murray had said he had one too.

Ed W. Thimgan stated that he had told both Murray and Druecker not to move the wire, the cause of the dispute, until the ownership had been definitely decided. He had been advised by the attorney not to place the wire in the list of articles to be sold and had kept it separate. He had been called to the Murray or Druecker farm on the morning of March 26th by a message from Druecker that there was trouble. He had started for the farm and took a posse of men with him, not knowing just what had occurred. When he arrived at the farm he found Becker and Murray on the hay rack and Theron Murray standing nearby. Murray had his hands in his pocket and the sheriff had told him to put up his hands. Becker had searched him and found the automatic and gun. On cross examination Mr. Thimgan denied that he had told Murray in the presence of several other parties that he might take the wire.

The defense will probably conclude their testimony this afternoon.

UNDERGOES OPERATION

From Thursday's Daily
This morning at the Clarkson hospital at Omaha Mrs. Maude Fricke of this city underwent a major operation. Mrs. Fricke has not been well for some time and the operation was decided as being necessary. The patient came through the operation nicely and was rallying in excellent manner at the last reports from the hospital. Dr. and Mrs. F. L. Cummins and Mrs. C. C. Wescott were at the hospital for the operation.

WALTER COLE INJURED

Walter Cole, a farmer living southeast of town, was injured to a considerable extent Wednesday afternoon when a team of horses which he was unhitching from the wagon became frightened and started to run away. The wagon struck Mr. Cole throwing him some 20 feet, where he hit a barn, inflicting the injuries. Mrs. Cole called her son John and Dr. F. W. Kruse to the home immediately after the accident, and Mr. Cole was made as easy as possible under the circumstances.

one year in the western part of the state and this year on the farm southeast of town. They are keeping house for their son, and Mr. Cole, having farmed practically all his life, enjoys helping his son, even though he is close to 70 years of age.

His many friends in this community extend their heartfelt sympathy to the injured man and hope that he will soon be able to be out again.—Weeping Water Republican.
