

Nehawka

The family of Herbert Kuntz has been wrestling with the flu.

Mr. and Mrs. Owen Willis, of Weeping Water, were in Nehawka on Monday of this week, being called here to look after some business matters.

Mrs. E. E. Leach and daughter, Miss Harriett, were visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Troop on New Year's day, all enjoying the occasion very much.

Dorothy Opp, who has been having a siege of the flu, has had great difficulty in preventing it from developing into pneumonia, but is reported as being some better at this writing.

John G. Wunderlich and wife were in Plattsmouth New Year's day, being guests at the home of their daughter, Mrs. C. A. Rosencrans and family for the day, and enjoying a very fine dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Wolfe, Mr. and Mrs. William Obernate and a number of others from Nehawka were in Murray last Monday afternoon to attend the funeral of the late Dr. J. F. Frenzel.

Guy Reed and the family, of Burr, were enjoying a visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Nels Anderson, where all enjoyed a very fine visit and one of the very best of dinners, though the visit was short.

John H. Steffens was a visitor at Lorton for the day last Monday, going to assist the father, C. Steffens, in the making of his quarterly report for his bank as the time has come for the making of the quarterly statement.

A merry crowd of the young men of Nehawka went to Nebraska City Sunday night, to take in a picture show at the Overland theatre. Among the merry crowd were Roy Pierce, Sam Lingo, Robert Switzer and Randall Burton.

Mrs. D. Ray Frans has had a siege of the flu for some time past and has been very sick a part of the time. During her illness, their son, Jimmie, has been staying at the home of his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Gilmore, of Murray.

Mrs. Marion Tucker and Sheldon Mitchell of the same household have been not enjoying the flu, for they think it is horrid, but they have had to put up with it, nevertheless. They are better now and are thoroughly resolved that if possible they will keep away from it in the future.

Mrs. William Gorder, who teaches in the public schools at Hidden Timber, South Dakota, but was spending the vacation with her husband at Plattsmouth, as well as a number of days with her parents here, left on New Year's day for Hidden Timber, to resume her work on the re-opening of the schools Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Pack, residing near Avoca were entertaining on last Thursday at their home in honor of the parents of Mrs. Peck, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Lewis, and also had as their guests for the occasion, Willard Lewis, of Coleridge; George W. Rhoden, of Murray; A. G. Cisney and family of Nehawka. All enjoyed a very fine visit and an excellent dinner.

Very Fine New Years

The sun shone very nicely and produced a nice warm day for the first of the year, almost making the people believe they were indeed in Florida, Texas or California, and thought that the sunny south did not have anything on them. Surely this winter, for winter weather, has been very nice and we are thankful.

New Years at Nehawka

The families of Carroll Quinton, of Lincoln, former sheriff of Cass county, and James M. Dunbar, who formerly resided near Avoca, were spending New Year's day at the home of James M. Palmer and wife, where they had a splendid dinner and will long remember the fine New Years of 1933.

W. A. Lewis Visiting Here

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Lewis and son, Willard, of Coleridge, who have been visiting for some time past at the home of their relatives and friends in and about Nehawka and Murray, departed last Sunday for their home in the north after having enjoyed a very pleasant time while here. They are liking their home in the northern part of the state and say that crops were good up there this past year.

Had a Splendid New Years

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Ross there was held a very congenial meeting on New Year's day, last Sunday, there being gathered together for the event the families of the relatives, and they celebrated the arrival of 1933 in most approved manner. The day was spent joyously and at the noon hour all sat down to a most excellent dinner served by Mrs. Ross, and which embraced a wide variety of good things to eat. Among those in attendance were the families of Albert Anderson, of Nehawka; Dan Anderson, who resides in the country; Alfred Anderson, of Omaha; Mrs. Beda Stander and daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. W. V. White, of Louisville and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Marquardt, of Avoca, together with the family of the host and hostess.

Goes to Hospital New Years

Mrs. Adolph J. Ross, who has been quite ill for some time past and who has been cared for at their home northwest of Nehawka, was taken on Sunday to a hospital in Omaha, in the ambulance car of the Dan Porter mortuary of Nebraska City. It is the hope of her many friends that the hospital treatment will prove what is needed to restore her to health, as she has not responded satisfactorily to the care and treatment she has been receiving at home.

Enjoyed a Good Year

Another year of success has been realized by the Nehawka Farmers Cooperative Oil company, despite the fact that 1932 was generally considered one of the worst years in history. This concern, under the able management of R. C. Pollard, has been successfully piloted through the financial storms, and while many business institutions have gone to the wall, has continued to supply the public for less and at the same time succeeded in making a neat profit. They purchased during the year goods to the amount of $27,318.67, which were sold for the sum of $37,450.83, leaving a gross profit of $10,132.16. This looks pretty good, but remember it was not clear profit, for there has to be deducted the selling expense, the cost of repairs, taxes, insurance, telephone, lights, postage and such other items as go to make up overhead in any business. The largest item was that of labor, and the total of all these items was $6,919.15, leaving the net income from the business $3,213. This was sufficient to allow a return of 6 per cent on the shares of stock in the concern and also 7 per cent on the amount of goods purchased and consumed by stockholders, which is in the nature of a refund.

This is proof that the business was most ably conducted by Mr. Pollard, who is deserving of thanks for his close attention to business and with the same careful management it is probably many of the institutions that fail could be saved from such a fate. Let us all make an honest endeavor this coming year to make our own business enterprises successful—even though it does require a close application to business and perhaps a little less golf—to do it. The time of hap-hazard success is past and he who would succeed in these times must be willing to give his earnest attention to that which he promotes.

United Brethren in Christ

RESUMES TEACHING WORK

Mrs. George B. Mann, who is principal of the high school at Clearwater, Nebraska, has returned to that city where the school opened Monday for the remainder of the term. Mrs. Mann also has charge of the mathematics in the high school. Robert Mann and Paul Iversen, who have been spending the holidays here, departed Monday for Hastings to resume their college work.

Modern Woodmen Observe 50 Anniversary

Local Camps Have Fine Observance of the Half Century of the Order in Nation.

Camp No. 3405 and 332 of the Modern Woodmen of America at Plattsmouth, celebrated the 50th anniversary of the order, December 13th, by the initiation and installation into woodcraft of a large class of candidates secured by Field Deputy O. E. Finnetrock of the 12th district.

The meeting was in charge of Neighbor Tom Lindsay of Omaha, formerly of Plattsmouth. And the ritualistic work was exemplified by the efficient Omaha Beech Camp drill team, illustrated by Neighbor R. B. Styer of Head Consul Talbot's office at Lincoln.

The lecture was ably given by Neighbor Marshall B. Reynolds of Omaha, who also escorted the new neighbors into the forest.

A delicious oyster supper, prepared by the camp's efficient chef, Neighbor Fred Vincent, was served by the ladies and enjoyed by all, especially by Neighbor Reynolds who after being served with four bowls of oyster stew, two bowls of crackers, one bunch of celery and six dill pickles and three cups of coffee, said he did not care much for oysters.

This good meeting was followed on the 28th by another which was open to the public.

A fine concert given by the talented Lewiston band and led by Neighbor Jens Lausten Schmidt, was followed by seven reels of excellent vitaphone pictures of much interest to the audience, and shown by Neighbor O. F. Tornblom of Council Bluffs, Iowa. After the serving of refreshments, the floor was cleared for dancing and until the wee hours of the morning the tunes, both old and new were enjoyed by the Woodmen and their friends.

At both meetings the district's deputy, Neighbor Joe Hays of Nebraska City and Mrs. Hays, who is also a deputy, were the guests of honor.

DEATH OF WILLIAM SCHULDT

From Wednesday's Daily
This morning at an early hour William Schudt, 57, passed away at his room in the former Gooch building, the result of an attack of the flu and which later developed into pneumonia. Mr. Schudt had not been in the best of health for the past two years, he having been compelled to undergo an operation two years ago. Since the attack of flu he had failed very rapidly until death came to his relief.

Mr. Schudt was a native of Pennsylvania, but was brought here when a child and had spent the greater part of his lifetime in this city and vicinity. He had a large circle of friends and who will miss him a great deal in their daily contacts. The deceased is survived by two daughters, Mrs. C. L. Pierce of Omaha, Mrs. Fred Engelhardt of Pender, and one son, Herman Schudt of this city. There also is surviving the father, Albert Schudt, Sr., of Chicago, as well as four brothers and three sisters.

No arrangements as to the funeral have been announced, pending the arrival of the daughters.

FARM PRICE INDEX DROPS

Washington.—The department of agriculture announced the farm price index on Dec. 13 was 52 percent of the pre-war figure and back to the low point registered last June. For the month ending Dec. 15, the department said, the index lost two points due to price declines on all farm products except potatoes, apples, lamb, eggs, butter and butterfat. New low levels were recorded on Dec. 15, the announcement added, for farm prices of corn, oats, wheat, rye, hay, hogs, cattle, calves and chickens.

Dairy products and eggs registered seasonal advances during the period the latter reaching the highest December level since 1929. Meat animals were down five points, cotton and cottonseed down four points, grains down one point, dairy products up one point, fruits and vegetables up two points and chickens and eggs up six points.

IDENTIFY TWO AS ROBBERS

Omaha.—Floyd Thayer and Harold Herron, arrested here Saturday night with two women companions, were returned to Nebraska City Tuesday by Sheriff Carl Ryder, who said they had been identified as the men who attempted to break into a safe at an oil station there last Saturday night. The woman were being held here for investigation. Thayer is known to Omaha police as Floyd Wagoner, released from the state penitentiary last Dec. 17 after serving a term for burglary.

DEAD BODY IN THE BUSHES

Washington.—A young man tentatively identified as Julio Lelli, of North Tarrytown, N. Y., was found shot to death just beyond the city limits in Maryland. Shot seven times, the body was found in a clump of bushes. There were no signs of a struggle and auto tracks ran near the body. Police said they found a number of New York gambling house cards, some horse race betting tickets and cards from cordial shops in his pockets.

Governor Bryan in Oxygen Tent; New Oath Given

Report Gas Is Used to Aid Him Gain Strength—Has Been Ill Eight Weeks.

Lincoln, Jan. 2.—Governor Charles W. Bryan was in an oxygen tent tonight and it was revealed that he took the oath of office for his third term as governor a week ago.

Taking of the oath had been kept secret. The reason was not divulged. The oxygen tent was put into use, it was stated, not because of a change in condition, but to make it easier for him to obtain sufficient oxygen to build up his strength and vitality, weakened by eight weeks of illness.

Oxygen was being given at the rate of about one and a half gallons a minute.

The governor inhales the gas through an artificial respirator covering nose and mouth. A canvas tent with transparent sides is suspended over the bed, preventing escape of the gas into the room. It is lifted when the governor receives food or medical attention.

Physicians said the governor's condition is about the same as on Sunday, when some improvement was reported.

The oath of office was administered by Judge L. E. Day of the state supreme court, while the governor was in bed at the executive mansion. The official bond of 50 thousand dollars was filed December 24 with the secretary of state.

At the governor's bedside are his wife, his son, Silas, of St. Paul, Minn., and his daughter, Mrs. W. E. Harnsberger of Ashland, and her husband.

Silas Bryan visited state legislators assembled in hotel lobbies tonight, and assured them that the governor is "getting along fine" and that he is "much improved." The legislature convenes Tuesday.

Meanwhile Lieutenant-Governor elect Walter Jurgensen remains in a Lincoln hospital, convalescing from influenza. He is expected to go home Tuesday.

Mr. Jurgensen, however, will attend the inaugural ceremonies at the capitol Thursday, members of his family said tonight.

Physicians announced several days ago that Governor Bryan, because of illness, would be unable to attend the ceremonies, but the attendance of Jurgensen has been problematical. Jurgensen, his family said, was much improved tonight. — World-Herald.

WRIGLEY'S ESTATE IN ILLINOIS $20,215,000

Chicago, Jan. 1.—The late William Wrigley, Jr., chewing gum magnate, capitalist and baseball club owner, left an Illinois estate of $20,215,000, an inventory filed in probate court revealed Saturday.

The inventory does not include his home and other property in Phoenix, Ariz., his homes in Pasadena, Cal., and Lake Geneva, Wis., nor the Catalina Island estate.

The largest single item listed is 456,462 shares in the William Wrigley Jr. Co.

To his son, Philip K. Wrigley, was willed the Chicago Cubs baseball club.

PERISH IN AN ATTIC FLAT

Chicago.—Trapped by flames which swept their attic flat, John Keenan and his wife were burned to death. Members of twelve other families in the three story building fled to safety. A narrow stairs leading to the third story of the flat was the elderly couple's only means of escape from which they were apparently cut off by smoke and flames.

State Improved Many Miles of Highway in '32

Road Projects During the Year Just Closed Furnish Employment to Thousands.

A highway construction program which added hundreds of miles of improvements and furnished employment for thousands of laborers was achieved in Nebraska last year.

State Engineer Cochran Saturday released figures on the road program accomplishments of the state highway department for 1932.

When work started last year is completed early next spring, the state will have 158 more miles of paving, 210 more miles of bituminous mat surfacing and 584 more miles of gravelled roads than at the beginning of 1932.

Cochran said that during 1932, sixty-three miles of paving, 192 miles of bituminous mat surfacing, 159 miles of gravel surfacing, 270 miles of second course gravel surfacing in stage construction and 423 miles of grading were completed while a host of other projects were placed under contract and started under the emergency federal aid made available late in the summer.

The mileage of projects on which some work has been done and which will be completed when weather permits, includes ninety-five miles of paving, twenty-two of bituminous mat surfacing, 121 of gravel surfacing, 159 of grading, ninety-five bridges, three overpasses and two underpasses.

Complete 7,809 Miles.
When this work is finished, the state highway system will have 7,809 miles completed as follows: Paved roads, 710 miles; bituminous mat roads, 292 miles; gravel roads, 5,763 miles; earth roads without surfacing, 1,044 miles.

Work done during the last year ranged in every direction over the state. Between Wood Lake and Valentine in northern Nebraska a new road was constructed, with grading, drainage structures and oil sand surfacing all done and a bridge built across the Niobrara river. The bridge was employment to twenty-seven men on the average for twenty-four weeks.

A project between Cambridge and Indianola where bituminous mat surfacing was placed on 13.6 miles, furnished an average employment of eighty-one men for three weeks and thirteen men for five more weeks.

Employ Many Men.
Sixty men were employed for four weeks and forty-five for two more weeks in construction of bituminous mat surfacing on a fourteen mile stretch between Hay Springs and Chadron in northwest Nebraska.

Between Lincoln and Eagle, sixty men were at work for eighteen weeks on a 9.8 mile paving project which included grading and drainage structure construction. Between Clarks and Silver Creek, 14.9 miles of paving were laid with 146 men on the average employed for nineteen weeks. In thirty weeks of work on the 11.7 miles of paving from Silver Creek to Columbus, an average of sixty-four men was used.

The numbers employed as listed include only actual workers on the job and not the engineering staff nor the employment furnished in supplying materials. The projects listed are only a few of the number which projected improved highways in every direction and closed up a number of gaps between paving on the major routes across the state.

OPPOSES 3-CENT POSTAGE

Washington.—A return to the 2 cent rate for first class postage mail was urged in the house of representatives by Representative Ludlow, democrat, Indiana. "If it could be proven that 3 cent postage has increased the government's revenue at a time when income is so sorely needed," Ludlow said, "that would be one argument for its continuance, tho I doubt whether it should be controlling, but there is the unchallenged testimony of hundreds of business concerns that tell of the blighting effect of 3-cent postage on business and how it tends to dwarf government revenue."
