Senators Admonish Their Committees

Must Turn Out More Bills or Adjournment Date Will Be Far Distant.

Two veteran senators admonished their colleagues Thursday to get down to work if they wanted to finish the present legislative session by April 1. Neumann, serving his fourth term, first offered the advice after the judiciary committee reported out to general file four bills.

"At this rate," said Neumann, "you will take 218 days to consider the measures introduced, and you have consumed twenty-two already. At least fifteen bills should be reported out every day. These committees cannot be granting hearings on bills not of major importance. And don't get into the dilatory habit of postponing action on bills."

Two resolutions were passed by the senate. One by McCarter asked the army to throw its posts open to jobless young men, and the other by Crist Andersen memorialized congress to pass the Frazier bill.

A house bill, H. R. 100, authorizing State Treasurer Hall to accept $1,200,000 in Liberty bonds bought by his predecessor passed on final vote 30 to 0. It goes now to the governor. Hall had refused to take the bonds without legislative sanction because their interest rate was lower than that required by an old statute.

GIVEN VOTE OF CONFIDENCE

Paris.—Premier Daladier won a heavy vote of confidence in the chamber of deputies for his proposal to go ahead with a ministerial program of slow but sure financial restoration. The vote was 370 to 200. A last-minute decision of socialists to support the ministry re-established the former left solidarity in the chamber which was the basis of the Herriot and Paul-Boncour governments. Their action was partly influenced by rumors in the lobbies of a possibility that the chamber would be dissolved unless a stable government were formed. Premier Daladier said his financial project would be presented Tuesday, but that he opposed "a too rigorous policy" such as that which caused the downfall of the Paul-Boncour cabinet. He said that most countries, including the United States, had deficits and that the budget could not be completely balanced in a few days since the problem was international in scope.

Delivers Sermon on the Needs of Country Today

Rev. H. A. McKelvey of Mynard, Gives Interesting Discourse on Theme of Present Issues.

The Journal is very much pleased to have the opportunity of giving publicity to the sermon of Rev. H. A. McKelvey of the U. B. church at Mynard, on the present problems of the country. The sermon is as follows:

There is no question that there is something wrong with America, especially that part of it that we love the best, the United States.

Are we able to diagnose the case? We are suffering from a terrible malady, GRAFTITIS. Our legislators are running like wild men trying to get more revenue, talking of an income tax, sales tax, but never once looking to find where they can cut expenses.

We have become sick as a nation, and millions are discouraged. There could nothing happen to any man or nation, with more evil in it than to become discouraged. It is the first mark of failure, when men and nations start on the down grade, when they cannot see the silver lining to every cloud.

How strange it is when some one points out the dangers of our nation they cry out "pessimist."

We are facing a crisis in America greater than we have ever faced in all our history, greater than the days of the rebellion, when slavery was an issue. Is there a way out of this difficulty, can we avert the collapse of our national life? Have we found a solid road on which to walk, or are we afraid that there are quicksands ahead?

Now let us look at the situation from a financial point of view. The International Bankers sent out agents to get loans, wanted to get the money out where it could work; they solicited loans and as soon as they had a good stiff mortgage on your farm, they called the loans: Morgans' System of Debauchery.

The corrupt money power was installed by J. P. Morgan, and for sixty-two years, from 1870 to 1933, held our presidents and both houses of congress, and the supreme court of the U. S. subservient to it. It had no party, and was not in sympathy. It simply worked with the party it could control.

Do you know that it O. K'd Grover Cleveland twice for the presidency, and John Sherman, and Mat Quay, both republicans, financed both his administrations.

The corrupt money power has fastened its golden spurs into the vitals of about all corporations and newspapers in the United States. This is a mighty corrupt power. It has fully nine-tenths of all gamblers, brewers, low bred culprits, and eighty per cent of the wealth.

My fellow citizen do you know that you are in a critical condition? You have been sleeping on your rights. Get busy, think and act. WITH ALL THE MIGHT YOU HAVE WITHIN YOU. You can never expect any relief from either of the OLD PARTIES.

Since 1929, the corrupt money power has crushed millions of men, women and children; physically, mentally and socially, besides incriminated thousands who were ensnared by its corrupt methods, and dropped our government upon our heads to where she is today: AT THE MOST HUMILIATING, LOWEST EBB OF DEGRADATION OF WHICH WE HAVE HISTORICAL RECORD.

Secretary Weeks, of President Harding's cabinet said: "The condition of our government will be perpetuated, without the pure thinking and honest voter." Fight for that which is right and honorable!

With the two depressions of 1873, and 1893, the corrupt money powers cleared for themselves, twenty billions at a cost to the masses of thirty billions, counting nothing for the misery and suffering the latter endured. Yes, men, women and children suffered during the four years of each depression. Grant was president in 1873 and Cleveland in 1893. Cleveland did just what Grant did: NOTHING. Nothing to stop the panic or depressions, as it had become, and still is, a national habit or a sneaking custom to do nothing.

Wall street bankers brought on the 1907 depression by ordering all banks to shut down, on a certain day and let no depositor have more than five dollars at one time. Then Harriman was put on the road to merge all the railroads into one great system. He merged, contrary to law, seventeen railroads in sixteen months, and then died. There was no man who could take his place, and on a certain day the banks were allowed to open, and they did it to their shame. It was a shameful insult to every banker in the United States. Well do many of you remember those days, when we could not use our own money. WALL STREET controlled even the small town bank. Mr. Morgan and his co-workers organized all the trusts.

Do you know Mr. Voter that the sugar trust, oil trust, coal trust, farming implement combines, beef trust, and all others take from you more than thirteen billion dollars above a fair profit every year?

Do you know that under President Taft's administration, Havemeyer, the sugar king, stole two hundred and two million dollars from the U. S. in revenue, by smuggling sugar in without paying the duty? President Taft recommended to the Justice department that they fine him two million dollars, and the case was closed. Havemeyer stole two dollars from every man, woman and child in the United States.

The politicians and the corrupt money power put us in the condition we are today; twelve million out of employment, thirty million going to bed hungry in a land of plenty.

No wonder there is so much unrest, with such an unequal distribution of wealth—two hundred thousand millionaires, and some of them worth eight hundred million dollars.

Do you know that a civil war is inevitable unless men and women of heart and soul take charge of the government by superceding, legally, the masters of high finance and men of surreptitious character?

Here is how we can prevent a civil war in our midst: We must have a revolution, but a bloodless one, political, with the CHURCH, UNION LABOR, AND THE FARMERS TOGETHER AS ONE. Where there is union there is strength.

Do you know that the wealth of the United States of America is seven hundred dollars per capita, and the average income of forty-four millions of people was less than one thousand dollars. In 1929, five hundred and four had an income of more than a million dollars. These 504 had an income greater than 1,692,000 other people. These few persons combined incomes were one billion one hundred and eighty-five million dollars. There will always be a difference in income, but is it natural that the difference should be so large?

Now, what shall we do to remedy this situation? First, have your representative represent you instead of the corrupt money trust. If he fails, then elect him to remain at home the next term. Second, have an inheritance law that no heir can inherit over one million dollars. That will end this greed and grasping to rob the poor of every dollar, and this wealth will be distributed among the many instead of the few.

We shall never know just how much money was wasted during and just after the war, but there is evidence that the grafters got their hands on eighty-seven million dollars of the taxpayers money in building the war camp buildings, forty-two million dollars in useless airplane experiments, and wasted four hundred and forty million dollars of the shipping board money.

We must get our government out of the hands of the grafters and politicians, and put it in the hands of the people.

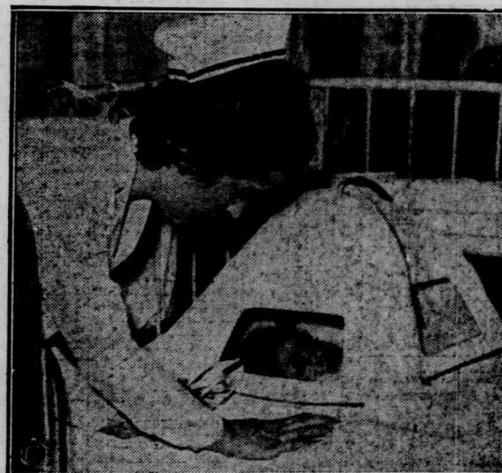

What shall we do with the grafter and the man who buys votes? Send these men to the penitentiary for life, and then hang him when he serves his time.

Today when a man steals a ham, and is caught, he gets a year and maybe three; but if he steals fifty thousand dollars, we send him to the United States senate. The reason for penalties for the above crimes is that they are traitors and have done more evil than Benedict Arnold, when he sold out to the British.

The greatest enemy to America today is not the Al Capones, nor organized crime, but our danger is in the crooked politician, lawyer, and corrupt judges. These are the ones who are destroying America, and great will be her fall.

Let us not forget the carpenter of Nazareth, who is willing to be our guide, and will lead us out of the depression if we will organize together—the church, union labor, and the farmer. Here is an organization that can have anything for which they ask congress and the state legislators.

Waging Battle for Life

Suffering from the effects of a wooden screw in one of her lungs, Miss Yvonne Wilmar, of Washington, D.
