

Alvo News

Eugene Barkhurst was a visitor in Plattsmouth, where he was looking after some business matters at the court house.

Charles Godbey has been selected as the caretaker of the Methodist church and will make a good man for the position. Joe Parsell formerly held the position.

R. M. Coatman and John B. Skinner were over to Lincoln last Tuesday, where they went to secure a chicken house for H. L. Davis, moving the same to his place.

Mrs. F. E. Dickerson and the kiddies, of Lincoln, were visiting for the past week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Godbey, where all enjoyed the visit very much.

John Coleman was busy with some assistance in placing a new roof on the property where Fred Rueter lives, thus making some very substantial improvement to the property.

Elma Rueter, Corrine Kitzel and Lucile Beussing were over to Plattsmouth on last Saturday, where they went to take the county test at typing and all proved they were expert in the art.

Passion week was celebrated in Alvo by services every night during the week, and which were held preparatory to the Easter services which were conducted by the pastor, Rev. McKenzie.

Robert Custer was a visitor in Lincoln on last Wednesday, where he was looking after some business matters and was delivering goods over his territory to those to whom he had sold on former trips.

Mr. and Mrs. George Braun, of South Bend, were in Alvo last Wednesday and were visiting with the parents of Mrs. Braun, Mr. and Mrs. William Yeager, and assisting in the work at the Yeager home.

Soren Petersen was building a chicken house on his place just west of Alvo and has a large flock of the feather fowl to place therein as soon as it is done. He is counting on having some early spring fries.

B. Golding, of Plattsmouth, was a visitor in Alvo on last Wednesday, where he was looking after a number of pieces of property which he has here and as well was visiting with his numerous friends in town.

L. F. Quillhorst, who makes his home in Kansas, was a visitor for a number of days during this week at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Geo. Hardnot, and was also visiting with his many friends here, making the visit the more pleasant.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Klyver, residing west of Alvo, received over a thousand chickens last week, which they now have on feed and which they are getting along very nicely. This will make an excellent flock for this enterprising couple.

John Banning and wife were over to Nehawka yesterday (Sunday), at which place they attended the Easter day services for the Knights Templar, held at the M. E. church. During the forenoon they also visited with friends and relatives at Union.

E. L. Nelson was looking after some business in Lincoln on Tuesday of last week and was also making purchases of goods there for the store here. During his absence from town, he had W. H. Warner assisting in the store, as well as looking after the delivery of goods sold at the store.

The Ladies Aid society of the M. E. church of Alvo were meeting with Mrs. S. A. Boyles on Thursday of last week, where they laid plans for the benefit of the church and also looked after many items of business connected with the church work. Mrs. Boyles entertained the ladies most pleasantly.

Last Sunday, Frank Taylor and wife were over to Weeping Water, where they visited for the day at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rehmeier, Mr. Rehmeier and Mrs. Taylor being brother and sister. When they returned in the evening, they were accompanied by the parents of Mrs. Rehmeier, Mr. and Mrs. G. Rehmeier, who make their home with Mr. and Mrs. Taylor, and who had been visiting at Weeping Water for the past week.

In the passing of R. W. Stewart, which occurred on Friday of last week, one of the pioneers of this community has been called to his last home. He was born in Coshocton, Ohio, on January 24, 1862, and came to Alvo when a mere boy—in fact before there was any Alvo—and made his home in this vicinity up until the time of his death. Mr. Stewart always worked for the best interests of the community and was a splendid citizen.

Presented an Excellent Play
"The Whipsnappers" was the name of the play which the members of the Junior class of the Alvo high school put on at the school building last Friday and Saturday evenings, and which drew a full house both nights. The large crowd was much pleased with the entertainment. The receipts were for the benefit of the class.

Organize Inter-County Teams

There was a meeting in Alvo one day last week, attended by representatives from the different towns that expect to form teams in the inter-county baseball association. Teams are to be entered from eight towns, as follows: Ashland, Greta, Alvo, Eagle, Elmwood, Louisville, Manley and Cedar Creek.

It is hoped to start the regular playing season around the first of May. Spring practice among the different towns is now under way.

Obituary R. W. Stewart

Robert William Stewart was born in Coshocton, Coshocton county, O., January 24, 1862 and passed away April 7, 1934, at the age of 71 years, 2 months and 14 days. In the year 1888 he was united in marriage to Miss Metta Hinshaw, of Eagle. To them three children were born, a daughter passing away in infancy. The mother died September 29, 1924. Two sons survive, Leo and Roy, of Alvo, also four grandchildren and two sisters, the latter being Mrs. Clara Maston, of Alvo, and Mrs. Ethel Williams, of Lincoln. Two other sisters and three brothers of the deceased died in childhood.

Mr. Stewart came to Nebraska in 1869, with his parents. He farmed in Colorado a few years, but in 1887 moved back to Nebraska to reside and took up the line of business he followed until his illness, beginning on March 11th of this year. He was converted while attending the Bible school taught by Dr. Barkey, in Alvo.

The funeral was held from the Alvo Methodist church, conducted by the pastor, Vernon Bennett sang a number of the old favorite hymns, with Mrs. Vera Lancaster at the piano.

LOWER LOCAL POSTAL RATE

Washington.—Immediate enactment of legislation to give President Roosevelt sweeping authority over postal rates was recommended by Postmaster General Farley as a move toward restoring two cent postage. Farley said in a statement that reestablishment of the two cent rate on local mail would be the first step in the program, and indicated that if it resulted in increased revenue the reduction would be ordered generally. Under the program, Mr. Roosevelt would be empowered until July 1, 1934, "to lower or increase postage rates as increasing business or the demands of the postal service may make necessary."

The three cent rate on first class mail was put into effect last July as a revenue raising measure. Receipts, however, have shown a decline. Farley said an investigation indicated that local mail, that which does not go outside a city, can be handled without loss to the government for two cents.

PRICE FOR APPOINTMENT

Ablene, Tex.—An applicant for a Texas postmastership, who offered to contribute 10 percent of his salary to the national democratic campaign fund and make a personal gift has been turned down emphatically by Congressman Blanton, who termed the offer "an insult to me and the democratic party." In correspondence released to newspapers in his district, Blanton said he had called the matter to the attention of President Roosevelt and the latter was "astounded."

"He (the president) is the head of our democratic organization," Blanton wrote to the applicant, Hubert L. Turner of Roscoe, Tex. "He will permit no contributions to be received in return for appointments. He will allow no offices to be bought."

Turner declared he had acted innocently and said, "I am sorry my motive was misunderstood." He charged Blanton with "playing politics."

Iowa Beer Measure Clears Last Hurdle

Permits to Be Issued in Order; Expect Sale in 10 Days; Receive Many Applications.

Des Moines, Ia., April 14.—With last legislative barriers to the return of beer cleared away by house concurrence in senate amendments on the 3.2 per cent beer law, prospective dealers made ready today to obtain permits to handle the beverage.

State Treasurer Leo J. Wegman said that he had already received more than 40 applications from wholesalers for permits. Wegman, who is designated as the official to issue Class A permits to brewers and wholesalers, said that he planned to issue them in the order in which applications are received. He said he expected that all would be in ready-moves were promptly blocked. One press for beer to go on sale April 24.

Presiding officers of both houses of the assembly had planned to sign the bill late in the day after it had been enrolled but the absence of quorums delayed this formality. It was expected that the signing would be completed Saturday so that it might be placed before the governor, who will give his prompt approval.

Acting quickly after receiving the bill from the senate, the house today voted 82 to 16 to concur in amendments made by the upper house. The most important of these was the one allotting state revenues from licenses and the barrel tax to the sinking fund.

Two Efforts to Amend.

House drys made two attempts to amend the measure further and thus delay final legislative action, but the by Representative Strachan of Humboldt would have changed the provision for dividing revenues between city and county governments in counties where no municipalities have more than 10 thousand population. The other by Representative Bonstetter of Kossuth would have empowered the state treasurer to deduct the cost of administration of the act from monies received.

While city officials made ready to enact legalizing ordinances in accord with the mandatory provisions of the act, federal and state officers explained the procedure by which licenses would be granted.

Gerald Jewett, collector of internal revenue, explained that before beer may be manufactured or sold under the federal 3.2 per cent beer law, licenses must be obtained, three different classes being available to cover brewing, wholesaling and retailing of the beverage.

Early Sale Predicted.

The prediction that beer will go on sale legally in Sioux City some time Saturday was made by Mayor W. D. Hayes.

The mayor, after conversing over the telephone with state officials in Des Moines, said that if the beer bill were signed promptly by the governor it could be published Saturday afternoon and local licenses could be issued at once.

The city council in Sioux City had already authorized printing of forms for Class B and Class C permits, which are issued by municipalities, and these were printed today.—World-Herald.

UNTERMYER ALTERS SPEECH

New York.—Samuel Untermyer, prominent lawyer, prepared an address for delivery in which he called on Jewry for a concerted world-wide boycott of German manufacturers in "reprisal for alleged anti-Semitic activities in Germany, but when the time came for him to speak he made another speech. Asked why he had departed from his prepared speech, which he had sent to newspapers for publication and which he had not countermanded, Untermyer said he had been asked to alter his remarks. He declined to say who made the request.

Instead of telling his listeners that the world boycott should be "the next thing we should do" as a step of reprisal, which he said in this prepared speech, Untermyer softened this to say that Jews of the world "would be justified" in following the example of London Jews in refusing to buy German goods. Untermyer did deliver portions of his speech as he had prepared it, merely toning down phrases such as changing the word "reprisal" to "defenses."

How to train BABY'S BOWELS

Babies, bottle-fed or breast-fed, with any tendency to be constipated, would thrive if they received daily half a teaspoonful of this old family doctor's prescription for the bowels.

That is one sure way to train tiny bowels to healthy regularity. To avoid the fretfulness, vomiting, crying, failure to gain, and other ills of constipated babies.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is good for any baby. For this, you have the word of a famous doctor. Forty-seven years of practice taught him just what babies need to keep their little bowels active, regular; keep little bodies plump and healthy. For Dr. Caldwell specialized in the treatment of women and little ones. He attended over 3500 births without loss of one mother or baby.

Speeds Program to Help Labor with New Jobs

Roosevelt Talks with Senators About U. S. Wage Boards—To Halt Undue Wage Cuts.

Washington, April 14.—A far-reaching program for aiding American labor was speeded today at the White house with attention on public work for new jobs and establishment of federal wage boards to administer shorter working hours and stop undue wage cuts.

A plan to add to the 30-hour week bill the proposal for wage boards was discussed at a lengthy conference by President/Roosevelt with Senators Wagner (dem., N. Y.), LaFollette (rep., Wis.), Cutting (rep., N. M.) and Costigan (dem., Colo.).

LaFollette advocated a six billion dollar bond issue for public construction but no agreement was reached on the extent of this program.

Meanwhile, Secretary Perkins advocated attacks on the economic situation through a "two or three billion dollar public works program" and by "fixing a bottom to wages by some device."

Agree on Early Action

The White house conference agreed to speed the labor legislation. Thru separate wage boards of each industry, it is the intention to provide some kind of federal minimum wage scale and also to administer the proposed 30-hour week legislation.

Modifications in the 30-hour legislation were favored at the White house parley to allow for a range of hours as may be needed in the various industries.

It is understood Miss Perkins will put before the house labor committee shortly the administration's plan for the wage boards. Constitutional problems in the way of providing a federal minimum wage scale are being explored.

A Slight Delay

The administration and congressional leaders, however, are determined to block an undue slash in wages at this time.

The chief concern is that, while perhaps 85 or 90 per cent of the employers in a given industry may be willing to stand by agreements on fair wages, their ground is cut from under them by the other 10 or 15 per cent who attack the wage scale.

It is unlikely that the public works program will be completed for a week or ten days, but the president does intend to propose one or probably two or three billion dollars.

The public works proposal was discussed with the president by Senator Clark (dem., Mo.) and Charles M. Hay, of St. Louis. They urged that preference be given to constructions involving human labor even if the cost were more.—World-Herald.
