Another Threat of Special Session by Mr. Bryan

Killing of the Governor's Own Banking Reorganization Bill Causes Executive Wrath.

Threat of a special session because of possible inability of house and senate to get together on an appropriation bill was doubled Tuesday when the governor's secretary told the house banking committee that if S. F. 263, bank department reorganization bill, is not passed, members will be called back. The bill was killed in committee 4 to 3 and Chairman LaVelle, voting with the prevailing side, is allegedly not in sympathy with it. After the killing, a meeting was called altho with five of the committeemen allegedly refusing to attend, it was a near-impossible task to draw a quorum. It was reported that Williams, Bradstreet, Owen, Balder and Woodruff had walked out with no desire to reconsider postponement of the measure.

Opponents of this legislation suggested by the governor, contend that it throws the banking system back into politics. It completely revamps the department relative to supervision, liquidation and control of banks, trust companies and building and loan associations. It consists of sixty-three pages and many senate amendments in its recreation of a department of banking. Provision is made for office of superintendent of banks at a salary to be fixed by the governor, not to exceed $5,000. The governor is given sweeping power as to appointment of attorneys and receivers. The State Bankers association is not in sympathy with the measure. It has been referred to as executive system of receiverships in place of judicial system.

Senator Hawxby of Nebraska, who was champion of the governor's bill in the upper branch, said that one disagreement has to do with length of term of the banking head. Under the present law the bank director is appointed for two years but the bank commissioner, who is in charge of examination of state banks, holds a six year term.

GIVE ENTERTAINMENT. The entertainment at the Methodist church of Union on Tuesday evening, April 25th by Circle No. 2 of the ladies' aid was very well attended, all present expressing by their genial attitude an appreciation of the amusements offered, and enjoyment of the few social hours spent together.

The entertainment was opened by the singing of "America" by the audience, followed by prayer by the pastor, Rev. B. N. Kunkel. Mrs. L. R. Upton as chairman of the program committee then requested Miss Elizabeth Rankin, one of the teachers to have in charge the rendition of the group of songs by the girls' high school glee club, also the music and readings by the primary pupils of the school. Miss Rankin was the accompanist for the school program, also for the two musical readings given by Hazel Fitzpatrick, which were especially clever and enjoyable. An original poem entitled "Financial Trials of Our Ladies' Aid," was given by Mrs. Fannie Eikenbary which was kindly received because of its relation to our home church affairs. A trio composed of Rev. B. N. Kunkel, Philip Rihn and J. D. Cross sang a group of songs, three old time favorites which are always appreciated and enjoyed.

With Mrs. L. G. Todd at the piano a "Kitchen Orchestra" composed of six other members of the society rendered on the familiar kitchen utensils, two very noisy if not euphonious selections, which called forth much applause from the audience.

An especially enjoyable feature of the evening was two readings given by Mrs. Earl Green who showed the professional training of the lyceum stage.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Cross very pleasantly filled the interim by singing a parody of the "Swanee River" while the ladies were preparing a lunch of cake and coffee, the eating of which closed the evening's entertainment in a pleasant and informal manner.

A charge of 10 cents was made at the door which netted the ladies several much needed dollars with which to complete their monthly payments on the pastor's salary, for which they wish to thank the audience, also all who contributed in any way to the success of the evening.

Nehawka

Mrs. W. O. Troop has one of the finest gardens which it has been our lot to see this spring.

J. J. Safarek has been hauling lumber for the construction of a new house to replace the one which was burned recently.

Mrs. Sarah Young has just had the home completely gone over, papered, painted and varnished and it is looking fine now.

The new school board organized and looked after the selection of teachers for the coming year as well as other business.

James Hansen, the music teacher and dealer of Omaha has just planted fifteen hundred pine trees on his farm near Hastings.

Forest R. Cunningham was called to Weeping Water on last Monday morning to look after some business matters for a short time.

Albert Wolfe and family were guests for the day on last Sunday and for a very fine dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Schumaker.

Mrs. Mark Burton and her two daughters were visiting for the day on last Sunday at the home of her brother, George Cooney at Nebraska City.

Mrs. R. C. Pollard was a visitor in Lincoln last Sunday where she was spending the day with her daughters and where she enjoyed the visit very much.

John Swezey of Plattsmouth, was a business visitor in Nehawka on last Monday afternoon and was looking after some advertising for the churches.

County Commissioner Fred H. Gorder of Weeping Water, was a visitor in Nehawka on last Monday afternoon and was looking after some business for the county.

Mrs. George T. W. Ayres of Ely, Minn., arrived in Nehawka during this week and is visiting at the home of Mrs. F. P. Sheldon and her many other friends in the city.

Charles Rose and David Waldo have entered into the business of manufacturing chemists at Omaha and are making a hand a face lotion known as the Rose-Waldo hand lotion.

Miss Mildred Nellor, one of the teachers in the Nehawka schools, was guest with her friend, Mrs. Don C.

KENTUCKY BURLEY TOBACCO

"Direct From Grower To You" Old Kentucky Burley Tobacco is the cream of the finest crops Kentucky's beautiful soil can produce—ripe, rich leaves—smooth and mellow—with that rare old-fashioned flavor and fragrance that only proper "aging" can produce. We bank on it you have never tasted or smoked a finer flavored, more satisfying tobacco in all your life.

Plans Changed Again, But Enjoyed. Something always happens, and this time was no exception to the rule. Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Rough had planned to make a visit to the home of their daughter, Mrs. D. H. Wilson and family at Crete, and in the morning had prepared to leave and were just starting for Crete when up drove the daughter and husband with the family and apprised the parents that they were on their way to Algona, Iowa. Therewith Mr. and Mrs. Rough who were now ready, accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Wilson to Omaha, where they picnicked in a park and ate their dinner. Mr. and Mrs. Wilson continuing on to their Iowa destination, while having enjoyed the day and their trip to Omaha Mr. and Mrs. Rough returned home. On their return home they came via Shenandoah, Iowa, and visited the two broadcasting stations and enjoyed the many flowers which are growing in profusion in the Iowa town.

New Cafe Opened. Now Nehawka has four eating houses, they being Nick Klarens, the Albert Wolfe cafe, Mrs. Mark Burton, and with the last the McCoy Cafe.

The latter opened on last Monday. They are going to name the eating place by suggestions from their customers and the successful person who proposes the most acceptable name will eat pie, for they will give a pie away for the name which suits them the better. Still, how are they going to find business for them all?

Town Board Organized. The Nehawka town board which is now composed of J. J. Pollard, Glen Rutledge, C. D. Adams, the new men, and Stewart Rough and John H. Steffens, the old members, met on Tuesday evening and organized the new council.

Nehawka Woman Wins in Writing. Out of 160 who competed for the prizes offered for the best poem writing by the members of the Nebraska Woman's club members, Mrs. J. J. Pollard won fourth place. When it is considered that Mrs. Pollard never wrote a poem before, this is a very fine feat.

Special Offer! FIVE POUNDS SMOKING TOBACCO $1
